

MRS. DUNNINGTON DIES SUDDENLY

Funeral Service Held at Trinity Episcopal Church on Wednesday.

Mrs. Annie Winter Dunnington, a native of Manassas, died suddenly Sunday evening at her home in Wilson, N. C., and was buried here on Wednesday. Mrs. Dunnington apparently had been in splendid health, and her death, which was the result of heart trouble, came as a great shock to her family and to her many relatives and friends in this vicinity.

The funeral took place here on Wednesday afternoon at Trinity Episcopal Church, of which Mrs. Dunnington was a member before identifying herself with the Episcopal Church at her North Carolina home. Rev. A. Stuart Gibson, the rector, conducted the service at the church and at the grave in the family lot at the Manassas cemetery. The funeral was largely attended. The grave was covered with a profusion of flowers, many of which were the tributes of Carolina friends.

The pallbearers were: Messrs. R. S. Hynson, C. E. Nash, G. Raymond Ratcliffe, W. C. Wagener, R. B. Larkin, W. P. Larkin and E. B. Giddings.

Mrs. Dunnington was born here forty-nine years ago, on July 29, 1873. She was the eldest daughter of the late Benjamin D. and Elizabeth Fewell Merchant. She was married July 5, 1892, to Mr. James Edward Dunnington. Mr. and Mrs. Dunnington left Manassas later to make their home in Baltimore, remaining there for a few years and moving eight years ago to Wilson, N. C., where they celebrated their silver wedding anniversary in 1917. Mrs. Dunnington was a member of the Episcopal Church, an active church worker, and was also actively identified with the Daughters of the Confederacy and the War Mothers.

She is survived by her husband and one son, Mr. James Merchant Dunnington, of Blackstone, and two little grandchildren, James Merchant Dunnington, Jr., and Thomas Edward Dunnington. She also leaves a sister, Mrs. Franklin G. Eddy, of Saratoga, N. Y., and four brothers, Dr. W. Fewell Merchant, of Manassas; Mr. Harry N. Merchant, of Baltimore; Mr. Richard H. Merchant, of Weldon, N. C.; and Mr. Benjamin N. Merchant, of Monks, Md., all of whom were here for the funeral.

Other relatives and friends who came to Manassas for the funeral included: Mrs. James E. Snead, Kingston, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dunnington, Mr. Warren Merchant, Mrs. Philip Ball and Mrs. Lucile Lee, Baltimore, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lake, Rockville, Md.; Miss Minnie Chamberlin, Mrs. Margaret Whittington, Mrs. Frank May, Mrs. Hattie T. Gordon, Washington; Mrs. H. J. Jones, Nokesville; Mrs. Maria Wheat, Dumfries; Miss Lillie D. Evans, Scottsville; Mrs. W. C. N. Merchant, Chatham; Mr. John Holt Merchant, Charlottesville, and Mr. and Mrs. James M. Dunnington, of Blackstone.

COMPANY PLANS BETTER TELEPHONE SERVICE

Mr. Lewis Tells Council New All-Night Service May Be Effective April 1.

Twenty-four-hour telephone service instead of the fourteen-hour telephone day is in store for Manassas, according to plans of the Central Mutual Telephone Company as presented to the town council in session Monday evening by the company's representative, Mr. Robert L. Lewis. If present plans are carried out, full-time service will be established about April 1, Mr. Lewis said.

A contract between the street committee and Mr. William Hottle, who has been engaged to lay a cement pavement along the west side of Battle street from Trinity Church corner past the residence of Mrs. J. E. Herrell, was approved.

The treasurer's report showed the collection of $2,329.66 in light rates for September and $1,748.20 in water rates. Councilman Burke reported that light and power rates amounting to $2,290.75 had accrued for the month of October. He also reported that the residences of Mr. T. W. Howard and Mr. Rexrode had been connected with the light plant and that water connections had been made at the property of Mrs. Milnes.

The meeting was the regular monthly session of the council. Mayor Davis presided, and Councilmen Arrington, Burke, Cornwell, Jenkins, Conner and Whitmore were present.

DEATH OF MRS. BRAWNER

Washington Resident Brought Back to Haymarket for Interment.

(Haymarket Correspondent)

The remains of Mrs. Susie Baker Brawner, who died at her home in Washington on Monday night, were brought to Haymarket on Wednesday and laid to rest in the family lot in St. Paul's churchyard, the committal service being read by Rev. T. M. Browne, rector of St. Paul's Church.

Mrs. Brawner was the widow of Mr. Robert Massie Brawner, late of Washington, and the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baker, who with their family were for many years residents of Haymarket. Mrs. Brawner was the last surviving member of the family of six, all of whom rest within the shadow of St. Paul's Church, of which they were loyal and devoted members.

Mrs. Brawner is survived by a stepson and daughter and an adopted daughter, and by several first cousins, including Mrs. Claude Arnold, of Maryland, and Mrs. Ashby Lewis and Mrs. Arthur Heymond, of Manassas, who attended the funeral.

YOUNGSTERS MASQUERADE

Manassas Little Folk Have Merry Time on Halloween.

Halloween was a gay night for the little folk of Manassas who were the guests of Mrs. E. R. Conner at Conner's Hall. Mrs. Conner's Halloween party has been coming so regularly as the holiday for several years.

To all appearances, every child in Manassas was there. The masqueraders—witches, goblins, gypsies, fairies and men and maids from many foreign shores—had a merry time. Japanese costumes were worn by two prize winners, Miss Rose Ratcliffe and Master Holtzman Clark, each of whom received a pound box of chocolates. Master John Henry Burke, impersonating a duke, was awarded the prize for the funniest costume.

LEWIS HERD HEADS LIST

One Grade Holstein Produces 1723 Pounds of Milk With 68.92 Pounds Butterfat.

Highest honors in the Prince William county cow-testing association for the month of October go to the herd owned by Mr. F. A. Lewis, of Manassas, according to the report made by Mr. T. T. Curtis, official tester. Twenty-three herds, including 506 cows, were tested during the month. The average production of these animals was 688.11 pounds of milk containing 26.37 pounds of butterfat. The average production of Mr. Lewis' herd, the one making the best record for the month, was 1,045.5 pounds of milk containing 41 pounds of fat.

Of the 506 cows on test, 41 or 8.1 per cent produced more than 40 pounds of butterfat and 8 attained the honor roll by producing more than 50 pounds. Eloise, a grade Holstein owned by Mr. Lewis, heads the list with a production of 1,723 pounds of milk containing 68.92 pounds of fat. The remaining 7 in order of production are as follows: Kansas, grade Holstein owned by F. A. Lewis, 1,387 pounds milk, 59.6 pounds fat; Princess, grade Holstein owned by F. A. Lewis, 1,418 pounds milk, 59.55 pounds fat; Virginia, Jersey owned by Clover Hill Farm, 936 pounds milk, 58.03 pounds fat; Lewis, grade Holstein owned by C. C. Lynn, 1,894 pounds milk, 54.93 pounds fat; Bryant, grade Holstein owned by F. A. Lewis, 1,409 pounds milk, 53.54 pounds fat; Leo, grade Holstein owned by F. A. Lewis, 1,509 pounds milk, 51.31 pounds fat; Woody, grade Holstein owned by F. A. Lewis, 1,220 pounds milk, 51.2 pounds fat.

The herd of Mr. Lewis is composed of 22 cows, practically all of which are grade Holsteins. The record cow was fed a ration of 40 pounds corn silage and 12 pounds of a grain mixture mixed in the following proportions: 1,400 pounds bran, 1,200 pounds cottonseed meal, 200 pounds linseed meal and 800 pounds Schumacher feed.

In addition to this record, Mr. Curtis reports that 9 cows were sold during the month, their records indicating that they were unprofitable individuals. It is a long call from 688.11 pounds as an average for the association to 1,045.5 as the best herd record.

INTERPRETS HUNTING LAW

Manassas, Va., Nov. 3, 1922. To Whom It May Concern:

Upon application of the game warden, Mr. C. L. Reading, as to the construction of Sec. 3338, relating to unlawful hunting east of the Blue Ridge mountains, as amended by an act approved March 4, 1922, found in the acts of 1922, page 296, it is my opinion that any person hunting, fishing, or trespassing in any manner upon land other than his own, either in fee, or under lease, it is necessary to first have the consent of the owner or tenant in writing before hunting or fishing upon such land, and failing in this the trespasser is liable to a fine not to exceed $50, except it does permit fox hunters and deer hunters to hunt fox and deer upon another's land and not be liable to said act without having such consent in writing.

Respectfully submitted,
THOS. H. LION.

SEEK RUNNING WATER FOR FARM KITCHENS

Many Prince William Household-ers Enter County Kitchen Contest.

(Miss Lillian V. Gilbert, County Home Demonstration Agent)

Twenty-five women have enrolled for better kitchens. This means that twenty-five women in Prince William who were not satisfied with their kitchen arrangements are going to get them in such splendid shape that work will be much easier and pleasanter than ever. This means also that Prince William county is going to go "over the top" with 100 per cent, finishing up the work as best it can be done in the length of time given.

Several women have asked for Mr. J. S. Glenn, assistant agricultural engineer, to visit them and give help with the view to getting in some form of waterworks. It is hoped that Mr. Glenn can get here some time during the month of November. There is a simple plan of running water in the farm home which can be had for the small sum of about $35 or $40. In the county agent's office bulletins will be found showing pictures and giving plans, equipment, etc. These may be had for the asking.

Prizes offered for this contest are being exhibited in the county rest room at Manassas. It is hoped that every woman in the county will see these prizes given by people outside of the county who are interested in demonstration work and improvement of the home. Men are also invited to see this demonstration in the rest room.

WAR DECLARED ON VIRGINIA PESTS

Notice Served on Foes of Useful Wild Life and Poultry in Virginia.

Rev. Noel J. Allen, director of pest extermination for the state of Virginia, has addressed the following letter to the public concerning the prizes to be awarded this year for pest extermination in Virginia:

As director of the pest extermination crusade in Virginia, I announce the following prizes to be awarded to those killing the most hawks, owls and crows from November 1, 1922, to June 1, 1923: Four crows count as one hawk. Owls same as hawks. Screech owls and sparrow hawks not counted in prizes. One hundred dollars goes to the best pest killer, $65 to the next; next, $50; then $40; then $35; next, $30; next two, $25 each; two more, $20 each; next three, $15 each; three of $10 each and three of $5 each. Nineteen prizes amounting to $590 will be awarded in the order named. Other prizes are expected to be announced later.

Scalps must be turned in to the circuit court clerk in person (never mail them) by those who will make oath that the pests were killed by them individually.

Any attempt to combine the kills of two or more will bar all from prizes. Salt the scalps well to prevent putrefaction.

The bounty of fifty cents each on hawks and owls is paid in every county in Virginia and fifteen cents each in certain seasons on crows.

You may win a big prize if you will. You get the bounty on all you kill. But best of all you will be saving innocent and useful wild life and poultry. For further particulars, address Rev. Noel J. Allen, Care Department of Game and Inland Fisheries, Richmond, Va.

PATRONS' LEAGUE HOLDS MEETING

Hallowe'en Program and Business Meeting at High School Building.

The first meeting of the year of the Manassas High School Patrons' League was held on Tuesday afternoon. A brief program of Hallowe'en songs and recitations was presented by the high school quartet and by Misses Saunders and McCoy, a special feature also being the recitation by Miss Dorothy Johnson of Riley's "The Jolly Miller."

The business meeting, opened by prayer by Rev. A. S. Gibson, followed. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Ashby Lewis, Mrs. A. A. Hooff presided. The secretary, Mrs. Lynn Robertson, read a report of the work of the league for the last year, which included: A bake sale in November; a dinner to the county board of supervisors and the Manassas school board in February; a field day in May, at which some of the chief attractions were the marine band from Quantico, and an address by Representative Upshaw, of Georgia; a reception and dance to the graduating class last June, and, in connection with the Bennett School Patrons' League, a lunch to the county teachers' institute in October. Five dozen assembly chairs and a valuable series of historical maps for the American history class were among the equipment bought with the money raised, which amounted to $150 exclusive of membership dues. A generous gift of $31 was also received from the Manassas bridge club.

After taking up the matter of sending a delegate and an exhibit of the year's work to the league rally to be held at the state teachers' conference at Richmond at Thanksgiving, the meeting closed with a short talk by Miss Osborn, who asked the co-operation of the league again this year in getting much-needed equipment for the school work.

A very pleasant social hour followed, with refreshments served by the high school home economics classes.

FARMERS HEAR SILVER SPEAK

Farm Bureau Representative Outlines Farmers' Program for Congress.

Mr. Gray Silver, Washington representative of the American Farm Bureau Federation, told 150 farmers at Manassas Friday for the organization booster banquet, which was the opening of a membership campaign for the Prince William county farm bureau, that if Congress will vote as the farmers desire the dam and fertilizer plants at Muscle Shoals, Ala., will be leased to Henry Ford, who will manufacture high-grade fertilizer and sell it at possibly half the present cost. He told how the fertilizer and allied interests are fighting the Ford offer, but predicted that they would be unsuccessful. He said that the American Farm Bureau, the grange and the union all are on record favoring the Ford offer and claiming it is the only offer which will give the public an adequate return.

Mr. Silver told of how the American Farm Bureau through its Washington office organized the farm bloc in Congress and that the bloc has passed more legislation of value to agriculture than has been passed by any similar congress. One of these bills makes co-operative marketing possible, and, as Mr. Silver says, "takes the hot breath of the sheriff off the back of the farmer's neck." Others regulate trading in grain futures, thus cutting out gambling in wheat and other grains; regulate the packers and stock yards, so that the farmers and public may know just what is going on in this business, and if necessary pass legislation to correct bad practices; increase the activities of the federal farm loan banks; distribute taxation more equitably; place a representative of farming on the federal reserve board; secure additional credit through the war finance corporation; provide a program for building roads, which include farm-to-market highways instead of only boulevards and trunk lines running across the country.

As a program for the short session of Congress, to convene November 20, Mr. Silver said the farm bureau is urging Congress specifically to:

- (1) Approve of Henry Ford's offer to lease the dam at Muscle Shoals, Ala., and operate the fertilizer plants.
- (2) Give the farmers a new form of credit which will make it possible for them to borrow money for periods commensurate with the time required to grow and market their crops—credit running from six months to three years.
- (3) Increase the maximum amount which can be borrowed at the federal farm loan banks from $10,000 to $25,000 or more.
- (4) Pass a truth-in-fabric law which will make it possible to tell the amount of virgin wool, shoddy, cotton and other fabrics in woolen goods.
- (5) Cut out the manufacture of filled milk, which is made by substituting vegetable oil for cream in condensed milk.
- (6) Limit the amount of money which banks may charge for money which they get from the federal reserve system to two per cent in excess of the rediscount rate, this to include all commissions, bonuses and other charges.

Other out-of-town speakers included Mr. Russell F. Bower and Mr. Ed. B. Reid, of the Washington office of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

THE SHRINERS' VISIT

(From the Front Royal Record) An excellent ceremonial session was held at Manassas when the degree team and divan from Acca Temple at Richmond conferred the order of the Mystic Shrine on fifty-two candidates. Manassas turned out in good old Virginia style, and every one of the visiting Shriners, estimated at about a thousand, could not help but feel a glow of gratification at the genuine southern hospitality which was accorded them. Delightful lunches and a beautiful banquet were served the visitors on the Eastern College grounds, after which the large college auditorium was used for the conferring of degrees.

The ten candidates from Front Royal bore up well under the difficulties encountered on the dry and arid journey across the desert, but by the exhibition of deep and profound confidence in their brother Shriners each one of them was finally rewarded according to his merits.

"Murder House" in Ashes.

The old Willis Kibler house west of the Shenandoah river, which belonged to N. B. Smith, of Luray, was burned last Friday night, says the Woodstock Times. About twenty years ago this house was the scene of one of the most horrible murders ever perpetrated in that section, when Willis Kibler, then its owner, was murdered. His nephew, Newton Kibler, was arrested, tried and convicted of the murder, but served only a short term in the penitentiary. The alleged motive for the murder was robbery, though as far as known none of the money which was said to have been hid about the premises has ever been discovered.

Within a few miles of this lonely spot only a few years ago occurred the murder of Mrs. Bessie Burner and three children who were murdered by William Nichols, who a short time afterwards committed suicide with a shotgun. Within two or three miles north of this place several other deeds of violence have been committed. The house was unoccupied at the time of the fire.

Byrd, District Chairman William E. Carson, of Riverton; Hon. William Meade Fletcher, attorney for Judge Harrison in the recent congressional contest; Col. Carroll Menefee, of Sperryville, and Hon. Joseph M. Bauserman, of Woodstock, constituted the personnel of the political pilgrims. Senator Byrd was the only one of the party injured, having received a slightly sprained ankle.

Came to Grief in Middleburg.

Sunday two hot sports from Warrenton, made hotter than usual by corn likker or peach brandy, came whizzing through Middleburg at fifty miles or more an hour in an automobile, and when summoned to halt and give an account of their haste gave the constables the merry ha ha and proceeded to proceed. Shots fired at their tires and energetic pursuit caused them to take a more serious view of conditions, and they undertook to make a side turn to get out of range and sight. By slight miscalculation they turned into a barbed-wire fence, which held them up. Their machine was damaged, they were scratched and a magistrate before whom they were taken imposed a substantial fine.—Loudoun Mirror.

Eight Students Near Death.

Eight boys from Hampden-Sidney College came near losing their lives at Buckingham Saturday night when a car in which they were riding struck the bridge and they were thrown over in the low lands, a distance of fifteen or twenty feet. They were badly shaken up, and one was rendered unconscious. The car was badly damaged, and that the boys were not killed is considered a miracle. They had been to Fork Union to attend a ball game.

Child No. 20 Weighs 10 Pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred O. Shaner, of a Lynchburg suburb, are receiving congratulations on the advent of their twentieth child, this boy weighing ten pounds at birth being the largest of them all. Seventeen of the twenty children are living, and all of them have been born singly, save one pair of twins. Mr. and Mrs. Shaner have been married twenty-five years.

P. O. Clerk Arrested.

W. Herman Walker, a clerk at the Fredericksburg post office, was arrested on a charge of larceny of funds. Walker, according to the authorities, signed a written confession following his arrest admitting the theft, says the Free Lance, and was released under $2,000 bond. Walker was taken into custody by special inspectors after they had entered the post office separately and each mailed a parcel post package, according to the Free Lance report. One of the packages was weighed by the clerk and the postage amounted to 80 cents. When the inspectors came around to the rear of the building and examined the parcel it is alleged that only 50 cents' worth of stamps had been attached. Walker's arrest is said to have come as a great surprise, as he was prominent in church and fraternal circles, and is said to have had a high standing with the post office department.

Man Loses Hand.

James Keyes, of Leesburg, while sawing wood with a circular, cut-off, gasoline-driven saw, had his left hand cut off between the wrist and knuckles, and the injury was so serious that it became necessary to amputate his arm at the wrist when he was taken to the Leesburg hospital. One steer of a drove of cattle that was passing where he was engaged in sawing wood ran against him and threw him into the saw. The steer was so badly cut that it was necessary to kill him.

Mrs. Betty Washington Wilson.

Mrs. Betty Washington Wilson, widow of John E. Wilson, of "Wakefield," Westmoreland county, a great grand niece of George Washington, passed away on October 23 in her eighty-fourth year. Up to a few years ago Mrs. Wilson directed the affairs of "Wakefield," the birthplace of Washington, in the colonial style and custom of ante-bellum days. She was a daughter of the late Lawrence and Sarah Tayloe Washington. Surviving relatives are a daughter, Mrs. William C. Latane, of "Wakefield," a son, Mr. William Wilson, of Oak Grove; and two brothers, Messrs. Lawrence Washington, of "Blenheim," Westmoreland county, and Lloyd Washington, of Chicago, and a number of grandchildren.

Petrified Man Found.

The finding of a petrified body of a man in an iron cage, the cage being in a peculiar-looking box, much worn from its long years of use, is reported from Amelia county. It is said that the discovery was made on the River road about twenty-five miles from Petersburg, perhaps in a cave.

School Head Vanishes.

Considerable excitement is said to have been aroused at Alberane, in the southern end of Albemarle county, on account of the failure of Mr. J. William Taylor to appear for duty at the high school of which he is principal. It developed that Mr. Taylor had intimated that he had received several threatening letters recently, and this is supposed to have some bearing on his strange disappearance. When last seen Mr. Taylor wore a plain dark suit, soft shirt and brown cap. He is a man about thirty years of age, under six feet, heavily built, weighing 175 pounds, dark hair and blue eyes, smooth shaven.

LET EVERY VOICE REGISTER

Next Tuesday is election day throughout the commonwealth and throughout the nation. The result is expected to show what Americans, regardless of party, think of the last two years of republican rule. The record of Congress under republican domination shows the passage of practically no remedial legislation which was not supported by democrats and rendered purely non-partisan. Administration policies affecting problems held over from the Wilson era have been apparently a continuation of Wilson policies—once execrated, now exonerated, or at least found entirely acceptable in a faintly different guise. The tariff bill is ruinous to national prosperity, affording the already high cost of living another boost to higher air. The taxation program indicates high favor for the favored few, and hardship for the less favored but mighty multitude of little men whose number is legion, whose prosperity is equally important and whose ballot holds just the same power.

In Virginia the contest is not particularly exciting. The democratic outlook in the Slemo district is fairer than in many years at the close of the career of Virginia's foremost republican. The seventh is seeing a warm fight between Mr. Harrison, whose election in 1920 was preposterously contested by the republicans, and the republican leader, Mr. Paul. Colonel Leedy, of Luray, Mr. Harrison's former democratic rival, has thrown his weight into the contest, uniting any within the party strife which may have existed there.

In this section of the state there is no doubt of the outcome. Virginia democracy has many times expressed her approval of Senator Claude A. Swanson, entrusting to him over a period of years practically every choice legislative office with her gift. Representative R. Walton Moore earned his political career has attained national recognition and has earned her lasting regard.

Every citizen has the right to register his judgment on November 7. It is a privilege enjoyed by citizens of every rank in a free country, and it is a public duty which no intelligent voter can afford to neglect.

THE POST OFFICE AGAIN

"The contract for the construction of a new post office building at Charles Town, W. Va., was awarded to E. G. Heflin, contractor, of Fredericksburg, Va., whose bid was $59,381."

This news item clipped from an exchange reminds us once again of a vacant lot in Manassas which Uncle Sam purchased a few years ago as the site of a post office here. Uncle Sam has paid out his good money for the lot and is getting no interest on his investment. Instead, he is still paying rent for the present post office building. As far as his bank account goes, the money expended here represents a very small investment, but if Uncle Sam has a lot of unproducing, vacant lots scattered all about his vast domain, he will soon be looking to his small accounts and perhaps will find Manassas. During the war he hadn't time to think about it, but we started to "normalcy" two years ago, and perhaps President Harding may yet arrive at his destination.

UNJUST TO THE AUTHOR

Franklin K. Lane held a large place in the admiration of the American people, and most of the admirers are likely to concur in the view of former Secretary Redfield that the publication of the "Lane letters" constitutes a "grave misfortune to the memory of a good man." It will be difficult for a great many people to understand how Mr. Lane could have brought himself to commit certain of his "Cabinet reflections" to paper for the perusal, however confidentially, of an outsider. But of this there will be little doubt: The author of the letters would never have consented to their publication in the form of their present use. These letters—or certain portions to which special attention has been directed—do not represent the Lane whom the American people regarded as an able and well-balanced public official; to Mr. Redfield they betoken any one else but the Lane who was his "dear friend," a good and kindly man.

From whatever angle viewed, the publication of these letters must appear to thinking persons as inappropriate and misleading. They are not to be trusted either as a characterization of the public figures discussed therein or as a picture of the author. Whatever may be said of Mr. Lane's discretion or lack of it in writing the letters, there will be general acceptance of Mr. Redfield's view that the "tenor and spirit of his notes" do not represent his "deliberate and mature judgment," and that, by publication, they are made to reflect unfairly upon the memory of an honored citizen.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

A REAL TELEPHONE DAY Manassas welcomes very gladly the Central Mutual Telephone Company's plan to offer all-day and all-night telephone service.

The telephone is always a convenience and sometimes a necessity. We wonder how our forefathers got along without it. We of today find the telephone an absolute necessity, and some of us are willing even to have the poorest kind of service rather than no telephone service at all.

Doubtless many householders could supply stories to illustrate the need of continuous service at the local telephone exchange. However, without illustration or demonstration, the need is plainly seen.

We wish the telephone company all speed, and perhaps there may be a twenty-four-hour telephone day in Manassas before April 1.

GOVERNOR TRINKLE'S TRIBUTE

The book of memory which the Woman's Universal Alliance will place in the memorial tower of the Temple of Womanhood to be erected in the nation's capital holds some wonderful and inspiring tributes to womanhood, but not one more wonderful nor more inspiring than the tribute which E. Lee Trinkle, Virginia's governor, pays to the memory of his mother, Letitia Sexton Trinkle.

This is Governor Trinkle's tribute: "To the sweetest name, to the purest love, to the holiest memory known to my heart—my mother. She, whose unflinching and unfaltering affection nurtured, sheltered and directed me; she, whose influence, like a star of truth, still guides me; she, who greeted me and left me with a kiss—to rest in God."

THE PRESENT

Do not crouch today, and worship The old Past, whose life is fled; Hush your voice to tender reverence; Crowned he lies, but cold and dead: For the Present reigns our monarch, With an added weight of hours; Honor her, for she is mighty! Honor her, for she is ours!

See the shadows of his heroes Girt around her cloudy throne; Every day the ranks are strengthened By great hearts to him unknown; Noble things the great Past promised, Holy dreams, both strange and new; But the present shall fulfill them, What he promised she shall do.

She inherits all his treasures, She is heir to all his fame, And the light that lightens round her Is the lustre of his name; She is wise with all his wisdom, Living on his grave she stands, On her brow she wears his laurels, And his harvest in her hands.

Coward, can she reign and conquer If we thus her glory dim? Let us fight for her as nobly As our fathers fought for him. God, who crowns the dying ages, Bids her rule, and us obey,— Bids us cast our lives before her, Bids us serve the great Today.

—Adeleide A. Proctor.

SEE WAS A TYPEWRITER

Investigators engaged to check the records of the Municipal Contagious Hospital in Chicago found that "Miss Iris (L. C.) Smith" was carried on the pay roll as a stenographer. The investigators began an investigation and "Miss Smith." When the address given as her residence was examined it was found to be an automobile dealership, and on further investigation "Miss Smith" was found to be a typewriter, which had been drawing a salary of $80 a month. The checks had been indorsed by a former ward at the hospital.—Exchange.

CLIFTON

Hallow'en was with us once again, with its witches and goblins. The young people of the Baptist Church celebrated by holding a masquerade at Mrs. Curtis' home. There was a dance in the hall in the village for the slightly older crowd.

Rev. T. H. MacLeod preached a splendid sermon on prohibition Sunday morning.

Mr. R. E. Wagoner, of Manassas, again gave us two excellent solos, "The Holy City" and "A Clean Heart." Mrs. Hodge, of Manassas, accompanied him on the organ.

Two weeks hence Rev. A. B. Jamison, of Manassas, and Rev. T. H. MacLeod will exchange pulpits. Mr. MacLeod will favor us with some music at this time, and we feel sure that all who have heard him previously will be glad to hear him again.

Mrs. Richards received word last week of the death of Mrs. Mary E. Newman, of Newark, N. J., which occurred October 24 and was very sudden. Mrs. Newman spent part of her girlhood days here. She was the niece of Rev. W. M. Bradley, who was the first pastor of the Clifton Presbyterian Church. She was married in the church here to Mr. H. C. Newman, jr., soon after the church was finished, her uncle performing the ceremony. The first years of her married life were spent here, and since that time she has been living in New Jersey, where she lost her husband several years ago. She is survived by several children and grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Richards have also been notified of the appointment of their son, Mr. Walter A. Richards, as manager of the city of Columbus, Ga., at a salary of $8,000 per annum. Mr. Richards had not made any effort or application for the position, but his fitness was advanced by friends on whose application he received the appointment over about twenty-five applicants.

Rev. C. J. Frye is visiting at his former home in Vermont for several days.

The frost has been like snow several nights the past week.

The faculty of Clifton high school and the junior league abandoned the Hallow'en party that had been planned for the school.

WATERFALL

Mrs. S. R. Clarke has been the guest of relatives in Lynchburg for several weeks. She was accompanied home on Tuesday by Mr. Clarke, who spent the week-end here.

Mr. R. R. Smith and Master Herman Smith were Manassas visitors recently.

Miss Bertha Hibbs was the guest of friends in Bealeton for a recent week-end.

Ralph Bell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bell, was painfully cut on Tuesday afternoon by falling from a bicycle into a barbed-wire fence.

The B. Y. P. U. society, which was recently organized, met at the church on Sunday evening. Group Two, Mrs. R. R. Smith, captain, was on duty and a splendid program was presented.

On Sunday Group Three, Mrs. W. M. Foley, captain, will have charge of the meeting at 7:30. Everyone is invited to attend.

Mrs. Howard Bell, Messrs. Stanley Bell and Preston Smith were guests of Mrs. Jennie Shirley, of Manassas, recently.

Mrs. Fannie Shackelford, of Minnieville, is visiting Mrs. Mary Gosson at the home of Mrs. S. R. Clarke.

The B. Y. P. U. Hallow'en social, which was held at the school on Tuesday evening, was well attended. The weird costumes, games and contests added much to the enjoyment of the evening, as did also the hot chocolate and doughnuts served by the committee in charge.

Mrs. O. E. Kibler spent several days in Washington recently.

The Misses Florence and Pauline Gosson, who are teaching at Cannon Branch and Groveton, respectively, were at their home, "Mount Atlas," for the week-end.

The Community League held its regular monthly meeting at the school on Saturday evening. An excellent program was rendered, with a large crowd in attendance. The entertainers were Misses Carr, Ramsey and Maxwell, of Eastern College, and Hon. C. J. Meester, of Manassas.

GREENWICH

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Edwin R. Fitzhugh on October 23 at their home in Charlottesville. Mrs. Fitzhugh is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Lee.

Misses Carolyn H. Lee, Mary Wright and Ruth Keeler and Messrs. Edward Kaskey, R. Harry and Frank Lee, all of Washington, spent the week-end at "The Hermitage," the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Lee.

To Maintain a Standard—

is not always an easy task. In these times when the public is clamoring for something cheaper, it's a great temptation for merchants to cheapen their products. We have always refused to do this for the quality here must be kept up. We buy only the best and sell only the best—and at prices that are consistent with a standard quality. Selling only meats we have no "baits" to throw out. Our only inducement for you to buy is: Quality plus Service and Sanitation. Our steadily increasing patronage warrants us in our belief to fight along this line and not be tempted to resort to the line of the least resistance. Your children will receive every kind attention here. May we serve you?

EASTERN COLLEGE NOTES

(By the College Reporter)
The very delightful trip made to Mount Vernon and Washington recently by the college household will ever be an enjoyable memory to us, and for this we thank all the citizens who contributed it.
Eastern reminds us this week of the familiar "All quiet along the Potomac tonight," for indeed it is quiet compared with the bustle and stir of Shriners' week, when banquet, side shows, booths, costumes, decorations, etc., were engrossing every minute of the time not given to class work. But the Shriners have come and gone, leaving about $350 with the Eastern girls for their swimming pool and the promise of a plan for the same by an expert Shriner architect. A splendid lot of men they were, and right gladly would we entertain them again. The ideals that they have pledged their lives to are of the highest order, and they never exploit their accomplishments. The writer is quite familiar with their beautiful hospital in Atlanta which was erected for the children of the poor.

Not a little of the success of their visit to us was due to the very helpful services of the Baptist ladies, who generously offered to assist us in any way possible and who furnished the lovely flowers used in the decorations at the college.

The Sunday vesper services, which are usually conducted by the students, were conducted on Sunday, October 22, by Rev. A. Stuart Gibson, rector of the Episcopal Church. His talk, which was based on St. Paul's visit to Athens, was very appropriate and much enjoyed. We hope to hear from time to time other speakers of the community.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear husband, C. F. Eiden, who died one year ago, October 28, 1921.
Just one year has passed since that sad day.
When the one we loved was called away.
God took him home, it was His will,
But in our hearts we love him still.
Dear husband, how I miss you,
None but God will ever know;
If tears and sighs would bring you back,
You would have been here long ago.
No one knows the silent heartache,
Only those who have lost can tell
Of the grief that is borne in silence
For the one I loved so well.
There are thoughts that never perish,
Oh, how precious is your name;
In life I loved you dearly,
And in death I do the same.
I think of you in silence,
Few eyes that see me weep,
For many a silent tear I shed
When others are fast asleep.
The pain was hard, the shock severe,
To part with one I loved so dear.
But in my heart he will remain
Until the day we meet again.
By his loving Wife.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear daughter and sister, Mrs. Ida B. Florance, who departed this life one year ago, October 27, 1921.
One year of solemn sorrow, one year of grief and pain,
We miss you when the morning dawns,
We miss you when the night returns,
We miss you here, we miss you there—
Dear Ida, we miss you everywhere.
We miss your loving smiles and sweet face,
And when we sit and think of you our hearts are filled with pain.
Our homes would be like heaven could we but hear your sweet voice again.
Farewell, dear Ida and Baby, was a woeful word

Which passed through our hearts, but as it is the will of God the dearest ones must part.
One precious to our hearts is gone,
The voice we loved is still,
It has left an aching void
Which the world can never fill.
Written by her devoted Mother,
Mrs. Sarah Garrett, and Brothers and Sisters.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear father, Sidney H. Sheppard, who died two years ago today, November 2, 1920.
Only those who have lost can tell,
For memory is the only friend
That grief can call its own.

SOME OBSERVATIONS

(By Pro Bone, in the Culpeper Experiment)
"Moonshine" is fast getting to be a thing of the past in Culpeper. And that fact can truly be laid at the door of Judge Alden Bell, the "wet" man who was elected mayor of Culpeper at the election in June last. If you don't believe this statement, just step into the mayor's office some morning before all the bootleggers have been put in jail. For that's what is coming. Just as sure as two and two make four. It is just a question of time before a bootlegger in Culpeper will be as easy to find as the proverbial needle in the hay stack. I was up there the other morning—on business, not as a prisoner, I am glad to say. The room was full of people—spectators. Court had not convened. Just the same, as soon as I got into the room, first dash out of the box, his honor informed me that it would look better if I did not smoke in his court room. A word to the wise was sufficient, and out the window went my smoke. In the course of ten minutes or so I had gotten through with my business and started to leave. The mayor asked me not to hurry and to remain, remarking that the court had not convened yet. Considering my experience in regard to smoking, I was afraid not to accept his honor's invitation. And remain I did. I am glad I did so. It enabled me to observe, first hand, how Mayor Bell was proceeding to break up the whisky business in Culpeper. Two gentlemen, with automobiles, were each fined $150.00, sent to jail for six months, and their machines confiscated. Of course they both appealed from the decision, but it's dollars to doughnuts that they will get the same dose when they appear before the circuit court, with Mayor E. H. Gibson as special prosecutor for Prohibition Director Harry B. Smith. Certainly, Mayor Bell has put it up to them. Another gentleman contributed $40.00 to the municipal till for essaying to drive an auto after he had indulged in three or four drinks of Culpeper "moonshine," during the performance of which he broke down someone's fence in the neighborhood of the ice factory. Probably he was in that vicinity with the idea that it would be a good place to cool off. He explained that his car had a defective brake; that that was the reason he ran into the fence. It is likely that the car was like himself—had no brakes on at all—was going full tilt, to any old place. At any rate, he cooled off in jail that night, and the next morning was separated from his forty bucks. As I came through the portals on my way out, I looked to see if over the door there were the words: "Leave all hope behind, ye who enter here." Just the day before the one in which I was in court, a well-known

"well-known" gentleman of Culpeper was deprived of fifty wagon wheels for indulging in a Sunday afternoon joy ride in his little tin go-cart that is distinguished by its peculiar green color. I could cite numerous other instances that would go to show what a rocky road the Culpeper bootlegger has got to travel from now on. However, I will refrain for the present.

YOUR EYES

Like many other delicate and priceless things, require the utmost care and attention. Straining the eyes by reading and writing without proper glasses will wreck both eyesight and health. The first indication of trouble promptly attended to by a competent Optometrist may prolong the eyesight for many years. Don't wait for pain and sore eyes to work the first increase.
