Saint Valentine's Day

NEXT Wednesday is Saint Valentine's Day.

If only as a safety-valve for high pressure sentiment, Saint Valentine's Day is eminently worth while. It gives the timorous all citizens who believe in the future of Manassas must favor installation of the utilities.

The unpopularity of comic Valentines may be attributed to the fact that they usually tell the truth.

If the snow and ice cannot be removed, make travel safe for pedestrians by closing down the walk.

WHAT most men need is not so much a woman to help them along as a woman to make them help themselves.

THE nation may require a bigger navy for protection, but it also needs better roads to promote means of subsistence.

ARIZONA will be submitted to Statehood on February 12. Politicians are beginning to notice an overlooked territory.

In losing sight of self in promoting the welfare of the community, the individual invariably advances his own interests.

"THERE are two times in a man's life when he should not speculate: when he can't afford to and when he can." —Mark Twain.

A SOCIALE monkey started the guests of a New York hotel.

The next time you call, describe the valentines and ask the girl if she received it after telling her that it came from you. Then it will be another way to keep your rivals from depriving you of your own.

Another way to find another girl. But valentines as symbols of love should be beautiful. Mystery enhances the charm of romance.

The influence of valentines upon matrimony is conjectural, and remains to be seen, especially in Leap Year when the conveniences are waived.

But if any fellow expects to win a wife with a valentine or if he imagines that a Leap Year girl will speak the truth, he had better arrange to spend the long cold winter's day in a warmer place. A nice girl is a beautiful valentine. The comic valentines are masculine.

Comic valentines, caricaturing human frailty, are as gratifying to the senders as they are terrifying to the recipients. They are made to fit all ages and conditions of humanity, and contain a burr for every tender spot. Funniest of all, they usually tell the truth.

COMMENT

SOUTHERN RAILWAY COMPANY

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

January 30, 1912

Editors THE DEMOCRAT, Manassas, Va.
Gentlemen: I have just had the pleasure of reading your editorial published in the issue of the 18th instant under the heading "Progress." As your editorial indicates, the management of this Company aims to make the railway not merely a carrier of the people, and the products of the South, but also a factor in Southern development. This development work is a matter in which I believe that the interests of the railways of the South and of the rest of the South are substantially identical. Increased prosperity for the South people and a larger agricultural and industrial population mean increased circulation and increased patronage for the railways, and increased traffic for the railways.

Yours truly,

W. W. FRAZER, President

Gainesville, Va., February 6, 1912

Editors THE MANASSAS DEMOCRAT:
I consider THE MANASSAS DEMOCRAT the best county paper published in the State.

A MATTER OF JUSTICE

It is a matter of justice that all qualified electors, whether freeholders or not, should be granted the right to exercise the elective franchise on the public utility corporation. They have a legal right to vote for the utilities granted by the constitution of Virginia, and the section of the charter of the town of Manassas depriving qualified electors, who do not own property, of that right to vote is invalid.

Under suspension of rules the National House of Representatives failed to consider the Stayman measure, which declares against the right to vote for such degenerates as to deprive them of the morbid punishment for which they long. They are lost to remorse for in notoriety, for which they long. They are lost to remorse for in their conscience is dead, the moral quality has been stifled and stilled by the brute instinct. They know no law but physical violence. Then in restraint let them endure a living death in fear of that law. It would be the greater punishment.

FEED THE BIRDS

With the ground covered with snow and ice hundreds of birds are seen. The message of the little optimist is as inspiring as it is pathetic—though dying of hunger they never cease singing. And all the while many do not interpret the plaintive note as prayer—the pleading of tiny brothers of the air for food. They are the little brothers of men, as life is a manifestation of the spirit of the world. "For some years past," says the message, "the infinite. Their plaintive song is the cry of hunger—application for face of death by famine, air appeal for food which they have a right to expect from us when their own sources of supply is cut off."

Through the kindness of Mr. Bibb the school children have received packages of seed which they have scattered near the haunts of birds. If all could hear the plaintive sighing from the little feathered sorrow their suffering would end, as abundance would now from abundance alone.

PROVING HIS ABILITY

The Honorable G. J. Meese, Delegate from Prince William County to the Virginia General Assembly, is proving his ability as a legislator. Despite the most powerful and most determined opposition he secured enactment of the bill he introduced extending the statute of limitation from two to three years. Down in Richmond it is considered a notable victory for Mr. Meese, in overcoming an adverse report of the Senate Committee. The Farmer Delegate is making a record that is an honor to the county and to the state.

PROGRESS ON HIGHWAY PROJECT

ENCOURAGING progress is being made in plans to complete the section of the Quebec to Miami highway through Washington, Manassas, Fredericksburg and Richmond. For the completion of this work $200,000 will be required, the amount pledged. The financial campaign will be outlined at Rally Days in Manassas and Fredericksburg and a smoker in Richmond. In view of the great benefits to be derived there should be no difficulty in raising the fund.

PARAGRAPHS

In a scramble for eggs at the present price: There is a burning appeal for the water system. Mexico seems to be itching for a good thrashing. The anti-treating bill would solve the temperature question for many.

"He who offers God a second place offers Him no place." —John Ruskin.

White it is doubtful if Senator La Follette was a formidable competitor for the Presidential nomination, his chances were destroyed by the Philadelphia incident. In attacking the integrity of the press of the country, the Senator was as indifferent as he was to the defense of his friends.

MANASSAS DELEGATES AT RICHMOND RALLY

FOR INTERNATIONAL HIGHWAY

Outline Financial Campaign for Construction of Virginia Link—Richmond to Washington Through Manassas.

Adopt Plan of Great Meeting in Washington This Week—Spread Christianity Among Men and Boys.

With advancement of the cause of Christianity among men and boys by affiliating them with the churches, a non-denominational convention of religious workers in Prince William county is planned for an early date in Manassas.

The convention will adopt the plan of the great sessions of representatives of the Men and Religion Forward Movement in Washington this week.

With the aid of the Chamber of Commerce, Manassas will be represented by R. S. Parker, C. C. Irvin, G. Raymond Ratcliffe, J. F. Leachman, Dr. C. R. C. Johnson, C. M. Hopkins, Dr. E. R. Conner, F. L. Ranchel, Dr. W. C. Smith, John C. Tamm, of the Manassas Good Roads Association and the Business League of Manassas.

Some of the most prominent men in the State will speak, including representatives of the National Government.

Plans will be outlined to build a highway from Manassas to Washington.

John Henry Gets A Plenty

By GEORGE V. HOBART

The house was lighted from outside to attic. As soon as I opened the door I found our respected master, Uncle Peter, and he was also up. "It's a surprise, Johnny," he whistled. "I am giving an entertainment for the benefit of the Christian Soldiers' league, and it's going to cost you two dollars to come into your own house."

It made an awful hit with Uncle Peter to see meough up those two dollars, but I said nothing and made no noise.

My wife called it a musicale, but to me it looked more like a fight.

With the help of Aunt Martha and Alice, my wife arranged the program and kept it dark to surprise the rest of the family.

It was such a surprise to me that I felt like doing a slide to the wood fire.

It was my second experience with a musicale, and this one cured me in right.

Then they gave each other the silent double-cross.

Presently my wife whispered to Miss Cleopatra Hungerbach where upon that young lad slipped her way over to the piano and began to knock his teeth out.

The Cleopatra went west through the city of New York, and stopped at a conservatory of music and she spent nine pounds of solid flesh.

She had to go to the hospital because the insects became so bad.

The sensation is the same as a bad humpback, and she has the gout.

First I chose off a little, then bought around to look it over. He was an old man, and he dropped in the ham stock with a splash. Ten seconds later the rope exploded and Uncle Peter made a deep impression on the stone porch.

Uncle Peter was in the neighborhood and he was divided into two classes: Going and coming.

One of the first rules for a commuter to follow after he entered the railroad station, and all there a couple of times, was to get training. It's a good idea to have a Populist farmer and he'd hang around the train.
