GREAT HORSE AND AUTO RACES TO FEATURE THIS YEAR'S STATE FAIR

Five days of horse-racing and one day of automobile contests comprise the main program of the Virginia State Fair this year. The annual order of these events has been reversed, and the auto races will be held on opening day, Saturday, October 1, leaving the five days beginning Tuesday, October 4, open for horse-racing.
The automobile races of last year proved one of the most popular attractions of the fair. Coming on the first day of the 1921 show, they will undoubtedly attract the largest crowd that has ever attended the fair on opening day.
The Virginia State Fair Association is now a member of the Great State Fair Automobile Circuit, which includes the greatest racing held in this country each October. This means that visitors to Richmond on October 1 will be treated to the best horse and auto racing of the season.

For Midsummer LYONS VELVET HATS

Advertisement for Lyons Velvet Hats. Text: 'If history is to be believed, women at one time wore straw hats in summer, and velvet hats in winter. Woman is a creature of moods and by no means dependent upon the weather man to tell her what to wear. In winter she wears hats of straw or lace—in summer, behold, she dons the chapeau of velvet. Because it is becoming almost always, and because it seems peculiarly adapted to seaside wear we excuse the inconsistency of lovely woman's fads, and applaud her in her chic velvet hat though the weather be 100 degrees in the shade. These new models are in large, medium, and small shapes. The color list includes blue, brown, pheasant, cherry, taupe and black. The trimmings are of pin ostrich, in fancy effects. The Prices Begin at $6.00 and Range Up to $22.50. Kann's—Second Floor.'

PROTECT FORESTS

County Supervisors, in Regular Session Tuesday, Appropriated $200 for Pay of County Fire Warden.
One of the most important items of business transacted at the September meeting of the county board of supervisors, held at the court house Tuesday, was the appropriation of $200 toward the payment of a fire warden for Prince William County for the coming year. This appropriation is to be used for an appropriation for the purchase of equipment, and will result in the appointment of a chief fire warden for the county at an early date. The chief warden, it is understood, will be appointed on the first of October. Tuesday was based on the interest that was aroused in Prince William during the latter half of September by J. A. Humphrey, chief fire warden of Fauquier county, with his home at Reston.

EASEMENT IS ASKED

Confederate Memorial Park Management Says Land-owners of Battlefield Determine Extent of Memorial Plans.
According to Major E. W. R. Ewing, of Ballston, Va., and Washington, president of Manassas Battlefield Confederate Park, Inc., who addressed a small group of the town hall in Manassas Saturday evening, 'not more land, but more opportunities and more cooperation are the present prominent needs of the movement.'

WATER RATES UP

Several new ordinances were passed at Monday night's meeting of the town council, which was in session from 7:30 until midnight. One of these ordinances calls for raising the water rates to 60 cents per thousand gallons, with a minimum of $3.50 a quarter. Another of the ordinances passed calls for the tuberculosis testing of all cows which furnish milk that is offered for sale in Manassas. This new milk ordinance supersedes the old one, which has been repealed.

Major Ewing then asked those present to think of what these plans will mean to the community. But he emphasized that the park management is not wedded to any one spot which to build these splendid replicas, this miniature Southland.
The speaker said that there is now under way a movement, headed by one of the rich men of the county; to enlarge this park in a sum not less than one million dollars. Mr. Ewing said that, of course, he did not know that this endowment would materialize, but that he had faith in it. He said that subject to reaching this million dollar mark, there is now over three hundred acres being offered by the U. D. C. as memorials to Confederate and war veterans who have passed on, was referred to the street committee.
Councilman C. M. Larkin spoke of the laying of a permanent road bed through the main section of the town. This was referred to the street committee.
The application of the Manassas Coal Company to place wagon scales on West street was referred because of the narrowness of the street at the point in question.
Councilman M. Bruce Whitmore reported settlement having been made with Ex-Sergeant R. M. Weir.
The meeting was adjourned to meet again on Monday evening, October 10, at 7:30 o'clock.

THE END OF A PERFECT DAY

DEATH OF WILLIAM HAMMOND

Younger Son of Mrs. Margaret Maddox. Hammon was Killed Accidently.
Another grim tragedy resulting from the careless driving of a motor car occurred at Takoma Park, Md., about 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, when a high-powered automobile struck and instantly killed William Edward Hammon, the seven-year-old son of Mrs. Margaret Maddox Hammon and the late Dr. R. Meade Hammon.
It is said that the death of young Hammon was due to the carelessness of the driver of the 'trolley car,' who while driving was talking to someone across the street and did not see the little fellow until it was too late to avert the fatal accident.

TEACHERS MEET

Nearly Every White Teacher in County in Attendance Upon Three-Day Institute in Session at Manassas.
The twelfth annual session of the Prince William County Teachers' Association convened Wednesday, with seventy-three of a possible seventy-five white teachers of the county in attendance the first day.
The program opened with the singing of 'America,' and with the Hodge Beautiful, with Mrs. B. T. H. Sledge at the piano. Div. Supt. Chas. R. McDonald then led in prayer, after which he opened the meeting with words of welcome to the teachers. He spoke of the wonderful opportunity teachers now have to take their places in the great world movements, which are now confronting them, especially in re-organizing their responsibilities in training the youth of the land at this critical time, following upon the recent world-wide struggles.

At the close of Mr. McDonald's talk, Prof. I. N. H. Beahm, of Nokesville, favored the teachers with a recitation of Edgar Allen Poe's poem, 'Annabel Lee,' which was much enjoyed and enthusiastically recited.
Then followed an interesting round table conference, in which many vital matters were discussed. The two main issues brought before the institute in this discussion were:
1. What can be done with pupils who are not prepared for a grade but whose parents insist upon a promotion?
2. Should pupils be kept back in a grade because of failure in one subject?
Miss E. H. Osborn, Mrs. A. L. Henry, Mrs. T. E. H. Dickens, Mrs. F. J. Chandler, Miss Larson, Mrs. E. D. Wessler, Miss Minnie Swart, Mrs. J. E. Jordan, Mrs. Gibson, Miss Grace Moran, Supt. McDonald, Prof. Beahm, Prof. Nolly, Mr. Shumate and others discussed these experiences in dealing with cases of these kinds and suggested plausible methods of solving such problems.

GOOD-SIZED AUDIENCE OF BOTH REPUBLICAN SPEAKERS HERE

Mr. J. H. C. Grady, one of the leading republican speakers in the present campaign, will deliver an address in Conner's hall Monday afternoon, at 2 o'clock.
The scholarship, which was to have been awarded by the alumni of the Manassas high school this season, to the student from some district other than Manassas, who passed the best competitive examination, will not be awarded until next spring, it having been deemed most advisable to postpone the examinations until then. The treasurer of the alumni association reports that about seventy dollars of this scholarship fund has been raised.

HOLIDAY WILL BUY EASTERN

Only the formality of a director's meeting holds up the transfer of the Eastern College-Conservatory property from Dr. H. U. Roop, of York Neck, to President R. H. Holiday, of the local school for girls. When Mr. Holiday's feet took over Eastern, last spring, it was on a lease arrangement, with privilege of purchasing. It speaks words of President Holiday's opinion of Manassas and the outlook for Eastern that he has so soon availed himself of the privilege of purchasing this school. The reception attended local friends and patrons of Eastern, last Friday evening at the conclusion of a well rendered chapel program, was a very enjoyable affair. Fruit punch was served as refreshments.
