

LEGISLATIVE REVIEW

This final week of the active legislative session will witness the passage of nearly one-fourth of the total number of bills enacted by this Legislature. Last week was largely taken up by the discussion of the tax commission bill in the House and the primary elections bill in the Senate.

The Senate started the week by the passage of the West bill, which though badly amended has yet some vitality in it. No democrats and only two republicans voted against it.

The so-called red light bill continues to be the center of a violent agitation and is likely to excite members of both houses to something approaching frenzy before the end of this week.

Both houses are held during three sessions daily and until the curtains close at midnight Saturday the mill will grind vigorously. The lobbyists are active and vigilant and if most of the good measures are not killed off it will be their fault.

ONE YEAR OF DEMOCRATIC RULE

President Wilson has now served one full year in the White House, and no president has ever entered that White House who has been so persistent and aggressive as he, in fulfilling the promises made to the American people by the Democratic Convention which nominated him in July, 1912.

VOTES FOR WOMEN

This question is getting to be one of lively importance with a number of Western Congressmen. The woman politicians marched into the Committee Room of the Judiciary Committee of the House and threatened the Democratic Party with the loss of all the female votes in those states where they now have a vote.

The recent developments in Mexico have been sufficient to convince the civilized world that we hold the unwelcome friendship of Great Britain and that she will do nothing to embarrass President Wilson in his Mexican policy.

PARAGRAPHS

He who follows another is always behind. The man who can smile at his defeat has won. Some people's specialty is pouring ice water on enthusiasm.

There would be no "servant problem" if only those who could afford servants employed them. Foreigners who get themselves murdered in Mexico do so without the consent of the United States.

Probably many of us, if we lived in Mexico, would be in doubt whether to burrah for Huerta or yell for Villa. The Rev. Billy Sunday collected $35,000 in Pittsburg, not mentioning the buttons that were found in the hat.

A good many people are beginning to think it about time for our dove of peace to let loose a few screams of defiance. Suffragettes are said to be revising the bible and we expect to learn that the snake and Adam really framed it up on Eve.

Anybody who doubts the old saying that man is a mere worm has only to see a couple wriggle through the tango to know better. Opportunity knocks once at every man's door, but if you hear her self, happen to be knocking when she calls, you'll never hear her.

The fashion journals say that women greatly admire Scotch effects this season, but this does not mean that they are particularly fond of the Scotch hightail jar. It has been nearly sixteen years since Dewey, with his famous Admiral Oakes, walked a straight line at Manila, and the Germans are just now getting mad about it.

When the government encourages farm boys to raise bigger pigs and finer crows than their fathers it may be doing a great work but it is injuring the spirit of ancestor worship.

Congress has passed a law to keep women in the District of Columbia from working more than eight hours a day. It is expected to protect all women except those who keep house.

You may criticize women and their silk skirts, as much as you please, but we have noticed that when a man has a new pair of silk socks he generally manages to let people see them.

On April 16, the anniversary of his 60th birthday, Jacob S. Coxey will start with his army on his second march to Washington. Leading the army will be a band composed of forty women musicians. Another feature of the march will be a suffrage division.

By keeping a pistol in each hip pocket and maintaining a personal silence," says the Washington Star, "John Lind manages to do his share towards preserving peace in Mexico." But of what use is a pistol in each pocket to a one-armed man?—Toledo Blade.

REACH YOUR CUSTOMERS

While the parcel post is proving a great blessing and is enabling the producer in the country to ship his products direct to the consumer the man who has something to sell is sleeping on his right of way unless he advertises. How is a person in a city to know where he may order fresh eggs, butter and vegetables, and how is the man in the country to know where he can find the best bargains unless he is "shown." Now the way to bring both producer and consumer together is for both to patronize the paper which gets into the homes. The advertisement which gets into the home is the one which brings results.

DEATH OF PETER CURRY.

Mr. Peter Curry, sixty-eight years old, died at his home a few miles east of Manassas, last Tuesday morning at eleven o'clock. His death was caused by pneumonia, which he had developed on last Sunday, at which time he was taken ill for the first time in his life. His death resulted two days following.

Mr. Curry was born in Ireland and came to this country in his early childhood. For many years he has been a resident of this section, where he engaged in farming. He is survived by one sister, Miss Kate Curry, and one brother, James Curry, a former resident of Manassas, who for many years conducted a hotel here. The funeral services were held yesterday at the Catholic church, Rev. L. Smet, officiating. The remains were interred in the Manassas cemetery.

THE BOARD IS PAYING THE INDEBTEDNESS AS IT COMES DUE, BUT BELIEVES THAT THIS SHOULD BE DONE, AND PROPER REPAIRS AND EQUIPMENT ADDED TO THE SCHOOLS WITHOUT ROBBING THE CHILDREN OF PART OF THE TIME THAT IS SO ESSENTIAL TO THEIR WELL-BEING IN AFTER LIFE. It has, therefore, made this venture depending upon the tax levying authorities to restore the 25 cent district levy or to add 5 cents to the county school levy, in which case the overdraft could be met and a further extension granted to the Bennett graded school which is accessible to most of the white children of the district, and which has on its lists a large majority of those enrolled.

Next Monday night, March 23, the Manassas Town Council will hold a regular meeting on next Monday night, March 23.

EASTERN COLLEGE DRAMATIC CLUB

TO DELIGHT MANASSAS AUDIENCE. Will Present "The Tan Colored Overcoat" and "Chalk and Cheese" in Conner's Hall Saturday Night.

The Eastern College Dramatic Club under the direction of Prof. E. H. Harriman, will present two plays in Conner's Hall this Saturday night, March 21, both of which are the result of long training and many rehearsals, and in view of this fact should prove very enjoyable and entertaining. The productions are "The Tan Colored Overcoat," a modern mystery play, intensely dramatic and affording excellent opportunities for acting and the impersonations of various emotions. The other is "Chalk and Cheese," a delightful piece of modern comedy, introducing much of the dialogue between Romeo and Juliet.

Tickets for the two plays are now on sale at Prince William Pharmacy and the price of general and reserved admission are popular ones. The curtain will rise promptly at eight o'clock. The following is the cast for "The Tan Colored Overcoat": Finigan Finigan—personification of nervousness... Clarence Rowland... William McKenna... Watson Walkerjohn—a precise old gentleman... Powhatan Moncreuf—a live-wire soldier... Fred Edwrick... Sarahanna—romantic adventuress. Miss Edith Otto.

Representative Jefferson Levy told the Senate committee on public buildings and grounds Tuesday, that he would under no circumstances agree to sell Monticello, the old home of Thomas Jefferson, to the government. Asked what would be his attitude if the government should decide upon condemnation proceedings to acquire title to the property, he answered: "I could not tell in that case. But I will never willingly part with my property."

Representative Levy was accompanied by his attorney, R. T. W. Duke, of Charlottesville, Va., who made a thorough review of the whole case from the standpoint of the present owner. Asked specifically about the resolution adopted by the Virginia legislature in February memorializing Congress to acquire the property "to be held in trust for all the people of the nation," he expressed surprise at the action.

STATE'S ARBOR DAY FRIDAY, APRIL 3

SCHOOL OFFICIALS AND TEACHERS CALLED ON TO CARRY OUT SCHOOLER PROGRAM PREPARED FOR THIS DAY.

Friday, April 3, was designated as Arbor Day by Governor Stuart in a proclamation issued yesterday under the lesser seal of the Commonwealth. It is the first proclamation to be made by Governor Stuart. It follows: "Not merely because of the statute requiring the executive to designate by official proclamation an Arbor Day, but because I heartily approve the dedication of at least one day annually to the planting of trees and shrubs in the highways, school grounds and shadeless home lots of this Commonwealth, I take pleasure in designating as Arbor Day, for the Commonwealth of Virginia, and I earnestly request that the people unite on that day in the adornment of their homes, their schools and their highways, and thus add to the material wealth of the State as well as to the aesthetic tastes of all the people, by planting forest trees and shrubbery. Appreciating that perhaps the most valuable feature of this celebration is in educating the young to appreciation of the importance of conservation and reforestation, I urge school officials and teachers to carry out the school program prepared for this day by the Department of Public Instruction of this State."

TO GIVE CHILDREN SQUARE DEAL. The Manassas District School Board, in its earnest desire to do all within its power towards the welfare of the children of the district, has taken the responsibility of adding one month to the term contracted for in the one-room and graded schools, thereby necessitating a considerable overdraft on the funds provided for the payment of teachers' salaries, and adding to the already large indebtedness of the district.

BEVA LOCKWOOD IN TROUBLE

The only woman ever nominated for the presidency of the United States is now facing financial ruin. After years of work in behalf of humanity, Beva A. Lockwood, at the age of 84, has been served with a judgment as the result of a contract drawn up years ago between herself and an Indian who assisted her in her work in the claims of the Oklahoma Indians, successfully prosecuted by Mrs. Lockwood.

A judgment amounting to $10,500 was returned against her, and through the prompt assistance of a friend, Wade H. Cooper, all but $3,000 of the necessary sum has been raised. Unless the rest can be raised at once, the mortgage on Mrs. Lockwood's home will be foreclosed. A subscription to avert this disaster is being solicited by one of the Washington newspapers.

TEAM ROUNDS INTO CLASSY FORM. Men Show Strength in First Try-out. Coaching Now Under Dr. J. McDevitt—Season Opens Next Week. Eastern College baseball squad were able for the first time to use their diamond last Tuesday afternoon, and candidates twenty-five strong put in their appearance for work. Barring and fielding practice has been in order during the week, although many hard licks must be taken the remainder of the week, as the team leaves here Monday, on a four day southern trip, including games with Johnston School, Woodberry Forest and V. P. L. With one day's rest at the school they will play their first home game of the season against Central High of Washington. Prospects for the season in each department are looking good, and authorities at the College have made it known that George Mabry, former coach, will return in the near future. At present the work is under the guidance of D. J. McDevitt, star third baseman. Both infield and outfield have strong competition, and with good weather, we hope to see the institution represented by a strong nine. The pitching is well balanced, and with the return of "Little" White, will make it much better. Following is the hard schedule of games for the season, which has been prepared by Manager I. O. Kibler: AT HOME. March 28, Central High School. April 7, Pendleton. April 10, Baltimore City College. April 14, Jefferson School. April 19, Stanton Military Academy. April 25, Massanutten Academy. Their outlook for the season grows brighter each day, and it is expected that several new stars will develop this season. The pitching staff looks better this year than it has for some time. "Dutch" Lion, a member of the freshman class, Ed Roads, and several others are showing to advantage. As yet, no coach for the season has been decided upon, and for the present will be conducted by the students themselves. Manassas High like Eastern, open their season the latter part of this month.

AMERICAN HIGHWAY ASSOCIATION

Enormous development of the financial side of the road movement shown in the fact that 1230 counties in the United States now have outstanding highway bonds aggregating a quarter of a billion dollars, according to the Official Road Year Book for 1914, to be issued by the American Highway Association in Washington early in March.

The fact that the counties mentioned have bonded themselves to the extent of a quarter of a billion dollars in order to improve and maintain their roads is only one of the surprising developments of the road movement as shown by the latest Year Book. A stupendous new business is shown to have grown up in the United States as a result of the road boom—a business employing more than one thousand persons in actual supervision of the roads, in addition to the increase in banking business, due to handling bonds, increases in the road machinery and materials, and the other by-products of the boom.

Progress reports from every state highway department comprise a chapter in the new Year Book which shows that only eight states have failed to establish highway departments, while in several of the states, notably New York, Illinois, Iowa and New Mexico the tendency towards centralization has progressed so far that practically all the work of road improvement is being done under state supervision. The Year Book which is a complete inventory of road statistics and other necessary data sets forth that approximately twenty thousand miles of roads have been constructed under state supervision in the past year.

Highway officials in the various states have already applied for the latest edition of the Year Book, which gives a digest of state road laws; shows the use of convicts on the public roads; bond issues; mileage, appropriations, directories of officials, manufacturers and contractors; types of roads; full list of books, documents and authorities; description of foreign road systems; highway engineering in colleges; construction of bridges and culverts; and reviews of all the addresses and technical articles which appeared in 1913. J. E. Pennybacker, secretary of the American Highway Association, whose president is Logan Waller Page, director of the Federal Office of Public Roads, is editor of the Year Book, and Charles P. Light is business manager.

PRODUCE BY PARCEL POST

Postmaster General Bureau has amended the postal laws and regulations so as to enable farmers and truckers to ship their products by parcel post in a less expensive manner than heretofore under the old regulations.

Butter, eggs, fruits, berries, vegetables, dressed poultry and other articles in parcels weighing more than twenty pounds and up to fifty pounds for shipment within the first and second zones approximately 150 miles can now be packed in boxes and crates similar to those generally used when shipping by express.

These large parcels will now be handled outside of mail bags. Packages of these articles weighing twenty pounds or less are required, as heretofore, to be so packed that they can be safely handled in bags with other mail matter.

CONFERENCE OF FARMERS AND BUSINESS MEN

A controversy or discussion is always interesting, and when this difference of opinion is between strong men, it is doubly interesting. It seems from late reports that Dr. John Lee Coulter of the United States Census Bureau, Washington, D. C., and Mr. Harry Hodgson, Secretary and Treasurer of the Empire State Chemical Company of Athens, Ga., do not agree as to what is best for the farmer in co-operation. Last year at the Conference of Farmers and Business Men at Richmond, Va., a debate was precipitated which was not on the program. So much interest centered around this debate that the officers of the Conference decided that it should take a prominent place on the program this year when the Conference meets at Louisville, Ky., April 7-8-9-10.

Both of these men are thoroughly prepared on the topic of co-operation. Dr. Coulter has lately returned from a trip abroad as Secretary of the American Commission, which had for its work a first-hand study of rural credits and co-operation. During this trip he had ample opportunity to see what a great number of the most modern European nations were doing for the farmer. He has also been at the head of the Agricultural Department and has written standard books on the subject of rural co-operation.

Mr. Hodgson is a very busy business man and as Secretary of the company which handles a business of five hundred thousand dollars annually, knows something of rural credit. That he is a student and a close student of rural life, is shown by the fact that he has been a member of this Conference for Farmers and Business Men for some time and also the Secretary of the Business Men's Section. While quite a young man, he graduated from the University of Georgia, and has since served on one of the Executive Committees of that state of learning.

With these two men and the farmers and business men in attendance at the Conference lined up behind them, it seems certain that this subject will receive a thorough thrashing out. It is the hope of the Conference that some very definite platform can be outlined as the outcome of this debate between strong men.

CROW PROVES ALIBI

While we do not number the crow among our good birds, still we do not consider your correspondent warranted in such wholesale destruction. We are willing to concede his pulling some corn, also his occasional attacks on the nests and young of poultry and other little birds. At the same time he does an immense amount of good.

Experts paid by the government to look into his habits have watched and cut open hundreds of them and they find his food consists largely of cut worms, wire worms, white grubs and others. A crow is a clean animal that carries. Furthermore he will assist in food supply.

We saw we want eat crow but as meat hunger pinches more and more, we surely will! We will be making your work like they do in England. Send for copy of the Government Bird Book. W. B. DOAK, Secretary, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

WORDS FROM HOME

When a Manassas citizen comes to the front, telling his friends and neighbors of his experience, you can rely on his sincerity. The statements of people residing so far away places do not command your confidence. Home endorsement is the kind that backs Doan's Kidney Pills. Such testimony is convincing. Investigation proves it true. Below is a statement of a Manassas resident. No stronger proof of merit can be had.

W. L. Rector, tinsmith, Center of Manassas, Va., says: "I suffered from a lame and sore back for many years. At times I could not get through with my day's work. I also had trouble with the kidney secretions. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me and I have had no more need of kidney medicine. I am glad to confirm the endorsement I gave Doan's Kidney Pills after they cured me." For sale by all dealers. Price 50¢ each. WELCOME THE WIGS

If there is anything in the wigs which issues from the establishments—attractive at least themselves—their fannable to keep their hold upon respectability if they wear wigs to match their rows, be the gowns red or pink or green.

It is reported from St. Petersburg that at a court ball the wife of the earl's chief of staff wore a wig of burnished gold, "from which stood out a great plume of golden feathers." Princess Gorkhakov wore a magenta wig with a high diadem of gold and pearls. The wig of Mme. Fedoseeff, of violet, "fashion is a ticklish subject to mention upon. One is too apt to object to it or to joke about it simply because it moves so swiftly that the mind is bewildered in the task of becoming used to the dioscopic changes. Another ailment is that on condemning fashionable on the ground of its beauty. As if beauty were a fired thing like a tree! Instead, it is a cloud of infinite variety, like a cloud.

For these and other reasons, we are going to say that we like the idea of women in pink and purple and polychromatic wigs. The world has been a very gray place of recent weeks. It needs color. It hungers for color. It will be a pleasant sight on one of these dull March days to see a woman who is wearing a wig of a bright color.

A wig the match of a jay's top-knot will bring light and joy and laughter into any room. One cannot imagine a woman managing to exist in the world without a wig of some color. The too, think of the usefulness of a wig. While not working, it may be sweeter and more pleasing to wear and employed as a change place for the cat. Examine the fact—THE DEMOCRAT has the news while it is news.

SOUTHERN'S TRACK INSPECTION.

Details of the methods by which every rail in the Southern Railway's 7,036 miles of track is annually subjected to the closest inspection are given in the March issue of the Southern News Bulletin in an article telling of the steps which the Southern has taken to prevent derailments resulting from broken rails.

The system of inspection which was adopted over two years ago is believed the most rigid and effective possible. The work is under the direction of the district engineers and division roadmasters and is done by the track supervisors and section foremen who closely scrutinize each and every rail while on their hands and knees and with eyes close enough to the rail to detect the slightest discoverable tendency toward weakness or failure and wherever such are found the rail is immediately removed. Detailed reports are made on each rail left in the track so that comparison can be made at the next year's inspection.

The management of the Southern Railway feels that this rigid inspection of every rail over which its traffic moves embodies every possible step toward the prevention of rail failures, a feature of railway operation to which the officials of leading American railways have been giving the closest study during the past few years.

SUPREME COURT AFFAIRS ORDER.

In an opinion handed down by the Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia affirming the order of the Hustings Court of Richmond, involving the right of the Commonwealth to tax municipal utilities, it was held that such properties are exempt from taxation. The decision is of interest to such cities in Virginia as own their own gas, water or light plants and settles a question of long standing.

MOVEMENT OF APPLES FROM VIRGINIA VALLEY

A report just prepared by Traveling Freight Agent C. M. Boram, Strasburg, Va., shows that during the past season 71,000 barrels of apples, or about 470 carloads, were moved from the Harrisonburg-Manassas Branch of the Southern Railway. Of this movement 35,000 barrels moved South to Virginia, Carolina and Southeastern territory; 23,000 barrels were exported through New York and 10,000 barrels were sent to Eastern cities. Mr. Boram states that this 1913 crop was greatly reduced by the hard freeze of last April and that a crop of 300,000 barrels is expected for 1914. Trees in many young orchards along this line will come into bearing within the next few years and it is expected that the volume of the apple business from this section will increase rapidly every year. For the past two years the entire crop marketed by members of the North Shenandoah Fruit Growers' Association has been shipped to Glasgow, Scotland. At the present rate of increase it is expected that in a few years the greatest apple producing sections of the United States, as Southern News Bulletin.

FLAGS TO BE RETURNED TO VIRGINIA

Several flags which were captured from Virginia troops in the Confederate army will be returned to Virginia authorities this spring by Gov. Fielder, of New Jersey.

Congressman Glass was recently requested by Col. W. F. Graves, of Vinton, Va., to ascertain if he could have returned by New Jersey a Confederate flag belonging to Col. Graves' command, captured at Gettysburg. Mr. Glass took the matter up with Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to the President, who sent to Mr. Glass a letter received from the Adjutant General of New Jersey, W. F. Sedler, Jr., who writes that he thinks "it is the intention of Gov. Fielder to return this one flag in person, together with one or two other flags that we have, to the State of Virginia sometime during the spring."

The people of Manassas fail to realize the opportunity offered them by the Washington Suburban Electric Company.

This firm has gone to much expense in coming here, in opening and stocking their store, and to continue their stay they must be patronized or conditions will force them to leave Manassas which, should this come to pass, will later be regretted by those who have not taken advantage of having their home and building fitted for electric lighting which is done for very reasonable prices.

All of the work being guaranteed. The wiring of several homes in Manassas is enough to insure any one of the class of work this firm has done.

A demonstration is given at each home after the work is completed. Now is the time to get your wiring done and the opportunity for satisfaction.
