

ANNUAL PICNIC GREAT SUCCESS

Farmers, Housewives and Club Members Hear Many Speakers at Fair Grounds.

(Miss Lillian V. Gilbert)

The farmers' picnic at the Prince William fair grounds on Friday, in spite of threatening weather, was a grand success. Early in the morning the crowd began to pour through town on the way to the fair grounds to attend the picnic. Between 75 and 100 club boys and girls were present.

Just before time for the speaking to begin, it began to rain. Undaunted by this interference with their plans, those in charge immediately commandeered the spacious exhibition hall which was transformed into an assembly room ready to receive the gathering.

Tables for serving the lunch had been built through the center, and just before the first speech was over the committee in charge quietly moved about, loading the tables with fried chicken, old Virginia ham, pie, cake and other good things to eat.

By 10:30 every speaker expected was in place and the exercises began. The first number on the program was "America," sung by all present, Rev. J. M. Bell leading, after which Rev. E. D. Skelton led in prayer.

Mr. R. L. Lewis, president of the farmers' union, who presided over the morning session, introduced the first speaker, Hon. A. B. Thornhill, president of the state farmers' union. Mr. Thornhill, in his quiet, unassuming way, showed what could be done through co-operative marketing and what it will mean to the farmer. He did not fail to urge the farmer to lose no time in getting the conveniences necessary to make farm life more pleasant and first to see that the housewife has those things which will lift the burden from her shoulders.

At the close of Mr. Thornhill's speech, dinner was served. Rev. J. A. Golibew offered thanks before the dinner began. This was an enjoyable time for everyone. There was plenty of lemonade, ice cream, cake and watermelon on hand—everything that goes to make a real picnic. During the noon-hour games were enjoyed by all interested, while others visited together. The boys did not forget to have a game of baseball.

In the afternoon Mrs. George C. Round, president of the woman's auxiliary, presided over the meeting. Prayer was offered by Rev. A. B. Jamison. Mrs. Round told of the efforts made to secure the next speaker, Mrs. Henrietta Calvin, home economics specialist, who was introduced by Miss Belle Burke, district home demonstration agent for northern Virginia. Miss Burke in a few words introduced Mrs. Calvin, stating that in a meeting the week before of the state farmers' union at Blacksburg ten men were on the program and it was conceded that Mrs. Calvin floored them all.

It is needless to say that Mrs. Calvin's address was a masterpiece. In a pleasing way she held the close attention of the audience, although a large number had to stand. She made an earnest plea for the rural home and for the rural child, the greatest product of the American continent. Her plea was for proper educational advantages for the American child. She showed by statistics how far behind Virginia is in this respect, and throughout her speech gave little touches of fun and humor.

Many invitations were extended Mrs. Calvin to be present at the picnic next August.

The next speaker was Dr. I. W. Hill, who had just returned from a trip abroad. Dr. Hill, in beginning his talk, paid a wonderful tribute to Frances E. Willard. He told while abroad, he said, that her work would forever stand.

Dr. Hill spoke of the boys' and girls' club work, urging parents to encourage the children in the work and making a plea for partnership between parent and child. Illustrating the trend to the city he read a poem so often heard of late, "Why Boys Leave the Farm." He added many touches of fun and recalled the beginning of club work when Dr. Seaman A. Knapp, years ago, had seen the vision and started the work for boys and girls which is fast becoming worldwide.

At the close of Dr. Hill's speech "Auld Lang Syne" was sung, and the meeting was dismissed by Rev. William Stevens. All said goodby and soon were homeward bound, but not before several pictures were taken of club members, speakers and others.

PRINCE WILLIAM 21ST ON EDUCATIONAL LIST

Supt. Hart Reports Rank Among 100 Counties of Virginia—School Board Meets.

Prince William stands twenty-first among the 100 counties of Virginia in educational advancement, according to report made to the county school board in session Friday through a letter from Hon. Harris Hart, state superintendent of public instruction, to Supt. Charles R. McDonald, who presided over the meeting of the board.

The board held a meeting in Manassas at the call of the superintendent to transact routine business, including the payment of bills amounting to $114.40. Rev. J. R. Cooke, of Greenwich, and Mr. W. A. Kidwell, of Agnewville, were appointed a committee to draw suitable resolutions concerning the death of Mr. Corbin Thomson, late chairman of the Occoquan district board.

The members present were: Supt. McDonald, presiding officer, and the following district trustees, Messrs. Thomas J. Woolfenden, Coles; J. R. Cooke; Brentsville; R. A. Rust, Gainesville; D. C. Cline, Dumfries; W. A. Kidwell, Occoquan, and D. J. Arrington and C. R. C. Johnson, Manassas.

LIFTS HOME BREW BAN

House in Beer Bill Bars Action Unless Liquor is Made to Sell.

Any householder could have home brew under interpretations placed upon an amendment to the Willis-Campbell beer bill approved by the House.

The amendment adopted as a substitute for a State provision, would require Federal agents to have warrants before entering homes in search of liquor. It provides, however, that no warrant shall be issued for search of a home, "unless there is reason to believe such dwelling is used as a place in which liquor is manufactured for sale or sold."

Representative Fields (Democrat), Kentucky, declaring the House amendment would virtually sanction "home brew," provided it was not made to be sold, attempted to have the words "for sale" stricken out, but his motion was rejected 96 to 64.

ICE CREAM SODAS START IN DETROIT

Credit Given to Thunderstorm Which Sours Sweet Cream, First in Use.

A summer thunderstorm forty-one years ago resulted in the "invention" of the ice cream soda, according to Fred Sanders, Jr., of Detroit, whose grandfather, Fred Sanders, claimed the distinction of having discovered this American institution.

Speaking of his grandfather's discovery, Mr. Sanders said: "Forty years ago the American people regarded ice cream much as the lily that could not be painted. At this time they 'took it straight.' Sirups were in general use in drink concoctions, but the ice cream sundae and its many near relatives were unknown. Carbonated water was used by the soda dispensers in a popular drink known as sweet cream soda. Its chief ingredient was sweet cream, direct from the farm.

"The thunderstorm that brought about my grandfather's discovery came in the summer of 1880. He was conducting a soft-drink parlor and the storm caused the sweet cream he had intended for sodas to sour. Just after the storm passed a wedding party dropped in and my grandfather volunteered to experiment until he found a substitute drink. He tried several drinks and finally concocted one almost identical with the ice cream soda of today.

"Members of the party like the new drink so well that it became popular within a short time and soon all desserters were making the sodas."

American soldiers are actually seen overwhelming the Huns in the vivid picture, "Flashes of Action," to be shown at the Dixie Theatre, Thursday, August 25. Heroes struck by shrapnel and falling wounded in the victorious dashes for liberty can be seen as plainly as if the spectators were on the scene of the battle. The picture is said to be in every way a marvelous reality, and was taken at the risk of the death of the cameraman. The war is seen in its most terrible aspects. Infantry charges, battles of the air, artillery offensives, submarine attacks, and night battles are set forth as they occurred on the battle field.

MANASSAS GREETES HOST OF VISITORS HERE FOR THIRD PRINCE WILLIAM FAIR

Fine Agricultural Exhibits of Every Variety, Live Stock, Poultry and Household Exhibits Crowd Exhibition Halls—Horse Show and Races Prove Big Drawing Card—Ideal Weather Prevails Throughout Fair.

The third annual Prince William Fair, an event long to be remembered in county annals, closes tonight, after four days and four nights of splendid exhibitions. A host of visitors enjoyed to the limit the fine agricultural, live stock and household exhibits, the horse show and races and the many amusement features offered. Ideal weather prevailed, although Wednesday until late afternoon was cloudy and cool.

Many visitors thronged to the live stock exhibits sheltered in the woods surrounding the main division of the grounds. Fine beef and dairy cattle, swine and sheep were exhibited, some of the blue ribbon winners being among the finest in the state. A striking feature of this exhibition was the demonstration of the value of club work, boys and girls exhibiting their pigs, baby beeves and dairy calves and winning first honors in open competition with their elders.

A particularly attractive display in the main exhibition hall was the exhibit of products grown on a single farm. First honors, carrying a silver cup, were awarded to Clover Hill Farm, established in 1770, and operated continuously since that time by the same family—the winning exhibit being entered by the family of the late J. B. Johnson. In spite of the unsatisfactory crop year, a remarkable variety of home grown and home-made products were exhibited. Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hundley, of Stone House, winners of the red ribbon, also prepared a wonderful display. Ivakota Farm, the Florence Crittenton mission at Clifton, exhibited woven rugs, rustic chairs, baskets, paper hats and water color sketches. Unbleached cotton table and bedroom sets formed an attractive part of the exhibit of the home demonstration clubs, the articles being simply made and decorated most effectively with applied designs in colors.

The Gold Ridge cheese factory had an exhibit which few if any Fair visitors failed to visit. Mr. W. Y. Elliott, of the Gold Ridge neighborhood, and Mr. H. F. Frale, a cheese specialist from Blacksburg, welcomed the visitors and distributed samples of the cheese in the form of toothsome sandwiches.

The daily fire drill, given by U. S. cavalrymen from Fort Myer was a spectacular feature. The horses took the hurdle in a circle of fire to the tune of a volley of shots. Recumbent soldiers formed the top rail of the hurdle and the horses took the jump in perfect order, two entering from one side and a third from the other direction passing between them. The Roman races also provided a thrilling spectacle, as well as the other races scheduled.

The promised 110-foot high dive, to which many visitors had looked forward, failed to materialize. A leak in the diving tank is said to have made it impossible for Up-High Billy to perform.

Tuesday's crowd was small, as usual on the opening day, while on Wednesday and Thursday a host of visitors arrived. The horse show, which opened yesterday and is still in progress today, proved an immense drawing card.

Dances Wednesday and Thursday evening at Conner's Hall in Manassas attracted large numbers of the younger set, who waltzed and danced to jazzy tunes until the wee small hours of the following days. The ball last night was given under the auspices of the Yair association, music being furnished by the Marine band from Quantico. A Washington orchestra played for the dancers the evening before.

Prize winners in the pig and calf clubs, where the exhibits in open competition proved superior to the animals shown by farmers, according to a list made public by the County Agent Browning, who was in charge of this department, are as follows: Spring Berkshire Sows—First, Mabel Pearson; second, Maxwell Springer; third, Myron Potter; fourth, Mabel Fairbanks; fifth, John Wine. Dairy Calf Club, second year—First, Robert Kline; second, Raleigh Kline; third, Maxwell Covington; fourth, Charles Lewis, jr.; fifth, Ashby Lewis, jr.

A feature of the fair which attracted special attention was the exhibit of the Boys' and Girls' Agricultural and Home Economics Clubs, and a popular feature of this was the girls' bread judging contest. Twenty-eight loaves of bread were entered by the girl club members and twenty-seven girls were entered in judging contests. Miss Georgie Brockett, of Agnewville, was pronounced the best bread maker in the clubs, and Miss Annabel Merrill, of Independent Hill, the best judge of good bread. Miss Brockett also led the team of girls who received first honors in bread judging as a group, having been selected by the judges from nine teams of three girls each. These girls, Miss Brockett, Miss Virginia Garber and Miss Helen Arthur, will be sent to Richmond to enter the bread contest at the state fair in October.

"This is fine work. It is the best thing in the Fair," was the verdict of one admiring parent who viewed the exhibit. The girls went about the work patiently and were enthusiastic over their success.

Excellent work and creditable progress were observed in the exhibits of the girls' canning and sewing clubs and the boys' and girls' poultry clubs. The prize winners in these classes and in the bread contests, all of which were in charge of Miss Lillian V. Gilbert, county home demonstration agent, are as follows:

PRIVATE HUGH CORUM BURIED IN MANASSAS

Body of Young Prince William Soldier Brought Home from Battlefield of France.

The body of Private Hugh G. Corum, brought home from the battlefields of France, was laid to rest in the Manassas cemetery on Saturday. A guard of former service men remained with the body at the Manassas Baptist Church from the time of the arrival of the flag-draped casket Friday afternoon to the hour set for the funeral service on Saturday.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. T. D. D. Clark and music was rendered by the Baptist choir, assisted by members of the choirs of other churches. A short service was held at the grave, Rev. Mr. Clark offering a prayer and "America" being sung.

The pallbearers, all former service men, were: Messrs. Lawrence Gregory, Marshall Haydon, Wheatley Johnson, J. B. Johnson, jr., Paul Williams, Dennis O'Neil, Douglas Lion and Frank Polen.

Mr. Corum enlisted in the Warrenton Rifles and served overseas with Company D, 116th Infantry, 29th Division. He was twenty-four years old and the son of Mrs. Fannie Corum, of Manassas, being one of four brothers who followed the colors during the war.

POLO AT MARSHALL FAIR

Fauquier Team Will Play War Department During Annual Event.

One of the features of the Fauquier county fair at Marshall next Wednesday and Thursday will be a polo match between the Fauquier County Country Club and a team from Washington representing the War Department. The game will be played in the afternoon of the first day of the fair, August 24, at the conclusion of the racing program.

Last year, in a game played between the two teams at Potomac Park, the War Department won easily by a score of 12 to 3. This year the Fauquier team will be greatly strengthened by the addition of Major Beard, of the Front Royal Remount Station, who has played regularly at Marshall and Welbourne during the season. He is well mounted, knows polo, and his great physical strength enables him to get unusual distance with his strokes. He will play No. 3.

Major Beard's addition to the team has moved Mr. Belmont, who usually plays No. 3, to No. 1. He is a finished horseman, knows the game thoroughly, and can be relied on to drive between the posts a high percentage of his shots for goal. No. 2 will be played by Mr. Skinner. He is a good horseman, works hard, and always gives a good account of himself in a match. Capt. Hubert will play back. He has an unusually good string of ponies, and is an aggressive, dashing player.

In accounts the local team will probably have the better of it, although there have been some casualties among the top ponies, notably in the case of Mr. Belmont's string. A good part of them are thoroughbreds, and the Fauquier team can be considered to be unusually well mounted. An interesting game is promised.

KILLED IN RAID BY DRY AGENTS

Prohibition Officers Start State-wide Clean-Up—Man Slain in Greenville County.

Federal and state prohibition officers have begun to "clean up" the state, according to reports reaching Richmond, which were to the effect that no less than eleven raids had been made in various parts Friday and Saturday, and in the course of which one alleged illicit distiller, John Brantley, was killed. According to dry enforcement officers, they raided a place in Greenville and found a "still" in operation. Brantley was in charge, they allege.

Brantley was commanded to throw up his hands, but instead of obeying, according to the prohibition men, he reached for a shotgun, which was standing nearby. The dry men say they shot Brantley as he was raising his gun to shoot them. A coroner's jury, which sat Sunday at Emporia, exonerated the state prohibition officers for the killing of Brantley.

Four stills were seized in Fairfax county Friday and Saturday. Two of them had ten-gallon capacities; one thirty gallons and the other fifty gallons. Edgar Harris, Rodney Harris, Ernest H. Harmon and Edgar Poole were arrested.

Three plants were seized in Northumberland county last week and four men were placed under arrest. Several stills were taken in raids on places in Greenville and York counties, two of the plants being large ones, having capacities of 140 and 150 gallons, respectively.

In addition to large quantities of liquor seized, hundreds of gallons of "mash" were confiscated.—Times-Dispatch.

NEW WELL 234 FEET DEEP

City Fathers Decide to Drill Third Well, to Insure Water Supply.

The new municipal well had reached a depth of 234 feet at the close of yesterday's work, which preceded a distance of 17 feet. Water has remained within 50 or 65 feet of the surface for some time.

Pipe ordered for the well was shipped from Washington yesterday, according to advices received by Supt. Gue. The drill at this time is going through a soft layer of water-bearing rock, and a test will be made as soon as the next strata are reached.

Another well is to be drilled this fall, according to present plans, in order to insure ample water supply for the town. The well now under way is located in the same field from which the present supply is obtained and about 150 feet west of the present well. The third well is to be drilled about midway between the two, but sufficiently out of line to make the three wells an equal distance apart.

BIG DAY AT WOODLAWN

Ball Games and Chicken and Pie Supper Scheduled for August 27.

The Woodlawn Civic League is making plans for a big field day at Woodlawn on Saturday, August 27. Features of the day will include two games of ball and a chicken and pie supper with ice cream, cake and cold drinks on sale. The entertainment will last from 1 to 10 p. m., supper and refreshments being served at all hours.

The league will hold its regular meeting tomorrow at Woodlawn. The evening's program will include a play entitled "Three Housekeepers." The public is cordially invited.

SPANKED BEFORE BEAU, SHE FLEES FROM HOME IN SHAME

Because her mother spanked her with a slipper on the front porch of their home in the presence of her "steady," Miss Anna Hughes, aged eighteen, disappeared from her home in Pittsburgh, Pa., and has not been seen nor heard from since. The "spanking" was administered Monday night. The police, who were appealed to, admit tonight that they are at sea. No clue has been secured to the missing young woman.

After the spanking, according to the police Miss Hughes and her friend, Earl McClelland left the home together and since that time neither the mother of the girl nor any of her friends have seen or heard of her. Appealed to by the mother, McClelland declared he knew nothing of Miss Hughes' whereabouts.

STATE NEWS NOTES

Dr. K. Nelson Goolrick, prominent druggist of Fredericksburg, died Saturday after a short illness, at the age of forty-seven. He was unmarried and leaves his mother and two brothers and two sisters.

Some weeks ago tobacco plants from a county in southern Virginia, thought to be affected by a new form of blight, were sent to the state experiment station, Blacksburg, for study, and information now is to the effect that the trouble was the result of a stroke of lightning, which occurred near the tobacco field.

Commander Richard Evelyn Byrd, Jr., U. S. N., son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Evelyn Byrd, of Winchester, is to be one of the navigating officers of the new naval dirigible, ZR-2, which is to make its initial flight from England to the United States, August 25, according to word received by his parents.

Virginia now holds second place in number of purebred sires on farms, according to the News Letter from the Department of Agriculture, Nebraska having pushed into first place. Virginia leads, however, in number of persons enrolled as using purebred sires only, having 1,772 to 789 in Nebraska. The purebred sires of animals listed in Virginia in the nine months ending June number 36,262 to 41,827 in Nebraska. Of the twenty-five states listed, curiously, Kentucky, home of the thoroughbred, is eighteenth and New York is twenty-fourth. West Virginia is just below Kentucky and Maryland does not show at all.

Fire last week destroyed the large barn of Mr. J. E. Douglas, a mile and a half from Aldie. The building, wheat from a fifty-acre crop, the hay crop and other forage, much farm machinery and many tools were consumed. The loss is estimated at from $6,000 to $7,000, partly covered by insurance. The cause is supposed to have been spontaneous combustion from moisture in the hay.

An unusual story of an attack on a rooster by a snake is reported from the farm of Mr. J. H. Tucker, in Culpeper county, where James Berry, a colored laborer, who was cutting weeds near the hen house, witnessed the fight. When the rooster first attracted Berry's attention the latter stopped hoeing and went around the hen house to see what was wrong. Just as the man turned the corner the rooster jumped fully a yard in the air and Berry saw something dangling from its neck, which he first thought was a piece of rope which was strangling the bird. Looking closer he saw it was a snake. The rooster, with the reptile still keeping a strangle hold, dashed into a corn field and ran fully fifty yards, until it fell exhausted. Berry followed and struck the snake a death blow with his hoe, notwithstanding, it held on until entirely dead. It was an unusually large one, and measured nearly four feet. The plucky rooster is still living.

A fight between Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Parsons over the custody of their little daughter, threw the retail business district of Winchester into a turmoil of excitement a few days ago, a crowd of approximately 500 people following the combatants to the magistrate's court. Parsons and his child were standing at a prominent street corner, and when the wife came along she seized the girl and started off with her, according to a Winchester dispatch. Parsons took the child from the woman and while on the way to the courthouse to have guardianship settled, Mrs. Parsons struck and pulled at her husband, frantically endeavoring to regain possession of the child. Asked by the judge with whom she wished to stay, the child lisped, "I want to stay with my pappy." An order to that effect was entered. Parsons and his wife have been estranged a year or more.

Ellis N. Tucker, who is a son of Bishop and Mrs. Beverly D. Tucker, of Norfolk, has gone to Vancouver, where he will sail August 18 for Shanghai, China. Mr. Tucker for five years was instructor in mathematics at the Virginia Episcopal School, and he will occupy a similar position in St. John's University, Shanghai.

As a mark of appreciation of services rendered while in their employ, the firm of Davis Brothers, Incorporated, has named a new apartment house in Richmond, recently erected by them, for their former stenographer, Miss Mae Howard, now in the employ of a South Boston concern. The new building will be known as the Mae Howard Apartment.

Authorities at the McCormick Observatory at the University of Virginia are confident that the severe earth tremors felt over the counties of Albemarle, Buckingham, Nelson, Fluvanna and Cumberland early on the morning of August 7 were caused by a great meteorite, traveling north to south, bursting near Howardsville, Albemarle county. It will be recalled that a report from Germany was to the effect that the earth passed through the tail of a comet on that night.

The river yesterday gave up the bodies of two negroes believed to have been the men who jumped from a row boat last Thursday night when a special agent of the Seaboard Air Line railway fired upon them in a warehouse on the pier, says a Portsmouth dispatch of a few days ago. The bodies were found in the vicinity of the pier, where searchers were engaged practically all of the day in a dragging operation. The bodies, according to the authorities, were identified as those of Vernon Lee Mabrie and David Goodman.

William Jones, colored, of Fairfax county, while driving into Alexandria Friday night, stopped his flivver to turn on his auto light in order to comply with the law. The stopping of the machine attracted the attention of two officers, who upon making an investigation, discovered a small wooden keg containing five gallons of a fluid supposed to be corn liquor, according to the Alexandria Gazette. They also recovered three bottles. Jones was arraigned in police court and held for the action of the grand jury. Later he furnished a bond in the sum of $500 and was released.

Crude Oil from Many Fields Helps to Make "Standard" the Best Gasoline

PETROLEUM varies greatly according to its source. Some crude oil is best for one purpose while other grades are superior for different products. In many years of experimental work we have discovered that our widely varying sources of supply—covering almost every developed field—are of great value in contributing to the ideal balance in gasoline.

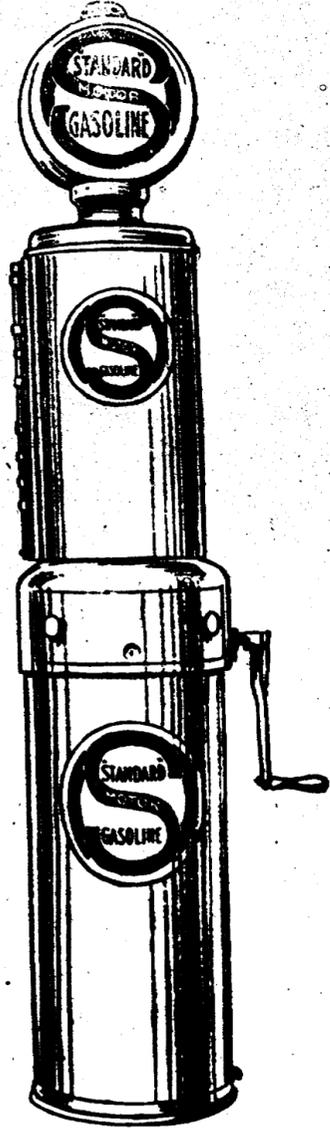

You cannot get out of the motor anything more than you put into it—via the carburetor. No amount of skill in operation will make a one-sided gasoline act like a balanced fuel.

A one-sided gasoline may be quick-starting, or be efficient in some other one respect, but it is not capable of delivering the all-round efficiency of a well-balanced gasoline. A gasoline of proper balance can be depended upon not only for quick-starting but for smooth-running, maximum mileage, and a clean motor as well.

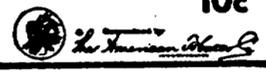

It is the easiest thing in the world to test this improved gasoline yourself. Wait until your tank is nearly empty and then try out "STANDARD" MOTOR GASOLINE on hills with which you are familiar.

You can buy it wherever you motor.

Friends of Ireland who have been keenly sensitive to the possibilities of the Irish truce and thoughtfully awaiting definite news of the result will own to a feeling of regret that De Valera was unable or unwilling to accept the offer made by the British government through Lloyd George. Although the truce continues, little satisfaction can be had from the deadlock.

Britain has signified its entire willingness to create for Ireland a dominion status, carrying with it the same freedom enjoyed by the vast British dominions in other parts of the world. Although the offer would seem to the observer to be the height of magnanimity from the British viewpoint—and an offer which some months earlier would have been received by the world as a shock—it is not the absolute independence which Ireland has sought, for which Ireland has fought, and for which Ireland apparently is ready to sacrifice continued years of peace and happiness.

Whether the brave and warmhearted people of the little emerald isle have suffered to such an extent that a prolonged season of bloodshed and terror would be continually welcome so long as hope of ultimate victory abounds, it is hard to determine—particularly at a time when the offer of the British government appears in the form of a tremendous step toward the result so long desired. It is possible, of course, that DeValera may see differently, but the rest of the world can see no greater concession from Britain in prospect.

However, the choice remains with Ireland, and perhaps we may expect her leaders, on whom so much depends, to catch the vision of the future, and speak, with all Ireland behind them, for what will mean a prosperous and happy reunited race.

HILLS

I never loved your plains—
 Your gentle valleys
 Your drowsy country lanes
 And pleached alleys.

I want my hills!—the trail
 That scorns the hollow—
 Up, up the ragged shale
 Where few will follow.

Up, over wooded crest
 And mossy boulder
 With strong thigh, heaving chest,
 And swinging shoulder.

So let me hold my way,
 By nothing halted
 Until, at close of day,
 I stand exalted.

High on my hills of dream—
 Dear hills that know me!
 And then, how fair will seem
 The lands below me.

How pure, at vesper time,
 The far bells chiming,
 God, give me hills to climb,
 And strength for climbing!

CHEERFUL THOUGHT
 Somebody must always be putting joy in life, or there would not be so much for other people to take out.—Indianapolis News.

SELF-EVIDENT
 A small boy was scrubbing the front porch of his house the other day when a lady called.
 "Is your mother in?" she inquired.
 "Do you think I'd be scrubbing the porch if she wasn't?" was the rather curt reply.

RELATIVE RANK
 "And do you think I would prove a satisfactory mate with whom to sail the sea of life?" he asked softly.
 "Oh, s-s-o," the maiden responded coolly. "You'd do pretty well as a mate, if you clearly understood who was captain."

SAME, ONLY DIFFERENT
 "My wife constantly pesters me for money. Does yours?"
 "No; the people she buys things from do that."

LATTER-DAY PUGILISM
 "I understand the young pugilist rejected an offer of $25,000 for forty minutes' work."
 "With extreme hauteur, too. He informed the fight promoter that his hotel bill last year amounted to that much and a person of his prominence couldn't think of working for his room and board."

VERY CLOUDY CLOUD
 William Lyon Phelps, of the English chair at Yale, has added a new mixed metaphor to his large and amusing collection. This addition is from one of the novels of W. L. George: "The cloud that tried to stab their happiness was only a false rumor whose bitter taste could not splinter the radiance nor dim the effervescence of their joy."

NO POST OFFICE NOW

Our hopes of having a new post office in Manassas have been somewhat dashed for the present by the decision of the House Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds not to authorize during the present session of Congress appropriations for any buildings save for hospitals designed for the treatment of ex-service men and women.

The chairman of this committee, in a recent letter to Representative Moore, said:

"I am directed by the Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds to advise you that owing to the present condition of the Government finances and the consequent necessity for the most rigid economy, as well as the pressure of the emergency legislation, the committee has definitely decided not to prepare and report a general public buildings bill at this session, or to consider any individual bill authorizing the appropriation of money, other than for hospital facilities for the treatment of our disabled ex-service men and women. I, therefore, beg to inform you that in view of the decision no action will be taken by our committee at this session of Congress upon any bill proposing to authorize an appropriation for public building work other than as above indicated."

Having bestirred itself so little while money for the purpose was available, Manassas is forced to a graceful acceptance of the situation. Nevertheless, we shall need to take very good care of embryo plans and hopes, and have them in fine feather when the opportunity arrives.

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

In spite of continuous proddings from the editorial pen in this particular corner of The Journal, sentiment in favor of a Chamber of Commerce for Manassas is not maturing rapidly. We are not losing hope, however, for the chamber of commerce plan has been so successfully operated in other towns—including many of our Virginia neighbors—that we refuse to believe that Manassas shall not reap its benefits.

Its tremendous possibilities are not difficult to see, and so again we commend the idea to the progressive business interests of Manassas. A little real leadership would make the plan an instantaneous success.

Your Ideal of a Flour

¶ There is scarcely a housewife or cook in this whole section who has not had trouble, at one time or another, with flour. And when you can not get just the kind of flour you want, doesn't everything just seem to go wrong?

¶ Many a time you have wondered why there was not a flour to serve every purpose. "Why should it be necessary to have two or three different kinds of flour on hand in order to take care of the various baking needs?" you have probably asked yourself over and over.

¶ B. Lynn Robertson's White Rose Flour is the solver of your baking troubles—the answer to all the questions you have been asking about the merits and adaptability of this and that grade of flour.

¶ In White Rose, we have succeeded in grinding a flour that is an all-purpose baking material—a flour that you will be delighted with, once you have used it. If your home is not acquainted with this popular brand, order it the next time. If your grocer does not have it, we will gladly supply you direct until you can get White Rose at your grocer's.

Or words to that effect

IT BEATS the band.
THE WAY this thing.
KEEPS POPPING up.
THE OTHER night.
I BROKE all rules.
AND READ a high-brow book.
AND HERE'S a hot one.
THAT IT handed me.
"MANY OF us find.
THAT TASTE affords.
ONE OF the fairly.
DEPENDABLE SATISFACTIONS.
OR EVERYDAY living.
AND IT seems.
UPON LONG reflection.
THAT SATISFACTION.
COMES CLOSE to being.
THE LONG sought.
"HIGHEST GOOD."
OF COURSE that isn't.
WRITTEN WITH the case.
AND POLISH to which.

WE ARE accustomed.
BUT IT'S a mouthful.
AS YOU'LL agree if you.
JUST PUT it into good.
UNITED STATES, like this.
"SON, YOU'LL be running.
ON FOUR flat tires.
IF YOU don't hurry.
AND WRAP yourself around.
THE ONLY cigarette.
THAT SATISFIES."

"THEY Satisfy" — nothing else so well describes Chesterfields' mildness, their mellowness, their delicacy of aroma and smooth, even "body." It took the finest varieties of Turkish and Domestic tobaccos to do it — and the highest order of skill in blending them. Yes, the Chesterfield blend is a secret. It can't be copied.

Have you seen the new AIR-TIGHT tin of 50?

FOR MIDSUMMER Lyons Velvet Hats

—If history is to be believed, women at one time wore straw hats in summer and velvet hats in winter. Woman is a creature of moods and by no means dependent upon the weather man to tell her what to wear.

—In winter she wears hats of straw or lace—in summer, behold, she dons the chapeau of velvet.

—Because it is becoming almost always, and because it seems peculiarly adapted to seaside wear, we excuse the inconsistency of lovely woman's fads, and applaud her in her chic velvet hat though the weather be 100 degrees in the shade.

—These new models are in large, medium and small shapes. The color list includes blue, brown, pheasant, cherry, taupe and black.

—The trimmings are of pin ostrich, in fancy effects.

PRESIDENT'S FATHER, 76 TAKES NURSE, 52, AS BRIDE

Dr. George T. Harding, of Marion, Ohio, Weds Miss Alice Severns.

In the parlor of the vine-covered little manse of the First Presbyterian Church at Monroe, Mich., last Thursday a white-haired, smiling old gentleman dressed in a slightly old-fashioned "Prince Albert, immaculate "boiled" shirt and a prim white tie, and a comely, middle-aged woman, smiling under her crown of brown hair and black hat, were quietly married.

The smiling old gentleman was Dr. George T. Harding, seventy-six, father of President Harding, civil war veteran, and for many years the doctor to the countryside around Marion, Ohio. His bride is Miss Alice Severns, fifty-two, for many years her new husband's assistant official nurse.

Dr. Harding, leading his intended bride solicitously by the arm, walked into the manse, trying hard to suppress the smile that wreathed his face every minute he was in Monroe.

Mentioning them to a place beside a sunlit window, Rev. Frank T. Knowles read the service. Dr. Harding boyishly kissed his bride. "It was a real one," said the minister afterward.

HAVE TOO MANY BUFFALO

The problem of the buffalo has reversed itself.

A few years ago the monarch of the plains was the chief figure in the drama of a dying species. The problem today is how to feed and take care of the rapidly multiplying herds.

Yellowstone Park provides a huge hay ranch for the sole purpose of feeding the buffaloes when winter snows have covered the grazing pastures. But so rapidly is the park herd growing that this ranch soon will provide insufficient food.

GAINESVILLE

Miss Anna Mason, the little daughter of the late Dr. Selma M. Mason, of Clarksburg, W. Va., and Gainesville, has returned to her Clarksburg home, after a visit of several months with relatives here.

Mr. W. M. Cave, who has been located in South Carolina, is at home for a brief visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pearson, of Washington, have been visiting relatives at Haymarket and Gainesville.

Mr. Thomas Armstrong has returned from a visit to his sisters near Warrenton.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sweeney are entertaining a number of relatives and friends from Washington.

Mrs. W. V. Mason and children, of New York, are visiting relatives in the neighborhood.

FIRST WOMAN COUNCILMAN

When Mrs. Julia K. Swetnam, wife of Dr. Ford Swetnam, takes her seat in the town council of Vienna, Fairfax county, a precedent will have been created for the state in having a woman in such a position. Mayor James Allen, of Vienna, says she will be the first woman in the state to have the distinction of sitting as a member of a town council.

DOUBLE FUNERAL HELD

Mr. Eben Laws died at his home at Catlett, Fauquier county, a few days ago. His daughter, Mrs. Alice Boody, died at her home in Philadelphia. The body of Mrs. Boody was taken to Catlett later, where a double funeral was held.

THE U. S. NOBBY TREAD

Where the going is specially heavy with snow, mud or sand, in hilly country where maximum traction on the road is a factor, no other tire tread yet devised is quite so effective, or so wholly approved by motoring opinion, as the U. S. Nobby Tread.

Its very simplicity—three rows of diagonal knobs, gripping the road—is the result of all the years of U. S. Rubber experience with every type of road the world over.

If every one listened to experience, how much they'd save

STOP and talk to the next man you see with U. S. Tires on his car. Ask him why.

Most likely you'll hear an interesting story about his tire experiments—before the answer was found. Money wasted. Promises unkept. Trouble on the road—humorous to every one except the man who went through it.

Finally U. S. Tires. And U. S. Tires ever since.

Perhaps it's the experience of U. S. Tire buyers that makes them more emphatic in their preference than ever this year.

When these men have tried most everything by the way of "staggering bargains", "hurrah discounts", "discontinued lines at less" and so forth they know what not to get.

They want a fresh, live tire. With a good reputation. That's everything it says it is. With the people behind it who back it up.

There are 92 U. S. Factory Branches. Your local U. S. Dealer is drawing upon them continually to keep his stocks sized up, complete—to give you service.

Whenever he gets one or a hundred tires from a U. S. Factory Branch, they are newly made this season's tires.

Sold to you at a net price. Full values. Square-dealing. A reputable maker. A reputable dealer. The whole transaction as befits the leadership of the oldest and largest rubber organization in the world.

"Stop and talk to the next man you see with U. S. Tires on his car."
