

BRIEF LOCAL ITEMS

Chestnuts of a variety are in evidence now. The Board of Supervisors will meet here tomorrow. There is a movement on foot to establish a retail merchants association in this town. Strange we do not see the beautiful autumn leaves, usually so conspicuous at this season of the year. Mrs. John G. White, of Haymarket, slipped on the front steps at her home on Sunday and broke her ankle. Mr. Harry Koontz has closed his barber shop on Battle street, and yesterday removed and stored the fixtures. Quite a number of our citizens are attending the Sunday School Convention at Cannon's Branch today. Mr. Joseph Utterback, of the Haymarket section, had one of his legs broken by a kick of a horse on Sunday last. Don't forget the cake baking contest and entertainment of the women in Conner's Opera House tonight. Marriage licenses were issued in Washington Wednesday to Mr. Joe Pasonek and Miss Lydia Ebl, both of Nokesville, Va. Mrs. S. B. Saunders, of Haymarket, had the misfortune to receive a fall on Saturday in which she sustained a fracture of one of her arms. A special musical program will be rendered at the service to be held at Trinity church on Sunday night. The public is cordially invited to attend. Having had no frosts the country is appearing as beautiful and springlike as though it were the month of May. It is, indeed, a most remarkable season. North-bound passenger train No. 14, on the Manassas Branch, was delayed here for some hours yesterday, due to the blowing out of a cylinder of the engine. The Prince William gun club has informally challenged the Fairfax society to participate in a shooting stunt, the date of which has not yet been fixed. There will be a "Book Title" party at the High School building Tuesday night. The admission will be 25 cents. Candy will be on sale at reasonable prices. We have just received notice that Elder J. A. Norton will be unable to fill his appointment at this place on the fourth Sunday night, as previously announced. Messrs. James J. Gulick and G. W. Johnson left on Monday to represent Ewell Camp in the Grand Camp of Confederate Veterans in session at Newport News this week. The indications are, as we go to press, that nearly 200 cakes will be entered in the contest this afternoon. The auction and public entertainment will be held this evening. Mr. Shirley Rosis, of this county, died of typhoid fever at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore last week, aged about 20 years. His remains were brought to Haymarket for burial on Monday. Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Nalle, of near town, celebrated their thirtieth wedding anniversary on Wednesday. A number of guests were present and the presents were numerous, useful and handsome. Mr. Robert L. Lanham, of Great Falls, Va., and Miss Frances L. Wilson, of Clifton, Fairfax county, were married in Washington this week. Rev. George W. Gaither performing the ceremony.

At the recent Hagerstown Fair, Birmingham Stock Farm, near Manassas, of which Mr. W. B. Bullock is proprietor, was awarded eight second prizes in the horse show department. A marriage license was issued in Washington yesterday to Mr. P. Love, of Dumfries, aged 56 years, and Miss Ella L. McEwen, of Quantico, aged 20 years. The couple subsequently were married by Rev. E. Hez. Swam. On next Sunday afternoon at three o'clock the L. F. L. will meet in the Presbyterian church. Rev. W. H. Dexter will make the address to the Legion. All Legionnaires are asked to meet at the Presbyterian church Saturday afternoon at three o'clock. Mrs. Jennie M. Huxthall, only daughter of the late Samuel Chilton, a famous attorney of Washington and Virginia—a member of congress and a counsel for the defense in the John Brown trial, died at her home in Warrenton on Sunday, aged 68 years. Dozens and dozens of cakes are being entered in the great cake baking contest for the benefit of the firemen, which closes this evening. The social features promise great reward to those who attend. The judges in the contest will be disinterested ladies. Inasmuch as an epidemic of hog cholera is prevailing in the Tidewater and other sections of Virginia, it might be well for our farmers to look carefully to the health and condition of their swine herds. An ounce of prevention is far better than a pound of cure. Mr. J. F. Priest, of near Brentsville, brought us two yams last week, the aggregate weight of which were 92 pounds. They grew in the same hill and Mr. Priest states that there were several smaller ones on the vine, making the grand total for the hill at least 12 pounds. Mr. E. B. White, of Selma Stock Farm, near Leesburg, won every first premium in the purebred Percheron classes in which he was showing, at the State Fair last week. Mr. White is a son of the late Col. "Lige" White, one of the most highly esteemed officers of the Confederacy. The special committee of the Town Council, appointed for the purpose of obtaining information necessary to an intelligent action upon the franchise proposition for electric lights and water works, to be submitted to the Council on next Monday evening, has been especially busy during the week and THE JOURNAL confidently expects to have some happy news for its readers next week. A sample of the pipes to be used in the water system was received yesterday. It is certain that whatever the outcome of the Monday conference, the citizens of the town will be assured that the Council will not have acted blindly, and that its verdict upon the question will have been rendered conscientiously. The Woodlawn school organized an Improvement League on October 10, 1911. Twenty-two members were enrolled. The following officers were elected: President, Miss Lucy Schaeffer; vice president, Miss Jennie Wittig; secretary, Miss Emma Bailey; treasurer, the teacher, Mrs. Bertha White. We hope that all patrons will observe Patrons' Day as there is much to be done to the school grounds. We have arranged a program for the evening beginning at half past seven o'clock. The public is cordially invited, especially the patrons. We will have ice cream and a few other refreshments to sell for the benefit of getting a library for the school. XX.

RESULTS TELL

There Can Be No Doubt About the Results in Manassas. Results tell the tale. All doubt is removed. The testimony of a Manassas citizen can be easily investigated. What better proof can be had? O. H. Evans, of Manassas, Va., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills rid my system of kidney complaint about two years ago and the cure has been permanent. At one time my back ached so much that I could hardly do anything. Every sudden movement caused pains through my joints. Someone finally suggested that I try Doan's Kidney Pills and as I had often seen them advertised, I procured a supply at Dr. J. H. DeWitt's Pharmacy. It was not long before every symptom of kidney complaint had been driven from my system." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other. 10-20-21

Manassas Surrenders to Famous 43rd Virginia Battalion—Large Attendance.

to contend and stand for the right, seeing to it that the weak are not oppressed by the arrogance and wrongs of others. A people who will not battle for a sentiment, or that for which they believe to be right, will never be respected among the nations of the world, who veterans of one of the mightiest struggles of heroic achievements of a glorious past are welcome guests today. In welcoming you as our guests this day you should feel that you are right.

Ladies and gentlemen, it is drawing to an hour when words and phrases will not declare our sincerity in honoring you as our guests, and I assure you that the Daughters of the Confederacy, and its friends, have in store evidences which will better prove to you our hospitality and best wishes. This community and its people are yours.

Following this fitting reception, Commander William Chapman, of Richmond, called the camp to order and a fervent prayer was offered by its chaplain, Rev. F. A. Strother. The regular business session engaged the members until 2 o'clock, during which time the subjoined list of officers were chosen:

Commander, Col. William Chapman, of Richmond.

Lieutenant-Commander, W. B. Palmer, of Richmond.

Sergeant-at-Arms, Lieut. J. Boyd Smith, of Louisa.

Adjutant, Edward Shacklett, of Delaware.

Chaplain, Rev. F. A. Strother, of Virginia.

Concluding their business session, the veterans marched in a body to Conner's Opera House where Manassas Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy had laid covers for over three hundred and where not only Mosby's Men, but all old Confederate soldiers in-attendance were hospitably and gracefully served from the following tempting menu:

Olives Celery Gherkins
Old Virginia Ham (Camp Cooked) Fried Chicken
Confederate Hard-tack (Prince William Biscuits) Home-made Bread

Potato Salad Cold Slaw
Ice Cream, a la Confederate

Mixed Cakes Peas Bananas
Apples Coffee
Yams

Dainty souvenir program cards were at each table as a compliment from The Peoples National Bank of Manassas.

Judge Thornton having presiding-court claims upon him, Lieutenant Boyd Smith presided as toastmaster and there was a generous "flow of soul" Chaplain F. A. Strother and comrades Thomas Lake, A. F. Rose, Rupert Powell, Charlie Dear and others responding in five-minute talks. Dr. Lawrence Wilson, of the Pension Office and a Union soldier, also made a happy short address. Messrs. Isaac Ridgeway and Joseph Casper, who served in the 2nd New Jersey regiment, were also present as guests. But the man who came farthest to the reunion was a veteran named Hughes, who belonged to the 8th Illinois cavalry. Hughes was present at a reunion of his own regiment in Illinois and heard read a letter from Lieutenant Pennington to the surviving members of one of the staff, and he was determined to see his ancient foe, and if any man enjoyed the occasion he seemed to be the man.

Prominent among other visiting veterans were—
David Frost, Chicago, Ill.
George S. Pickett, 17th Virginia Cav.
Selden Smith, Company A, 7th Virginia Cavalry.
J. N. Garrison, Company E, 8th Virginia.

Ludwell Patten, 49th Virginia Infantry.

Joseph Shepherd, Company H, 16th Virginia Cavalry.

H. T. O'Connell, Company G, 8th Virginia Infantry.

O. P. Smith, Company H, 17th Virginia, Washington, D. C.

William F. Kenick, 17th Virginia, Company B.

William T. Wharton, 2nd Virginia, Stone Mountain.

T. T. O'Connell, 17th Virginia, Company B.

Joe Payne, Company H, 16th Virginia.

J. M. Flopping, 6th Virginia.

R. C. Thompson, 1st Virginia Cavalry.

T. H. Hayes, Lemkin's Battalion.

J. Ferguson, 1st Virginia Cavalry, Company E.

Dr. Stephen H.

During the after dinner speaking, by unanimous vote, Mr. Stuart Mosby Coleman, daughter of Colonel Mosby, was chosen as "Daughter of the Battalion," and Miss Josephine Semple Brooking, grand-daughter of Colonel Chapman, as "Grand-daughter of the Battalion," and were authorized to act as sponsors for Mosby's men. They were escorted to the platform by Lieut. George C. Round, who presented them to the veterans, and, at their request, expressed their appreciation and acceptance of the honor conferred.

Lieut. Round spoke in part as follows:

"It is the unexpected that happens. When I was a private soldier under Patterson at Williamsport, Ford, on the Potomac, on July 21, 1863, I heard the angry guns in the distance and the next day read in the papers of the battle of Bull Run. When I read what a hard time McDowell had in commanding the Blue and Beauregard in commanding the Gray, I little thought that fifty years thereafter I would command both sides and march the veterans from Westover to Henry Hill to make hands in Peace and Good Will.

"A few months later when I heard about that terrible man, Mosby, I did not dream I should ever sit down with a hundred of his men and banquet with them as they rehearsed their long-gone-by.

"It is a still greater surprise that should be called on to speak on behalf of the 'fair women' to the 'brave men,' who honored them so highly.

"I take pleasure in assuring you on behalf of Mrs. Stuart Mosby Coleman and Miss Josephine Semple Brooking that they deeply appreciate the honor conferred upon them, and I assure you that no tribute from prince or potentate or from any body of men could by any possibility be so gratefully received as the one they have received from you."

The following beautiful poem, dedicated to Mosby's Men, written by Armistead C. Gordon, of Staunton, and selected for the program by Mrs. Belle Holden, of Manassas, was beautifully and impressively read by Rev. T. D. D. Clark.

They tell the tale with magic wood,
The spirit's depths to stir,
Of him who fought with Sidney's sword,
Or rode with Percy's spur;
For honor bourgeois from the mold,
Ahd blossoms from the dust,
Though Percy's atque spur be cold,
And Sidney's sword be rust.

—A yet undying story—
When hearts and hands were high,
A hells hand rode down this way,
Whose fame will never die,
Their cause was right, their blades
were bright,
And Honor shone again,
A cloud by day, a fire by night,
To beech Mosby's men.

The wilderness their secret kept,
They bivouacked 'neath the blue;
The tents they spread, the sleep they sought.

The foeman never met,
No bugle blast nor tap of drum
Proclaimed their headlong flight;
The startled picket saw them come,
And perished with the sight.

They came as lightning came; they went
As swift the west wind blows;
And blood ran red, and life was spent
That led the helms and flags,
They basked to the deadly fray
Where they were one to ten,
He spurred and drew to die or stay,
Who rode with Mosby's men.

They carried on their sabres three
The fortunes of the Truth;
The breath they breathed was Freedom's air!

In their immortal youth,
It boots not if the unequal fight
Was lost, though fierce and long,
'Tis written that the eternal right
Can never be made wrong.

Down the dim years, long gone, and more
Appears that phantom band;

I hear the clanging change of yore,
I see a war-rent land,
The vision of the desperate strife
Returns through mine again,
Those were the bravest days of life,
The days of Mosby's men.

The bravest days of all that shine
Through immortal years;
Days of life's sacrificial wine;
When Valor guarded all the land,
When hearts and hopes were high,
And Love and Death went hand in hand,
With faith that could not die.

But Harry Percy's spur is cold,
And Sidney's sword is rust,
And many a led who rode the old
—With that gray head is dust.

While those, bereft, who linger yet,
Are wariar now than then,
What matter? They cannot forget
That they were Mosby's men.

That they were Mosby's men, and rode,
As soldiers love to ride,
And the red stream of battle flowed
From the most-sacredating tie.

No dust, stream may run so red,
No higher tide may flow,
'Till God shall awake the heroic dead,
From where He fove his bows blow.

The circling seasons come and go,
Springs dawn and autumn sets,
And winter with its drifted snow
Repays the summer's debt;

And song of bird and chirp of thicket
Are gay and bright, as when
They rode to battle, and their dream
Long since with Mosby's men.

But winter wears a sadler guise,
And gathering for its snow,
To him who looks with time-worn eyes
On scenes of long ago;

And neither autumn's glow, nor spring,
Nor summer's emerald sod,
To hearts grown old again may bring
The dead who sleep with God.

It is His will for swords to rust
That battle for the right,
For banners to be trailed in dust
That lead the helms and flags,

For wags to wear the victor's name,
Where one may strive with ten;
But fate can never take from fate
The deeds of Mosby's men.

The camp selected historic Groveton, this county, as the place for holding its next annual reunion, and the Adjutant was directed to send a pressing invitation to Colonel Mosby to be present. The invitation to meet at Groveton came through Bul-
Run Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, which will entertain the camp.

CONFIDENCE

We Back Up Our Statements With Our Personal Reputation and Money.

We are so positive that we can relieve constipation, no matter how chronic it may be, that we offer to furnish the medicine free of cost if we fail.

We think that it is worse than useless to attempt to cure constipation with cathartic drugs. Cathartics may do much harm. They may cause a reaction, irritate and weaken the bowels, and make constipation more chronic.

Constipation is often accompanied and may be caused by weakness of the nerves and muscles of the large intestine or colon. To expect a cure you must therefore tone up and strengthen those parts and restore them to healthier activity.

The discovery of the active principal of our remedy involved the labor of skillful research chemists. This remedy produces results such as are expected from the best of the best-known intestinal tonics, and it is particularly prompt in its results.

We want you to try Rexall Orderlies on our guarantee. They are exceedingly pleasant to take and are ideal for children. They apparently act directly on the nerves and muscles of the bowels, having, it would seem, a neutral action on other organs or glands. They do not purge or cause inconvenience. If they do not positively cure chronic or habitual constipation and thus relieve the myriads of associates or dependent, chronic ailments, your money will be refunded.

Try Rexall Orderlies at our risk. Three sizes of packages, 10c, 25c, and 50c. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store, W. F. Dowell.

JOKES

CLIPPED BY "THE DEVIL"

Missionary talking to African savage: "You and your people are on the road to perdition. What I offer you is certain salvation."

African savage: "You got sample?"

"A policeman saw a man acting rather suspiciously near a jewelry store one evening, so going over to him, he demanded to know who the man was and what he wanted."

"I'm thinking of opening a jewelry store in this neighborhood," replied the man, "and I'm watching to see if there is much trade." Whereupon the policeman went on his way, satisfied.

Next morning word was received at the stationhouse that the store had been entered and robbed during the night. The policeman who had accepted the mysterious stranger said reflectively: "He may be a thief, but he's no liar."

Professor Gunning, lecturer and geologist, when in Florida was looked upon as dangerous.

"Why?" said the son of a preacher. "They say he is a Darwinian."

"Oh," answered Gunning's friend, "he's worse than that—he's an evolutionist."

"My God!" exclaimed the man, "does he practice it?"

The Black Hand Society wrote a man a letter demanding that he put $1,000 in a barrel on the corner of X and Z streets at 9 o'clock on Friday night or they would blow up the home of his mother-in-law.

Instead of the money the man put a note in the barrel:

"Nothing doing in the money line, but the proposition you suggest interests me."

An Irishman on his way home at night was in the habit of cutting across a cemetery in order to shorten the distance. A group of his friends evolved a scheme to have some fun at his expense. Accordingly they found a sunken grave across which his path lay. They dug it out and covered it with boards in such a manner that he must fall to the yawning abyss.

The Irishman came along and everything happened as per scheduled. While he was still squirming about in the bottom of the hole, striving to extricate himself, three or four of his friends, attired in white sheets and other ghostly accoutrements suddenly made their appearance. He was frightened out of his wits and almost fainted when one of them said:

"What are you doing in my grave?"

The tone was sepulchral, it made the Irishman's hair stand almost on end, but he could not forgo a witty retort.

"Faith and what are you doing out of it?" he asked.

GOING SOME.

The farmers were sitting around the stove in the potato store and telling how the potato bugs had gotten their crops. Said one farmer, "The bugs ate up my whole crop in two weeks." They ate my other spoke up. "Then ate my crop in two days and sat around on the trees and waited for me to plant more." "Here the storekeeper broke in. "Well boys, that may be true, but I'll tell you, what I saw in this very store. I saw four or five potato bugs examining the books about a week before planting time, to see who had bought seed."

A LIBERAL OFFER

We Guarantee to Relieve Dyspepsia—If We Fail the Medicine Costs Nothing.

To unquestionably prove to the people that indigestion and dyspepsia can be permanently relieved and that Rexall-Dyspepsia Tablets will bring about this result, we will furnish the medicine absolutely free if it fails to give satisfaction to any one using it.

The remarkable success of Rexall-Dyspepsia Tablets is due to the high degree of scientific skill used in devising their formula as well as to the care exercised in their manufacture, whereby the well-known properties of Bismuth-Subnitrate and Pepsin have been combined with Carminatives and other agents.

Bismuth-Subnitrate and Pepsin are constantly employed and recognized by the entire medical profession as invaluable in the treatment of indigestion and dyspepsia.

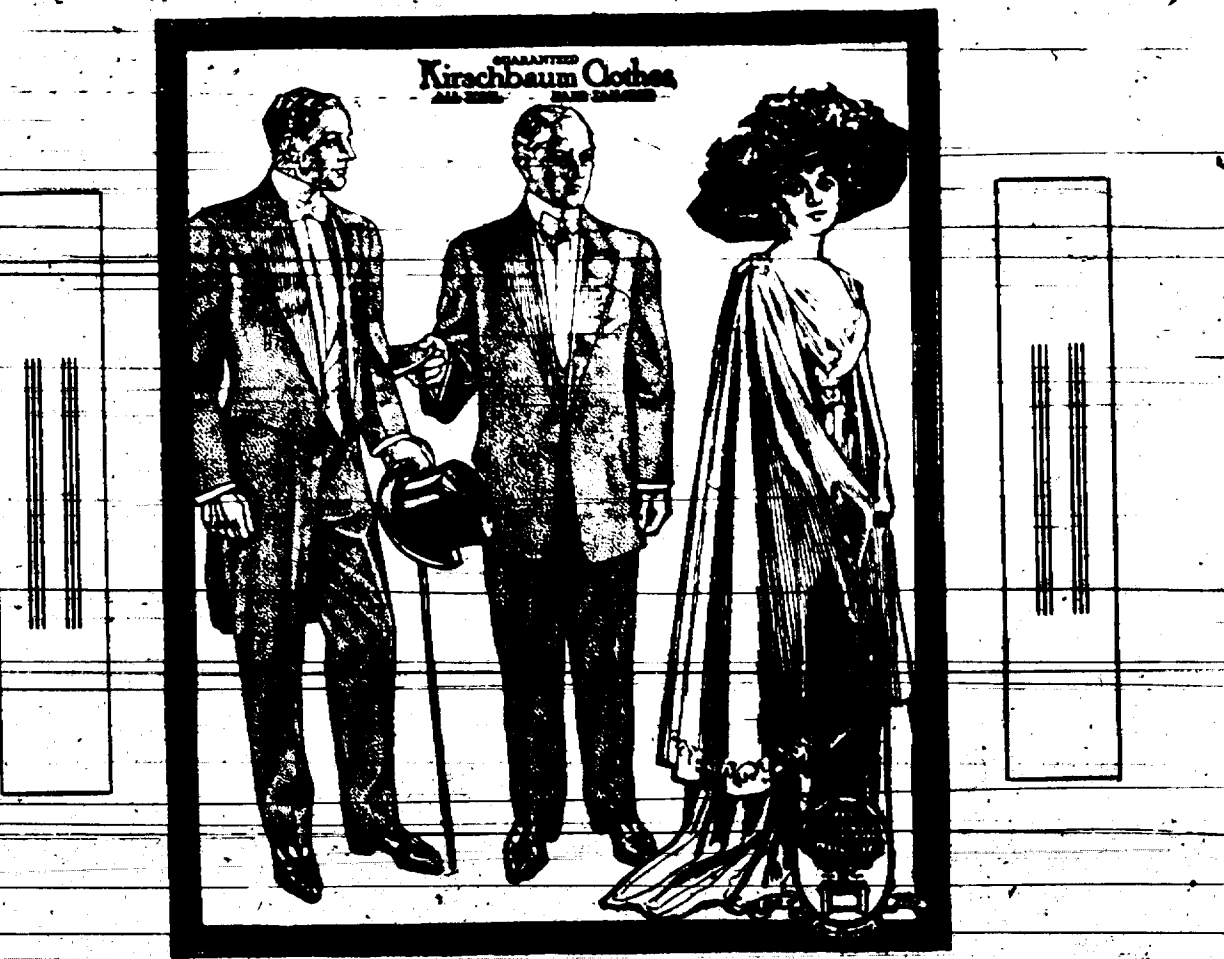

The Pepsin used in Rexall-Dyspepsia Tablets is carefully prepared so as to develop its greatest efficiency. Pepsin supplies to the digestive apparatus one of the most important elements of the digestive fluid. Without it the digestion and assimilation of food are impossible.

The Carminatives possess properties which aid in relieving the disturbances and pain caused by undigested food. This combination of these ingredients makes a remedy invaluable for the complete relief of indigestion and dyspepsia.

We are so certain of this that we urge you to try Rexall-Dyspepsia Tablets on our own personal guarantee. Three sizes, 25 cents, 50 cents, and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies only at our store—The Rexall Store, W. F. Dowell.
