

Sale of White Goods and Embroideries

We are now displaying the greatest assortment of White Goods that has ever been shown in the county. As our patrons are well aware, we have always been strong in this line, but this year our buyers have surpassed their previous efforts. Truly, it is a wonderful array of values and a line that will appeal to every one. We would like for you to see them in the piece, but if the bad roads keep you away, drop us a postal for samples.

GONE TO JOIN HUSBAND GRAND LODGE OF MASONS MRS. MARY EVANS DEAD RICHARD A. FOLEY DEAD-HIGH SCHOOL ENTERTAINS THE FARMER'S INSTITUTE

Death Loves a Shining Mark" Was Exemplified When Mrs. Nelson Answered Call. At noon, Wednesday, death again entered the Nelson home and took from it the last tie that bound the family together under the "same vine and fig tree" in the person of the grief-stricken widow, Mrs. Bettie Nelson. The greatest shock the anxious sons and daughters ever felt was received with the realization, mother is dead.

HIS UNIQUE EXPERIMENT RARE FIFTH CENTURY COIN

Saloon Keeper Relates Experience in Turning "Rotgut" Whiskey into Brandy. Mr. Morrison Holmes, who is on a visit to his son-in-law, Mr. Tra C. Reid, in this place, in conversation with THE JOURNAL's representative, related a circumstance which goes to show one of the tricks of the saloon business often used to augment the profits on a cask of poor liquor.

WISHING YOU ALL A HAPPY AND PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR. E. R. CONNER, Proprietor.

GONE TO JOIN HUSBAND REVIVAL AT WOODSTOCK LITTLE ANGEL MARGARET REPORT UNSATISFACTORY

"Death Loves a Shining Mark" - Rev. Wiley Excites Much Religious Interest Through His Powerful Sermons.

(Continued from First Page.)... She was an active member of the United Daughters of the Confederacy and of the Ladies' Memorial Association and her voice was ever ready at meetings of these organizations, towards keeping the graves green and the memory of the heroic Confederate dead well preserved to coming generations.

Next week, if no unforeseen difficulties should arise to prevent, little seven-year-old Margaret Nugent, who has been confined in Providence Hospital for nearly two years, will return to her home in Alexandria, cured of her injuries.

Little Margaret, or as she is familiarly known in the hospital as "Angel Margaret," entered the institution on July 4, 1909, suffering from injuries received from the premature explosion of a giant fire-cracker. For months she almost constantly suffered from the premature explosion of a giant fire-cracker.

Notwithstanding two expert chemists, working independently of each other, upon samples of blood drawn from the veins of Grace Blosser and Chas. E. Twigg, victims of the Cumberland tragedy, have reported that the couple were poisoned by noxious gases from the parlor stove in the Blosser home.
