side by side with Chas. W. Smith in the hunter's class, in the Norfolk horse show, at the time Mr. Smith received injuries which resulted in his death one year later. Roy was a member of the Warrenton Hunt Club with which he was quite popular. His unobtrusive manner and personal magnetism won for him that popularity so seldom enjoyed by a young man of modest means. His death has cast a gloom over the home of his childhood and of the community in which he spent the last few years of his life, and when he passed "over the river" he left behind a record that will be cherished in the hearts of those who knew and loved him. The deepest sympathy goes out from the hearts of relatives and a host of friends to the sorrowing mother and father in their great bereavement, at a time when their strength is scarcely able to bear it, and to the brother whose companionship from childhood to manhood has been marked with true devotion. Sympathy, in a time like this, can comfort, but no earthly power can assuage the grief which overwhelms parents in the loss of an affectionate and devoted child. Weep not, fond parents, for your boy is free from all terrestrial care; He has gone to dwell, where all is joy, To await his loved ones there. R. W. M.

AN ENIGMA. God made Adam out of dust, but thought it best to make me first. So I was made before the man, To await God's most holy plan. My body he did make complete, But without legs, or arms, or feet. And I was kept in a cage of iron, And I was made without a soul. A living being I became, I was Adam who gave to me my name. Thence from his presence I withdrew. No more of Adam ever knew. Did my Maker's laws obey, From then I never again stray. Thousands of miles I did roam, But seldom on the earth appear. But God in me did something new, And put a living soul in me. A soul of me my God did claim, And took from me that soul again. Now when I saw that soul had fled, I was the same as then I had been. And without hands or feet, or soul, I travel now from pole to pole. Labor hard, both day and night, To feelen man I give great light. Thousands of people, young and old, No fear of death doth trouble me. For heaven I never cease to pray, To heaven I shall never stray. Nor to the grave, nor hell below, The scriptures I cannot conceive, Although my name therein is found, They are to me an empty sound. Now, dear friends, these lines you read, And seek to comprehend with all speed, And if my name you don't find there, I'll bring it strange, I must declare! Apply to T. M. Russell, Careno, for solution.

NEW ERA COW PEAS. Wonderfully Clays and Mixed Cow Peas. On Saturday night there was a slight rally which seemed to justify his father, mother and brother in returning to Manassas for a day's respite from the terrible strain of the impending death which it is now their lot to meet. Their loved ones to the end. In the fall of 1908, while Roy was riding in the ring at the Richmond horse show he suffered a fall from his horse, fracturing a rib which punctured his lung from which injury frequent hemorrhages resulted, culminating finally in his death. The day after leaving the hospital, in Richmond, and while still bandaged from his injuries, he rode Nephew of Mr. Henry J. Jones of Nokesville, Marries a Wealthy Girl in Loudon. (Continued from First Page.) At one corner of the train was a horseshoe whiteheather, orange blossoms and myrtle, and the same flowers mingled with white roses and lilies in the shower bouquet, whose trails fall down the dress. The tulle veil fell over a tangle of orange blossom and myrtle, arranged very becomingly on the fair hair. A necklace of diamonds, her aunt's gift, flashed on the tresses of the corsage, that being the only jewel worn. The bride wore "Eden," the voice that breathed o'er Eden," was sung by the red-robed choristers, who preceded the bride up the aisle, and later the hymn, "O, Perfect Love," was sung by choir and congregation, all kneeling. The anthem, "O God, Thou art worthy to be praised," to Sullivan's music, was sung by the choir while the register was being played. The Bishop of Sheffield, who conducted the ceremony, was assisted by the Rev. Dr. Morrison, Rector of St. Mary's, and by the Rev. T. S. Talbot, Vicar of Rushall, Walsall.

FUNDAMENTAL PURPOSE IS PREPARATION FOR FIRST, SECOND AND THIRD GRADE CERTIFICATES

Dr. J. P. Neff, Superintendent of city schools, Staunton, Virginia, has been appointed to conduct the State Summer School to be held at Fredericksburg, June 27 to July 23, 1911. Dr. Neff has been connected with summer schools in some capacity for the past ten years; he is known to the teachers of this section of the state by having been instructor at the Fredericksburg Summer School for the past five years. The announcement that he is to conduct the school will inspire confidence and give assurance that the same high standards will be maintained that have always placed the Fredericksburg School in the foremost rank. President E. H. Russell and Prof. A. B. Chandler will render every possible assistance to the school and there is every reason to believe that the summer school of 1911 will surpass all that have preceded it, not only in attendance but in efficiency. The fundamental purpose of the school will be to give preparation on the subjects of the first, second and third grade certificates. With this primary end in view, it is believed that the teacher who is preparing for the state examinations will find at Fredericksburg the best advantages that can be had. Aside from the primary methods, reading, music and manual training, professional work will be eliminated and all energies concentrated on the main purpose as stated above. A strong faculty has been selected, which will be announced later. The expenses will be moderate—board can be obtained at reasonable rates, the tuition fee will be only $2.50, other institutions charge $3.00. Everything will be done to give the teachers a pleasant time at the Summer School. While the main purpose is to work the management has planned some unique entertainments, among these the Famous Coburn Players, an excursion, and an old time spelling bee. State Teachers' Examinations will be held in connection with the school, July 26, 27 and 28. An announcement is being mailed to the teachers and a bulletin will soon be printed and sent to them also. Any person who expects to attend summer school should write to the conductor, Dr. J. P. Neff, Staunton, Va. Anyone desiring other information should write to the conductor, Supt. J. P. Neff, Staunton, Va.

WEST VIRGINIA MUST PAY DEBT

The long drawn out case of Virginia vs. West Virginia, for the latter's proposition of the Virginia state debt, culminated in the Supreme Court of the United States, Monday, in a verdict for $1,182,507 in favor of the Old Dominion state. The question of interest was not considered by the court, leaving the matter open to be considered and determined by the two contending states. The decision was read by Justice Holmes, and speaking for the court he expressed the hope that the states would decide among themselves the question of interest and thus avoid further unpleasant litigation and expense. Virginia's contention was that West Virginia owed to her one-third of her public debt and interest since she separated from her. It has always been admitted by West Virginia that she owed to Virginia an "Equitable portion" of the debt, but not to the extent claimed by Virginia. About thirty years ago West Virginia appointed a commission to confer with a commission from Virginia, having for its purpose the settling of the dispute, but no agreement was reached and the matter has been dragging along through the courts ever since. To arrive at its judgment the court took the relative assessed value of real and personal property within the respective territory of the two states at time of separation, eliminating slave values, as an equitable basis upon which the settlement should be made. As the interest, if contended for in full by the State of Virginia, will amount to something like $21,000,000 it is quite likely the end of the controversy is, by no means, in sight. There are not many welcomes that are warranted not to wear out. There are few who want to sow the truth unless it is sugar-coated. There are not many men who are as large as the opinion they entertain of themselves. To borrow $1200 on a Friday is a sign that the person who lends it is playing in very poor luck. There may be germs in a kiss, but about the most thing a girl is likely to "catch," thereby, is a husband. It looks as though the mobilizing of troops by the United States government along the Mexican border means more than mere maneuvers for military profit. It is said that "Uncle Uriah" Wilkins has lost faith in his "Dove theory" as to winter having broken, and that he now has the cooing birds caged with cards on their neck indicating that they belong to the Annapolis club, of which he is president.

THE H. C. KEY INDICTMENT

When Facts Come Out There with Become Known, Indictment Will Prevail. (Continued from First Page.) Upon Mr. Hazen's return to Manassas, he ascertained that Key's wife had mailed him from this office a check to reach him at Phoenix. A detective was put on the track of the alleged criminal and it was only a few days until he returned to Washington where he fell into a trap set for him by the wily police officers and was taken in custody. Sheriff P. C. Rorabaugh, who is always ready, under all circumstances, to execute the law, was phoned by Detective Boardman Friday afternoon, and he left here on the first train for Washington, and at midnight had his prisoner behind the bars. On Saturday morning Judge C. E. Nicol, counsel for Key, appeared before Bail Commissioner Lipecomb and made application for bail. Commonwealth's Attorney H. Thornton Davies, asked that the application be denied or that it be continued, having the request upon his statement that he had, only a half hour previously, obtained information of at least three witnesses whose testimony would convict the accused from his own admissions. Judge Lipecomb accordingly continued the application until tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

T. F. RYAN MAKES GIFT

His Liberty and Loyalty Promotes the Closing of Public Schools of Nelson County. But for the liberality and loyalty of Thomas Fortine Ryan to his home county, the public schools of Nelson county would now be almost and would remain closed until the next session, because of the loss of all of the school funds of the county in the recent failure of the Bank of Lovington, for it has just been learned that Mr. Ryan has contributed sufficient money to keep the schools going until the end of the regular term. In order to do this, it is just learned, Mr. Ryan has given the sum of $3,100 to the county authorities, that being the amount required to keep all of the schools going until the end of the term. The treasurer of the county had about $17,000 on deposit in the Bank of Lovington, which was a branch of the Alexandria trust concern, which failed several months ago, and it left the county almost entirely without funds. Those disbursements.

BRIEF LOCAL ITEMS

The Board of Supervisors will meet Saturday, March 10. Rev. J. K. Efrid will preach in public school house in Nokesville next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Public is cordially invited. Mr. Jas. H. Wright, justice of the peace for Brentsville district, has been confined to his home by rheumatism for several weeks. The stork showed his smiling countenance at the home of Mr. Jesse Bell, last week, and presented him with a bouncing baby girl. Mr. E. R. Conner has rented his half to Mr. Roop of Fairfax for religious services for three successive Sundays beginning on March 19. Gainesville is to have another rural free delivery route if a petition which was recently presented to the post office department should prove effective. Mr. Tolley, Southern Express agent at this station, is confined to his bed with a case of measles. Perhaps there were not enough to go around when he was a boy. We understand that plans have matured and estimates are now being made for the new hotel to be erected at the northeast corner of Main and Centre streets. The Bristow W. C. T. U. will hold a Frances Willard Memorial Service in the M. E. Church, South, on March 12th at 8:00 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend. It is understood that Rev. T. D. D. Clarke, former pastor of the Manassas Baptist church, has accepted a call to Jerusalem Baptist church near Swetnam, in Fairfax county. The fire department installed this week, a new fire alarm which failed to "make good," and the same was returned to the parties from whom it was received on trial. Mr. Harry Koontz has installed a phonograph in his tonorial parlor on Battle street. This, we presume, is for the purpose of entertaining customers "while they wait." Mr. J. Budic, of Baltimore, has purchased of Dr. R. E. Wine 100 acres of farm land near Bristow. Mr. Justice will take possession of one. The sale was made through Mr. H. Griffith. Mr. Howard Jones, who has been in the employ of the Manassas Cafe for the past month, has secured a position with the Hopkins Company and entered upon his duties this morning. While attempting to remove sawdust from a circular saw Saturday, Lee Weifley, of near Bristow, got his hand badly lacerated necessitating it is feared, the amputation of two of his fingers. "Union Signal Day," birthday of Mrs. Stevens, will be observed by Manassas Chapter of the W. C. T. U. this afternoon at 3 o'clock, in the W. C. T. U. room in the Ford building on Lee street. At the Eighth District Teachers' Conference to be held in Orange from Thursday to Saturday of the last week in this month, several teachers of Prince William county will be among the speakers. In a debate at the Manassas High School, last Friday, upon the question, "Resolved, That the Panama canal should be fortified by the National Government," Misses Thelma Nash and Alice Metz won the honors in their support of the affirmative. The negative was upheld by Messrs. Dorothea Hayden and Ola Whitmer.

The postoffice department has ordered a decrease in the number of rural free delivery trips from seven to two instead of three as heretofore, and to three instead of six from Glen Erin to Clifton. Trinity Episcopal church is being temporarily supplied by students from the Theological Seminary at Alexandria. A professor from that institution will conduct services at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. Mr. Lacy Thornton, former merchant at Kopp, this county, and who is now in the employ of the District of Columbia government, was in town yesterday on route to Washington from a visit to his family at Kopp. Mr. Eugene Rosis has sold his beautiful estate "Faulkland," of 375 acres, situated near Poughkeeps, to Mr. J. N. Gilbert, of Philadelphia, for $11,000. This is one of the best farms in that section of Prince William county. There will be a special meeting for men in Grace M. E. Church, South, Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at which Evangelist Wiley will preside. The service will be an interesting one and it is hoped there will be a large attendance. Mr. Eugene Hammerlie, the expert chef at the Manassas Cafe, is puzzled to know whether he is in love or has a severe case of some other kind of heart trouble. It may turn out, he says, to be chicken pox, from dressing so many fowls. A programme has been arranged for a literary evening to be given by the Manassas Chapter United Daughters of the Confederacy, on Tuesday next, March 14, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. Each member has the privilege of inviting or bringing a guest. Miss Elizabeth H. Martin, sixty-nine years old, died Monday evening at her home, 833 E. Capitol street, Washington. She deceased was a daughter of Hugh Hammill and a native of Prince William county. Her funeral took place Tuesday afternoon, and the interment was in Alexandria. It is reported upon good authority, that Messrs. Nathaniel Heaton and W. B. Colbert have purchased the Blue Ridge News at Purcellville. Mr. Colbert, one of the present owners of the paper, learned the printing business in the employ of the Manassas Journal, serving several years as compositor on this paper. The social given by the High School Improvement League for the benefit of the Ruffner Carnegie Library will be held next Friday night, March 17, at the Ruffner Building. An interesting program of Irish songs and dances will be a feature of the evening. The public is cordially invited. Doors open at 7:30. Admission 15 cents. In the recitation contest for a W. C. T. U. silver medal in Woodbine church, last night, the prize was won by Miss F. Estelle Downs on a composition entitled "A modern Cain." The other contestants were: Misses Cecil Biglow, Nannie and Lucy Kinchloe, Maggie Robinson, Cora Bell and Hope Hill and Messrs. Maurice Groff and David Yates. Mr. John Elliott, yesterday morning, sustained a heavy loss in the injury to his valuable riding and driving horse which was stalled in Dorrell's livery stable. The injury involved a bad break of one of the animal's hind legs near the ankle. In what manner the horse received the injury is a matter of conjecture but it is pretty generally conceded that it was from the kick of the horse which was stalled next to him. The animal has an almost thoroughbred pedigree, and considering the fact that the injury will make him practically worthless, the loss falls pretty heavily upon the owner.

The regular county school meeting of the county school board will take place in the court house on Monday, March 27. The principal business to come before the board is the consideration of the amount of county and district levies required for school purposes for the ensuing school term. The board consists of the several district school boards and the county superintendent of schools. The revival services, which began the early part of last week in Grace M. E. Church, South, and in which Evangelist Geo. H. Wiley, of Richmond, has taken part since last Thursday evening, has attracted large congregations, and much interest is manifested. Services have been held each afternoon at 3:30 o'clock and at 7:30 o'clock at night. Mr. Wiley will leave here Monday. The funeral of the late Albert W. Harrison, who died at his home, "Huntley," Fairfax county, on Thursday night of last week took place from the residence Tuesday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. J. M. Nourse, former pastor of the Manassas Presbyterian church. The remains were subsequently interred in the Presbyterian cemetery in Alexandria. At a meeting of the Prince William Hackney Horse Company, held here Monday, the following officers were re-elected for the ensuing year: Messrs. James Birkett, president; H. W. Herring vice president; P. D. Lipscomb secretary, and Jas. E. Nelson treasurer. Mr. James Birkett was re-appointed manager and Mr. H. W. Herring assistant manager of the company. Mr. Thomas C. Moore, who is engaged in the butcher business in Manassas, met with a painful accident near Brentsville, last Friday. While on his Brentsville and Bristow route the neck yoke of his meat wagon broke causing his team to run. He was jerked by the driving lines to the ground, the wagon passing over his body. He was considerably bruised but no bones were broken. Last week, Mr. B. B. Thornton, who resides near Manassas, heard a great commotion in Porter's deer park as though all the geese for miles around had been caroled there for some purpose he knew not what. Upon investigation he found that a flock of wild geese, becoming fatigued from their long journey from the Southland, had alighted there and have a swim on the park lake, and to "take a drink." Acting upon the suggestion made by the editor of this paper, nearly a year ago, an effort is now being made to raise funds by subscription, to aid in the purchase of a new telephone switch board for the Manassas Exchange. Telephone service is greatly hindered by the defective switch-board now in use and the operators are receiving much unjust blame for the poor service which now obtains. Loudon's moving picture show was resumed Monday night and very interesting subjects have greeted the audiences this week. Mr. Loudon is arranging for some interesting subjects for next week which will be highly pleasing to the public, including the "passion play." The matinee to-morrow afternoon will be highly entertaining to the parents and children and admission of only five cents will be charged. Mr. G. W. Merchant, day manager of the Western Union office at this place, has just installed for his own use, one of the new style "Horace G. Martin" telegraph sending instruments. This instrument minimizes the energy required in sending messages and is a great saving in labor required in the present conventional telegraph sending key. The wire can be attached to any instrument in the office in a moment, and Mr. Merchant thinks it will not be long before it will come into general use.

The Manassas Journal has for the past few months, been maturing plans for launching an industrial edition, strictly a home enterprise, and which plans were inaugurated by a former editor. Inducements to advertisers, such as few county papers can well afford to offer, will be made and the edition decided upon will prove of special interest to our readers. THE JOURNAL'S best reputation in matters of this sort will be fully maintained. Our plans will be fully announced in our next issue. ABOUT PEOPLE WE KNOW THE JOURNAL will be pleased to receive items, and other news of personal interest for the publication, but as a matter of good faith, Mr. George W. Wilson was a Manassas, Tuesday, on business. Dr. W. L. Stevens, of near Centreville, was in town to-day. Mrs. E. D. Donohoe, of Kopp, was a Manassas visitor yesterday. Mr. W. F. Hale, of Nokesville, was a Manassas visitor this morning. Mr. W. D. Jett, of Luray, was the guest of Mr. Geo. W. Leith this week. Mrs. Anna Johnson, of Baltimore, spent Sunday with Mrs. C. M. Larkin. Mr. James Birkett, the former manager of Annapolis farm, was a Manassas visitor, Monday. Mr. Eugene Siders, clerk in the Manassas Cafe, will leave here Saturday, for Washington, to visit friends. Mr. R. T. Hayes was in town Tuesday enroute from a visit to his father at Kopp, to his home in Warrenton. Mr. Ernest Truster, a Manassas visitor, Monday enroute South on business for the U. S. Postoffice department. Miss Faith Chapman, of Washington, spent Saturday and Sunday with her father, Mr. F. C. Chapman, in this place. Mrs. and Miss Willis, of Manassas, were guests of Miss Maude Willis, in White Post, Clarke county, last week. Mrs. L. A. Wright arrived here from Richmond this afternoon, for a few days visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Merchant. Miss Margaret DeFue, of Washington, was the guest of the Misses Lynch and her uncle, Mr. R. W. Merchant, Saturday and Sunday. Mrs. D. R. Lewis left here yesterday morning for Washington as a delegate to the Ladies' Missionary Society which met in that city yesterday. Dr. J. T. Nolan, who recently established himself at Nokesville for the practice of medicine, was called at this journal's office this morning. Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Stonewell, of Woodbridge, and their daughter, Mrs. R. G. Rind, of Washington, were in attendance upon the funeral of the late Roy Adamson, Tuesday. Mr. Ambrose Henkle, editor of "The Shenandoah Valley," at Newmarket, paid THE JOURNAL a social call this week. Mr. Henkle is a veteran journalist, his experience as publisher of a newspaper dating back to the primitive stage of printing apparatus. Conductor McCaulley Loosa, "Leg" at Orange Tuesday morning. Mr. W. W. McCaulley, who has been in the employ of the Southern Railway Company as conductor of the local freight for over thirty years, met with an accident at Orange, Tuesday morning, which cost him the loss of a leg. Conductor McCaulley, in some way got his foot hung in a track-frog and before he could extricate it, local freight train No. 62, in shifting was backed over his limb. At least accounts of the unfortunate man was doing as well as could be expected.

EARLY MORNING WRECK DEATH OF MRS. POWERS Caboose and Two Cars of Work Train No. 913 Smashed and Two of Crew Injured. After a Hard Fight Against the White Plague She Succumbs in Her Father's Home. Mrs. Mary E. Powers, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Tullis, died of tuberculosis, after an illness of over a year, at the home of her father in Haymarket, Saturday, in her 26th year. The funeral was held from the Greenwich Presbyterian church on Monday. Revs. See and Cooke officiating, and interment was in the Greenwich cemetery. The large attendance upon the obsequies, together with many beautiful floral tributes, evidenced the high esteem in which the deceased was held. Less than a year ago, Mrs. Powers stood at the altar in all the beauty and strength of womanhood and pledged her faith to Mr. W. P. Powers, of Stafford county. It was not long thereafter when the "white plague" laid its firm grasp upon her and gradually undermined her vitality. At length she sought refuge under her father's skill in the hope of winning the battle of life. In this she failed and her spirit took its flight to the God who gave it, in the presence of him who had guided her footsteps from childhood to womanhood and to whom she always looked for guidance in all her ways. Her death is mourned by a large circle of relatives and a host of admiring friends. The deceased was a niece of Dr. S. S. Simpson, a former physician and druggist of Manassas.

Extra freight train No. 75, south, ran into work train No. 912, between Bull Run bridge and Clifton, at an early hour this morning, wrecking the caboose, and two flat cars, and mashing off one of the feet of Emlin Jackson of the work train crew, and slightly injuring Jerry Sullivan, the wrecked train's flagman. The caboose was thrown over on its side and caught Jackson's foot beneath it before he had time to recover from a jump from the flat car next to it. Sullivan's pants were stripped from him and his legs bruised in a narrow escape from being ground to death beneath the wheels of the work train. Just who is responsible for the accident has not as yet been made known. Dr. Iden amputated the injured man's foot just above the ankle, and he is doing as well as could be expected. Jackson, who boards on the Portner pier, and only recently joined the work train force. In consequence of the wreck all trains were delayed several hours before the track could be cleared.

ITEMS FROM FORESTBURG Quite a snow fell Tuesday night and stopped lots of farmers from plowing. Mr. W. C. Williams has just returned from Washington, after spending a few days with his son Frank. Miss Susie Tapescott made a visit to her parents here, Sunday. Mr. Robert Tapescott and family have moved from Washington to this county. Many of the young folks of this neighborhood attended a school closing in Stafford county Saturday, and reported a grand time. Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Watson were the guests of Mrs. H. C. Abel Sunday. Mrs. R. B. Abel has had a severe attack of la grippe, but is now improving. Mrs. Frank Graffam and daughter Katie, Misses Rita Dorsey and Rose and Roy Wheat, of Dumfries, were visitors at Mrs. H. J. Abel's Friday evening. Mrs. A. V. White Dunn expects to visit Washington Saturday, to spend several weeks. Mrs. Thomas Anderson is still in Baltimore. BROWN EYES. Woodgard, of Chase city, this state, arrived here Tuesday on a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Newton Woodyard, and his sisters, Mrs. W. C. Wagener, Mrs. D. F. Bowman and Miss Flora Woodyard, and left for his home yesterday. Mr. Woodyard has been engaged in merchandising and agriculture in Mecklenburg county for the past twenty years and has met with much success. He is the only person of Mecklenburg county who has carried off any blue ribbon prizes from the State Agriculture fair. At the last state fair his oats, which won first prize, was from a yield of 101-4 bushels to the acre.
