The new machinery and general mechanical building of Randall & McCoy has been lifted above ground and work thereon is progressing nicely. Mrs. Maggie Beavers, wife of Mr. Levi Beavers, of near Manassas, who recently suffered surgical treatment in Washington, remains in extremely ill health. Rev. J. W. Brill will preach Thanksgiving sermon in Buckhall U. B. Church next Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. A special program of music has been arranged for the occasion. Mr. W. N. Moran, son of the founder of THE JOURNAL, and an electrician in Fairmont, Va., has been at the Johns Hopkins hospital for treatment of his eyes. He is expected home this week. An enjoyable feature of yesterday evening was the supper served in Nicol's Hall by the ladies of the Baptist church. There was a good attendance and the delicious viands visited upon the visitors by vivacious little girls would have made the hardest heart thankful. It was nice occasion, and we are pleased to know that the receipts were fully one hundred dollars. They deserved more, for a better menu has not been offered in Manassas for a long time. The bazaar and festival to be given by the Guild of Trinity Church Monday evening promises to be a most happy and joyous occasion. The supper will be a feature. Turkey and accompanying sides will be served for 25 cents; oysters and condiments for 25 cents, and a full dinner such as would cost from $1.00 to $2.00 in Washington hotels, for 50 cents. Refreshments, such as ice cream, cake and other little delicacies, will also be for sale. The public is invited to attend and spend a pleasant evening.

The exhibitions nightly given by the Manassas Moving Picture Company, continue to attract attention. It is certainly a commendable feature of the corporation that only films of the finest class are being shown on the screen. These pictures are educational and should be patronized. It would be much more profitable than holding down a goods' box at a corner grocery. Have you an old Confederate comrade or friend whom you wish to remember at Christmas? If so, why not present him with a copy of "Songs of Love and War," by Dr. H. M. Clarkson, poet laureate of the Confederacy? It would bring cheer to his heart. The price is only one dollar, and a copy may be obtained at this office or at the Prince William Pharmacy or Dowell's Pharmacy in this town. We have received a communication from Rev. T. W. T. Nolan, in which he states that he desires to express his thanks through the columns of THE JOURNAL to his inquiring friends, who have been concerned about his health. Rev. Mr. Nolan assures us that his condition is much improved and that he will meet his appointment at Brentsville on the first Sunday in December at 11 a. m. and at Woodbine at 7:30 p. m. Mr. John Nicol, County Clerk has been issuing writs for committing matrimony right along this week. Among the couples were Mr. Raymond E. Hunt and Miss Annie E. Finnigan, both of Washington. The ceremony was performed in the parlors of the residence of Mr. George W. Hixon, the present home of the declining clergyman Rev. Charles DeLong. The happy couple left on an evening train for Washington. GREENWICH NOTES Dr. Cooke of Georgia is visiting his brother, Rev. J. Royal Cooke, at The Manassas. Mr. A. B. Della, of Washington, is visiting Mr. M. E. Washington, at The Grove. The macadam road, built by Mr. Harrison, commencing at "Vint Hill" farm, and completed as far as Buckland, is being carried on to Warrenton. Dr. Patten of Washington, is visiting Mr. J. T. Armstrong, at "West Meadow" farm. Miss Mary Reid, who has been on the sick list, is very much improved, and will resume her studies at St. Edith's Academy after the holidays. Quite a number of the members of the Greenwich Council, O. F. A., will attend the state class instruction in Alexandria on December 2nd. The council from Washington city will be instructed also. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Schuch of Washington, Miss Alice Miller, of Woodville, and Mrs. J. T. Armstrong were visitors on Sunday last at "Grand View" farm. After quite an extended visit to friends and relatives in the Piedmont Valley, M. J. returns to the "The Grove." The many friends of Mr. Marshall are delighted to have him home again. The Manassas Workers Society, of the Greenwich Presbyterian church, donated $500 to the "The Grove" home for the blind at Lynchburg, Va., on the 28th inst. Mrs. Anna Grant, of Washington, was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Geo. A. Wood, last week.

But once more please. This thing of dealing with the health and the life of an individual is a very delicate business, and while we are stamping out, please stamp out all ignorant and unscrupulous doctors, who now enjoy the privilege of burying all their serious blunders.

Let us do the right thing please. Who has the disease and who has not?

What are the laws of its transmissibility? Which is the more potent influence in the etiology of the disease, your susceptibility or my infectibility? This is a very, very important matter. Until it is decided how are we to know whether I, who have the disease, should be at once cremated, or you, who are susceptible, should be promptly and vigorously "knocked on the head."

Never mind about theories. We simply must stamp it out. Give us some positive knowledge on the subject. O ye doctors, on platforms and in magazines, tell us whether Ailing Koch is right. One declares all tubercle bacilli are the same definite organisms, and that a person might contract the disease from the dairy products of a tuberculosis cow. The other declared that bovine tuberculosis and tuberculosis in man was each the work of different organisms and that there could be no transmissibility.

Is it not possible for a man to be in apparent good health, so far as usual diagnostic methods are concerned, and at the same time carry around with him generous samples of tubercle bacilli as well as various and sum-dry other micro-organisms? If so, is he not also liable to Dr. Wiley's expatriative law? Has tuberculin any therapeutic value? Is pulmonary tuberculosis and tuberculosis of the hip-joint caused by the same Machiavelian bacilli?

he declared against "a vain and senseless crusade against tuberculosis," and said that intelligent sanitation was better than sanitaria? As a matter of fact do sanitaria effect a greater percentage of cures than take place among the same number at their respective homes?

fancy or childhood and no grown person is ever originally infected. If the yellow journalists in medicine are right, and the disease is as contagious and infectious, either or both, as they would have us believe, would not all towns and cities be at once depopulated, and would it not be unsafe to go into any railroad car, public building, church or

THE GREAT WHITE PLAGUE

Dr. Wiley on Tuberculosis - The Problem of the Disease as Seen by a Victim.

Now what treatment have we? Pure food, pure air and plenty of sunshine and a cheerful mind. Is not this the same treatment for neurasthenia and simply nothing more than common sense living applicable to everybody?

Seriously, now Dr. Wiley, in view of the changed and changing attitude of the profession as to the whole subject of disease and treatment, was not your grandmother, with her "yarbs," about the best practitioner of medicine in her day, when old Dr. Grandpa carried his bottle of mercury in one hand and his lancet in the other, certain to give you one or the other or both?

Let us all calm down and learn something about the disease.

There are no exact statistics available as to the prevalence of the disease, and by reason of its nature, so far as known, none can be had, but it is not far from the real situation when we say that not more than two-sevenths of the human family entirely escape the disease and that about three-sevenths are now actually afflicted with it in a greater or lesser degree, and that two-sevenths have had it and fully recovered from it. So that instead of an island at sea Dr. Wiley will have to figure on a hemisphere.

But when we eliminate the aleaxatic and emotionalists and get down to the situation as it is there will be found little reason for expatriative measures. What is most needed is a little hard, old-fashioned thinking and investigating at first hand - plenty of common sense.

In the meantime there is a disease sorely afflicting not a few prominent physicians that is doing some harm in society. It is bacilliphobia. There is so much talk about germs, so much ado about segregation and isolation, and the danger of infection that a sensitive person with the disease is made to feel almost like a leper at this hue and cry of "unclean."

Do not forget, doctors, that post-mortem examinations have disclosed the fact that persons have had the disease and recovered from it and neither they nor the doctors ever found it out in the lifetime of the victim.

The germs of disease are everywhere. Even the best physicians and surgeons, with all the powerful germicides, can not keep them out of the operating room.

Be assured that if you break the laws of health the germs will get you. Man even pays a tremendous price for his civilization. The poor Indian, who looked at the fragile and diseased pale-face, and exclaimed

"White man dying of too much house," had not discovered half our troubles. Indeed, man, pale-face and Indian, is a clumsy excuse at intelligent living. They traded nicotine and fire-water.

And even those of us who are not in that deal eat with both ignorance and indiscretion, turn the night into day, build houses that are death traps, huddle together in polluted air, and foolishly imagine that we are living in a wide day and generation.

Even the doctors have a few things to learn, though I confess that I have a decided preference for some of them who honestly tell me that there are some things they do not know even about tuberculosis. But let us all not forget that society has not a more useful member nor a state a more valuable citizen than an honest physician.

CHILDREN INJURED

Orthostein and Pills and Harsh Physic Cause Distressing Complaints.

You cannot be over-careful in the selection of medicine for children. Only the very gentlest bowel medicine should ever be given, except in emergency cases. Ordinary pills, cathartics and purgatives are apt to do more harm than good. They may cause griping, nausea and other distressing after-effects that are frequently health-destroying.

We personally recommend and guarantee Rexall Orderlies as the safest and most dependable remedy, which we know, for constipation and associate bowel disorders. We have such absolute faith in the virtues of this remedy that we sell it on our guarantee of money back in every instance where it fails to give entire satisfaction, and we urge all in need of such medicine to try it at our risk.

Rexall Orderlies are eaten just like candy, are particularly prompt and agreeable in action, may be taken at any time, day or night; do not cause diarrhoea, nausea, griping, excessive looseness, or other undesirable effects.

They have a very mild but positive action upon the organs with which they come in contact, apparently acting as a regulative tonic upon the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel, thus overcoming weakness, and aiding to restore the bowels to more vigorous and healthy activity.

Rexall Orderlies commonly completely relieve constipation, except of course when of a surgical character. They also tend to overcome the necessity of constantly taking laxatives to keep the bowels in normal condition. Three sizes of packages, 10 cents, 25 cents, and 50 cents. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Manassas only at our store - The Rexall Store - W. F. Dowell.
