THE TRUMPET FESTIVAL DEATH OF MISS LIGHTNER A SILVER MEDAL CONTEST MEETING OF CIVIC LEAGUE JUBILEE VESPER SERVICE DEATH OF DR. J. G. HAMNER

THE TRUMPET FESTIVAL

Curtain Rises on Appropriate and Charming Tableaux of Youth and Beauty.

The trumpet festival, on the tenth day of the seventh month, suggested by the 25th chapter of Leviticus, was held in Conner's Opera House, Monday night, in the presence of a large and enthusiastic audience.

The invocation was delivered by Rev. P. A. Arthur, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, who invoked divine assistance in bringing the Peace Jubilee and Reunion to a successful conclusion and that its influence for good might be felt throughout the land.

At the conclusion of the invocation, a beautiful tableaux was presented, representing America enthroned, surrounded by the states, the thirteen original states forming a semi-circle around the throne, with California, Illinois, Texas and Florida offering rich tributes of their country's wealth.

The background of the stage was hung with the stars and stripes and the flag of the confederacy merged in token of peace and unity.

Dr. Clarkson read a poem, composed by him especially for the occasion, entitled, "Put Up Your Swords," which was loudly applauded.

The solo, by Dr. H. H. Roop, president of Eastern College, and which was supported by a chorus of well-trained female voices, was an enjoyable feature and was well received.

"Blow Ye the Trumpet, Blow," a solo and chorus by Mrs. B. Frank May, contrasted with a chorus of female voices, led by Mr. Geo. C. Round, was an enthusiastically received as to demand a repetition.

This number was followed by the Manassas Jubilee Anthem, "United," composed for the occasion, by Miss Mary Speed Mercer, of Elm City, N. C., and which was sung by a chorus of fifty female voices with Mrs. B. T. Hodge, director of the musical part of the program, at the piano, supported by Mrs. J. M. Walter, Bernhard on the violin.

"The Flag of the Free," "Old Folks at Home," "Dixie," and "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground," all came in for a full share of applause.

A recitation, "The Palmetto and the Pine," by Miss Minnie Swart, was faultlessly rendered and was loudly applauded.

DEATH OF MISS LIGHTNER

Miss Virginia Lee Lightner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton H. Lightner, died in the home of her parents, "Maple Spring," near Haymarket, of meningitis on Wednesday of last week in her thirteenth year.

The funeral took place from St. Paul's Episcopal church Thursday afternoon, Rev. Grinnan, rector of the church, assisted by Rev. See, of the Presbyterian church, conducting the obsequies and interment was made in St. Paul's church-yard.

The numerous floral tributes together with the large concourse of relatives and friends who gathered to pay their last tribute of love and esteem, bore evidence of the firm hold which this lovely associate and companion had upon the affections of the community.

When the angel of death enters a home and removes therefrom one whose earthly race has ceased more than the allotted span the grief is great but when the family chain is broken by removing a link just budding into womanhood with every promise to swell the parents' heart with joy and pride, no consolation save that emanating from a divine Providence can fully assuage the grief and heal the wound of bereavement.

The deceased is survived by his widow, three daughters: Mrs. W. C. Wagener, Mrs. D. F. Bowman and Miss Flora Woodyard of this place, one son, John, of Chase City, this state, and by one sister, Mrs. Francis Molair, of Frontsville, this county.

DEATH OF OLD RESIDENT

Mr. Newton Woodard succumbed to fatal disease in his home, Friday night.

After a lengthy illness of cancer of the liver, Mr. Newton Woodard died in his home in this place, Friday night, in the 83rd year of his age.

The funeral took place from the home Monday afternoon, Rev. T. D. D. Clark, of the Baptist Church officiating, and interment was in the Manassas cemetery.

The deceased is survived by his widow, three daughters: Mrs. W. C. Wagener, Mrs. D. F. Bowman and Miss Flora Woodyard of this place, one son, John, of Chase City, this state, and by one sister, Mrs. Francis Molair, of Frontsville, this county.

A SILVER MEDAL CONTEST

The second silver medal contest of the Woodbine Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, was merged with "Independence Day" on Tuesday of last week, at Woodbine church.

The contest was full of interest to the large assembly present, and the judges had some difficulty in rendering an equitable decision as to the winner of the silver medal, so evenly were the honors of debate.

The committee of arrangements were rewarded for their efforts by a highly successful termination of one of the most enjoyable epochs in the history of Woodbine church entertainments.

MEETING OF CIVIC LEAGUE

A called meeting of the Manassas Civic League was held Wednesday night at Dr. W. A. Newman's home on Church street.

Dr. C. R. C. Johnson was chosen temporary chairman and Miss Julia Lewis assistant secretary.

One of the first things to be undertaken by the league is the killing of one of the squares in the business section—the first step towards abating the dust nuisance.

The chairman then introduced a paper, in which he expressed the wish that this Grand Reunion and Jubilee might bring peace to our country for generations, which was a satisfactory answer to the inquiry.

BAPTIST AT NORTH FORK

The Women's Missionary Auxiliary to the Potomac Baptist Association, held its annual meeting at North Fork church, Loudoun county, on the 5th and 6th instants.

Notwithstanding the torrid weather which prevailed, there was a large attendance from near and far, representing all denominations.

The community put itself on record for hospitality seldom equaled and the occasion will long be remembered as one of special enjoyment.

The second day of the meeting was taken up in a missionary conference conducted by Mrs. J. P. Thomas, state secretary, of W. S. Leake, leader of the state work among young people, and Miss Marion Lovell, superintendent of the Sunbeam work of Virginia, who is a graduate of the Women's Missionary Training school of Louisville, Ky.

JUBILEE VESPER SERVICE

The first of a series of vesper services, designed to keep alive the interest needed to make the approaching reunion and Peace Jubilee a grand success, as it doubtless will be, was held on the court-house green, Sunday night, at which Captain Westwood Hutchison presided.

The invocation was delivered by Rev. Mr. Slick, of Asbury M. E. Church, who prayed that the object of these services might receive the blessings of divine providence and that the spirit which prompted the approaching Jubilee, might have its influence felt throughout all civilization.

The chairman stated that he had been asked "What is the object of these Jubilee meetings?" He read a communication from an old confederate soldier who was in a skirmish at Blackburn's Ford on July 18, 1861, in which he expressed the wish that this Grand Reunion and Jubilee might bring peace to our country for generations, which was a satisfactory answer to the inquiry.

THE MEMORIAL PAVILION

The memorial pavilion erected at Groveton by the Bull Run chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, will be dedicated next Wednesday with appropriate exercises.

The exercises will be between the hours of 1:30 and six o'clock in the afternoon, and it is intended that there shall not be a dull moment from start to finish.

DEATH OF DR. J. G. HAMNER

After a lingering illness of several months, Rev. J. Garland Hamner, 75 years old, died in his home, 712 Lenox street, Baltimore, Md., yesterday.

The funeral will take place Saturday and interment will be made in the family lot in Loudoun Park cemetery beside his wife who preceded him to the grave a few years ago.

Dr. Hamner, who was the only son of Rev. J. G. and Jane McEldery Hamner, was a native of New Jersey. He entered the ministry of the Presbyterian church early in life, continuing in the service up to last October, when his health broke down, compelling him to resign the pastorate of the Presbyterian church in this place, and removed to his former home in New Jersey, where, a few weeks later, he was stricken with paralysis from which he suffered up to the time of his death.

During Dr. Hamner's twelve years' church service here he cooperated with the church membership in adding many needed improvements to the church building and grounds, contributing liberally from his own purse for that purpose.

Two deacons is survived by two sons, Rev. J. Garland Hamner, Jr., of New Jersey, and Charles Hamner, of New York, and three daughters, Misses Jennie and Emma Hamner, of Baltimore, Md., and a married daughter in Saratoga, New York.

A SUPPOSED CURSE PROVES A BLESSING IN DISGUISE

Some twenty years ago, I had as I supposed the misfortune to have a lot of grass seed sowed on one of my fields that had in the seed a large proportion of what is known as wild Chicory.

Upon discovering the weed, I endeavored to get rid of it but found the roots penetrated to the depth of several feet and it was there to stay. I would willingly, if it could have been done, had the field plucked up and cast into the sea.

Fastidious as I am, I determined to graze a field, a portion of which I had mowed last year, and pulled down the fence separating it from the Chicory field. I turned into the two fields a number of colts and young cattle, expecting them to take to the clover and timothy. To my surprise they seemed to confine themselves to the Chicory almost exclusively and to thrive and fatten on it faster than on any other grass or herb.

Two Ways to Increase Dairy Profits.

Why are our dairymen not making more profit out of their business? While few dairymen lose money, it must be admitted that the majority are not making the profits which the business should be made to yield...

There is no longer any good excuse for this failure to avail one's self of this dairy information necessary to insure success in these lines. Any dairyman in the South can have the competent assistance of trained men to help him learn his business and conduct it on modern and profitable lines...

The second reason why our dairymen fail to obtain adequate profits is that they buy too much high-priced feed, or if they produce feed, do it at too high cost. By giving sufficient intelligent attention to the production of feeds and by a study of feeding problems, the cost of production might be greatly reduced...

THE CIVIC IMPROVEMENT LEAGUE.

With a band of public-spirited and progressive women behind the movement for civic improvements for the town of Manassas women whose indomitable courage in the face of opposition smiles at the possibility of defeat...

When it comes to carrying out such an object such as this league has in view, in the most thorough manner and at the least possible expense, the "sterner sex" has no superiority whatever to boast of.

It is by no means follows that "the lords of creation" should stand idly by without offering substantial assistance in the laudable object which these noble women will strive to carry into effect.

Men will stand on the street corners and loiter in business places and discuss, for days and months, what ought to be done without putting their shoulders to the wheel to put their opinions into substantial action...

Pride in the appearance and comfort of our town during the coming reunion jubilee is one of the prime factors in arousing these women to action and every assistance possible should be given them by the "sterner sex" in carrying their efforts to a successful conclusion.

MANASSAS IN GAY ATTIRE

On Tuesday night, Mr. Fred R. W. Reh, Jr., representative of the Washington Decorating Company, arrived here for the purpose of putting our town in gala attire for the coming jubilee.

Already many public buildings and business houses have been artistically decorated with hangings of National colors and flags of the North and of the South are draped together in token of peace and unity.

In another week, if plans are carried out, but few buildings in the business section of the town will escape the decorators touch and the streets will be resplendent with glittering electric bulbs that will transform our business center into thoroughfares of panama beauty.

The spirit of decoration will doubtless spread throughout the residential districts and before the date set for the grand reunion and peace jubilee, Manassas will present such appearance of patriotism and zeal in the spirit which prompted this grand fraternization of the Blue and the Gray as no other town in the north or the south can boast of.

They enjoy the distinction of having furnished the decorations for nearly all the National Conventions and many festive occasions throughout the country. The decorators are making their headquarters at Foote's wall paper house, where they will be glad to meet those who may wish to have their homes or places of business decorated in the highest style of art.

PUT UP THY SWORD.

(BY DR. H. M. CLARKSON.) My country, let thy conquering flag be furled, And let thy battle-calls henceforward be silent.

And teach mankind the pleasantness of peace. There is no nation now, but knows thy might, The world has seen thy strength on land and sea.

Has looked with wonder on thine every fight, And cheered thy chiefs on to victory. Columbia, child of Freedom, fairest born Of all the nations of heroic birth.

The brightest of the jewels that adorn The crown of Him, who rules o'er all the earth; Thou hastest refuge of oppressed mankind, Hast thou not taught us since thy years began, To love our neighbors, and to bear in mind the Christian creed, the brotherhood of man?

My country in the past hast thou not taught, 'Tis sin to govern men save by consent; Hast thou not warned us of the ruin wrought By rash, ambitious minds on conquest bent?

Descendants of the men, who fought so long To cast our foreign foes, who would despoil Us of our homes - shall we our neighbors wrong, And murder patriots on their native soil?

For what is war but licensed murder? He Who made us, made the law, "Thou shalt not kill;" What matter if the slaughtered number be Or one, or thousands? 'Tis but murder still! And must not He, who wept o'er Mary's Who pining, notes the sparrow when they fall?

Must He not tears of human sorrow shed O'er those, who yield their lives at battle's call? Be not beguiled by some soft lotos-dream, Nor lured to crime by Mammon's siren song.

Labors still are waiting King, supreme; Avenge yet his every people's wrong; King Abah, covering his neighbor's land, Despoiled him of his life, and vineyards, too; When Syria seized her sword, at God's command, An all-Benarria's horsemen overthrew.

When Israel's righteous ruler undertook To compass, by his power, Philista's fall, The great strength, which Gaea's temple shook, Brought ruin on himself, his foes, and all.

When Rome, imperious mistress of the world, Her greed of gain unquenched, grasped for more, Barb'ric races, legged together, buried Her fighting legions from each foreign shore.

And learn the Christian lesson to forgive, From useless, cruel wars forever cease, Teach that the wrangling nations how to live In universal amity and peace. My country, thou art strong, but God is just; As are thy deeds, so shall thy judgment be.

Put up thy sword! Unroll it! Let it rust. Let every people under God be free.

SONGS OF LOVE AND WAR

Complimentary Review by an Author and Publisher in the Old North State.

S. H. L. Jr., in the North State, has written a noble piece of work, and contains many a wonderfully realistic touch. It is probably the most pretentious work in the volume, although, in my opinion, hardly the best.

The South owes Dr. Clarkson a debt of gratitude for this book of poems. They are Southern poems, of us and for us. Every Southerner should read "Songs of Love and War."

GREATLY REDUCED RATES TO MANASSAS JUBILEE.

The Southeastern Passenger Association, from its headquarters in Atlanta, Ga., announces reduction of rates from the states of Alabama, Georgia, Kentucky, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, West Virginia and from Tulsa and Corinth, Miss., and Cairo, Ills. The reduction seems to be about two-fifths of the regular rates.

In response to many inquiries, the Jubilee Committee announce that there will be no marching except from the Henry House yard to the spot where the general hand-shaking and greeting will take place in front of the moving picture camera.
