WANT FATHER CURVAS BACK

A petition to the Archbishop of Mexico is being circulated through this section of the country asking that the Archbishop release Rev. Father Curvas, so that he can return to this country and to the charge of the little St. Mary's Catholic Church at Fairfax station. Father Curvas had been in charge of St. Mary's Church for about two years and had made himself greatly beloved not only by the Catholics, but members of other denominations. Several months ago he went to Mexico to be with his father, who was critically ill, and it is now stated the church authorities of Mexico requested him to remain in that country to assume charge of a large and important church. It is stated that Father Curvas wishes to return to this country, but he feels his duty requires him to remain in Mexico if he wanted there. The petition is being signed by many out of the Catholic faith, and it is hoped it will bring about the result wanted.—Fairfax Herald.

Mr. R. S. Jones has returned to his home in Reston, after a hunting trip to Manassas and Gainesville.

PRETTY WEDDING AT MANASSAS CHURCH

Miss Ruth Leith is Bride of Mr. Wilson C. Merchant, of Dumfries.

In a setting of ferns, autumn leaves and chrysanthemums and in the presence of a large company of relatives and friends, the marriage of Miss Ruth Virginia Leith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Leith, took place Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the Primitive Baptist Church. Elder T. S. Dakin, of Baltimore, pastor of the church, officiated.

Before the entrance of the bride party, Cadman's "Love Song" was played by Miss Virginia Nelson Speiden, a student of the Temple School of Music, who presided at the piano. Miss Speiden played "The Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin as the bride party entered the church and "Believe Me, If All These Endearing Young Charms" was rendered softly during the service, with Mendelssohn's wedding march as a recessional.

The bride wore a traveling suit of navy blue, with fur and a becoming hat to match. Her flowers were Killarney buds. Miss Topsy Mae Green, of Washington, was maid of honor, and Mr. Leon Waters, of Dumfries, served as best man. The ushers were Mr. Eugene Davis, of Manassas, and Mr. Winfield Dewey, of Charlottesville, cousin of the bride.

The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob W. Merchant, of Dumfries. He is just entering business in Manassas. After a wedding trip the young couple will make their home for the present with the parents of the bride.

LYNN—DORSEY

Wedding Ceremony Taken Place at Colonial Church in Clark.

The old Colonial Protestant Episcopal Church at Wickliffe, Clarke county, was the scene of the marriage on Saturday of Miss Mary Eliza Dorsey, daughter of Mrs. Edward Dorsey, of Berryville, by Miss Henry Fabian Lynn, of Haymarket. Rev. George E. West, rector of Grace Episcopal Church, Berryville, officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Edward P. Dorsey. She wore white georgette, with hat to match, and carried white chrysanthemums. Miss Caroline Martin, of Charleston, W. Va., was maid of honor. She wore pink tulle and carried pink chrysanthemums. Little Miss Frances and Anne Robertson, of Gainesville, nieces of the bride, wore flower girls. Mr. LeRoy Blackwell, of Havre de Grace, Md., was best man, and Messrs. Floyd and Ralph Dorsey, brothers of the bride, were ushers.

MRS. FRANK GRAY DIES

Native of Prince William Expires at Her Washington Home.

Mrs. Frank C. Gray died on October 26 at her home in Washington. She was born at Bristow, this county, September 22, 1853, and had lived at Bristow, Mount Vernon and Dumfries before moving to Washington thirty-three years ago. Before her marriage to Mr. Gray she was Miss Mary Catherine Bravner, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Bravner.

Besides her husband Mrs. Gray leaves three daughters, Mrs. William W. Morrison, Mrs. Walter A. Williams and Mrs. George L. McCurdy; two sons, Messrs. J. Newton Gray and Raymond F. Gray, all of Washington, and one brother, Mr. William Bravner, of Dumfries.

AN APPRECIATION

In the passing of Mrs. John Hornbaker Manassas has lost one of her most gracious and lovely citizens. Her life was the exponent of all the beautiful graces described in Galatians 6:22 and 23. Born of an unwavering trust in our Savior, she shed the sweet perfume of a Christian life around her, and those who knew and loved her rejoiced in and took courage to follow her example. Although Mrs. Hornbaker had passed the three score years and ten by more than a decade, she was patient and grateful and ever appreciated the ministrations of her faithful nurse and ever-ready dear ones near her. Sweet will be her memory. The shadow of sorrow has fallen upon the hearts of her loved ones, and the sun has set, not in the gorgeous colorings of autumn, but in the more quiet time of the afterglow. Joy cometh in the morning and the meeting time is not far away.—J.

The official returns for Prince William county, canvassed yesterday by Commissioners John H. Burles, of Manassas; R. E. Simpson, of Hoadly, and J. B. Harpine, of Nokesville, are given above.

The republican wave, on which President Harding rode to the White House two years ago, has been receding in record time, according to returns from the national election on Tuesday.

The republicans will have fifty-two seats in the Senate; the democrats, forty-three, and the farmer-labor party, one. Republicans won seats now held by Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, and Senator Pennington, of Ohio. Democrats won seats now held by republicans in Delaware, Indiana, Maryland, Michigan, Montana, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, West Virginia and Wyoming. Democrats made all the gains in the House of Representatives.

The democratic victory in New York is an outstanding feature of the election. Alfred E. Smith, who left the governor's mansion two years ago, losing to Governor Nathan L. Miller, republican, was elected by a plurality of approximately 418,000 and carried his native city of New York by a plurality of nearly 428,000, the largest it has ever given any candidate for any office.

Dr. Royal S. Copeland, city health commissioner, defeated Senator William M. Calder, Representative Meyer London, socialist, was defeated by Samuel Dickstein, democrat, and twelve other democratic congressmen were elected.

In Maryland W. Cabell Bruce, democrat, defeated Senator Joseph I. France. The following congressmen were elected: Representative Lindheim, democrat; John Philip Hill, republican, and Edward E. Tydings (new), democrat.

Senator Fringshysen, of New Jersey, one of the President's intimates, who ran on a dry platform, was elected by Governor John L. Edwards, democrat, who ran on a wet platform.

A. Victor Donahay, democrat, will be Ohio's next governor, having defeated Camal A. Thompson, republican. Representative Simon D. Frost, republican, according to latest reports, had a slight lead over Senator

Atlas Pennington in the senatorial contest.

R. B. Howell, republican, defeated Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock, of Nebraska, who was floor leader for the Wilson forces during the peace treaty fight.

Miss Alice Robertson, of Oklahoma, republican, America's first woman member of congress, lost to W. W. Hastings, democrat, whom she defeated two years ago.

Mrs. Winifred Hark, a daughter of the late William F. Mason, of Illinois, who had served in both senate and house, was elected to congress from Illinois after an appointment by the governor to fill an unexpired term. She is a republican.

In Delaware Senator Coleman DuPont, republican incumbent, ran behind Thomas F. Bayard, democrat, whose father was secretary of state under Grover Cleveland.

Kentucky elected eight democrats and three republicans, all present members of congress, except one republican, who was elected to succeed a republican who was not a candidate.

Henrik Shipstead, running on a farmer-labor ticket, was elected to the senate from Minnesota, defeating Senator Frank Kelllogg, one of the republican war heroes and a close friend of the President. Minnesota elected a republican governor.

Victor Berger, socialist, was returned to the house from the fifth Wisconsin district. Representative Berger was expelled from the house during the war after being convicted of a violation of the espionage act. His conviction was reversed by the supreme court.

Pennsylvania, republican as usual, elected Gifford Pinchot governor and re-elected Senators Pepper and Reed. M. M. Nesley, democrat, defeated Senator Howard Sutherland, of West Virginia.

PRETTY CEREMONY AT CLIFTON CHURCH

Miss Mary Elizabeth Quigg Weds Mr. George B. Bridgforth, of Richmond.

The Presbyterian Church at Clifton was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Saturday when Miss Mary Elizabeth Quigg became the bride of Mr. George B. Bridgforth, of Richmond. The church was beautifully decorated with autumn foliage, palms and chrysanthemums. Rev. T. H. Mackford, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony. Mr. Irvin Quigg, brother of the bride, played the wedding march.

The bride was given in marriage by her eldest brother, Mr. Lewis D. Quigg. She was becomingly dressed in dark blue crepe de chine trimmed with pearls and cuffs of gray, considered in an all-over pattern of blue and gray, with hat to match. She carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Ruth Quigg, sister of the bride, acted as maid of honor. She wore Harding blue crepe de chine with gray Spanish lace panels and cuffs and carried yellow chrysanthemums.

Little Miss Virginia Buckley, a cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a dainty frock of white organdy and carried a basket of pink roses.

TURKEY PRICES STILL ARE HIGH

Production of America's Thanksgiving Bird has Been Declining for Twenty Years.

The turkey has always in this country enjoyed undisputed recognition as our national Thanksgiving bird. Until recent years, poor indeed was the home in which he did not occupy the place of honor as the vixacious feast offering expressive of our gratitude to the Giver of All Good for the blessings of the year that this annual occasion is intended to emphasize. But times and conditions change, and appetites, perforce, have to change with them—or, at least, to become more adaptable. The national Thanksgiving bird is losing ground. Like Woodrow Wilson, Georges Clemenceau, David Lloyd George and other figures of a receding period, he is being displaced in positions of honor by the less illustrious.

These reflections are inspired by a government report. The government, for "the common good," keeps statistical tab on every phase of our national life, including our varied industries, so as to give us a barometric reading of how we are getting along in the world. Along with the usual announcement that turkeys will "cost more" this fall, the Department of Agriculture has issued a statement concerning turkey production that is especially interesting in connection with the observations indulged above.

In 1900, says the department, 6,594,695 turkeys were on the nation's farms, while in 1920 there were only 3,827,022—a falling off of almost 50 per cent. Production of turkeys has been swiftly and consistently declining for the past twenty years. With the decline has come a steady ascent of price. In the season of 1920-21, turkeys brought an average of 22 cents a pound, while recently as the season of 1915-16 they brought but 15 cents. The department laments the slump in production on a disease known as "blackhead," and to the bird's wandering propensities, which make it difficult to raise. It has plenty of range, and as the country becomes more thickly settled the large ranges disappear. Whatever the reasons, the turkey is gradually being displaced from its traditional position as the national Thanksgiving bird. "Fiy 'is, but 'is true."—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

TRIBUTE TO WILSON

Governor Trinkle's Little Daughter Will Take Flowers to Capital.

Little Helen Sue Trinkle, six-year-old daughter of Governor and Mrs. Trinkle, of Virginia, is coming to Washington Saturday, bringing a basket of Virginia flowers to present to Woodrow Wilson when his friends and admirers go to his home on Armistice day to pay their respects.

This announcement was made by Mrs. Kate Trinkle Abrams, chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements. Mrs. Abrams also said that Miss Olive Chase, Washington, D. C., would present a basket of flowers from the District of Columbia. Miss Chase has the greatest collection of Wilson pictures in the world, it is said.

The committee said that letters and telegrams from many near-by states have been received saying that delegations will come to join Washingtonians in doing honor to the former President and Mrs. Wilson on Armistice day, November 11.

STATE NEWS NOTES

Thomas Nelson Page Dies.
 Thomas Nelson Page, former ambassador to Italy and noted author, died of heart disease November 1 at his ancestral home, Oakland, where he was born, near Beaver Dam in Hanover county. He was walking in the garden with his sister-in-law, Mrs. Rosewell Page, when he suddenly collapsed, dying within a few minutes. He was sixty-nine years of age.

Twenty-five years ago Mr. Page abandoned the practice of law and devoted his entire attention to literary work. Since that time he has written a number of books which make up a part of the country's best literature. In addition to this work he kept up his magazine writing, and through this medium contributed much to the public thought on current topics, political and economic.

Mr. Page was twice married—in 1886 to Miss Anne Seddon Bruce, who died two years later, and in 1893 to Mrs. Florence Lathrop Field, widow of the late Henry Field, of Chicago, and a great niece of the late James Barbour, a former governor of Virginia, the second wife dying a year ago. Two daughters survive—Mrs. Algernon Barnaby, of England, and Mrs. Thomas Lindsay, of Boston.

Killed While Hunting.
 The first fatality of the hunting season in Caroline county occurred last Thursday when Douglas Broadus, twenty-five years old shot and instantly killed himself. Broadus was hunting with several companions, and while separated they heard the explosion of a gun, followed by a scream. They rushed to the spot and found the young man lying on the ground beside a stump with a large wound in his side bleeding profusely. Life was extinct. Broadus, it appears, slipped off a stump on which he was standing and fell with his loaded shotgun, which exploded, and the entire load pierced his side and abdomen.

Patrick Henry Home Marked.
 A granite shaft marking the one-time home of Patrick Henry was dedicated Friday by Dr. Kate Waller Barrett, state regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution, on the farm of S. D. Hooker, between Danville and Martinsville. The shaft was made possible through the Patrick Henry Chapter of the organization at Martinsville.

John S. Gaines Dead.
 John S. Gaines, prominent sportsman, farmer and former banker, died at his home near Warrenton on Friday. Mr. Gaines had not been well for several days, and his death, according to report, was due to a dose of carbolic acid, presumably taken by mistake. Mr. Gaines was a son of the late Judge William Gaines. He is survived by his wife and several children, one brother, Mr. Foster Gaines, of New York city, and two sisters, Mrs. E. Gaines-Smith and Mrs. J. C. Biddle.

Vienna Men in Trouble.
 Two men claiming residence at Vienna were in serious trouble last week, according to the newspapers, says a Loudoun exchange. Second Lieut. Harry N. Jennings, of Walter Reed hospital, Washington, post exchange officer, disappeared and discrepancies in his accounts remain unexplained, says the report. He had been in the army twenty years, most of the time as an enlisted man, and at Walter Reed two years. He leaves his wife and ten-year-old child at Vienna.

Raymond Bolls, twenty-three years old, was arrested by the Washington police, charged with four robberies of stores along F street. His finger prints are said to match some found at two stores robbed several nights before the arrest.

Ethelbert Fairfax Dead.
 Ethelbert Fairfax, of the Virginia Fairfax family, died at his home in Washington last week, aged seventy-seven. He had been with the treasurer's department of the Southern railway for fifty-two years. He was a native of Alexandria and a specially selected courier for General Lee and was wounded in the battle of Bentonville, N. C. He was a Mason. He never married.

Mad Dog at Large.

George Washington Anniversary.
 Virginia Masons Saturday evening in the Masonic temple at Alexandria celebrated the 176th anniversary of George Washington's being a Mason. The celebration was held under the auspices of Alexandria-Washington and Andrew Jackson lodges. Washington was made a Mason by the Fredericksburg lodge.

toastmaster and made an address of welcome. Other speakers were: Admiral E. E. Coontz, U. S. N.; Merton L. Ferson, dean of George Washington university law school; James L. AN APPRECIATION
 "Each blade of grass holds its own drop of dew."
 On Monday evening, September 25, the Clark residence was favored with a friendly and inspiring call from Miss Gretta Hopkins, under escort of her nephew, Master Charles Webster Hopkins. Conversation at once turned to the discussion of the proposed hospital, in the interest of which Mr. Clark on the day previous had resigned his pastorate, and it is needless to enlarge on the comfort and encouragement this conversation afforded. Monday inevitably had been attended by the mysterious season of depression which, perhaps, without exception attends each forward step in the walk of faith, and never did the dew fall on a more thirsty blade of grass than that which drooped beside old Sudley Road in the person of the ex-pastor on the occasion of Miss Gretta's visit. As each blade of grass is precious in its Maker's sight and is formed to receive its individual share of his bounty, so did this friendly call in a crucial hour verify the truth of the poet's sublime sentiment, "Each blade of grass holds its own drop of dew."—X.

THE REPUBLICAN WAVE RECEDES

The '22's election may be accepted as a fairly good forecast of the presidential year of 1924. The story is very different from the story of 1920.

In New York the democratic victory attained the proportions of a landslide, former Governor Alfred E. Smith defeating Governor Miller, Dr. Copeland defeating Senator Calder and the entire state ticket, including thirteen congressmen, being elected.

Nineteen states elected democratic governors and fourteen elected republicans. Twenty-two democratic senators and twelve republicans were elected, ten democrats defeating republican senators and two republicans defeating democrats. Seventy-seven new democratic faces and thirty-five republicans will be seen in the House. In former republican strongholds the lead has been split to the danger point. The new congress still finds the republicans in the majority, but the margin is so slender that every member must be kept in the fold.

Virginia has experienced her share of the national reaction, and for the first time in twenty years has an all-democratic delegation in congress. The ninth district, represented by the Slamp family for two decades, has been redeemed by George C. Peery, through his own well-directed efforts and the staunch support of the democracy of the ninth. The seventh district, normally democratic, spoke with a loud voice in condemnation of the Paul episode of 1920.

Altogether, the 1924 outlook is entirely satisfactory from a democratic point of view. Politicians already have begun to wonder whether President Harding will lead his party once more, or whether stronger material will have to be sought in an effort to stem the democratic tide.

VIRGINIA'S CHOICE

Senator Swanson and Representative Moore on Tuesday were elected to succeed themselves in congress, receiving the highly complimentary vote that was expected. Claude A. Swanson continues a career of distinguished public service which began with the fifty-third congress at the time of the Cleveland administration. In 1906 he resigned his seat in congress and became governor of Virginia, and in 1910 he attained the senate. R. Walton Moore, a prominent member of the bar for a number of years, has represented the eighth congressional district since 1919. He served in the Virginia senate one term and in the constitutional convention of 1901-2.

THOMAS NELSON PAGE

All Virginia mourns the passing of Thomas Nelson Page, lawyer, author, statesman and diplomat, and one of her noblest sons.

The creator of "Marse Chan," of the family of "Red Rock" and of "Meh Lady" has a berth in the heart of America that is secure and steadfast. His knowledge of the Old South, of her traditions and of her ideals, lend a tone to all he wrote that few modern writers have been able to achieve.

America may forget in years to come that Thomas Nelson Page was a lawyer of Virginia, may forget that he represented the nation as ambassador at Rome, but the writer of innumerable and inimitable southern stories will always hold a warm place in the hearts of the future generations.

THE TURK AND HIS WATERLOO

The Terrible Turk is at it again. The Kemalists last week put an end to the sultanate, ordering the abdication of Mohammed VI and delegating the powers of government to the grand national assembly of Angora.

In addition to this bit of inward turmoil, which might not seriously concern the rest of the world, they have seized the city of Constantinople, demanding the withdrawal of allied troops, and invaded the neutral waters of the Dardanelles, admitting foreign vessels only at the pleasure of Kemal.

Perhaps Kemal is depending upon the "wedge" he drove between France and England. Perhaps he thinks that Bonar Law will not commit the British government to any definite eastern policy now and that the British lion on the eve of elections would register hesitation with a loud voice.

What line of reasoning animated his amazing policy it is not easy for the western mind to conceive. Perhaps, after all, the reasoning was nil. At all events Great Britain and France may be said to be at one if the British admiralty finds it necessary to take action in the Dardanelles.

Nothing short of war can be expected if the Turk persists in laying claim to the deep waters of the Dardanelles. A few more steps in the same direction and his colossal arrogance will meet its Waterloo.

MAINTAIN THE STRENGTH

The American Red Cross, beginning on Armistice day and concluding on Thanksgiving day, will "call the roll." This has been an annual ceremonial since the war time. It means a dollar from every enrolled American, and the membership of the Red Cross is now more than four million. During and immediately following the war it reached five million. The drive ought to be responded to so that, at the very least, this year's strength will be maintained. It would be splendid if it were increased; the slogan is: "Every American everywhere a member of the Red Cross!"

The dollar dues asked of the sustaining membership do not begin to meet the annual needs of the organization. The estimated budget for the coming year approaches ten million dollars, the expenditures always being for benevolent activities that the Government does not take a hand in, and for the furtherance of which no Government funds are available. The field is as broad as the country, and every community is a beneficiary. Let's have that little dollar ready to exchange for the Red Cross button of 1923.—Providence (R. I.) Journal.

Because my calf became his cow;
I left my dad—'twas wrong, of course—
Because my colt became his horse.
I left my dad to sow and reap
Because my lamb became his sheep;
I dropped my hoe and stuck my fork
Because my pig became his pork.
The garden truck I made to grow
Was his to sell and mine to hoe.

WHY ANOTHER ONE DIDN'T

With dad and me it's half and half—
The cow I own was once his calf;
No town for mine, I will not bolt,
Because my horse was once his colt;
I'm going to stick right where I am
Because my sheep was once his lamb;
I'll stay with dad—he gets my vote,
Because my hog was once his shote;
It's "fifty-fifty" with dad and me—
A profit-sharing company.

"Be more than his dad; be a chum to the lad;
Be a part of his life every hour of the day.
Find time to talk with him, take time to walk with him,
Share in his troubles and share in his play;
Take him to the places, to the ball games and the races,
Teach him the things that you want him to know;
Don't live apart from him, don't keep your heart from him,
Be his best comrade, he's needing you so." —Selected.

LAUGH AND LIVE

A SINGLE-TRACK MIND
North—I can get you six per cent.
West—Great! Man, I can taste it already!
North—No; I mean for your money.
West—Well, I expect to pay for it, of course.—Life.

DOING HIS BEST
"They say people with opposite characteristics make the happiest marriages."
"Yes; that's why I'm looking for a girl with money."—Western Christian Advocate (Cincinnati).

GOOD WORK
A man who was wanted by the police had been photographed in six different positions, and the pictures were circulated among the police. The chief in a small town wrote headquarters a few days later, saying, "I duly received the pictures of the six miscreants whose capture is desired. I have arrested five of them; the sixth is under observation and will be taken soon."—The Christian Advocate.

THE ECONOMIST
Recently Harry Brooks overstayed his last car at a lodge meeting. As he came out of the building he took up a position in front of the house of the local doctor and gazed upward at the darkened windows. Next he pulled himself together and then pulled at the doctor's bell, nearly tearing it out by the roots.
"Doctor, doctor, come quickly!" he cried. "It's a bad case over at Shillington. Don't delay."
The doctor came bustling down-stairs and hustled his car out of the garage. In three minutes they were off, Harry sitting by the doctor.
"That's the house—that one," said the passenger at last, at the end of a spanking drive of at least five miles. "But what's your fee, doctor?"
"Oh, five dollars, for an ordinary night visit," was the reply.
"Then here you are. There wasn't anyone in the place who would bring me for less than seven-fifty."—Store Booster.

WITHIN THE LAW
"My wife was hit by a trolley, and I want to sue the company," said the client.
"Well," said the lawyer, adjusting his gold-rimmed glasses, "under the rule of stare decisis as laid down in the Weemick Case, reported in thirty-four Missouri, it is doubtful whether you warrants will be, although there is doubt in the—"
"She's all black and blue and it hurts," said the client.
"—obiter in the Epstein Case," continued the lawyer, "which appears to hold contra despite the strong dissent by Rafferty J. It's a pretty question."
"The trolley was on the wrong side of the road," said the client.
"The amendments of 1887 limit the application of our courts to torts, quasi contracts and causes classified generally. For example: suppose A is seized in fee tail of a message with remainder over B. C enters A's close under color of title not amounting to quasi alienation freight and exports B's hereditaments. Quare, does courtesy attach?"
"My wife was hit by a trolley—" began the client again.
"You have an excellent case," said the lawyer. "We shall start suit at once. My retainer is thirty-five dollars. Thank you."—Life.

BAPTIST MINISTER DIES

Rev. S. M. Athey Uncle of Messrs. W. S., T. H. and J. S. Athey.

Rev. Samuel M. Athey, Baptist minister and Confederate soldier, died at his home at Orleans on Saturday, after a lingering illness. He was seventy-eight years old.

Funeral services were conducted at the old homestead by Rev. G. W. Cole, of Remington, assisted by Rev. Charles B. Herndon, of Warrenton, who spoke with deep feeling of the deceased, who had been his pastor, and by Rev. Westwood Hutchison, of Manassas, who offered the closing prayer. The pallbearers were the sons of the deceased, and Messrs. T. H. Athey, W. S. Athey and J. S. Athey, of Manassas, his nephews. The body was laid to rest in the family burying ground.

Rev. Mr. Athey enlisted in the Confederate army at the age of seventeen and served throughout the war. He was made prisoner at the battle of Gettysburg during Pickett's charge, and taken to Point Lookout, Del. He began preaching while in the prison at Point Lookout and continued to preach until he became too feeble to leave his home. During his ministry he had served churches in Loudoun, Fauquier, Fairfax, Rappahannock, Greene, Warren and Page counties and was widely known in the Baptist ranks.

Surviving members of the family are his widow, four daughters—Mrs. J. H. Laycock and Mrs. Oscar Kephart, of Leesburg; Mrs. James M. Douglas, of Sittlington, and Mrs. Rice Russell, of Orleans—and four sons, Messrs. J. C. Athey, of New York; Eppa Hunton Athey, of Johnson City, Tenn., and Rev. Thomas H. Athey, of Williamson, W. Va., all of whom attended the funeral.

is not always an easy task. In these times when the public is clamoring for something cheaper, it's a great temptation for merchants to cheapen their products. We have always refused to do this for the quality here must be kept up. We buy only the best and sell only the best—and at prices that are consistent with a standard quality. Selling only meats we have no "baits" to throw out. Our only inducement for you to buy is: Quality plus Service and Sanitation. # U. S. ARMY GOODS

We are the only Direct Buyers of Army Goods from the Government in this section of Virginia. Every item we offer AS ARMY GOODS is a DIRECT PURCHASE of Genuine Army Goods bought by the United States for the Army; not a "fake" piece or item in the Store. We bought these goods at a small fraction of their value; paid cash for them before we got them; we did this in order to be able to offer you REAL BARGAINS; we are not trying to see HOW MUCH, but HOW CHEAPLY we can sell them to you. Many items would bring us easily half to double what we ask, but what we ask gives us a fair margin of profit, and that is all we want. In many instances we could sell the army goods by the original bale for more than we sell you the single item, but we bought to sell our trade, and we are adhering to that and offering you these work-beat values.

JUST ONE REQUEST—GIVE US A LOOK BEFORE YOU BUY. If we do not save you from $5.00 to $10.00 on your suit or overcoat, we do not want your business.
