GROCERIES-

Fresh and Moderatly Priced

It is not the aim of this grocery to buy the cheapest possible goods and to lead you to believe that you are getting extraordinary bargains in catables. Rather, we buy on the basis of quality first, and then see that the price is as low as this quality will permit. And this same practice we exercise in selling the groceries, fresh vegetables, fruits, etc., that you will find here awaiting your order.

Are you, dear reader, aware how fortunate Prince William is in race itself. having a good home demonstration agent? Maude Radford Warren, noted writer, in an article entitled "Home-Bureau Neighbors," in The Country Gentleman for January 14th, says there are but 725 counployed (in Virginia there are approximately 30 counties wide-awake served its purpose in stand-off com- toilet soaps. It is enough to recognize the wisdom of assisting their womenfolk to become more efficient and happier) and, as you know, Prince William is per cent hand to hand work and per- ing in preventing

Miss Warren's able article, written from actual observation, gives | Along about 1345 an old monk found gene finds another graphic description of some of the ways in which a home demonstra-tion agent assists in the development of farm and small-town women. GOOD FOR YOU. MISS OLIVIA!

All who are the least interested in children and young folks and their development and growth along wholesome, helpful lines will enjoy reading." History of My Crop," a composition written by Olivia Athey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Athey, of near Manassas, has found a wider war-time daylight signal rockets. Now has found a wider war-time daylight signal rockets. Now

Before you say, "Oh, I don't-care about gardening and canning," let us hasten to point out that the most interesting thing about Miss Olivia's article is not the recording of unusually successful canning club work-during the past season, though this will gain, and rightly, the admiration of many. It's the spirit of joy with which this your maiden held fast to her club work in addition to assuming a great many of the duties of the household during the long illness of her mother last summer that radiates with such splendor from every line of her soulful little composition.

It does all of us good to read such a sweet, fragrant recording of the accomplishments of a young girl. Rather rare, is it not, in these parlous times to run across such an example of joy, on the part of a girl in arising to the occasion and turning off work worthy of the efforts of a grown weman?

Miss Olivia, would there were more of your caliber in Prince William and the nation! May God grant your desire that you will be permitted to finish the four years' canning club work without delay, and may you ever find joy in doing to the best of your ability whatever becomes your duty!

THROUGH THE LONG NIGHT.

In health, the loss of dear ones or hard earned property—these and similar misfortunes fall to the lot of man, often with little or n preliminary warning. At such times life is seriously questioned as to its worth-whileness. Try as we may, the justice of many of these visitations we can not figure out. And yet, based on our inmost convictions, behind all must be a great plan, the mystery of which it is not given us to fathom. Hope, eternal hope, is one of God's greatest gifts to man. Through the long night hope enables us to abide the coming of the dawn, when we know the sun will shine and the doubts and fears and misfortunes which have infested the darkness and which we have greatly magnified during the night, will be overshadowed by the bright light of the All-Wise.

A FINE TIME TO PLAN THE GARDEN.

January and February are fine months to lay plans for the garden for the coming spring and summer. With the busy fall and winter seasons past, the seed catalogues for 1922 can now be perused with ample leisure, and the profit will show when one really gardens later. To the experienced, no warning need be given as to placing great hopes on growing tomatoes as big as buckets, or egg plants the size of footballs, as the beautiful illustrations sometimes lead the uninitiated to expect. To the inexperienced, it may be well to hint that the old stand-bys should be planted mainly, with but minor attention given to experimenting with more or less untried types and varieties of garden crops. This holds good especially where one wants to garden for profit as well as for pleasure and recreation.

Whether or not you believe that the average young girl of today shows a decided lack of the proper home training, you will find meat for thought in the article entitled "Peril in Jazz," found in another column in this issue of the NEWS? Mrs. Gene Stratton-Porter does not write just to be writing and is by no means of small mental caliber. Mothers and fathers, read what she has to say about modern girls.

A WORTHY COUNTY INSTITUTION

The National Bank of Manassas, the oldest and strongest banking establishment in Prince William. is preeminently a county institution. While located at Manassas, the county seat, and where it can most ably serve every section, it is by no means localized in its interests or unappreciative of the stabilizing influence it can and does exert over every community of Prince William.

For over a quarter of a century we have been recognized at the one place above all others in Prince William where you can deposit your money and valuables in the knowledge that they will be safe from burglars and fire; where personal service is accorded all accounts, large or small; where advice on financial matters can be obtained and where drafts and letters of credit are properly drawn to meet our customers' requirements.

The roster of our customers shows that citizens of Prince William and of many sections of adjacent counties take advantage of our service; that the stability and splendid financial condition and modern equipment of this institution are not unappreciated by a large clientele, scattered over a large area. Were this not true. we would not today maintain, as we have since our organization, the banking leadership for this county.

Strength, especially financial strength, does count in business. but no where more than in banking. Do not overlook this in laying out your financial plans for the year now beginning. Do not overlook the fact that you will profit most by selecting a big, strong institution like ours to handle your business, in complete confidence that your account will be safeguarded at all times and that your interests will receive that personal service to which you are entitled.

Now Is the Time To Have Us Overhaul and Repair Your Car

After a strenuous season's usage, your car is most likely in need of a mechanic's attention. There is no better time to have us look it over than right now.

An automobile, it matters not whether it's a Ford or a more expensive make, requires a certain amount of expert attention from time to time. Particularly is this true at the close of the long open sesson. For most motorists de not want to be deprived of the use of their car any more than can be helped during the spring, summer and winter. The consequence is that many minor troubles are likely to develop, to be carried over into the winter in aggreyated

Take advantage of this period when you do not use your car a great deal anyway, to have us give it a thorough overhauling and to make such repairs as are found to be necessary.

Highway Costs and The Motor Carriers

All authorities on good roads agree that the rising cost of road maintenance is due in large measure to the steady increase in the number of motor vehicles that are used as common carriers to transport passengers and freight.

The cost of road repairs in New England, according to The World's Work, has advanced from $100-per mile to $1500 per mile since motor carriers came into general use. Our State Commissioner of Highways says that these vehicles have also caused a great increase in road costs in Virginia.

only recently said: "We can and must place them under State legislation and control if we are to safeguard our highways against destruction caused by uncontrolled growth of this traffic."

The Secretary-Treasurer of the Virginia Good Roads Association

Properly regulated by the State, motor carriers would serve the public much more effectively than under the present go-25-you-please

Rules should be prescribed in the interest of road protection

Service should be controlled to meet the people's needs, as is now done with other common carriers.

Personal responsibility of drivers and owners should be insisted

A reasonable tax on carnings should be imposed, in order to meet that part of the cost of highway repairs which motor carrier
