

TO WAGE BETTER HOMES CAMPAIGN

Proclamation Is Issued Setting Apart October 9 to 14 for Work.

(Miss Lillian V. Gilbert, County Home Demonstration Agent) The first week in September the County Demonstration Agent received a letter from Mrs. William Brown Maloney, New York City, Secretary of the Advisory Council for the "Better Homes Campaign," saying that she had been appointed chairman of the Better Homes work in Manassas.

This is a big work undertaking. This Advisory Council for America is composed of such people as Vice-President Calvin Coolidge, Secretary of Agriculture Henry C. Wallace, Chairman National Red Cross, President Federation of Women's Clubs, United States Commissioner of Education, and others.

More than half the Governors have either issued formal statements or official proclamations setting apart October 9 to 14 for Better Home Week.

The State of Virginia has not been asleep in this work. Already, before the national work is outlined, the counties of Wythe and Albemarle have held "Better Kitchen" campaigns with wonderful results; and (Continued on Page Five)

ATHLETIC EVENTS FOR THE SCHOOL CHILDREN

Provided on First Day of Fair—All School Urged to Enter the Athletic Contests.

One of the features of the first day of the fair will be the athletic events provided for the school children of the county. The events will consist of 50 and 100 yard dashes, potato race, sack race, obstacle race, etc.

Teams from the various schools of the county are expected to take part in these events, and a prize will be awarded to the school scoring the highest number of points. In addition to the prize to the school represented by the winning team, individual prizes will be awarded to those winning the events.

The contestants are requested to meet promptly at 1 o'clock p. m. in the show ring, immediately in front of the grand stand, on the first day of the fair, as these athletic stunts will be started at the hour named. Every school in the county is urged to enter contestants.

GAY BUT HARMLESS PARTY

(Chloe E. Lay Hodge, Sec'y) On the night of Monday, September 4, great mystery surrounded a group of ladies who were chatting in hushed voices before the rest room. Passers-by silently asked, "Who are those in bright array?" and "Why this throng?" Were they suffragettes or were they lady Ku-Klux? "No." Well, what and who were they and on what intent? All mystery was unraveled when they quietly went their way and arrived safe at the delightful home of Mrs. B. Lynn Robertson. It was a gay but perfectly harmless party and a great and pleasant surprise to the charming leader of the "Kitchen Cabinet Band."

Mrs. Robertson received each member most cordially. The evening was spent delightfully in the exchange of happy thoughts, and at the end of the perfect hour ice cream and cake were served and fully enjoyed by everyone.

With renewed expressions of appreciation to our talented hostess and with hopes for future success, we took our leave.

FIRE NARROWLY AVERTED

Prompt action by neighbors averted what might have been a very damaging fire at Mrs. Mildred Davies' home on West Street about eight o'clock Wednesday night. A pile of shavings lying at the rear of the residence was set on fire by sparks from a burning trash pile near the house, and, after having smoldered for some time, sprang into a bright blaze. When the fire was discovered the blaze was reaching to the second-story windows. The fire company responded to an alarm, but the fire was extinguished before its arrival.

A NEW VENTURE

The Journal this week has entered upon a new departure in its efforts to give added emphasis to the display advertisements of its regular large advertising patrons. In its nearly twenty-eight years of existence The Journal has never before undertaken to print adds in any other than black ink, but this week a departure from this established custom is being made. The printing of adds in red is something entirely new for a Prince William County newspaper and is something just a little different from what is generally seen in a newspaper advertisement.

The Hynson Department Store add is a solid two-page display and is the first two-page advertisement that has ever appeared in The Journal or any other paper published in this county—not because we could not have always printed double-page adds, but because these pioneer advertisers have been the first of our patrons to demand an add of this kind.

Our patrons know that it pays to advertise through The Journal, the Class A advertising medium of the county.

LOCAL CHAPTER OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION

Has Been Authorized With Mrs. C. M. Larkin, Organizing Regent.

The National Board of Management of the Daughters of the American Revolution has authorized the organization of a Chapter of the Society, in Manassas, Va., and the State Regent, Dr. Kate Walker Barrett, has recently appointed Mrs. C. M. Larkin Organizing Regent.

The local chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy has endorsed the movement for a D. A. R. Chapter, realizing the limitless power of these two great organizations working side by side.

The Daughters of the American Revolution stand behind every great patriotic and educational movement of the day and with their prestige, enthusiasm and wealth carry forward to successful consummation every undertaking. It is a recognized fact that the N. S. D. A. R. is today the greatest single agency for constructive work along patriotic lines, and their support should be of inestimable value to Manassas and the entire South in realizing their dream and plan of a Battlefield Park.

Within the past two months the newly organized D. A. R. Chapter in Fredericksburg, Va., has brought before the eyes of the country the beautiful home of Col. Fielding Lewis, whose wife was the only sister of Gen. Washington. A few months ago the estate was known to only a few; today "Kenmore" is a familiar word all over the United States, and ten thousand dollars has been pledged for its preservation. This is only one of the concrete examples of the power of an enthusiastic D. A. R.

FAIRFAX COUNTY MAN SUICIDE

Body Found Hanging to Tree Saturday Morning.

Tom Lester, whose home was near Farr Post Office, Fairfax County, committed suicide last Friday night by hanging. The body was found by members of the family early Saturday morning suspended to a tree in the orchard. The family of the dead man are said not to know of any reason for Mr. Lester taking his own life.

It is learned that Lester was on the bond of a man by the name of Garner for the latter's appearance at the September term of the circuit court of Fairfax County on a bootlegging charge and that Garner had skipped. It is thought by some that worry over the fact that Garner's bond would be forfeited and that he would have the amount of the recognizance to pay led to the temporary unbalancing of Lester's mind and that he committed suicide while in such mental condition.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS NOW IN SESSION

High School Night Business Class Added—Miss Myers Is in Charge.

(By Miss E. H. Osbourn) The Manassas schools opened last week with a large attendance. Opening exercises were held at the graded school at 9:30, Rev. Mr. Clark making the address.

The opening exercises at the high school were held at 10:30. Rev. Mr. Stevens began with prayer, Mr. George C. Round, was one of the chief founders of the high school, had secured the State appropriations which it now enjoys and had given many years of most faithful and efficient service to the cause of public education in Prince William. Dr. C. R. C. Johnson also, whose wife is now a member of the school faculty, had been another member of the school board who had rendered the Manassas schools most valuable service in the past few years.

The singing of "America," the school song and "Onward, Christian Soldiers" by the school, under the direction of Mrs. Chloe E. Lay Hodge, concluded the program.

On Friday evening the high school night business class, under the direction of Miss Myers, was opened with an address by Mr. G. Raymond Ratcliffe, president of the State Bankers' Association of Virginia.

Mr. Ratcliffe expressed a warm interest in this new venture of the high school, which fulfilled a real need for the town, and predicted much success for it.

The attendance of the high school, including the evening class, is now one hundred and thirty. The graded school attendance is three hundred and thirty.

MOTION PICTURES TO BE CENSORED

Required to Have State Approval Seal Before Being Shown.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 21.—During the month of August the Virginia State Board of Censors was inclined to view with leniency the failure of certain motion picture exhibitors to display the State approval seal as required by law. So great was the number of applications for permits and licenses that the office of the Board was almost swamped, and great difficulty was experienced in keeping pace with the heavy volume of business. Conditions have changed, however, and the time has come when failure to observe the provisions of the new statute will result in prosecution of those who offend.

The law provides that it "shall be unlawful to exhibit or to sell, lease or lend for exhibition at any place of amusement for pay or in connection with any business" any motion picture film or reel for which no permit or license has been issued. And it further provides that such film or reel shall contain for exhibition upon the screen "identification matter in the substance, style and length which the Board shall prescribe." This identification matter comes immediately after the title of the picture. Besides carrying the State approval seal and the serial number of the picture, it contains either the words "Permit issued by the Virginia State Board of Censors" or "Licensed by the Virginia Board of Censors."

In no case should the State approval seal be detached from the picture by exhibitors. In order to save themselves from embarrassing explanations—or more probably prosecutions—all theatre managers should carefully examine their films before displaying them. To make assurance doubly sure, they should decline to lease from any exchange, distributor or producer any picture for which a permit or license has not been procured.

The permits are issued for pictures used in Virginia before August 1—the date when the new law became effective; the licenses for the new pictures never before exhibited in this

VISIT OUR OFFICE

The Manassas Journal extends to all visitors to the Prince William Fair a very cordial invitation to inspect the office, machinery and other equipment of the oldest newspaper in the county. If you are at all interested in this kind of work, you can spend a pleasant time in The Journal office. We are proud of the fact that we have one of the best-equipped newspaper plants in Northern Virginia, and it is always a pleasure to us to see and welcome either friends or strangers who desire to look through our plant. If you have never seen a line-type operate, we shall be pleased to show visitors to our office during the Fair, with just what mechanical precision this machine works.

VIRGINIA OPPOSES FREIGHT INCREASE

Corporation Commission Protests Plan of Railways to Advance Rates.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 21.—Virginia is taking an active part in opposing the plan of a group of railroads to make such further increases in the freight rates on live stock as to weaken the markets of the growers of this State. The Virginia Farm Federation Bureau has registered its protest, and Commissioner Koiner, of the State Department of Agriculture, has united in the objection.

In order to help the farmers and stock raisers in resistance to the proposal, the State Corporation Commission has entered the fight. Mason Mangum, commerce counsel to the commission, has been in Louisville, Ky., for a week attending the hearings on this subject before representatives of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Evidence was prepared in behalf of Virginia interests and has been presented at Louisville.

Freight rates as high as 50 per cent are proposed on horses, mules, cattle, sheep and hogs between this State and points in the southeast, while decreases for which Mississippi and Ohio River cities are fighting would result in giving them the advantage and thus contracting Virginia's trade. At the same time, such advances are proposed in freight rates on horses and mules between producing points in the Middle West and distributing points in this State, as would increase the cost of these animals to the farmer.

In the meantime other officials of the State Corporation Commission are preparing in Mr. Mangum's absence to present evidence before the Interstate Commerce Commission at Asheville, N. C., next month in behalf of Virginia in the southern class rate case. Major Alexander Forward, of the State Corporation Commission, is sitting with the Interstate Commerce Commission in this case and is now engaged in the hearings at Atlanta.

DEATH OF A. F. MUDDIMAN

Mr. A. F. "Lon" Muddiman, son of Mr. David Muddiman, died at his home in Roanoke early this week. Mr. Muddiman had been a resident of Roanoke for a number of years, having moved from Manassas to that place. He is survived by a widow, who before her marriage was Miss Ida Muddiman, a daughter of the late George Muddiman. Mr. Muddiman was 51 years of age. He was a member of Bull Run Council, No. 15, O. F. A., having been admitted to membership in the order on July 1, 1903. He also held membership in the beneficiary degree of this order.

FIRE COMPANY TO MEET

A meeting of the Manassas Fire Company will be held in the Town Hall tonight (Friday) at 8 o'clock for the purpose of electing officers and the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting for consideration. This is a very important matter. Fire Chief J. I. Randall has recently tendered his resignation as fire chief, and it is necessary that a successor be named. Everyone interested is requested to attend this meeting. THOS. W. HOWARD, Asst. Fire Chief.

STATE DRY AGENTS RECEIVE WOUNDS

Shot by Rum-Runners on Washington-Richmond Highway Last Saturday.

State Prohibition Agents F. C. Palmer and J. C. Elliott, both of Richmond, were wounded in a pistol duel with bootleggers on the Washington-Richmond Highway, near Cherry Hill, on last Saturday night. Palmer was shot in the neck, and Elliott received a pistol-shot wound in the side. The men were carried to the Marine Hospital at Quantico, where their wounds were treated. It is said that neither man was seriously hurt, and they were able to leave for their homes in Richmond the following day.

The officers had information relative to a rum-running car and lay in wait for the machine and its occupants, who are said to have been two colored men. When the car approached, the agents undertook to halt it, and the occupants opened fire on them, wounding both officers. The dry agents returned the fire, but without effect, and the car escaped.

Palmer and Elliott walked several miles to the Triangle Garage, from which place they were taken in a Government truck to Quantico.

Officers at Alexandria, Washington and other points were notified of the shooting, but so far as is known no arrests have been made in connection with the affair.

ENACTMENT SOLDIERS' BONUS BILL DEFEATED

Effort to Pass Measure Over President's Veto Fails in Senate by 4 Votes.

The soldiers' bonus bill is dead for the present, and it may not be enacted for several years to come.

The bill was passed by both House and Senate, but did not meet the approval of President Harding. The President promptly vetoed the measure, and Congress endeavored to pass it over his veto. The House overrode the veto by a large margin, but the Senate vote showed four less than a necessary two-thirds majority to pass the bill. The vote in the House was 258 to 54, or fifty more than the required number. The Senate roll call resulted in 44 for and 28 against passing the bill over the Chief Executive's head. The Virginia delegation in both branches of Congress, with the exception of Congressmen Harrison and Slemph, were in favor of sustaining the veto.

"MAKE THE BEST BETTER"

Notesville, Va., Sept. 18, 1922. My dear fellow club members:

As you all know, fair time is drawing near, and we are beginning to think about the things that we are going to exhibit.

I want to urge every one of you to have as large an exhibit as possible. Everybody wants to make this a better fair than we have ever had before. Be sure the club members do their part.

Some of the grown-up folks seem to think that the club is only a trifle, but let's just make up our minds to show them that we can do as much as they can.

Now, as a county organization, let's try to live up to our motto, "Make the Best Better."

Poultry club members, be sure and not forget the poultry-judging contest, which will be held the first day of the fair. Be sure to be there. Have all your required work up, composition written and first report sent in. The county agent has to have these before any premiums can be paid.

Hoping to see you one and all at the county fair, I am Very sincerely yours, GLEN BOWMAN, President County Boys' and Girls' 4-H Club.

WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE?

The House of Bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church in session at Portland, Oreg., has voted to eliminate the word "obey" from the marriage ceremony of that church. The action will have to be concurred in by the House of Deputies, and if that body concurs the proposed change will be subject to approval at the general convention three years hence before becoming effective.

FORDSON TRACTOR STATE FAIR SHOW

Huge Space Allotted to Ford Motor Company for Exhibit at Richmond.

The Manassas Motor Company, Incorporated, Ford dealers in this section, announce that the Virginia State Fair Association has allotted to them and to other Ford dealers, for the purpose of holding a Fordson tractor show, 180,000 square feet of ground, the largest space given to any single exhibitor at the Richmond State Fair, to be held from October 2 to 10 of this year. This is indeed convincing evidence of the fact that Virginians are fully alive to the march of progress and perceive the evolution that has come about in both farming and industry during recent years through the universal application of tractor power.

The allotment of this huge space is amply justified by the elaborate preparations being made by the Ford Motor Company and the Ford dealers in this territory to make this show positively the greatest exhibit of its kind ever staged in the United States.

Here every piece of practical machinery that has been designed and manufactured for use with the Fordson tractor will be shown by the manufacturers themselves and the tractors necessary to operate them will be furnished by the Ford dealers.

When we realize that the Fordson tractor can be used in combination with specially built machinery to perform more than 200 separate and distinct tasks, we begin to get an idea of the magnitude of a "complete" tractor show. And "complete" is what this show is to be.

Over $2,000,000 worth of machinery and appliances will be demonstrated, and every piece of it will be seen in actual operation, doing the work for which it was designed in the manner claimed for it. Tractors equipped with locomotive wheels will be seen hauling fully loaded cars on a track constructed for the purpose. Other tractors will operate rock crushers and limestone pulverizing machinery, others will run sawmills in which high logs will be quickly reduced to planks of standard commercial sizes, and still others will operate well drillers, turn separators, operate orchard spraying machinery, haul road making and maintaining machinery and do any manner of practical and useful things which lack of space will not permit us to enumerate.

It would be a comparatively simple matter to rig up a cradle in which a two-weeks old baby could be gently rocked to sleep by means of a Fordson, or to thread a needle with a shuttle operated by a tractor, but this is not the work for which the Fordson is designed. The main object of the exposition is not to show freak or stunt performances. It is to show the public the actual performance of equipment whose sole function it is to unassumingly and efficiently do one or more of the necessary, every-day, result-producing tasks of the farm or of industry. In these there is wonder and novelty enough for all.

Though this is to be primarily an exhibit of mechanical power and mechanical contrivances, nevertheless the fact that people come to a State Fair to revel in the holiday spirit that pervades there is not being lost sight of by those having the details of the show in charge. There will be many novel attractions and diversions, but just what they are the Ford dealers will not disclose. They wear a mysterious and knowing air, and state with a chuckle that a surprise is in store for all who attend.

The whole atmosphere and spirit of the show will be one of good fellowship and helpfulness. Nothing will be too much trouble to explain or demonstrate, and those who go there with no other motive than to keep abreast of the march of progress will be equally as welcome as those who go seeking a "Fordson" solution of their perplexing problems.

STATE NEWS NOTES

There are twelve cases of scarlet fever in Petersburg, according to Dr. R. A. Martin, city health officer, who also reported three cases of diphtheria.

Rev. William A. Sunday began his fall and winter campaign at Lynchburg last week. The campaign is to last six weeks, the engagement ending there October 28, and seven days later he opens in Dayton, Ohio.

Danville on Monday won the distinction of giving to the State of Virginia the first woman to hold a judicial position, Judge J. Turner Clement, in the Pittsylvania Circuit Court, announcing that afternoon that he would name Mrs. Kerr Morehead Harris as judge of the Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court, in the city of Danville, under the act passed by the last General Assembly.

J. Williamson McGavock, of Max Meadows, Wythe County, a Confederate veteran, was nominated by acclamation for the United States Senate in the November election, at the State Republican Convention held in the City Market Building auditorium, Roanoke, on Monday. Harry E. Walcott, of Norfolk, was elected permanent chairman of the party in Virginia, and Charles A. Hamner, of Harrisonburg, was elected permanent secretary.

Yancey Arthur, an ice delivery man, is in a critical condition at the General Hospital, Danville, as the result of an unusual accident. An automobile frightened the horses drawing the ice wagon, and they ran away. Arthur clung to the rear step of the wagon until a rut in the road dislodged him and he fell. A large cake of ice also fell and landed on his stomach, causing serious internal injuries. The horses stopped after they had crashed into a fence.

Mr. John Thomas Walker, 84-year-old veteran of the Civil War, died on his birthday last Friday at noon at his home on Stone Breaker's Row in Fredericksburg of infirmities of old age. The veteran had been ill for the past month and was confined to his bed for about three weeks. Mr. Walker served through the war between the States with valor as a private in the ranks of Company E, Second Virginia Battalion, a Richmond Company. With his demise Friday the ranks of the thin gray line of survivors of this struggle was made smaller.

When W. H. Stratley, aviation machinist's mate, attempted to make a landing at the Naval Air Station at Norfolk Monday afternoon in a high wind, the Government suffered no loss for neither Stratley nor his passenger, a lady, were injured, and the plane, which was wrecked, was Stratley's personal property. The plane was virtually destroyed. The wings were broken, the propeller was smashed and the nose of the fuselage bruised itself in the made ground of the landing field. The escape of flyer and his fair passenger is considered miraculous. Did the mishap startle the lady? It did not! "Why, I thought that was the way planes always landed," she said, when she emerged from the debris. Stratley, who is stationed at the Base, has owned the plane for about three months and has made many flights in it.

Starting out Monday of last week on the trail of three stills in the woods of Surry County, near Waverly, Federal Prohibition Agents Shugart, Hannigan, Krengele and Willis, and State Prohibition Officer Crute returned to Roanoke Tuesday night of last week with the capture of seven liquor factories to their credit. Because a raid had been made on another still in the same neighborhood early in the afternoon, the operators had been scared off, it is believed, and no arrests were made. All of the seven stills seized by the officers recently were within a radius of two miles and formed the biggest nest of illicit liquor-making plants that the prohibition agents here have ever run across. All seven were worn, giving evidence that they had been in operation but a short time before. Six of the stills were steam boilers, of 100 gallons capacity each, and one was a 200-gallon copper affair. All were equipped with 50-gallon doubles. In addition to the stills and doubles, 14,000 gallons of mash, 8,000 gallons of rye mash and five gallons of corn whiskey were confiscated. After they had destroyed six stills, the officers lost their way in an effort to get out of the woods, and in trying to regain the trail ran into the seventh.

DOES IT PAY TO FERTILIZE?

Tests of Agricultural Stations have proven that by the use of good, commercial Fertilizer you can double your crops, and that one dollar invested in Fertilizer will bring an increase of many times the amount expended. You can cut your acreage practically in half and by fertilizing produce just as large yields. This means a saving of one-half on your labor, implements, etc. By continuous farming of lands you have worn out the soil, robbed it of its plant food. Then, to grow profitable crops, you must use a good quality fertilizer which contains the necessary plant food. Royster's Fertilizers are specially prepared to fill these needs. Royster's have stood the field tests for forty years with highest results. Ask your dealer for Royster's or write us.

Commonwealth. The old or "used" films were not examined by the Board, but every picture released since August 1 and offered for exhibition in this State has been screened at headquarters in Richmond.

The three censors, Evan R. Chesterman, Mrs. Emma Speed Sampson and E. C. L. Moncure, anticipated the rush of business by beginning work long before the new law became effective. They actually began examining films the latter part of July. Since then they have seen nearly one hundred and fifty miles of motion pictures. And it is said by wise ones that their work has hardly begun! Up to this date nearly 4,000 permits have been issued for the continued exhibition of old or "used" films, while 197 new subjects have been screened.

In order to familiarize themselves thoroughly with their work, the three censors thus far have sat together during the screening of practically all the new pictures, though it will be impracticable for them to do this later when the volume of business increases. The examinations usually go on from 9 in the morning until 5 in the afternoon, with an hour's interval for lunch.

It is the opinion of the Board that the moral tone, as well as the artistic beauty of films, has greatly increased in recent months, but it is still necessary to make many eliminations. No film as yet has been rejected as a whole.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of Clay Arnold, who departed this life eight years ago, September 24.

Silently the shade of evening gathers around our lonely door, and tears in secret still flow, for you have gone from earth to heaven; but there is a grave that is dear to me.

Over it no willows weep, but under the grassy sod my darling boy sleeps, the one we loved so dearly. But no power on earth could save him. And the angels softly came and took him away through the pearly gates to heaven, with Jesus to dwell, and with farewells unspoken he peacefully entered home. My Clay is not dead, but sleepeth, so let his pillow be of roses to blossom with the morn.

By his Mother.

LOST BONDS RECOVERED

Frederickburg, Va., Sept 21—More than a year ago the general store of Leonard Coleman, at Brandy Station, Culpeper County, was burglarized, the safe blown open and a number of bonds and other valuables taken. Recently a young man while washing an automobile at Jonas Run, on the road between Brandy Station and Culpeper, spied a box half hidden in weeds and rubbish and, upon investigation, discovered the discolored pieces of three $500 bonds belonging to Mr. Coleman. Though mutilated and discolored, the bonds admitted of identification, and were gladly received by the merchant.

The Dixie Theatre

OFFERS TWO UNUSUAL PRODUCTIONS DURING FAIR WEEK

MONDAY AND TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 25 AND 26—
"WHY GIRLS LEAVE HOME"

The theme may be readily realized from the title of the picture, and it is a problem that many parents have been called upon to face. Statistics are often bore some, but the fact that in New York City alone the Bureau of Missing Persons reports 65,000 girls lost in a year gives one much cause for reflection.

"Why Girls Leave Home" goes right at the heart of the problem and does not deviate in the slightest from its purpose of presenting a clear-cut and constructive story that reveals not only the reasons, but skilfully suggests a correction of them.

See special add in this issue. Don't miss this one. Admission, 17c-22c.

SATURDAY, SEPT. 30—WILLIAM FOX, CHARLES (BUCK) JONES—IN "ROUGH SHOD"

Deals with ranch life in Arizona; its villainy embraces both the polished and rough, and its love romance is of the most wholesome sort. Its heroine is a very charming young business woman—owner of a ranch—and the hero (Charles Jones) is her foreman, a chap of steady nerve and abundant courage, both moral and physical.

The story is well stocked with exciting incident—including a fight to the death under water—and an unusual feature is that there are two feminine roles of practically equal distinction; one played by Helen Ferguson, the leading woman, the other by Ruth Renicks. The popular Maurice Flynn also is in the cast.

Don't miss this big western—best he has ever made. Admission—Matinee, 5c-10c. Night, 10c-22c.

TO WAGE BETTER HOMES CAMPAIGN

right here at home the move has started, and plans are in the making for a "Better Kitchen" campaign, this lasting from October 15 to December 15.

The best minds in America and many millions of dollars have been spent to improve industrial working conditions. Until now little genius has been used to solve the problems and lessen the labors of the homemaker—to conserve her health and increase her joy in her work.

Secretary Wallace says: "Naturally I am interested in the 'Better Homes in America' movement. When we consider the all-powerful influence of home condition and home atmosphere on the lives and character of our people, both young and old, surely every proper effort to improve these conditions should have the support of all good citizens."

Vice-President Coolidge says: "We spend too much time in longing for the things that are far off and too little in the enjoyment of things that are at hand."

"There are two shrines at which mankind has always worshiped, must always worship—the altar which represents religion and the hearthstone which represents the home. These are the products of fixed beliefs and fixed modes of living. They have not grown up by accident. They are means, deliberate, mature, sanctified, by which the human race, in harmony with its own great nature, is developed and perfected."

It is urged that every community in Prince William begin to think over this matter now and see what plans may be made to improve every individual home. If it is only one room, this will mean a beginning that will give both comfort and pleasure. Let's all strive to make the home the happiest place on earth, for we know that the future history of the nation, state, county and community will be shaped in large measure by the character of its homes. If we continue to be a home-loving people, we shall have the strength that comes only from a virile family life. This means that our homes must be attractive, comfortable, convenient, wholesome. They must keep pace with the progress made outside the home. The realization of this has crystallized not only into a county or state, but a national campaign for better homes.

In many homes in Prince William already the home-makers are beginning to talk about the "Kitchen Improvement Campaign" which is being planned.

Ministers, doctors and heads of other organizations in the county are requested to in every way possible encourage this work.

Plans are being worked out to, as well as possible, demonstrate some of this work at the county fair to be held next week. At this demonstration booth information will be given and an opportunity for women who wish to enter the Kitchen Improvement work to register. This work will be open to all women in the county who wish to take advantage of same.

In view of the fact that the average woman who lives in the country spends the greater part of her life in the kitchen the campaign is starting there. The object is to assist the women who enter it to make their own kitchens more convenient, thus saving time and labor. At least twenty-five women must enter the contest in order that the campaign may be worth while. Our slogan will be "Greatest Improvement at Least Cost."

Meet us at the Fair, get more information, enroll in the contest, have a better work-shop for the future.

Mrs. M. M. Davis, State Home Demonstration Agent, will be in the county October 15 to visit all homes enrolled and give suggestions and helps. She will visit the county agent on December 15 and see the results of the work.

Don't hesitate to call on your home demonstration agent for information regarding this movement.

LADIES' AID SOCIETIES MEET

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Fountain, of Bristow, Host and Hostess.

On Thursday of last week the Ladies' Aid of the U. B. Church of Manassas and Backhall, in acceptance of the invitation extended to them, met at the pretty home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Fountain, in Bristow. The forenoon was passed in a social way. At noon a generous dinner was served by the hostess, after which the regular monthly business meeting was held, with the election of officers, which resulted in the election of Mrs. Kate Randall, president; Miss Mary Sneek, vice-president; Miss Bessie Moore, treasurer, and Miss Bertha Brown, secretary (re-elected). At the close of the day, when we said goodbye to our host and hostess, it was with genuine appreciation and thanks for the pleasure of the day.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving remembrance of our dear one, Eunice Lavinia Kinchloe, age 35 years five months, who departed this life September 2, 1922, after an illness of four months. Rev. C. L. Beard, of Gainesville, conducted funeral services at the house. Interment was in Episcopal Cemetery in Dumfries.

She leaves bereaved a husband, three sons and three little daughters, father, mother, three sisters and five brothers, besides a host of friends and relatives, for she was loved by all who knew her. Always cheerful and happy, every cloud for her had a silver lining. Even the cloud of death was filled with joy, for she told to those she loved before she died that hours had been spent with Jesus, and said, "Oh! sister, you don't know how nice He is." So, dear Eunice, we don't grieve for you as one lost—only as one gone a little time before.

I've reached the land of corn and wine,
And all its riches freely mine;
Here shines undimmed one blissful day,
For all my night has passed away.
Her Loved Ones.

Why Girls Leave Home

The story deals with every home in general but for the sake of clarity presents two specific instances. One, the home of a rich merchant who indulges his daughter's every whim. The other, the home of the rich man's employe who represses in his daughter every youthful instinct. The result is that both girls leave home and attempt to fight the battles of life alone. Later their paths cross and together they work out their own destiny in a manner which is at one time of compelling interest and at the same time true to life.

Beautiful photography, elaborate settings and action every minute make "Why Girls Leave Home" a screen masterpiece. Exhibitors' Herald says: "This one is great."

ATTEND THE COUNTY FAIR
As a matter of local pride, if for no other reason, the people of Prince William County should be in attendance upon the county fair as many days as possible during the three days exhibits next week. This year's fair will probably mean success or failure for the Fair Association. If the attendance shows that the people of the county want an annual fair, then no doubt the members of the Association will see to it that the event is assured for each succeeding year. On the other hand, if the attendance is so small as to indicate that the people of the county are not interested, then it is more than likely that the exhibit this year will see the end of the venture.

The Fair Association held its first exhibition four years ago, and, notwithstanding a county fair was entirely a new venture for this county, the number of exhibitors and attendants seemed to assure success for the future. However, the Association met with reverses the second year on account of rainy weather and a financial deficit was shown for that year.
Last year the revenues from the fair were not sufficient to take care of the premiums, the current expenses and the deficit for the preceding year, and unless this deficit can be met with the revenues from this year's fair the prospects for the Association will not be at all bright. The people of Prince William County cannot afford to see the fair go on the rocks. Exhibitions of the kind are primarily advertising mediums, and they call direct attention to the agricultural and animal products of a county. Prince William County is an agricultural community, and anything that will benefit the farmers necessarily reflects upon the prosperity of the entire people. No farming section can be prosperous unless those who till the soil are successful. Agriculture is the backbone of all industry, for every business is dependent upon the farmer. Poor crops mean poor business generally, while large yields from the land betoken prosperity for every business.
At a county fair farm products and animals come in direct competition for prizes, and this competition creates a generous rivalry between those who exhibit. Each exhibitor naturally wants to win, not so much for the actual value of the prize awarded as for the advertisement that he will get from receiving the award. The man who loses this year will try harder to win the next, and so this friendly competition leads to better land preparation, soil fertility, working of crops and general production. This means prosperity not only for the farmer, but for everyone, for the more the farmer has to spend the more business will be done in every line of endeavor. Prince William County cannot afford to give up her fair. Let all do their best to make this year's exhibition a big success.

ANCIENT ATHENIAN OATH
The modern-day youth of every American city and town would do well to memorize and put into practice the patriotic sentiment expressed in the old Athenian oath which the young men of Athens were required to memorize and repeat as they assumed the duties of citizenship: This oath is as follows: "We will never bring disgrace to this, our city, by any act of dishonesty or cowardice, nor ever desert our suffering comrades in the ranks; we will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the city, both alone and with many; we will revere and obey the city laws and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in those above us who are prone to annul and set them at naught; we will strive unceasingly to quicken the public's sense of civic duty; and thus, in all these ways, we will transmit this city not only not less, but greater, better and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

To Maintain a Standard—

is not always an easy task. In these times when the public is clamoring for something cheaper, it's a great temptation for merchants to cheapen their products. We have always refused to do this for the quality here must be kept up. We buy only the best and sell only the best—and at prices that are consistent with standard quality. Selling only meats we have no "baits" to throw out. Our only inducement for you to buy is: Quality plus Service and Sanitation. Our steadily increasing patronage warrants us in our belief to fight along this line and not be tempted to resort to the line of the least resistance. Your children will receive every kind attention here. May we serve you?

IT IS FAIR TIME AGAIN

Why is a fair? We can't all answer that from a single viewpoint. It means something different to practically every one of us. There is no doubt, though, that the feeling of gaiety is universal—even to those who must work like Turks to make the occasion a success.

The man or woman with a frown has no business at our fair this year. You must go prepared to enjoy the blare of band music and the million noises that aren't music. You must be keyed up to revel in the sight of thousands of chattering holiday makers, of bright decorations, of pretty girls, of sideshows and ballyhoos, of popcorn balls in red tissue and sweating glasses of orangeade, of sizzling sandwiches and ice-cream cones, of live-stock and household and implement displays, of pattering trotters and pacers and running horses, of buzzing grandstand, of golden sunshine and yellow dust-clouds. Yes, and tired feet and whimpering babies with heat-rash and smart alecks here and there—for we haven't reached the land of perfection yet.

Now, let's peel the surface off the situation and see what's inside. This year's fair is going to be a pretty fine advertisement for our whole community—the surrounding farm lands and farmers, the town and its enterprising, public-spirited merchants. And really that is the rock-bottom purpose of holding a fair—advertising. It is a community aim and effort to show its people how much they amount to, and to show outsiders that this is a mighty good place to live in—prosperous, progressive country and neighborly people. A man looking for a place in which to settle down couldn't reasonably ask for anything more or better.

Courtesy to Visitors

The folks of this community understand one another. Our farmers know the town business men with whom they deal. Our business men are pretty well acquainted with most of the people who come into their stores. Now, we want to show—all of us—our spirit of kindness and intelligence to the strangers within our gates during the festival season. It is the best sort of advertising we can put forth.

It is inestimably worth while to us if visitors go home and say "I always like to attend their fair. The whole town seems to wiggle its lachstring at me. And they're the 'whitest' people!—go out of their way to be polite—ready to give information or do a little favor—I'm certainly going back oftener and get acquainted with some of them."

In order further to answer the question which introduces this article, we take down our handy reference book—a large red volume—and turn to page 426. Therein we learn that the word "fair" is derived from the Old French "feier," the modern French "foire," the Italian "fiera," the Latin "feria," meaning holiday, and that this is connected with the Latin "festus," meaning feast.

In the United States there are no fairs of the kind that have been common in the Old World. The term here is applied to a variety of exhibitions, such as church, charity, and agricultural exhibitions, and local, state, national, or international expositions or fairs. The fact is, the term is applied to all exhibitions where people are expected to bestow patronage or make purchases.

Bits of Fair History

The most common kind are agricultural fairs—county and state, as you know. This kind got their start as a regular thing in America in 1819. At Albany, N. Y., there was a prosperous merchant, Elkanah Watson, who believed that such an enterprise would encourage farming and manufacturing and help business. He used his influence with the state legislature, and that body appropriated $10,000 yearly, for six years, for premiums on agricultural products and family manufactures.

Since then annual county, district and state fairs are quite generally held. The district and county fairs especially are held, not mainly for the sale of goods, but for advertising purposes—as we have said. City street fairs, where amusements of various kinds are furnished, are intended to promote the welfare of the city by attracting traders to them. The same goes for world's fairs which are held in this country. While commodities are sold, the primary object is to advertise.

In the Old World the fair or bazaar is an ancient institution. If we could find files of the daily papers and country weeklies when old Mr. Pharaoh was kinging for a living, when Professor Plato was discoursing on pure democracy and the what and how of a republic, when the thousand and one events of the Arabian Nights Entertainments were being worked out, we should probably find articles like this one—an editor's write-up of the annual fair in his town.

People throughout Europe look upon the fair as a meeting held for the purpose of exhibiting and selling goods. Originally fairs were held at stated times and places, some for the sale of a particular class of merchandise, others for the sale of goods of a general character. People resorted to them to exchange goods and to collect their stores to last for several months. Princes and the magistrates of cities encouraged them, and some of the privileges granted long ago still remain in force.

Such fairs as these flourished today on the outskirts of civilization, as in Siberia, Manchuria, Asiatic Turkey, where people live isolated for long stretches of time and do their buying no oftener than once or twice a year. They originated in the church festivals, which were found to afford the best opportunity for commercial transactions, the concourse of people being such as took place upon no other occasion.

Other European Practices

In some parts of Europe persons of all ranks still wait for the great annual fairs to make their principal purchases of articles of every description. This applies especially to parts of Europe where trading facilities—including transportation, advertising announcements and the like—are not as highly developed as in all parts of America today.

The greatest fairs in Germany are those of Frankfort, Leipzig and Brunswick. Other noted and historic fairs held yearly or semi-annually in Europe are those of Zurich, Switzerland; Budapest, Hungary; Sinigaglia, Italy; Lyons, France (before the war), and Nizhni-Novgorod, Russia. The last named yearly attracts buyers from all parts of Europe and central and northern Asia, and merchandise worth $100,000,000 changes hands. At Mecca, in Arabia, the fair is held in connection with the annual pilgrimage of Mohammedans, and is one of the most picturesque in the world.

We hope this array of solemn facts—all guaranteed to be reasonably true—will not put a damper on your frivolous mood and spoil our own fair to you. Doll up in your gayest drapery and set your heart on having a regular picnic this year—just like the year you were sixteen and had a sweetheart; when you had tintype pictures made together and exchanged them. Remember?

FINAL PLANS FOR FAIR

(By H. W. Sanders, Secretary)

With the work of cleaning up, whitewashing and repairing fences and buildings almost completed and the last belated entries in the hands of the Secretary, the stage is rapidly being set for the fourth annual exhibition of the Prince William Fair Association. When the gates open to the public Wednesday morning the officers of the organization feel that the many exhibitors and citizens of the county will look with pride on what will doubtless be the climax of all fairs in quantity, quality and variety of exhibits.

After all is said and done, the exhibits are what make an agricultural fair, and it is gratifying to know that the number of exhibitors has increased somewhat over last year and fuller entries have been made in the various departments of the fair as a whole than ever before. The dairy and beef breeds will be well represented, Herefords and Shorthorns predominating among the latter. Among the dairy breeds, the Jerseys and Holsteins are holding their own, while increased entries of Guernseys seem to indicate a growing popularity of the breed.

For many years certain farmers have been advocating more attention to the breeding of sheep. And now, for the first time, a really creditable showing will be made in this department. In the swine department, Durocs and Berkshires will be mostly in evidence, as usual with the majority in favor of the latter. The Pig Club exhibit will be unusually good, and the boys are expected to make some keen competition with the farmers in the open classes.

The three hundred steel coops ordered for the poultry department will be sufficient to provide for the entries in this department, but there will be few that are not occupied. Apparently there is a wide diversity of opinion as to the breeds best suited for our county.

Brentsville, Independent Hill and Bethel Communities will compete for the silver cup to be presented by the Directors of the Association for the best community exhibit. This is a new and interesting feature of the fair and will doubtless attract much attention. Next in order of size will be the single farm exhibits. The trophy won by Clover Hill Farm last year must be won two years in succession for permanent possession. In addition to the present owner, Ivakota Farm and Mr. J. M. Kline will enter the 1922 contest. Corn maintains its supremacy as king of farm crops, other products appearing in great variety.

In spite of many statements to the contrary, the horse has not had his day, but is becoming more popular than ever, if we are to judge from entries in this department. The number of exhibitors is equal to that of last year and the number of animals entered larger, even though the army horses will not be back this year. The draft classes are especially popular, more draft teams being entered than ever before.

As is usually the case, the largest number of exhibitors is found among the women making entries in the household department. Their showing will be a most creditable one, exceeding anything that has been done by them in the past. And this is saying a great deal when you recall what they have presented for the past three years. Among the Good Housekeepers' Clubs, Manassas and Bethlehem stand alone as competitors for the blue ribbon. Among the other special features will be the competitive exhibits made by the three cheese factories of the county, a demonstration of a "better kitchen" and an especial dairy booth secured through courtesy of the extension division at Blacksburg.

Prospective purchasers of automobiles will have an opportunity to examine seven or eight different makes, if present prospects for the automobile show are realized. Several will be found in the commercial tent and others at different locations on the grounds.

Owing to a recent Government regulation strictly forbidding military bands from participating in non-military events, it has been impossible for the Association to secure the post band from Quantico. However, a good civilian band from Washington has been secured, and persons are promised music that will be satisfactory in every respect.

After an unavoidable delay, the co-operation of the County School Board has been secured, and these gentlemen have kindly voted to give the school children of the county a holiday on Wednesday, the first day of the fair. Every boy and girl in the county who is in regular attendance at school will be given a free ticket if the teachers of the various schools will co-operate by securing from the Secretary the necessary tickets on or before the first day of the fair. Mr. Browning is in charge of a special program of stunts and athletic events for the occasion, and a detailed statement of the plans will be given elsewhere in this issue of The Journal.

For the benefit of the visitors to the fair, the following explanation of the system of ticket selling is given for information: Tickets bought at the gate will be taken up on entrance to the grounds. This admission will admit the visitor to stay to the night fair, if he so desires, but persons who leave the grounds and wish to return at night must pay the night admission. No return passes will be issued during the day except to those who give their signature on leaving and again upon returning. A booth will be located at the gate for issuing return passes only. Patrons are requested not to use return passes except in cases of absolute necessity. This system, while far from perfect, will prevent such impositions on the Association as have been made in the past, and it is felt that those who are interested in the success of the fair will co-operate by discouraging the useless entering and re-entering of the grounds. Admission prices will be found in the advertisement found in this issue of The Journal.

A Great Reduction Sale!

In the face of a rising market on all lines that we carry and with ten weeks more at least of warm weather, we have decided to have our regular semi-annual sale, which has been customary with us and our predecessors for years. Not only will all summer goods be slashed, regardless of profit, but everything in the store will be reduced for 10 days. To you who know our line, this should be sufficient, and knowing the grade of merchandise we carry, the following prices should bring forth a tremendous response. Try to be here the first day.

Sale Will Begin Monday, September 18th
