IS SWANSON UNFIT?

By Senator Swanson's admission that while a member of the ways and means committee of the fifty-sixth congress he invested in 400 shares of the American Tobacco Company's stock...

These declarations is a condemnation of a faithful and efficient public servant without warrant.

As governor of Virginia, Claude Swanson "made good" and retired from the gubernatorial chair with excellent record, clean hands and with the applauses of the people...

His record as a United States Senator is yet unfinished and in the short space of time he has held his present position he has had slight opportunity to demonstrate the ability which has marked to an eminent degree, his public services elsewhere.

Mr. Bryan's attack upon Senator Martin contained in a letter to Congressman Jones appears to be utterly uncalled for and out of place.

CONGRESS ADJOURNS. Congress adjourned Tuesday afternoon and the nation now breathes easier.

The same variety of enthusiasm that prevails among the pupils on the last day of a country cross-roads school marked the closing hour of the country's law-maker's extra session.

Members gathered in little groups on the floor bidding each other good-bye, and Speaker Clark experienced difficulty in making himself heard above the hum of voices as farewell greetings were exchanged.

Senators Cullum, republican of Illinois and Martin, democrat of Virginia, were designated by vice-president Sherman to cooperate with the house committee in notifying the president that congress was ready to adjourn.

Speaker Clark declared that democracy had "made good" in the special session. "We have made a record that has surprised our friends and dumfounded our enemies," he asserted.

DISAPPOINTED CUSTOMER

To Avail Himself of Six-and-a-half Cent Bacon.

A man rushed into a meat and provision store in Washington, Saturday, and gave a rush order for $167.50 worth of bacon and made known the fact that he had a wagon backed up to the curb to cart off the 2,577 pounds of meat which the amount of his order called for.

When informed by the grocer that the 670 mark on his scales would more correctly represent in weight called for by his order, his wrath knew no bounds.

Drawing from his pocket a crumpled paper published on July 3, 1862, which he had found in tearing down an old building, he pointed to an advertisement of the grocer's predecessor of over a half century ago, advertising bacon at 6 1/2 cents per pound, he said: "Why do you advertise at one price and sell at another?"

When the customer's attention was called to the fact that while it paid to advertise and to read advertisements, it was well to keep track of the date of the publication upon which he relied for bargains.

A CORRECTION. A report having been circulated that I was no longer representing the Virginia Fire & Marine Insurance Company of Richmond, Va., I take this method of correcting this report, and beg to state that I have been agent for this company for over twenty years, and am still acting in that capacity, as will be seen by reading the following letter from their special agent, Mr. W. Palmer Hill.

I also beg to state that, besides being agent for the Virginia Fire & Marine Insurance Company I am also agent for several other first class Fire Insurance Companies, among them such companies as the Royal Fire Insurance Company and the Fireman's Fund Fire Insurance Company.

My office is always open and some one always there between 8 a. m. and 6 p. m., ready to talk Fire Insurance or any other business in my line.

Very truly, W. N. LIPSCOMB.

Richmond, Va., Aug. 19, 1911. Mr. W. N. Lipscomb, Manassas, Va.

Dear Sir:—I was very sorry not to see you at Haymarket last Thursday after visiting the scene of the Wells Loes up on Bull Run Mountain, near Thoroughfare Gap, Va. Mr. Wells seemed to think you had nothing to do with this Company any longer. This impression seems somehow to have gotten abroad, and I told Mr. Wells that if he had wanted his policy transferred, endorsed, or cancelled that it would have been necessary for him to come to you for any such change as needed. Further that you now hold our Commission of Authority and are our authorized agent to receive and collect any monies in connection with our business.

I believe by this writing you will have received check from this office for the payment of the above named claim.

Thanking you for the courtesies received at your hands while in Manassas last, I am, Yours very truly, W. N. LIPSCOMB, Special Agent.
