GILMAN DENIES SLIGHT TO SOUTH

REPORTER DISTORTS TRIBUTE

G. A. R. Commander Declares He Did Not Say "Virginia Was Glad She Got Whipped"—Appreciates Hospitality.

General John E. Gilman, Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, denies that he said "Virginia was glad she got whipped," and brands as a falsehood the statement of a disgruntled Washington newspaper reporter. General Gilman praises the hospitality of Southern women.

Emphatically denying the declaration attributed to him in a fictitious interview in The Washington Post, General Gilman in a letter to Lieut. George C. Round, Chairman of the Manassas Jubilee Committee, presents evidence that the derogatory statement of the disgruntled reporter was wholly without foundation in fact, and that it was manufactured by distorting a tribute to the South—the loyalty of Southern men and women to their native institutions and traditions and to their country.

APPRECIATES HOSPITALITY
With great appreciation he refers to the hospitality of Southern women. Like others present he declares the scarcity of water was only temporary, adding his testimony to that of both Union and Confederate veterans to expose a malicious fabrication.

GILMAN REPLIES
General Gilman was apprised by THE DEMOCRAT of the unfavorable position in which he had been placed by the reporter for a Washington newspaper. His reply is given in the following letter to Lieut. Round:

PRAISES SOUTH
Headquarters
Grand Army of the Republic
State House, Boston, Mass.
COMRADE GEORGE C. ROUND,
Chairman Jubilee Committee,
Manassas, Virginia.

Dear Comrade Round:
I am in receipt of a copy of THE MANASSAS DEMOCRAT of July 27th containing many references to an alleged unjust report of the late Jubilee by a disgruntled reporter. I regret that any man should find it in his heart to advance any words that would interfere with the entire cordial so lavishly displayed by both Union and Confederate Veterans at the Fiftieth Anniversary of the First Battle of Bull Run.

GOOD ROADS FOR PRINCE WILLIAM

CITIZENS ORGANIZE ASSOCIATION

Result of Visit of Good Roads Train Operated by Southern Railroad—Advise Use of Split Log Drag.

The campaign for good roads in Prince William county, inaugurated by THE DEMOCRAT in advocating and explaining the use of the split log drag, is to be carried out by the Prince William County Good Roads Association organized Monday at a meeting in the good roads train operated by the Southern Railroad.

By PROF. H. F. BUTTON
Director Manassas Agricultural High School
The good roads train which visited Manassas on Monday met with an enthusiastic response from some 150 taxpayers who believe it is time for a better order of road construction. The train operated by courtesy of the Southern Railroad carries a representative of three agencies which are working for the betterment of highways—the Southern Railroad as represented by W. J. Hurlbut, of the land and industrial department; Charles P. Light, special representative of the American Association of Highway Improvement; and L. E. Boykin and Herbert S. Fairbanks, representing the Office of Good Roads of the United States Department of Agriculture.

SPLIT LOG DRAG
After a brief introduction by Dr. Hurlbut in which he expressed his deep interest in the welfare of the South, he presented Mr. Boykin, who gave a stereotypical lecture, showing views of various kinds of bad roads and the good roads which are displacing them.

Mr. Boykin gave special attention to the split log drag, which if used regularly will do more than anything else to keep earth roads in passable condition. As soon as the frost is out of the roads in the spring they should be dragged and by keeping the grade even and the holes filled the worst of the mud can be avoided. The county should have fifty road drags in constant use.

ORGANIZE ASSOCIATION
Following Mr. Boykin's address, Mr. Light gave a stirring and helpful address on organization. This speaker had such impressive enthusiasm and humor that in his address he induced

JONES PRESENTS TWO THOMPSON LETTERS

OFFERS THEM AGAINST MARTIN

Congressman W. A. Jones, candidate for the United States Senate, addressed a representative audience in Nicol Hall last Monday, and after accusing Senator T. S. Martin of serving the railroad interests in the capacity of lobbyist, read two more of the Thompson letters, which he is using in his campaign against Senator Martin, by offering them as evidence of the existence of a political corruption fund.

One of the letters addressed to C. G. Holland, Danville, and signed by J. S. B. Thompson, under date of October 10, 1891, refers to the candidacy of Mr. Hurt for the State Senate from Pittsylvania County and the candidacy of Mr. Hatcher, a candidate for the Senate from Franklin county, and in part reads:

"I hand you my check for one thousand dollars. Five hundred of which you can use at your discretion in helping Hurt, and five hundred held in reserve with which to help Hatcher. Of course, if either of these men require further assistance and you are satisfied as to their position, we will have to arrange to help them further."

The other letter, signed by J. S. B. Thompson, and addressed to Charles R. Hooff, Alexandria, Va., under date of November 23, 1891, reads:

"Enclosed please find check of Mr. W. H. Ijams, treasurer B. and O. R. R., on the Citizens National Bank, of Baltimore, Md., for $2,000, which please place to my credit. Kindly acknowledge receipt."

Mr. Jones declared that the letters and statements from Mr. Thompson "not only do not improve Mr. Martin's plight, but that it puts both Mr. Martin and Mr. Thompson in unenviable positions."

NIGHT ROBBERY RAID IN BUSINESS DISTRICT

YEGGS BREAK IN THREE STORES

Enter Prince William Pharmacy, Dowell's Pharmacy and the Crigler and Camper Store—NIGHT WATCHMEN

Burglars at an early hour this morning effected entrance into the Prince William Pharmacy, Dowell's Pharmacy and the Crigler and Camper store. The losses are small but the magnitude of the attempt demands attention. Until a night watchman is appointed, frequent robberies may be expected.

Wholesale robbery was attempted in the heart of the business district at an early hour this morning by breaking into the Prince William Pharmacy, Dowell's Pharmacy and the Crigler and Camper store. The yeggmens evidently were frightened away before effecting their plans for a simultaneous raid, as but a small amount of cash and little merchandise is missing, although the total losses have not yet been ascertained. To yeggmens, petty thieves operating in towns known to be without night police protection, may be assigned the burglaries. They did not attempt to break into the safes, but limited their efforts to opening cash registers and rifling desks, scattering letters and papers about the floor.

IDENTICAL METHODS
Identical means were employed to enter the Prince William Pharmacy and Dowell's Pharmacy. In the rear door of each establishment holes were bored large enough to admit the hand that turned the key in the inside lock.

Six dollars in nickels were taken from the Prince William Pharmacy, but no merchandise is missing. A valuable kodak was stolen from Dowell's Pharmacy, but some small change in the cash register was overlooked by the thieves. A skeleton key, it is believed, was used to open the Crigler and Camper store as there is no evidence of tampering with locks. One dollar was taken from the cash register, papers from the desk were scattered on the floor as in the other stores, but no loss in merchandise has been discovered. The thieves had undoubtedly planned to raid each of the stores for the cash receipts of the day, and were not looking for merchandise.

150 VETERANS COMING TO NOTABLE REUNION

WELCOME FOR MOBY'S MEN

Elaborate Preparations for Great Event on Saturday, October 14—August Commences This Week.

One hundred and fifty survivors of the forty-ninth Virginia Cavalry, known as Moby's Men, are planning to attend the seventeenth annual reunion of the command in Manassas on Saturday, October 14. John R. Tillett, who was delegated by the council to arrange plans for the reunion, is to announce the committees this week. The business sessions are to be held in Connor's Hall. Elaborate entertainment is being planned for the veterans.

RE-OPEN RESTAURANT MONDAY

Manassas Cafe Reopens After Being Closed Since Wednesday Last Week—Cafe Finest in This Section.

C. C. Leachman has purchased an interest in the Manassas Cafe from Mrs. M. E. Sisson and will re-open the business Monday morning. The restaurant is closed since Wednesday last week that Mrs. Sisson might devote her time to other business interests. For twenty-three years Mr. Leachman conducted a general merchandise store at Wellington, and sold the business last March to Ormeo Wells.

MANASSAS MOURNS DEATH OF GEN. GORDON

PASSES AWAY AT MEMPHIS

Among His Last Official Acts Was to Telegraph Regrets of His Inability to Attend Reunion in Manassas.

News of the death of General George W. Gordon, Commander-in-Chief of the United Confederate Veterans, was received with profound sorrow in Manassas this morning. He had planned to attend the Peace Jubilee and Reunion of the Blue and Gray on July 21, but was prevented by illness.

General George W. Gordon, commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans is dead. The end came yesterday afternoon at four o'clock in his home at Memphis, after a prolonged illness. He had been in feeble health since his last campaign which resulted in his re-election from Tennessee to the National House of Representatives. He was born in Giles county, Tenn., October 5, 1836.

General Gordon enlisted as drill master with the Eleventh Tennessee Infantry, C. S. A., at the outbreak of the Civil War. Within a year he was successively promoted to captain, lieutenant-colonel and colonel. In 1864 he was named brigadier general. At the Mobile Reunion in 1910, General Gordon was chosen commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, and was re-elected last May at the 1911 session in Little Rock.

Among his last official acts as commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, was to communicate by telegram his inability on account of illness, to attend the Manassas Reunion of the Blue and Gray. While ill in Washington, during the session of Congress, General Gordon received Lieut. Round and Major Lowell and declared that nothing but extreme illness would prevent him participating in the Jubilee.

Improvements amounting to $622 have been made on the road from Manassas to Milford since January 1, under direction of County Supervisor James F. Gullick. The distribution is as follows: Cannon Branch Bridge, $200; abutments of bridge, $180; filling at bridge $65; scraping road, $20; labor, $30; stone, $30; freight on stone, $15; cast iron pipe, $72; hauling stone, $20. Citizens contributed about $60 for the bridge improvement.

CLOUD BURST TEARS UP SOUTHERN TRACK

DELAYS TRAFFIC ON BRANCH

Recent Traffic After Thirty-six Hours Interruption—Flood Waters Destroy Bridges at Delaplane.

Several hundred feet of track and the bridge near Delaplane on the Manassas branch of the Southern railroad were washed away by the flood waters of a cloud-burst at an early hour Saturday morning. Many travelers bound for points on the branch line remained in Manassas until train service was resumed. The flood swept farm lands of crops, implements and small buildings, and many head of livestock were drowned and carried down in the deluge.
