SWANSON VICTOR IN VA. PRIMARY

Defeats Davis by Large Majority—County Vote in Detail.

In Tuesday's primary Senator Claude A. Swanson swept the State, defeating Westmoreland Davis by a majority that will probably reach 60,000 when the vote is fully canvassed. Mr. Swanson carried every city and county in the State with the exception of the counties of Loudoun, Mr. Davis' home county, and Richmond, in the Northern Neck. The vote for Senator Swanson was practically unanimous in some counties.

Richmond, alone of the cities, gave Mr. Davis anything like a good showing, and he lost that city by 635 votes out of a total of 13,000. In Loudoun County Mr. Davis received 1,418 votes out of a total of 2,250 cast.

FUTURE BASE BALL GAMES

The Manassas White Rose Base Ball team will not go to Orange Saturday. This game has been delayed until the latter part of August. The following games have been scheduled for August:

- On our grounds—
- Middleburg—Tuesday, August 8.
- Herndon—Saturday, August 12.
- Washington, R. M. S. A. C., Saturday, August 19.
- Brandy Station—Wednesday, August 16.
- At Brandy Station—Wednesday, August 23.
- At Middleburg—Thursday, August 24.

These are some of the strongest teams in northern Virginia. Middleburg defeated the White Rose team last Wednesday, and of course we are expecting to even up with them next Tuesday. We are expecting a large attendance on next Tuesday, as the Middleburg is the leading team in the Loudoun League and will put up a very hard fight. Dennis will pitch for the visiting team, while Fry, Dreyfers or Shryder will pitch for the locals. R. H. Holiday, Manager.

The town of Boyce was under several feet of water. The property and crop damage is estimated at $175,000.

SENATOR CLAUDE A. SWANSON

WILMINGTON BOOSTS EFIRD

Former Manassas Boy Wins Popularity—Successful in Business.

In the July 23 edition of The Wilmington Dispatch, Wilmington, N. C., appeared an account of the business activities of Mr. M. O. Efrid, which The Journal is pleased to publish in full.

Mr. Efrid is a son of Rev. J. K. Efrid, at one time pastor of the Lutheran Church here:

"The president of the Lion's Club doesn't look the part. Not a growl can be heard. On the contrary, he is suave, courteous, and rather mild in manner, but let no one be misled by a gentle exterior. Underneath he is a human dynamo, who counts each day lost which has not witnessed a scope or so of new patrons for his business. Holding down the job of manager of Efrid's department store is Mr. Efrid's hobby as well as his work, and he is never happier than when his New York buyer hits an extra special good bargain, and provides 'M. O.' with the material to dope out a four-page advertisement, and send automobiles in all directions carrying tidings of attractive values in Wilmington. Mr. Efrid believes in work as a means to success and sets the pace in his business by being the first to arrive and the last to leave the store. Although a resident of this city for little more than a year, 'M. O.' is one of Wilmington's most ardent boosters, and expressed his faith in the town of his adoption by buying one of the finest residences in Winoca. In addition to being a president and a hustler, Mr. Efrid is a regular fellow, and can hold his own in any company. He is a widower with three children and is 38 years young."

The "Efrid Department Stores" are operated in many of the principal cities of the South.

SUNDAY SCHOOL OUTING

Pupils and Older Folks Enjoy Picnic on Ocoquan Run.

(By Rev. T. D. D. Clark)

On Thursday afternoon, July 27, Libeau's Grove, on the banks of the Ocoquan, was the animated scene of a picnic outing arranged by Mrs. R. B. Sprinkel and Miss Senie Cockrell, the capable associate superintendents of the primary department of the Manassas Baptist Sunday School, for the benefit of its members. Little and big brothers and sisters, fathers, mothers and others made up as happy a picnic family as could be desired. True to name and fame the company took to the water without loss of time, with the exception of a few aged and pleased observers. The party went along, but did not feel at liberty to show what he could NOT do in the water, and might have felt a little dismal about it had it not been for the arrival of Master James Knox of the primary department, whose winning smile and proffered box of candy sweetened the whole situation. Mr. and Mrs. Libeau were kindness itself and put everybody at ease. Words fail to do justice to the hearty, wholesome fun of the afternoon, and the satisfying supper served on the commodious table provided by Mr. Libeau for such occasions. It was great.

The third annual reunion of the veteran pupils of Mr. C. E. Skinner will be held at Hickory Grove school house (with him) August 9. It is proposed to make this also a "homecoming" of all Hickory Grove people. Old teachers and pupils of the school at any time are especially invited. Join us in a basket picnic. Refreshments may be had. Mrs. W. P. Wilsons, president Patrons' League.

MONTHLY MEETING OF THE TOWN COUNCIL

Reports of Several Committees Read and Approved—Other Business.

The regular monthly meeting of the town council was held in the town hall on Monday evening, July 31. There were present the mayor, Harry P. Davis, and the following councilmen: J. H. Burke, J. M. Bell, B. C. Cornwell, D. J. Arrington, E. R. Conner, R. S. Hynson, R. M. Jenkins and Bruce Whitmore.

The public utilities committee reported the erection of a building on the roof of the relay pumping station on Grant avenue for the purpose of housing the electrical apparatus used at the sub-station. Also that a concrete floor and water box and frame buildings had been erected at the pumping station to house the machinery in connection with No. 2 well and the new air compressor that has recently been purchased.

According to the report of the chairman of the public utilities committee the total net revenues for the electric light plant for the month of July were $1,648.88.

The sergeant's report showed the following sums collected for licenses and taxes: License tax, $2,991.82; corporation tax $10,575.49; dog tax, $82.15.

The balances in the several funds as shown by the report of Mrs. O. J. Davis, treasurer, are: Current fund, $178.36; cemetery fund, $115.49; tax fund, $2,921.28; license tax fund, $2,942.56, and sinking fund, $4,430.

Permits were granted to G. W. Merchant to build a garage and to W. W. Stokes to erect a porch.

HORSE STEALING POPULAR

Animals Taken From "Ben Lomond" Farm—Gulley Parties Arrested.

Horse stealing has been very much in evidence this week at the Ben Lomond farm, near Manassas. On Sunday night, Will Jubert, a white boy about 14 years of age, whose home is in New Jersey and who has been employed the past several months by Mr. R. B. Wagoner, made off with a pony from the farm. The pony was recovered at Fairfax Courthouse, where it had been abandoned. Mr. Wagoner was advised by telegram on Wednesday morning that Jubert had been apprehended in Washington.

On Tuesday night George Kirby, colored, who had also been in Mr. Wagoner's employ, stole a horse, buggy and harness from the Ben Lomond farm. Upon discovering the loss, Mr. Wagoner set out in pursuit of the thief and overtook him about six miles west of Alexandria driving the stolen horse. The property was recovered and Kirby placed under arrest.

SETTLE TREASURER'S ACCOUNT

Committee Engaged in Annual Settlement With Collecting Officer.

The committee appointed by the board of supervisors to settle with County Treasurer J. P. Leachman has been engaged in going over the accounts. Work was suspended by the committee Monday afternoon for the period of Mr. Leachman's stay in Atlantic City, where he has gone on his annual vacation.

The accounts so far settled show balances to the credit of the several funds as of July 1, 1922, as follows: Brentsville Dist. road fund, $1,669.24; Coles Dist. road fund, $97.31; Dumfries Dist. road fund, $1,905.31; Gainesville Dist. road fund, $1,048.86; Manassas Dist. road fund, $753.36; Ocoquan Dist. road fund, $3,428.02; Ocoquan Dist. bond issue fund, $1,675.12; Special road fund, $2,149.71; County-pension fund, $1,813.00.

GOOD GAME FOR THE JUNIORS

Manassas White Rose, Jr., Base Ball Team Defeats Haymarket.

On last Friday evening the White Rose, Jr., defeated the strong Haymarket town team by the score of 7 to 3. The Juniors took the lead in the first inning and held it until the seventh, when Thompson hit a single. Walters was struck out by the pitcher and Hunt, next up, hit a home run, scoring two runs, which put the game in their favor 7 to 6. But in the lucky eighth Juniors scored two runs and held the game that way through the ninth. The battery for the Juniors was Trimmer, pitcher; Mills, catcher; for Haymarket, Hunt, pitcher; E. Thompson, catcher.

HON. R. W. MOORE TO THE RESCUE

Congressman Interests Himself to Have Post Office Lot Cleared.

In its issue of July 15 The Journal in an article headed "Who Is Responsible" directed attention to the unkept condition of the post office lot at the corner of West and Church streets.

In this connection the following letter has been received from Hon. R. Walton Moore:

"House of Representatives,
Washington, D. C.,
July 18, 1922.
"D. R. Lewis, Esq., Business Mgr.,
"The Manassas Journal,
"Manassas, Va.

"Dear Mr. Lewis:—I have just noticed in the issue of The Manassas Journal for July 15 the article headed 'Who Is Responsible?' Since reading the article I have talked with the office of the Supervising Architect of the Treasury, who tells me that all that is necessary is for the postmaster at Manassas, who, under the law, is the custodian of the lot, to address a communication to the Secretary of the Treasury, requesting that he be given authority to have the weeds cut off the lot and the necessary cleaning done, and that the authority will be promptly granted.

"Yours, very truly,
"R. WALTON MOORE."
Now that The Journal has pointed out the evil and Mr. Moore has been kind enough to interest himself in the matter and suggest the course of procedure, it is hoped that our obliging postmaster will take the necessary steps to have the lot put in a presentable and sanitary condition.

HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT GOAL

Maintenance of Roads Department to Have Every Consideration.

"Every mile of the State Highway System travelable 365 days in the year" is the goal which has been adopted by the maintenance division of the State Highway Department and every energy of this important division of State highway work will be exerted to realize this goal at the earliest possible date, according to George P. Coleman, State Highway Commissioner. This is in accord with the determination of Chairman H. G. Shirley and the State Highway Commission to keep the highway open for travel in so far as it is possible to do so even before the roads are constructed as the Commission and Commissioner fully appreciate that highway service is the object of building roads.

After December 31, 1922, all of the automobile license fees which will amount to approximately $2,250,000 in 1923, will go to maintenance. This will permit the State Highway Commission to extend its maintenance supervision to include every mile of the 4,000 miles of State highways. The provision of the bill to transfer the remaining one-third of the automobile license fees from construction to maintenance at the close of 1922 was made on the recommendation of the State Highway Commissioner, who foresaw that by that time it would take all of the automobile license fees to provide an adequate fund for the proper maintenance of the State highway system.

In preparation for the taking over of the remaining 2,000 miles of State highways for maintenance, the maintenance department is now undergoing reorganization and enlargement. Each of the eighteen construction districts has a maintenance engineer superintendent, who will be in charge of the maintenance of the mileage of State highways in his district. He will be provided with the necessary road machinery and men to handle the work.

FISHING AT OCCOQUAN BAY

Prof. E. W. Sanders and W. L. Browning, with the party that accompanied them on an outing to the J. L. Dawson farm at Woodbridge, returned to Manassas Saturday afternoon. Prof. Sanders gives the Dawson farm high praise as a place for a camping expedition. A high elevation and Occoquan Bay leave very little to be desired in the way of camp site and good bathing facilities. According to Prof. Sanders, Wilmer Kline proved to be the only fisherman in the party. But for Wilmer no fish would have been caught.

STATE FARMERS' INSTITUTE

County Agent W. L. Browning calls the attention of the farmers of the county for the last time to the State Farmers' Institute, to be held at Blacksburg next week, August 9 to 11. The main topics discussed at this year's institute will be the farmers' marketing problems, and these discussions will be discussed by the greatest marketing experts in the United States. It is very important now that the farmers are marketing their various crops, that each county have some of their interested farmers attend this meeting, that they may bring back home the solution to some of their serious marketing problems.

MEETING AT BLACKSBURG

Prince William County Club Members Off for State Fair.

(Miss Lillian V. Gilbert, County Home Demonstration Agent)
Master Glen Bowman, president of Boys' and Girls' County 4-H Clubs, in company with Miss Olivia Athey, assistant county secretary, and Miss Georgia Brockett, Ocoquan District vice-president, left Monday for Blacksburg. Miss Roberta Moncure, home demonstration agent for Fairfax County, chaperoned the party. Girls and boys from other counties were expected to join them as they journeyed.

Each one had settled on a special course to study while there. Glen is a member of the Pig and Poultry Clubs and Olivia and Georgia of the Canning and Room Improvement Club. These girls expect to get the work in judging canned products.

A fuller account of the work will be given next week after the return of the club members.

The following notice has just come into the hands of the county home demonstration agent:

Trip to Europe for Canning Club Girls

In 1920 Texas sent a team of boys to Europe; in 1921, Maryland. This prize has been won by Southern boys and it is now hoped that Southern girls will show themselves just as capable as the boys.

A free trip to Europe! and with all expenses paid—the largest prize ever offered—is open to the Canning Club girls in the United States. The plan provides for the usual local, county and State elimination contests; after that sectional contests. The winning team will leave the United States June 1, 1923.

Fifty-five thousand rural girls are members of the canning clubs in the United States.

It is hoped that Prince William girls will do their best.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES

There will be a two-weeks' series of evangelistic services conducted at the Cannon Branch Church of the Brethren, beginning on Sunday night, August 6. The meetings will be in charge of the home ministry. Services each night at 8 p. m., with song service at 7:45.

The following will be some of the subjects that will be discussed: "Meaning of Discipleship," "Three Fires," "Faith; What Is It? How Can It Be Obtained?" "The Straight Gate or Gate of Life," "Sowing and Reaping," "Sin," "All Things Are Ready Come," "The Last Invitation," "The Prodigal Son," "Christ Seeking Sinners" and "Salvation." Come and hear these discussions and enjoy the services with us.—The Pastor.

Keith, the evangelist, is having very successful meetings. It is expected that he will preach Sunday at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. and will continue the meetings each evening next week. Come and hear him.

HOSPITAL MEETS WITH APPROVAL

Must Be Mutual Understanding to Make the Project a Success.

(Contributed)
The action taken at the citizens' meeting on July 18 to secure a memorial hospital for the town of Manassas has met with encouraging if not with unquestioning approval. This is nothing more than might reasonably be expected. It would be taking too much for granted to suppose that such an undertaking involving the expenditure of large sums of money and with no existing visible means of support, should at once enlist the co-operative sympathy of any considerable number.

Nevertheless the first definite steps have been taken by a few citizens of tried and proven insight and practical judgment, and it is not too much to believe that others of kindred quality will enroll their names and lend their influence to the substantial promotion of this enterprise.

Mutual understanding is of the first importance in all co-operative movements, and this is particularly true in launching those that are purely philanthropic in character. That such understanding may be speedily reached, suffer a few words of explanation:

A memorial hospital in the very nature of the service it seeks to render must be kept free from any just ground for suspicion that it is other than a disguised business investment. It is beyond question an investment—an investment of the greatest value, but entirely humanitarian in character. It is this feature of the undertaking that seems to baffle the understanding of sincere well-wishers.

How, they ask, is ground to be acquired, buildings to be erected, equipment provided, and service to be maintained on the basis of voluntary support?

Perhaps it may not give offense to attempt a conclusive answer to these questions by pointing to local activities in the spiritual sphere of human service. In our own town there are nine institutions which employ and perpetuate the voluntary principle in institutional support, and all of them are memorial in character. They have been among us for so these many years, and their work and influence continue to be a molding and preserving force in our personal, domestic and social life. We refer to churches.

In this good land of light and liberty no law compels the support of any of them, and yet they are supported. What is the secret of their maintenance? There is no answer to this question unless we recognize the vitalizing agency resident in the memory of God's voluntary self-denying love and suffering in behalf of the souls and bodies of his creatures.

What do the monumental memorials in our cemeteries declare, if not the reality and spontaneous liberality of undying affection? Surely forms and faces for a while withdrawn may be and will be further memorialized by sharing with the afflicted living the tender regard and care once lavished upon them. Let it be understood, however, that the institution under consideration is not a public charity (so called). The explanation submitted has to do solely with the absence of all merely commercial motive in its service, management and maintenance.

WHITE ROSE LOSE GAMES

The Woodbridge Lions defeated the White Rose team at Woodbridge last Saturday by four runs, the score being 7 to 3 in favor of Woodbridge. In the absence of Quayle, who failed to report, Trimmer pitched the game for White Rose. Opposing Trimmer was the regular pitcher for the strong Quantico Marine Barracks team.

White Rose also lost to Middleburg on Wednesday of this week, the score standing 3 to 2 against the local boys. The game was played on Middleburg's grounds. Dennis pitched for Middleburg and Fry for White Rose.

At a Republican convention held yesterday at Bristol, State Senator John H. Hassinger was nominated to make the race for Congress from the Ninth District. L. P. Summers, of Abington, and R. A. Anderson, of Marion, withdrew, leaving the field to Senator Hassinger.

Senator Hassinger is said to be a wealthy lumber dealer.

OLD RESIDENT WRITES JOURNAL

Mrs. Estelle Day Writes of Life in the Far West and Northwest.

(By Estelle D. Day.)
Port Angeles, Wash.,
July 17, 1922.

Since being in Virginia some years ago I have spent six months in Arizona. I was located at the largest Indian school in the United States—700 pupils. This was at the time my daughter was National Supervisor of all such schools in the United States. It was a wonderful experience, and I was convinced the Indian children are like all others—some very bright and some the opposite.

Phoenix, Ariz., I found an up-to-date town. The State has marvelous resources and attractions, and with their wonderful irrigation system from the Roosevelt Dam they are enabled to raise immense crops. Cotton is one of their chief products. It was here I first saw women in the legislature, and if they represent their constituency it must have been a very intelligent one. It seemed no more out of place to see them there than to see boys and girls in the same school-room.

Then in July my grandson and I left heated Phoenix and came to join Mrs. Thorp at Long Beach, a most delightful summer climate as well as winter; no extremes of temperature, and so it is a haven for those especially who are facing the sunset of life. Nearly every day one can be out of doors. Sermons, lectures and concerts of the highest order are to be heard here. One meets people from every State in the Union. It is said that if you remain here a sufficient length of time you'll meet everybody you ever knew, for sooner or later everybody comes to Long Beach, a tourist town all year around. In winter they are from cold and snowy climates; in summer they come from hot localities, for at least three months, so you see rental property is desirable. The six-room modern bungalow we owned was readily rented for $90 per month.

I took my 5 o'clock plunges in the ocean most every morning with great benefit. Of all the towns I have lived in I hesitate not in saying I like Long Beach the best. Its growth is marvelous, destined in the near future to rival Los Angeles, a few miles distant.

My daughter married two years ago, making a home for her two children in this town, where I came on a visit six weeks ago. Mrs. Thorp is spending the summer with her son in Dakota. I had a most enjoyable boat trip from Los Angeles to Victoria, B. C. The accommodations were equal to the most modern home. We had all sorts of entertainments, fine menu, and we knew we were on a well-constructed boat, as it was made in Germany. Me on a German boat! when a few years ago I would have refused to purchase a German-made toy.

After we were out on the ocean three days we landed in San Francisco, where the larger part of twenty-four hours was consumed in unloading and reloading the cargo. Here I strolled around; also took a sight-seeing trip and obtained some idea of the town—a most beautiful group of civic center buildings; an elegant auditorium, where Presidential conventions have been held; a magnificent town hall, with a dome of gold. Its approach equals that of the finest Washington buildings, and then the Carnegie Library! My only regret was limited time. At 3 p. m. on the fourth day we swung out into the ocean's broad expanse and were on our last lap, the water still remaining quiet and we not the least seasick. On the morning of the fifth day, after having our baggage inspected, etc., we stepped upon Canadian soil, Victoria, a pretty town, with its well-kept grounds surrounding its House of Parliament. The residential portion of the city has fine English homes, and wealthy people. No prohibition in this town, as was evidenced by all brands of liquor ads to be seen. The temperance people of Canada have their problem to secure a national law. We have ours to see that the law is enforced, and men in Congress who favor such a law.

After strolling about the town and partaking of a Canadian breakfast (very similar to any other) my son-in-law and grandson, who had met me on the boat, together with myself, boarded a smaller boat and soon steamed away for Port Angeles, a town of 7,000 inhabitants and good stores, churches, schools and hotels. A large lumber mill, box and paper factories are located here, giving employment to many. Just now the Pacific fleet is in this harbor, twenty-six boats, large and smaller ones, 15,000 men, 5,000 of whom paraded the streets recently, accompanied by numerous bands. As one sees this tremendous display we can but ask ourselves, is this a step toward worldwide disarmament? Our country being so heavily in debt, these men are only an expense to the Government. It gives one food for thought. This home just outside the town is not without electricity and bath. Fruit trees are in abundance—a wonderful growth of trees in this section of the State. Pine, spruce and fir abound, many reaching a great height. There is much undeveloped land, a fine opening for young people with a pioneer spirit, willing to begin as many of our ancestors did. Where are such spirited young people to be found? It sometimes seems many of them prefer to begin where their parents left off. As I recently heard a lecturer say, "First get a $2,000 auto, and, if anything left, why then get a home." This is undoubtedly a bit exaggerated, but we must admit there is a tendency these times to extravagance. Fortunate is the individual, especially a young person, who is privileged to see the great northwest, a country in the making.

Possibly some may remember the boy we called Willie Farnsworth, a Manassas product. He has a fine family and is a valuable citizen of Redlands, Calif., where I visited him.

In all our wanderings I do not forget Manassas and my former pupils now filling their niche in the business world and in homes. "Dick" Hynson spent his first school day with me; and there was Oliver, David, Emily, Anna, Laura, Lucy, Sam and yet others still residents of your "burg."

VIRGINIA TUBERCULOSIS ASS'N Fifty-Three Thousand Dollars Raised Last Year by Seal Sale.

The Virginia Tuberculosis Association is fortunate in having the active co-operation of two Congressmen, according to a statement given out today by Mrs. L. C. Flanagan, who is one of the field organizers for the association.

Congressman Murray Hooker of the Fifth District is an active member of the Patrick County Tuberculosis Committee and Congressman R. Walton Moore, Representative of the Eighth District, has written, under date of July 12, to the Virginia Tuberculosis Association expressing his interest in the new county organization plan which is now being carried on in the State preliminary to the annual seal sale, which is conducted every fall for the support of tuberculosis work throughout the State.

Congressman Moore says, "I do not know to what extent the disease prevails, or is threatened, in my county of Fairfax, but I am willing to say that if I can be of any assistance in the way of influencing public sentiment to exert itself more actively in that county, or any of the counties of northern Virginia, you can count on me."

Fifty-three thousand dollars was raised last year by the seal sale, all of which was returned to the respective communities in which the money was collected for public health work, except $14,000, which is being used for the running expenses of the association. Thirty thousand dollars of the proceeds of the seal sale is being used in promoting permanent clinics and public health nurses in thirty-six counties and eight cities of the State.

Thirty people in twenty counties are known to have been placed in tuberculosis sanatoria, and a wide educational program has been promoted with a view to getting every person informed as to the prevention and cure of tuberculosis.

NOVEL CLOCK

A Perfect Time-Keeper Without Works, Air or Magnet Control.

The Peoples National Bank of Manassas has in the corner window of its banking room a novel advertisement in the shape of a clock.

Although this clock has no works, and no electric, air or magnet control, it is a perfect time-keeper, and there is much speculation as to "what makes it go."

It is said that by a system of counterbalances the hands of the clock are allowed to rotate in accord with the revolutions of the earth, the same as the earth rotates on its axis, except that the calculation is such that the hands of the clock make two revolutions to the earth's one.

Temptation to Spend Money

Is greatly lessened by not carrying any more than absolutely necessary in the pocket.

If you put your money in the bank, it is just sufficient trouble to draw it out again to make you hesitate about spending it. It forces you to think twice; and if you think twice before spending each dollar you will find yourself much better off at the end of the year. You will discover that you are spending a great many dollars unnecessarily which might be earning good interest for you in a SAVINGS ACCOUNT.

Try it. A Savings Account in a good strong bank is the greatest aid to saving imaginable. We shall be glad to open an account with you, and you needn't wait until you can make a big first deposit, for we open accounts for One Dollar or more.

TUESDAY'S PRIMARY

In Tuesday's primary election the Democrats of Virginia, in no uncertain way, endorsed Senator Swanson and his record by again declaring him the party nominee for the high office he has held for the past twelve years.

As Senator Swanson has received the nomination, it is probably just as well that he received an overwhelming majority of the votes cast in the primary, as now no doubt will be left in the mind of anyone that he was not the free and voluntary choice of the great Democratic body politic of the State.

The Democratic party in Virginia is to be congratulated that the primary did not open any wide breaches in the ranks. It is true that some of the discussions between Governor Davis and some of Mr. Swanson's adherents were somewhat heated, but nothing happened to leave any suspicion or feeling that the campaign was not properly conducted on the part of both candidates. Mr. Davis and his adherents are disappointed, of course, and that is but natural; but this disappointment will quickly disappear, and the ranks will close up to present a solid front to the enemy when occasion shall demand.

A MISAPPREHENSION

The impression has been gotten in some sections that the searching parties who were endeavoring to effect the capture of Alvin W. Harris, after the killing by him of Justice of the Peace Thos. S. Meredith, were hunting him for the sole purpose of taking the law into their own hands.

In order to correct this impression, The Journal thinks it but fair to the people of Prince William County to say that the majority of the men who took part in the search were members of an organized posse, working under the direction of officers of the county, and that, as far as it has been able to learn and judge, the only motive actuating those engaged in the search was a desire to see the criminal captured and brought to a speedy trial.

As stated in these columns last week, there were some threats of lynching heard, but such threats came from scattered sources, and were, no doubt, brought about by the then prevailing excitement rather than by any preconcerted intent on the part of any body of men.

AN UNREASONABLE DEMAND

The heralded settlement of the shopmen's strike has gone on the rocks of the seniority issue, and fair-minded observers will find it extremely difficult to understand, in the light of the flat demand made upon the railway executives, how President Harding could have expected any other fate for his plan. It had been supposed that the President's proposals contemplated some sort of compromise of this perplexing issue. The official summarization shows, however, that he had no compromise in mind, that he would require the roads to purchase peace at the price of their pledge to the men who remained at work and the men who have entered their employ since the strike began; that the price also should include the manifest, fundamental rights of these workers.

Accepting, conditionally, the other sections of Mr. Harding's plan, the railway executives last Tuesday rejected this demand by unanimous vote. And it should have been rejected. As earnestly as the American people desire industrial peace, as apprehensive as they may be over the prospect of continued strife, it is quite inconceivable that they would welcome a settlement of this strike on such terms.

Questions, not only of policy, but of simple justice and good faith are here involved, and it is hardly less than astounding that the President should have consented to ignore them. An intensely practical consideration may be found in the fact that to yield to Mr. Harding's demand on this point would place the country's transportation absolutely at the mercy of any rail strike. With such a precedent established, no loyalty on the part of old workers or help from outside sources could be expected by any road in an emergency. But, that favor aside, the point which will not unfavorably impress the American mind is that the President is demanding of the railroads utter disregard for the rights of workers whose timely service has saved the country from a complete tie-up of transportation. These men have taken or held employment in good faith, assured that they were being retained or engaged as permanent employees. Any plan of settlement which does not provide for their protection is manifestly violative of a principle cherished by the American people. Either through intimidation or extor-dinarily careless thinking, the President has blundered in this part of his program, and public sentiment undoubtedly will support the executives in their repudiation of it.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Jeffrey Farnol in his book, "The Broad Highway," sums up the present age from a literary standpoint, as he sees it, in the following language:

"Whereas the writing of books was once a painful art, it has of late become a trick very easy of accomplishment, requiring no regard for probability, and little thought, so long as it is packed sufficiently full of impossible incidents through which a ridiculous heroine and a more absurd hero duly sigh their appointed way to the last chapter.

"Whereas books were once a power, they are, of late, degenerated into things of amusement with which to kill an idle hour, and be promptly forgotten the next."

The announcement by Mayor Harry P. Davis that hereafter the auto traffic laws will be rigidly enforced will meet with approval from those drivers who have due regard for the welfare and safety of the public, provided minor and technical violations do not subject the unintentional offender to arrest and fine. That there are open and wonton violations of the law, especially with regard to fast driving on the street, there is no doubt, and it is but fair to the pedestrians that protection should be afforded them, even to the extent of imposing heavy penalties, upon such as do not regard either the law or the lives of others. No doubt Mayor Davis can be relied upon to draw the distinction between the two classes of offenders.

In one court in Chicago 6,900 divorces were granted during the past year. The Windy City evidently has troubles other than street railway strikes.

MAKE HER LIFE SO HAPPY

Make her life so happy she will sing, she will sing,
 A glory in the autumn that is beautiful as spring.
 Make her life so happy
 She will think the darriest day
 A rosy road of sunshine
 In the bloomy field of May.

Make her life so happy she will dance, she will dance
 Unto the tunes of morning in the gardens of romance.
 Make her life so happy
 She will from its sweetness glow
 To fill you with her summer
 Where the velvet violets grow.

Make her life so happy she will cry, she will cry
 With the joy of bending beauty underneath the gentle sky.
 Make her life so happy
 With your tenderness and love
 She will trust the days of dreaming
 To the stars that dream above.

Make her life so happy she will weep, she will weep
 With the joys of human gladness as the years around her creep.
 Make her life so happy
 She will pay you back in tears
 Of a heart of golden laughter
 Through the sunshine of the years.
 —The Bentztown Bard.

"How's that new cook I saw you taking home the other night?"
 "By George! I think we're going to please her."

QUITE OTHERWISE

Singleton—"I hear that you're at last blessed with a wife?"
 Peckmore—"Nope."
 Singleton—"Why, I thought you were married?"
 Peckmore—"I am."

SHE WORKED IN CLAY

Mrs. Millyums—That little sculptor just insulted me. And I won't stand for it.
 Artist—What did he say?
 Mrs. Millyums—I asked her to make a model of my head, and she said she worked in clay, not wood.—Boston Globe.

EXPLAINED

Mrs. Newbride—Our cook says those eggs you sent yesterday were quite odd.
 Grocer—Very sorry, ma'am. They were the best we could get. You see, all the young chickens were killed off for the holiday trade, so the old hens are the only ones left to do the layin'.

Mrs. Newbride—Oh, to be sure! I hadn't thought of that.
BLACKBERRIES AND BUMBLE-BEES
 An early morning customer, a young woman with a determined air, addressed the salesman at an optician's shop. "I want to get a pair of eyeglasses of extra magnifying power. While visiting in the country I made a very painful blunder which I never want to repeat."
 "Indeed! Mistake a stranger for an acquaintance?"
 "No, not exactly that; I mistook a bumble-bee for a blackberry."

"WBOA!"

Mr. Brown sent a Japanese boy to tell Mrs. Brown to hurry or they would miss the theatre train.
 The Japanese went as he was bid.
 Mrs. Brown was in the throes of putting the finishing touches to her evening toilette.
 "Go tell Mr. Brown to hold his horses for a moment," she snapped.
 "Well, what did she say?" demanded Mr. Brown when the Japanese returned.
 "Mrs. Brown she say 'Wbo!' came the bland reply.

Cantilever Shoe for Men and Women

Don't Let Your Shoes Argue With You

There are shoes that argue with you over every step and there are shoes that work with you all day long. The Cantilever Shoe is designed, first of all, like your own foot, with a flexible arch. No rigid strip of steel, such as is embedded in the shanks of ordinary shoes, disputes every step.

The Cantilever Shoe also has a snug heel seat, the gracefully rounded toe and the lower heel in vogue with the smartest women of today.

COMFORT IS A HELP

To wear Cantilever Shoes is to be pleased with the trim appearance of your feet and to know supreme comfort the long day through. Their specially designed flexible shanks and other features work with you all day long. Your ligaments and muscles are allowed the free action and exercise they actually need in order to maintain their strength and spare you from that prevalent condition known as "weak foot" or "tired foot." Foot troubles are prevented and corrected.

When you lace up Cantilever Shoes their flexible shanks draw up to supply just the degree of support you require each day under each arch. Slip your feet into Cantilever-shoes that don't argue with you.

JULY CROP REPORT

Potato and Sweet Potato Prospects Good in Virginia.

All crops in Virginia except small grains made favorable progress during June, according to the Monthly Report of the Virginia Crop Reporting Service.

The excellent prospects for wheat of a month ago failed to materialize. A large crop of straw was produced, but largely owing to unfavorable weather just before harvest the heads were not as well developed as had been expected. In some sections the yield is very good, however, and the total production, which is estimated to be about 10,182,000 bushels, will be nearly two million bushels greater than last year. Stocks of old wheat on farms are much smaller than usual, being reported at 390,000 bushels, compared with 1,004,000 bushels last year.

The forecast for the United States for both winter and spring wheat is now 816,936,000 bushels, or 37,572,000 bushels less than was expected on June 1. The average production for the five-year period 1916-20 was 99,063,000 bushels. The amount of old wheat remaining on farms on July 1 was 31,841,000 bushels, as compared with 53,707,000 bushels last year and 33,442,000 bushels, the average for 1916-20.

The Virginia corn acreage is estimated to be 1,942,000 acres, or 2 per cent larger than last year. The increase is especially noticeable in the tobacco districts, where there is a tendency to raise more food crops. The condition of the crop is unusually good in all districts except the eastern and southeastern, where there has been too much rain. The southwest has excellent prospects for another large yield, as large as the bumper crop of last year. The average condition for the State is 90 per cent, while the 10 years' average is 88. The present condition indicates a production of 54,349,000 bushels, compared with the five-year average of 53,825,000 bushels. The United States forecast is for a crop of 2,850,245,000 bushels, against the five-year average of 2,830,942,000 bushels.

The white potato acreage is estimated to be 4 per cent larger than last year, largely owing to the increase in the early commercial crop, which is now nearly 70 per cent of the State total. The yield has been less than usual because of unfavorable weather and poor seed. The condition of 83 per cent indicates a production of 15,214,000 bushels, compared with 14,688,000 bushels last year and 18,480,000 bushels in 1920. The sweet potato acreage has increased from 44,000 acres last year to 46,000. The season has been very favorable for this crop, so the condition is unusually good, being 90 per cent against the ten-year average of 87 per cent.

There has been little change in fruit prospects since the last month, as the rather heavy June drop has been offset by fine growing weather. An excellent crop of blackberries is being gathered this month. Grapes were damaged last spring by the frost in the northern and western districts, but in the eastern and southern part of the State the condition is very good.

BRENTSVILLE

There will be no preaching services at the Presbyterian Church next Sunday morning, as Rev. J. R. Cooke is away. Sunday School at 10 a. m.

Rev. Barnette Grimsley, pastor of Hatcher Memorial, is on a vacation for the month of August. There will be no preaching service until the first Sunday in September, when he will begin a series of meetings here.

Miss Minnie Smith is visiting in the valley of Virginia.

Among the Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Huffman were Mr. Giger and family and Mrs. Brown, of Landover, Md., Mrs. Herring, of Independent Hill, and Mr. Saylor Deihl and family.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Smith and children, of Gainesville, Mr. and Mrs. R. Lee Gray and son and Mr. Raymond Gill, all of Warrenton, visited Mr. and Mrs. Herman Lam last Sunday.

Mr. Hugh Bell, of Washington, was a Brentsville visitor Sunday.

Misses Florence Owens and Tracie Spitzer have enrolled at the summer normal school at Harrisonburg, Va.

Misses Mary and Vada Lam have returned home, after an extended visit with their sisters at Warrenton.

Mrs. R. Lee Gray and little son, Richard, are spending the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Lam.

Mr. and Mrs. James Woodyard and children spent the week-end with Mrs. Florence, near Independent Hill.

TO ABOLISH RED TAIL LIGHTS

May Change Color to Avoid Confusion With Road Signal Lights.

Automobile engineers are considering the changing of the red tail light of automobiles and substituting yellow in the place of the red, so as to reduce the danger to motorists of confusing the lights placed along the roadside to indicate dangerous road conditions with the tail light of automobiles.

In Chicago recently a motorist was following a car, and the front car was going across a drawbridge which swung open immediately after the front car had passed over. The red warning light on the last-long gate that swung across as the draw opened was in the approximate position of the tail light of the car, so that the driver of the second automobile thought the warning lamp on the gate was the tail light of the automobile. The result was the short section of the bridge between the gate and the open draw was all that saved the occupants of the second auto from going off the bridge.

The red light on the train is probably the origin of the red tail light on the automobile. The train travels on a track and cannot turn aside to pass another train, while an automobile can go around another car.

The rear end of an automobile is dangerous only when stopping or when standing at the side of the road. The use of red tail lights in automatic-stop-signals is then logical.

Owing to the fact that some states require the red tail light, the change cannot be made until all states change their laws regarding this.

It will take some time to do this, but once the motorist sees the advantages of making this change the legislators will be compelled to revise the laws governing the color of the tail light. The use of the existing tail lamps will not be affected, as the yellow glass can be obtained to replace the red.

The yellow tail lamp for automobile will have a parallel with the yellow of the railroads, as the yellow is used on the railroad as a caution and not as a danger light. The tail light on an automobile is not intended as a danger light, but as a caution light, to caution the machine following to be cautious in passing, not that it is a danger to pass another automobile.

LONG LIFE

Man may not be able, by taking thought, to add cubits to his height, but, according to a popular lecturer, he can add years to his life. "Death is a matter of psychology and mentality," says this exponent of deathless living. All that is needed to insure everlasting life is banishment of the fear and expectation of death. Tell that to the lightning and the recklessly driven automobile and heart disease and cannon and rifle and famine and cholera and bootleg liquor and the gallows!

The thought is evidently intended to be comforting, but it has several disturbing slants. Most of those who reach the allotted limit of life are ready to yield up the ghost. Life, when long endured, grows wearisome to the average man. The thought of out-Methusalem Methusalem would be unbearable to many who have found that it largely consists of bearing the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune. Perhaps it is well that man cannot prolong his life indefinitely.

STRIKE NEWS IN BRIEF

Staunton, Ind., Aug. 3—Indiana troops tonight were spread over an area of forty miles and held control of eight mining centers in four counties as the first step in Governor McCray's plan for protection of coal under State protection.

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 3—Middle and Northwest States will be practically without coal within thirty days unless prevailing conditions change. This is the gist of reports from Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois and Iowa. Actual famine stares Wisconsin in the face, with municipalities reporting from fifteen to thirty days' supplies either on hand or procurable.

Lansing, Mich., August 3—The Ford Motor Company will be obliged to shut down its plants within fourteen days unless supplies of coal are replenished. This information was laid before officials of the State Fuel Administration Thursday by Charles E. Sorenson, Ford general manager. He asked for priority orders for the Ford plant.

Sorenson stated that if the Louisville and Nashville Railroad would allow the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton Railroad to run its engines and cars over the Louisville and Nashville tracks to the Ford coal mines, enough fuel for the State of Michigan could be supplied. The Detroit, Toledo and Ironton is Ford's railroad.

Meantime Ford's coke ovens in Detroit are supplying fuel to other manufacturers. Ford said that if a shut-down became necessary, all would close together.

New York, August 3—As proof to President Harding that the railroads are united in a demonstration to keep trains moving regardless of the shop-crafts strike, several roads today pledged themselves to send crews of mechanics to the rescue of four Southern roads whose shops have been hard hit by the strike, it was announced by L. F. Loree, chairman of the Eastern Presidents' Conference.

Crews of "picked men" recruited in shops of roads in the metropolitan district of New York are already on the way South, Mr. Loree asserted. The first detail was said to be en route to Richmond, Va. Although they subscribed to the rejection of President Harding's peace plan when it came before the American Association of Railway Executives last Tuesday, the four roads to whom other lines are now contributing mechanics frankly disclosed their condition, said Mr. Loree. They were the Chesapeake and Ohio, Norfolk and Western, Virginian and Louisville and Nashville.

Richmond, Va., August 4—The employees of the Southern Railway will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock to discuss the latest proposition of the road to take back the striking shopmen without prejudice to their seniority rights.

While the sentiment of the strikers will be made known at this meeting, it is said no action will be taken until word is received from headquarters at Chicago. Heads of the shop-crafts here say that the offer of the Southern will not affect the situation in this city, or anywhere on the system, and that none of the men who walked out will return until all have been ordered to return. It was said at the offices of the Southern last night that none of the strikers had applied for their old jobs as a result of the invitation of General Manager R. E. Simpson.

HAPPY HUSTLERS AT ROADLEY

(Lorine Pettit, Secretary)
Miss Gilbert went with us Saturday, July 29. Our secretary was absent, but we went ahead with the meeting. A number of songs were sung, among them "Smiles," "Boost for the Club Work," "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here," "Battle Hymn of Demonstration Work" and "Keep the Club Work Growing."

We had our meeting out in the grove. Miss Gilbert told us about the short course. We finished our sewing bags, as Miss Gilbert thought it best for us to wait until fall to start our night dresses. We spent much time making plans for our district and county fairs.

At the next meeting we are going to bring our lunch and have a little picnic. Miss Gilbert will come prepared to give us a lesson in candy-making. We want to take part in Miss Rich's contest. We are only five little girls. Miss Gilbert has promised to take us to the Bethel meeting the third Thursday in August, so that we can see what some of the other clubs are doing.

We had one visitor, Miss Frances Reid. Our meeting closed with the song, "Good Night, Ladies."

A LETTER FROM "SOJOURNER"

We are sorry that lack of space prohibits the publishing in full of a letter written by "Sojourner." We do give space, however, to certain extracts from the communication for the purpose of showing the keen enjoyment of those who are in a position to betake themselves from the crowded cities during the summer months to the joys of life in the country.

After describing the trip from Washington, "Sojourner" continues: "We found ourselves launched and anchored upon a beautiful elevation, one of God's beauty spots, surrounded by the Monarchs of Nature, trees inhabited by God's songbirds, to wake us with their morning warble. In the midst of this nestling rest rise the monumental buildings of Eastern College. A rest from noisy streets and those heavenly homes, apartment houses, more properly called living mausoleums. We rise in the morning, sniff the air, drink bird melody, refresh the inner man, enjoy a constitutional, gather flowers and say what happy beings are we. When night draws its sable curtain, weary with the charms of the day, we close our feasted eyes, and with great content say, "Now I lay me down to sleep."

CLUB HAS GOOD MEETING

Mrs. E. R. Conner, president of the Bethlehem Good Housekeepers' Club, requested a special meeting of the club on the afternoon of Monday, July 31. There was an excellent attendance, and much business of importance was transacted.

The club has received several invitations to repeat their entertainment, "The Kitchen Cabinet Band." The first accepted will be in response to an invitation from Warrenton for the night of August 9. One-half of the proceeds will be given to the Fair Association of Manassas. C. E. Lay Hodge, Secretary.

BIG EDITION LOUDOUN TIMES

With its regular issue of July 27 The Loudoun Times published an extra edition of forty pages, making the issue of that date a fifty-six-page paper. The extra edition was devoted to the historical associations and the educational and agricultural advantages of Loudoun County, and was both interesting and valuable reading. The issue was similar to the forty-four-page paper published by The Manassas Journal upon its sixteenth anniversary in 1911.
