SMITHFIELD

The Halloween entertainment here proved quite a success; a large crowd was present, many wearing appropriate costume for the occasion, representing tramp, witch, farmers, Japanese, masked bandits and so forth. The school room was decorated with autumn leaves, cats, pumpkins, witches and ghosts. Ice cream and candy were sold and a neat sum realized. And we want to thank Miss Weber for our enjoyable evening. After the usual interesting program of recitations, plays and singing, the league was once more brought to life, after being about run down. The officers elected were: Mr. J. S. Lunsford, president; Mr. Alwin Barnes, vice-president; Mr. Robert Cooper, treasurer; Miss Mary Barber, secretary.

We think it is understood that the next meeting will be the first Saturday next December 6th. We were glad to have with us so many from our neighbor schools, and hope they will be like coming again.

Mrs. M. E. Lunsford recently visited her mother in Manassas, who is Miss Sallie Posey and her niece, Mrs. Nelson Pierson, and Mr. J. S. Smartson, of Alexandria, were in Smithfield recently.

Services were held in the Catholic church here Sunday.

Miss Mary Weber spent the week-end at her home near Independent Hill.

A number from here attended the Halloween exercises at Purcell school last week and reported a fine time. The teacher, Miss Naomi Pearson, is one of our neighborhood girls, and her many friends here are glad to see her getting along so nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. James Woodyard and children and Mr. and Mrs. William Arnold, of Woodbiffo, visited here Saturday night and Sunday.

Mrs. John T. Broadbent with her infant son, John T. Broadbent, Jr., returned from Washington on Friday.

POPULAR PHYSICIAN DEAD

Dr. Edgar Atley Moore of Marshall Victim of Paralysis.

Dr. Edgar Atley Moore, a highly respected and much beloved physician of Marshall, died suddenly Friday evening the 24th, from a stroke of paralysis after an illness of only five hours.

Dr. Moore has been a resident of Marshall only four years, but in that time he had won a host of friends and his death will be a great loss to the community. He is survived by a wife and one son, twelve years of age.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. S. V. Hilderbrand assisted by Rev. W. B. Everett, and were with Masonic honors, of which order the deceased was a respected member. The interment was at Upperville.

Dr. Moore was a brother of Mrs. Joseph F. Lewis, of Manassas.

MAN FOUND IN ROAD WAS FROM WASHINGTON

Victim of Heart Attack Picked up on Centreville Road Near at Local Hotel.

About five o'clock Tuesday afternoon an unconscious man was found lying by the side of the road between Centreville and Bull Run bridge by Mr. J. W. Robertson, of Fairfax, who brought him in his automobile to Manassas.

At the kindly suggestion of one of the local druggists, who offered to defray the expenses of a room, he was taken to the Prince William Hotel, accompanied by a physician, who, upon making an examination, discovered that he was a victim of angina pectoris.

A search of his clothing and baggage, which consisted of a small hand satchel, was made but revealed no clue to his identity.

Regaining consciousness later, however, the stranger was able to give an account of himself. He gave his name as Max Thompson and his address as Washington, and claimed that he had served about two years overseas during the world war, when he received bullet wounds in the side which were the cause of heart attacks.

According to his statement, he had left Washington Tuesday morning with the intention of visiting friends at Centreville. Arriving at Fairfax Courthouse on the electric cars he had hired an automobile to take him the remainder of the distance, but upon arriving at Centreville Mr. Thompson was seized with spasms of the heart and knew no more until he awoke to consciousness in the hotel.

He gave the names of relatives in Washington who were notified of his condition.

JOSEPH M. MAYHUGH DIES ON SATURDAY

Aged Confederate Veteran Was Member of 43rd Battalion—Funeral Monday.

Joseph M. Mayhugh, 83 years old, one of our most gallant Confederate soldiers and respected citizens, departed this life on Saturday, November 1, after a lingering and painful illness of about two years. He had lived at the place of his demise, near Manassas, for the past 44 years.

At the outbreak of the war, Mr. Mayhugh enlisted with the Confederate cause and became a member of the 43rd Battalion, serving through the entire war.

Soon after the close of the war Mr. Mayhugh married and reared a family, those surviving him being his widow, three sons and two daughters.

Mr. Mayhugh was a kind and considerate husband and parent, a most excellent citizen and a loyal friend.

ANTON KASPAR TO GIVE CONCERT

Mary Frances Zirkle, Child Violinist, to Take Part—Other Interesting Features.

Manassas people have a treat in store for them on Saturday evening, November 8, at 8 o'clock, when Anton Kaspar, of Washington, noted violinist, will give a concert in Trinity Parish Hall.

Mr. Kaspar will play the violin program and will present Mr. J. E. S. Kincaid, bass, in several groups of songs. Mary Frances Zirkle, child violinist, one of Mr. Kaspar's pupils, will also play a group of violin solos.

The Temple School of Music is indeed fortunate in having an artist of note as head of the violin and voice department. No small institution in the country has been able to offer a like opportunity to those who want the best, and Manassas should feel proud that this artist, through his interest in musical education, is willing to give such service.

Manassas can be made the educational center of northern Virginia, as it is accessible from all points, and so near our National Capital.

Our fine system of public schools, the Swavely School for boys and the Temple School of Music form a nucleus for greater achievements in education.

COLORED WOMAN DEAD

Martha Ann Churchville 83 Years Old Dies Suddenly.

(Contributed)
Martha Ann Churchville, a well known and highly respected colored citizen of this county, died very suddenly at her home near Gainesville, October 28. She was eighty-three years of age and a life-long resident of this county. In deed, she was a universal mother and a blessing to the vicinity in which she lived. She was active and busy about her domestic affairs until the end came and then she went away with a smile on her face. She was never ill enough during her whole life to require the attention of a doctor and never took a dose of medicine from any doctor.

She is survived by one son, Wm. J. Churchville, of Gainesville; one sister, Mrs. Annie Fairfax, of McLean, Va.; one son-in-law, John Thornton, of Gainesville; seven grandchildren, ten great-grandchildren, three great-great grandchildren and three nieces.

Funeral services were held in Mt. Pleasant Baptist Church, of Gainesville, of which she was an active and prominent member for forty-eight years. Services were conducted by her pastor, Rev. M. B. Strother, assisted by Rev. T. Johnson, of Thornhill, Rev. J. R. Nichols, of Washington, D. C., Rev. J. H. Gilliam, of Waterfall and J. Ford, of Broad Run. Interment was in the churchyard by the side of her husband, whose death occurred twenty-nine years ago.

Appropriate and very effective decorations were used throughout the house, and costumes representing wide range of characters were worn by those who participated in the masquerade contest.

Prizes for the prettiest and for the most comical costume were won by Miss Laverne Mills and Miss Annie Golibew respectively, these prizes being a pound box of candy each.

The age-old games of fortune telling etc., were played, after which refreshments were served.

SHENANDOAH ACADEMY WINS FOOTBALL GAME

Swavely School Team Loses to Opponents After Putting up Heroic Fight.

In the presence of many rooters and supporters Swavely went down to defeat before Shenandoah Military Academy on Saturday afternoon by a score of 12 to 0. The local team outrushed and outplayed the visitors, but poor playing at critical moments resulted in a defeat. Three times the Swavely team marched within their opponents' 30-yard line only to be held for downs or to lose the ball by fumbling. The game was spectacular throughout, as long runs and hard tackling were frequent. The speedy Shenandoah fullback furnished the big thrill of the game when, late in the second quarter, he raced 65 yards for a touchdown on a delayed crossback.

Among the guests and spectators were: Mrs. D. G. Arnold and her mother, Mrs. W. S. Potter, Miss Lillian Thompson, Miss Frances Waggoner, Miss Hilda Hordern, Miss Elizabeth Harting and Miss Lila La Garde, all of Washington.

Lieutenant Harman again flew in his plane from Washington to referee the game. He tried several times to land on the football field, but found the wind so unfavorable that he had to use a larger field some distance away.

The next game will be with Alexandria High School on Saturday at Alexandria.

A TRIBUTE TO JUDGE NICOL

(By Margaret H. Bowen)
There is no word of deeper import or meaning than the word friend. We are enjoined in God's Holy Word to lead such to our hearts with hooks of steel. Emerson was once asked the secret of his success and he replied: "I had a friend," and such I can say of the late Judge Charles E. Nicol. He was my next door neighbor in Brentsville for many years, and he was always to me, and mine, all that the word implies in its highest and noblest sense. In all our associations, both social and legal, he was ever the kind, courteous and loyal friend.

When my husband, the late Dr. P. B. Bowen, was entering the "Valley of Shadows," he said to me, "If you need advice call on my dear friend Judge Nicol," and he proved faithful to this trust. I always found him faithful to his contracts; his word was his bond. He never resorted to a legal technicality behind which to dodge in order to swell his coffers. His faith in God was as fixed as the stars. In his last letter to me, (which is of recent date), he spoke most beautifully of his trust in God, and his firm conviction that we would meet our loved ones in heaven, and rejoice in the eternal renewal of loving associations, and he added, "As to myself I shall be glad to remain or go, as our Heavenly Father elects for me." I know I shall not look upon his like again, but in the words of Charles Lamb, "We shall meet again some summer morning." Requiescat in pace.

PREBYTERIAN LADIES MEET

Missionary Society Entertained at the Home of Mrs. Stephenson.

The Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church met at the home of Mrs. F. G. Stephenson, Friday, October 31, at 2:30 p. m.

The meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. E. L. Hornbaker.

After singing the hymn, "Blessed Assurance," the devotional leader, Mrs. Hodge, read Rev. 2nd chapter and latter part of the tenth verse, "Be thou faithful unto death and I will give thee a crown of life." The leader showed the difference between a task performed through duty and one prompted by love.

The hymn, "Jesus Savior Pilot Me," was sung and the summer offering collected.

Nine members responded to roll call. Mrs. Harry Blakemore, as leader of the afternoon, took up the subject "India." Articles of interest were read, telling of the customs of the land and the eagerness of the low caste to learn of Christ and be followers of His.

After the singing of the hymn, "I'll Go Where You Want Me to Go," the meeting closed with the benediction.

A social time was spent with the hostess, who served delightful refreshments.

Halloween was observed here Friday night with the usual riot of merriment, noise and the display of varied costumes. As early as 6 o'clock the younger children began to appear on the street in practically every conceivable dress on their way to Conner's Hall to the annual masquerade party given them by Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Conner.

The costumes of those who took part in the parade ranged from the comical to the attractive, and it was with great difficulty that the judges chosen for the occasion finally selected the prize winners. The prize being a pound box of chocolates each for the best girl's costume, the best boy's costume and the most comical costume.

WHY CITIES GROW

CIVIC ENTHUSIASM

In any group of fast growing cities whose conditions you may study, you would be apt to find that in about all of them the citizens felt a strong and enthusiastic loyalty to these communities. You would find that a certain tie of mutual interest bound together the people of those towns. The residents would feel that they had a common bond enlisting them in joint efforts for the good of the community.

The people of such communities manifest this warmth of civic sentiment at every turn. If they are away on their travels, and the name of their home city is mentioned, they give glowing descriptions of its advantages and fine spirit. They make it appear extremely attractive as a place to live or do business in.

People are impressed by this loyal devotion. Those who may be contemplating some change of residence get the idea that such a place would be a mighty good one to choose.

The sentiment which such people manifest for their home communities has been the force which creates a certain distinctive reputation for a community, and it becomes widely known as a place of special advantages and fine community life. After a town has thus acquired a name for itself, its fame tends to spread and enlarge and the place seems to grow without much effort. It draws people that appreciate the spirit of progress.

Thus the mental attitude of the people of a place has much to do with the question whether it will advance or not. If they are disposed to carp and criticize at every slight defect, a pall of discouragement is thrown over it. If they dwell on its achievements and advantages and show that they consider themselves fortunate to live in such a hopeful and promising community, it can hardly help growing.

TOWN PROMOTION

"Let us say that Smith," said the Board of Trade Man we were quoting, "is one of your home folks. He is a live wire, appreciates the present advantages of your home town, and sees how it might grow. He goes off some day to spend a week end with his wife's relatives, and as usual gets to talking about your town. He tells what a good place it is to live in and do business in."

A few months later it appears that some young man in the town visited by Smith, is contemplating starting a new enterprise. He has a little capital but finds his home people indifferent to him. The words of your friend Smith had been heard by him. It strikes him that your place might be a good location for his little business. He writes to Smith, who invites the young man to his home and shows him around introducing him to your business men. The young man gets the glad hand and in a few months your town has a new industry.

"I believe," said the Board of Trade man, "that in the majority of cases new industries locate in somewhat that way. Some are founded in response to circulars and appeals you may send out. The majority come because a place acquired a reputation as a live town and good place to live in.

Of course Smith might go visiting a hundred times, talk his relatives blind, and never interest a soul that had the least idea of moving to your town. Yet the hundred and first time he might strike some one on the point of moving, and might induce him to try out your town.

"If 100 men in any town," concluded the speaker, "would make it their practice on all possible occasions to say a word about their home town it would spread the reputation of that town. Some of the people who heard about it would make further inquiries and would choose it as a residence.

A town grows through its reputation, is the obvious conclusion. To secure that reputation, the citizens must do all they can to spread information about its advantages. From a thousand chance seeds of information and hopefulness, a few will spring up. It may seem luck and chance, but is really the fruitage of a community habit of push and expansion and search for new opportunity.

TOWN BOOSTING

The Town-Boosting movement and Board of Trade organization of ten or fifteen years ago, devoted their principal energy to working for new manufacturing industries. The similar movement of today has gone on to a new point of view.

The old time Board of Trade had as its slogan "A bigger and busier city." It tried to secure growth and development, before it had proved that the town was worthy of it.

The modern organization, which in many places takes the name of a Chamber of Commerce, adopts as its slogan, "A better city." It believes that if you make a better town, growth and development will be almost automatic.

The modern Town Boosting movement is glad to welcome new industries, and it does its best to get them. It sees the most hope in the promising young men of its own community, who want to start some industry in a small way, and who if successful will remain in the town. Many small concerns thus assisted grow to become great industries.

Modern Town Promotion urges the people to boost the home town; to say a good word for it every chance they get. But if a town has been slow to take up new ideas, all the boosting they can do won't amount to much.

But if a town shows civic spirit, if it tries to provide the facilities of modern life, you can't stop its growth. Business men who have dealings with the place, travelling salesmen and other visitors, young people who come from there, people who move away, all spread the news that it is a hustling place. Newspaper articles describing its activities are generally copied. A progressive town finds that it has become widely known in a very short time.

NOVEMBER

O dear old dull November!
 They don't speak well of you;
 They say your winds are chilling;
 Your skies are never blue.
 They tell how you go sighing
 Among the leafless trees;
 You have no warmth nor brightness—
 All kinds of things like these.

But, O dear me, November!
 They just forgot to speak
 About the pretty color
 On each round apple's cheek;
 How yellow is each pumpkin
 That in the garden lies,
 Almost as good as sunshine
 And better still for pies.

O yes, dear old November!
 You've lots of nice, good things;
 All through the month we're longing
 To taste your turkey wings.
 What if you're dull a little,
 Or just a little gray,
 If not for you, we'd never have
 Dear old Thanksgiving Day.

PAT AND HIS GRAMMAR

Pat had been having difficulty with his grammar. He went to Mike for advice.

"I am always gettin' confused in me grammar," said Pat.

"How so?" asked Mike.

"I can never remember whether to say, 'It is me' or 'It is I.'"

"That's easy," returned Mike, "I can tell you a way of knowin'."

"Sure and I wish you'd tell me of it," said Pat.

"Just say over to yourself this rhyme: 'It is I, said the spider to the fly.'"

A few days later they met.

"What about your grammar, Pat?" asked Mike.

"Not so good," replied Pat.

"Did you say over to yourself the rhyme I told you?" Mike asked.

"Yes, and there's the trouble," Pat answered perplexed, "I could not remember whether your rhyme was: 'It is I, said the spider to the fly,' or 'It is me, said the spider to the flea.'"

A PROFESSIONAL

A campaigner was constantly interrupted by a man in the crowd, who kept shouting out, "Liar!" After about the twentieth repetition, the speaker paused and fixed his eyes on his tormentor. "If the gentleman who persists in interrupting," he said, "will be good enough to tell us his name instead of merely shouting out his calling, I am sure we shall all be pleased to make his acquaintance."

REASONABLE

The bus was making its early morning trip to connect with the train on a branch line in Mississippi. It was filled with half-awake passengers, with the exception of one very talkative traveling salesman. Failing to start the usual conversation, he turned to the negro driver.

"Sambo," he said, "why in thunder did they put this station so far from the town?"

"Don't know, boss," said the sleepy negro, "cep'in' it is dey' wants it on de railroad."

TRYING HIM OUT

An East Side pants-maker who has become quite a figure in the movie-producing world was recently selecting a chief for his scenario staff. The producer insisted that the successful applicant must be a college graduate. He looked with favor upon one applicant and asked if he had a college education. He received an affirmative reply.

"Show your diploma," demanded the producer. The applicant tried to explain that it was not customary for college graduates to carry diplomas around with them.

"Well, then," demanded the producer, with just a slight sneer, "say me a big word."

"Oh, then, it must be all right. Let me have a cabin, please."

AWO EXPLANATIONS

Si—Yep, I had a beard like yours once, but when I realized how it made me look I cut it off, b'goah.

Hi—Wal—I had a face like yours once, and when I realized that I couldn't cut it off, I grew this beard, by heck.

KNEW FEMINE WEAKNESS

There was a canvasser at the door trying to sell Mrs. Higgins a burglar alarm.

"But I don't need any of your burglar alarms," she told the man, making as if to shut the door.

"That's just what the lady next door said," was the reply.

"What do you mean?" asked Mrs. Higgins, now on the alert. She hated "that woman."

"She said that it was no use my calling on you," went on the man, "for you wouldn't need any, as you had nothing worth stealing."

"Give me three," interrupted Mrs. Higgins, gritting her teeth.

VALUE OF PRESS AS REAL POWER

The Newspaper as a Business Medium is Unsurpassed—Also for Good or Evil.

(Mrs. Kate E. Randall) We all know in a greater or less degree, the value of the press, and yet I think we fail to realize in these days of numberless newspapers and other publications, the real power and influence of the printed word. There is no line of business that does not use the press to exploit that business. We think sometimes when we pick up a paper, it may be a daily paper, or it may be one of our weekly papers, at first glance there is nothing of interest in it for us, it is so filled with advertisements, but publicity is the one feature of success in public undertakings. In our churches also, if a clergyman of note is coming to town, if a special meeting is to be held, or if a ladies' aid social, the first thought is to insert a notice in the papers to that effect that all who read may be influenced.

There is a church in a little town in one of our states, where a member of the congregation saw the possibilities and enlisted the support of the press. The sermons, Gospel messages pure and simple, were written up with attractive headings, nothing sensational. Soon the results were apparent, the church being filled with people. They were not drawn from the other churches, but composed largely of non-church-goers.

The people then think publicity and co-operation are two big factors in arousing interest in suburban church activities and a plan is being carried out that includes eleven churches and seven towns.

Thus we see churches using the press with much success also. Modern politicians are doing the same.

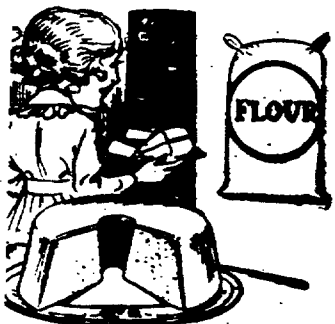

It is a pity, but a truth nevertheless, that the press is used extensively for evil as well as good, and I feel surprise sometimes to find statements so utterly at variance with the truth in regard to prohibition.

The Literary Digest says, the nation is now voting as to whether we shall have prohibition, modification or repeal, and not a shadow of a foundation, in fact, for such a statement, and many other statements will bear scrutiny. It is certain if many large newspapers and some small ones, whose duty it is to uphold the law, would do so instead of trying to ridicule it, there would be fewer, if any, prohibition problems.

Dr. Robert Herold, of Switzerland, director of the International Temperance Bureau, who has been in this country investigating conditions under prohibition saw only two drunken men during a tour of the nation. He says: "I leave the United States with the renewed impression that America has taken the leadership in prohibition as in other fields."

We have been told that there was more drinking in America than before prohibition. After all I have seen and heard I must say the situation has been absolutely misrepresented.

We rightly conjecture these misrepresentations come from the liquor factions, and therefore the temperance people and the church people as well, ought to act more earnestly in this great matter. Much more might be written by both on the subject than is written, to good effect. I always find our editors courteous and ready to please, and I most earnestly wish the churches and Woman's Christian Temperance Unions, all over our land would write our prohibition commissioners expressing their appreciation, and assuring them of their hearty cooperation in the great work they are doing to give us a clean and sober nation.

EYE RELIEF

In the office, the shop, or the field, your very income relies on your eyes for its permanence. The logical, business like thing, then, is to take mighty good care of your eyes, isn't it? You can best keep them in good health by appointing us the guardians of your eyesight. Give square deal. Come in and examine and test your eyes.

IF MONEY MEANS ANYTHING TO YOU—

There is only one type of man to whom this advertisement is of no interest. He is the fellow who needs give little or no attention to what he pays for things. To all others Wagener's Closing Out Sale affords the year's big opportunity to stretch the dollar and to multiply the purchasing power of the cents.

Have you visited our store since this sale started? Are you sure that you have provided for present and early-future needs at the rock-bottom prices now offered on every piece of merchandise in stock? If you have not, then by all means come in at your earliest convenience. See for yourself the thousands of REAL bargains to be had. Note what a fine assortment of hardware, furniture and home furnishings there remains to select from.

During the few weeks this sale has been in progress hundreds of families from various sections of Prince William and near-by counties have visited our store and availed themselves of the closing-out prices. But so complete were our stocks at the start that you will be pleasantly surprised to see what a wide array of offerings are yet to be had.

Why not take a good look around the home or the farm NOW and make a note of what is needed? Ours is a bona-fide sale, the kind you rarely come upon. We must vacate the store building shortly. Everything is offered at, nearly at or below cost. It is so unusual an opportunity to save money on new, up-to-date and most desirable merchandise that many are looking ahead and purchasing for next spring's and next summer's requirements.

If money means anything to you, this Closing Out Sale should mean a great deal. But it's a matter which does not permit of delay. It's a case of first come, first served, as long as present stocks last—but no longer.

But the best thing to do is to visit Wagener's Closing Out Sale, not just once but several times. Do not rush through the store. Take your time and you'll appreciate all the more what this great sales event must mean to all. Come—you and the entire family, even though you have no idea of buying. A journey through the store now will at least give you a good idea what a REAL SALE is like, when, as occasionally happens a REAL ONE happens along.

SCIENCE SERVICE SANITATION

In selecting a place to dine several important factors must be considered, namely: SCIENCE — SERVICE — SANITATION. These three words being our daily motto, our goal is not reached until we complete our motto. Selecting this as our slogan, it is necessary for us to devote our entire time to the Restaurant business in which we specialize. Our help must be the best. We must buy the best that money will buy. Another very important factor is cost. This, of course, shows for itself. We invite and welcome your criticism. We brag on our low prices, but first we must complete our slogan—we must not reduce quality for price. SCIENCE — SERVICE — SANITATION. With these three words fulfilled, your worries are ours and you know just where to take your next meal. We can serve you well for less.

STATE NEWS NOTES

Missing Cashier Sought.
Police in Staunton, Hopewell, Hot Springs and Clifton Forge are searching for William Chason, cashier of the Hopewell Bank. Chason has been missing since last Thursday. Leaving his traveling bag in a hotel, he quit Staunton in his car without checking out of the hotel.

Doctor Has Peculiar Experience.
Dr. George Long, of Luray, had a novel experience recently while making a professional visit. In the glare of his automobile lights he saw a small animal dart across the road. The doctor stopped his machine to investigate and found a large gray fox firmly held by the tail by the rear wheel of the auto. The doctor backed up to release the fox and took it into his car and brought it to Luray.

Over 12,000 Dogs Killed.
Game wardens of Virginia secured 4,304 convictions in cases against owners of dogs in the state during the period from February 1, 1923, to June 30, 1924, it declared in a report by the department of game made public in this October issue of the Game and Fish, organ of the department. A total of $39,793.83 was brought to the department in fines and costs from these cases, it was estimated.

Proposed National Park.
If the Blue Ridge Area is selected as the site for the proposed Southern Appalachian National Park, William C. Gregg, of New Jersey, a member of the commission, said in Harrisonburg recently, that he predicted an automobile trail will be constructed along the ridge of the mountains from north to south, and a great natural museum, in which deer, caribou and other game will run wild, will be established.

Crawls Mile With Broken Ankle.
Mahlin W. Jackson, a building contractor, of Winchester, crawled nearly a mile recently with a broken ankle after he had tripped over a strand of wire fencing while hunting five miles from town, before he was able to attract attention and get assistance. He also stumbled over his gun as he fell while alone on the trip, and underwent intense pain as he crawled over rough fields on his hands and knees calling for help.

Horrible Shooting Accident.
Mr. Leonard Fry, of near Lucketts, Loudoun county, on Tuesday of last week came to his accidental death by a gun shot wound. He was leaning on the gun and allowed it to slip from its resting place to the ground, the concussion it is thought, causing it to be discharged, the full load taking effect in his left side. He was taken to the Loudoun Hospital immediately, where death followed in a few hours. He was a married man and was nineteen years of age.

May Select Own License Numbers.
Virginia automobile owners may secure a 1925 license tag for any number they desire provided they are willing to pay an additional fee of ten dollars, according to Deputy Motor Vehicle Commissioner E. T. Hutson. The increasing demand for license tags corresponding with telephone or house numbers has reached a point where the commissioner in Richmond can no longer comply with the request as a courtesy, he says. The new tags will be available on December 15 and will be black and white.

Attached by Bees.
Barely escaping with her life, Mrs. James Brent, of Taft, Lancaster county, is recovering from injuries she sustained several days ago when bees from eighteen hives literally covered her. But for the timely arrival of her husband in response to her cries of pain, it is believed her fate would have been the same as that of a near-by horse, which was stung to death. A smoke contrivance used by her husband succeeded in driving the bees away. An overturned hive caused the maddened bees to swarm out and attack both the horse and the woman.

Deer Are Slain in 25 Counties.
Deer were slain in 25 counties of Virginia during the hunting season which closed February 1, 1924, according to a survey by the department of conservation. The department's report counts the hunters' bag at 793 for the season, with a commercial value estimate at $19,925. There were two elk killed also. Many Virginians, according to conservation officials, do not know that deer is still to be thus extensively found in Virginia. And, particularly they say, most people know nothing at all about the existence of elk in the state. The two elk were killed in Giles county.

NOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS AND THE FLU

To break up a cold over night or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza or sore throat, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotab, the nameless Calomet tablet, that is purified from dangerous and sickening effects. Those who have tried it say that it acts like magic, by far more effective and certain than the old style calomet, heretofore recommended by physicians.
One or two Calotabs at bed time with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with eating, work or pleasure. Next morning your cold has vanished and your system feels refreshed and purified. Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price ten cents for the vest-pocket size; thirty-five cents for the large family package. Recommended and guaranteed by druggists. Your money back if you are not delighted.—adv.

Women's Coats

With us you find the new exclusive models as shown by the best city stores, not jobbers' garments as shown by the average small town store. When you wear a garment bought of us you may rest assured that you are within the styles of today; quite a comfortable feeling, you will agree with us. And then we will save you anywhere from one-fourth to double the cost. We are showing some wonderfully handsome coats, in exclusive models from $45 to $59; garments that would cost you $75 to $95 at any city store.

Women's Coats $25.00

You will find with us at this price coats that are rightly worth $35 to $39; in fact, we have seen several coats that cost $39 elsewhere that we felt were hardly the equal of some of our $25 coats. You will find just plain cloth coats for the ultra-conservative dresser and you will find fur-trimmed coats; some collar only and some both collar and cuffs in fur. We feel we can fit you at this price if you are at all normal, be you small or very large. Twenty-five dollars is a popular price with a very great many and we have tried to specially prepare for that demand; ages 16 to 18 and sizes 36 to 49. The big stout woman who cannot find a coat large enough through the hips, will also find her fit in this range of price. You owe to yourself to at least look at our coats before you buy.

Women's Coats $13.75

Just to make this price garment specially attractive, we have instructed the store to put in all the $15 coats and run them with our regular $13.75 garments. You will find every coat all-wool, some plain and some fur-trimmed. You are sure to appreciate these values, if you do not want to put more in a coat; all sizes from 16 to 44.

Women's Coats $9.98

Just to have a really good coat to offer at this price, we bought a large lot of one and two of a kind and paid well up to what we ask; in addition, we put in this range several coats carried over from last season and season before last in order to complete the line and to move out the carry-overs. You will find plain and fur-trimmed garments in all sizes from 36 to 42.

Women's Coats $20.75

Even with this mild weather we have had three big shipments of this coat; many have considered it OUR BEST BUY. The material is all-wool, comprising Downy wools and like fabrics, in plain and block-cut effects; every garment is full silk-lined and carry a nice fur collar. They are here in a variety of browns, tans and grays, in all sizes from 16 to 42. They are a wonderfully fine "chicken" coat and will please most any young woman that sees them. Compare them with anything anywhere at $25.00.

Women's Dresses

Worsted dresses, silk dresses, stout dresses, evening dresses, dresses for the smaller than the average, dresses for the (stout) larger than the average. If you wear a dress, we can fit you.

Women's Dresses, $4.98

These are all-wool fabric, in a big range of colors and in all sizes from 16 to 44. It is just a big "job" we bought that the manufacturer wanted to move; we made him an offer and we have the dresses to deliver. They are wonderful values at $4.98.

Women's Dresses $15.75

This is an exceptionally fine line in silks and woolens and we are confident you will find them compare with anything you can buy for $25. This may sound boastful but we have had so many people tell us this that we feel we must be right. Seeing is believing, and we are glad to show you.

Women's Dresses $9.98
Serges, Tricotines and Plaids and Silks.

Women's Dresses $25 and $30

Just the most wonderful styles and fabrics in silks and woolens that you have seen; real creations of artists in apparel. Not the ordinary dress, but such garments as the big city store will ask you $50 to $65 for, and if you do not think we are right, look in the city and then let us show you and you will find that we did not tell you as bad as it is. A lady phoned us last week to save a garment for her; she told the clerk that they wanted more than twice as much for it in the city and she hurried back to get it; she told the same clerk she thought the garment HIGH until she looked elsewhere. This will be your experience, but we are glad to meet competition and comparison. It makes you feel better satisfied and that is what we want.

Women's Stout Dresses $20 and $25

These dresses are specially made for stout women; women whose hips are too large for the average dress; the dress is actually cut-to-fit that kind of figure; you may know that many simply are "tagged" the size, but when the really big woman tries to get in them they are too small through the hips. If you are big and hard to fit, come to us, we have the garment for you.

Women's Shoes $5.00

Compare them with anything you can buy for $6.50 to $7.00 and you will then appreciate how good they are. When we state you cannot buy better anywhere for less than $6.50 we are telling you facts. We believe that $5.00 is about as much as our average trade can afford to pay for shoes; with this in mind, we went in the field determined to offer our trade a shoe for $5.00 that was good enough for any one and we want to say we have accomplished what we started out to do. Oxfords, straps, medium heels, low heels, patent leather, tans, suede, kid and satins. A variety of leather and lasts that would do credit to any shoe store. And to all this please remember: We guarantee you service (money's worth) in every pair of shoes we sell you. Naturally, we do not guarantee a dress shoe to stand every day work; the shoe was not designed to do so any more than a Ford touring was made to haul ties in. But if you have a claim we will allow it and will be pleasant about it.

Women's Dress Shoes $3.50

Oxfords and straps; patent, kid and tan. Compare them with anything you can buy at $5.00. Women's shoes as low as $2.00.

WOMEN'S COMFORT SHOES

For the woman whose feet hurt her so she can hardly stand it. Come to us and let us fit you with a pair of real hand-turns that are as comfortable and easy to the foot as a stocking. The prices are not too high, making them beyond your purse, as we have them from $3.00 to $5.00. And we guarantee every pair not to rip loose from the sole. Let us show you what real comfort there is in a pair of shoes. You will thank us, if you try.

Humming Bird Silk Hose $1.50

If you have worn the Humming Bird Silk Hose, you know better than we can tell you, that for service, money will buy no better; if you have never worn them, you are fortunate in that you have one real good thing coming to you.

Humming Bird Hosiery

Style No. 20 for the normal leg; Style No. 30 for the rather full shaped leg; Out-Sizes for the really stout women.

And just remember, please, that every pair is woven the size, it is marked, not stretched the size, as are many brands. You will find them in most any color you may want, as we carry Camel, Nolegite, Cali, Airdale, Reige, Jack Rabbit, Silver, Log Cabin, Fleck, Melon, Dewra, Cordovan, Black and White. It is just the best silk stocking on the market today, and it will stand any test made by the peddler on his stocking and it's a better stocking and less money. Again—we ABSOLUTELY guarantee Humming Bird Silk Hose; you do not have to "hunt for" Hynoson; we are reliable and make good when we tell you.

Silk hose at $1.00 and $2.00. We guarantee the $1.00 Silk Hose also, but it is not all pure silk, as is the Humming Bird.
