

ASSEMBLY BALL DRAWS CROWD

Annual Dance of Woman's Club a Beautiful Affair.

The most brilliant celebration of the recent holiday season was the "Assembly" sponsored by the Woman's Club of Manassas, on Friday evening, December 28, in the high school gymnasium. This is an annual affair of the club, and is fast becoming a most outstanding event in northern Virginia, with every section well represented among those present.

The gymnasium was beautifully decorated with tall pines glowing with Christmas bulbs and a multi-colored lights forming a canopy.

During the intermission a number of parties were held. Among those entertaining were Miss Anna Bruce Whitmore, Miss Lucy Gibson, and Mrs. J. P. Lyon.

PROGRESSIVE DINNER GIVEN BY JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB

The Junior Woman's Club entertained forty-eight guests at a progressive dinner given on Sunday evening, December 30. The first course of hors-d'oeuvres was held at the home of Miss Madeline McCoy, and the guests began arriving at 6:30 o'clock. The table was tastefully decorated with candles and pink roses, with many delicacies arranged around them.

At 7:30 Miss Esther Warren Pattie, president of the club, announced that the next course would be served at the home of Miss Rose Ratcliffe, where Mrs. Ratcliffe and Rose presided at the soup bowls, which were placed upon a most attractively decorated table. The consommé was unusually delicious, and it was extremely hard to get the crowd to progress to the next course, which was held at the Prince William Hotel.

At the hotel, Mrs. Stuart Pattie and her daughter, Miss Esther Warren Pattie, received the guests for the main course. The tables were decorated with poinsettias, candles, and little green Christmas trees. After everyone was seated, the course, consisting of turkey, dressing, potatoes au gratin, and cranberries, was brought in. The fun ran high, and the pranks were fast and thick at this course.

The salad course was held at the home of the Misses Gibson. The three sisters alternated at presiding at the salad bowls, where they served their guests with a very tasty Waldorf salad and dainty little crackers. From there the guests were asked to go to the home of Misses Walser and Virginia Conner for the dessert, which was most delicious chocolate ice box cake, also fixed on a very attractive table.

After the dessert, the guests returned to Miss McCoy's home for demi tasse. Mrs. McCoy and her daughter presided at the table.

WINNERS IN XMAS CONTEST

The outdoor Christmas decoration contest sponsored by the Garden Section of the Woman's Club was an event of real Christmas spirit which was extended by all who participated.

Mrs. Ayleene Guthrie, chairman of the committee, announces the winners of the contest, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lyon, whose decorations were very artistically arranged. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hynson and Mrs. Margaret Lewis are given honorable mention as their decorations, too, were quite tasteful.

The committee reported that it was quite difficult to make a decision as all of the decorations were lovely and very attractive.

LOCAL GROUPS APPEAL FOR REHEARING

The Dairy Festival Association and Bull Run Grange have recently joined hands with the Cooperative Milk Producers Association and representative dairymen in the State in passing resolutions to ask for rehearing in the matter of the re-establishment of the Virginia Milk and Cream Act.

It seems that a recent decision of the Supreme Court of Appeals on the case of Reynolds vs. the Milk Commission of Virginia, that this act was held unconstitutional. The result of this has been a wide-spread dissatisfaction among those interested in the dairy industry.

HALL IS GIVEN STATE POSITION

Succeeds Carson as Conservation Chairman.

Governor Peery Monday appointed the new Conservation and Development Commission and within a few hours Wilbur C. Hall, of Leesburg, named as chairman, was in Richmond, ready and eager to go to work.

Other members of the body which may take office officially are D. D. Hull, of Roanoke; Marshall B. Booker, of Halifax; Braden Vandevanter, of Norfolk, and C. S. Carter, of Bristol.

"I appreciate the opportunity to serve Virginia as chairman of the Conservation and Development Commission and will dedicate any efforts in developing the resources of a great commonwealth," Mr. Hall said.

Making this brief statement before going into a protracted conference with Governor Peery, he added that he expected to start work "as soon as I can find the clerk of a court not too engrossed in celebrating New Year's day to administer the oath of office."

He expects to move his home from Loudoun County to Richmond immediately, he said. His policies as head of the commission will be determined only after he has made a thorough study of the organization and of the task confronting it.

Mr. Hall, the second oldest member of the House of Delegates in point of service, tendered his resignation from that body to the Governor Monday, giving up with it all his regular committee assignments and appointments to interim committees or commissions. He resigned, too, as a member of the commission of fisheries, giving Governor Peery the task of appointing a new member to that body.

Succeeding William E. Carson, of Riverton, who has been the volunteer head of the Conservation and Development Commission ever since it was organized, Mr. Hall becomes its first full-time, paid chairman at a salary of $6,000, subject to the cuts made in salaries of all state officials.

His associates on the commission, appointed Monday by Governor Peery, include only one member of the former commission, Mr. Booker, who is named for a two year term, and who succeeded Rufus G. Roberts, of Culpeper, who resigned from the commission when named postmaster at Culpeper in November, 1933.

The other two year man on the new commission is Mr. Hull. Other appointees for four years are Mr. Vandevanter and Mr. Carter.

LOCAL FOLKS SPEND HOLIDAYS IN PENNSYLVANIA

On Sunday, December 23, Mrs. Annie O. Caudle and daughter, Miss Edith, left for Pennsylvania by bus to spend the Christmas holidays with friends and relatives. They were greeted by many friends and relatives.

They were also invited out to an Italian home of Mr. and Mrs. De Festino for a Christmas feast. They were served to many delicious dishes consisting of turkey, chicken cooked in Italian fashion, Italian soup, spaghetti, wine, olives, figs and cheese which came from Italy. Many other delicious dishes which they enjoyed immensely.

They have a very charming daughter, also a very intelligent little son. They returned home on Saturday accompanied by Mr. Carlyle Caudle who has been a cowboy in the State of Colorado for two years. He also spent Christmas holidays in Pennsylvania. He is home now on his vacation.

They received many beautiful gifts. When they returned home Santa Claus was waiting for them there with his big bag of gifts.

MARY'S ROCK TUNNEL

By Arthur Davidson

When the engineers in charge of construction on the Skyline Drive came to Mary's Rock Mountain, a short distance south of Panorama, they found that they could not route the highway along the slope without making tortuous reverse curves with short radii and marring the mountain side with a deep gash. So they drilled a tunnel through the mountain.

Mary's Rock Tunnel is one of the picturesque features of the Drive. Entering it is like plunging into the heart of the hills after viewing their beauty from without. High above each entrance is the sloping mountain side with its covering of forest and through the dark interior may be seen the far away half moon of the opposite portal.

The tunnel was drilled through solid stone—a hard tough volcanic rock known geologically as Gabbro. It is something over 650 feet long and wide enough to carry a broad double driveway. It took a hundred men fifty days to make the bore and cost the Federal government nearly $50,000. William E. Carson, chairman of the State Commission on Conservation and Development, says it compares favorably with the highway tunnels constructed in the Zion, Yosemite and Yellowstone National Parks. Viewed within, the tunnel is serated by rugged arches formed by successive layers of stone, the general effect being somewhat like that produced by the geological formations found in caves. Variation of temperature is slight and the air is always fresh and pure. Natural conditions have been undisturbed to a remarkable degree, there being nothing but the straight smooth-highway to suggest the handiwork of man.

The same effort to leave natural conditions undisturbed will be made at the north and south entrances of the tunnel. Landscaping will consist mainly in the planting of natural vegetation and the building of a rock wall above the north portal to prevent the sloughage of unstable material into the roadway below.

The plan to build through Mary's Rock Mountain to avoid dangerous curves and excessive grades was given approval by Thomas H. McDonald, chief of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads. H. K. Bishop, chief of the Division of Construction in charge of the building of Skyline Drive, had general supervision of the work, and William M. Austin was the highway engineer in direct charge of the work.

PATRONS LEAGUE HONORS FACULTY

The social and recreation committee of the High School Patrons' League was hostess to a beautifully appointed tea on the afternoon of Dec. 20, given in honor of the faculties of Manassas High and Bennett Schools and other school officials.

The dining room of the domestic science department was artistically decorated in the Christmas colors of green and red where the invited guests were received from 3 to 5 o'clock.

Mrs. Stella Boatwright, chairman of the committee, poured tea, while Mrs. R. L. Byrd, Mrs. B. F. Knox and Mrs. J. W. Lyons were in the reception line. Mrs. A. A. Hoof, president of the league, ably assisted the committee.

If you wish to be examined in the clinic, secure a written request for same from your physician and then see the tuberculosis nurse in your community for a clinic appointment.

PLAY AT OCCOQUAN IS MUCH ENJOYED

"Introducing Susan," a rollicking farce in three acts given by the Athletic Association of Occoquan District High School, was accorded high acclaim by an appreciative audience when presented in the high school auditorium Friday evening, December 21. The play lived up to its reputation of being a successful comedy by keeping the audience in a continuous uproar of laughter from curtain rise to curtain fall.

Members of the cast were complimented highly for their respective interpretations of delightfully varied roles.

The cast: Dick Heatherby, a young college professor, Ford Lovelace; Susan, his wife, Margaret Reid; Buddy Chalmers, a football player, Leslie Bourne; Babs Boswell, Buddy's girl friend, Lillian Winfree; Hillington Ross, an old admirer of Susan's, Lawrence Hoover; Diana Mayfield, an old sweetheart of Dick's, Georgia Pierce; Violet, the cook, Charlotte Lovelace; Cyclone, Violet's "little" brother, Wallace Bourne; Aunt Cordelia Quackenbush, Dick's wealthy aunt, Sara Bubb; Jim Donovan, Susan's quick-tempered father, Jim McInteer; Mike, a hospital attendant, Robert Mooney; Ike, another one, Edward Donovan.

The play was directed by Alonzo Haga, of the high school faculty.

During intermission a most delightful buffet supper was served. The affair was thoroughly enjoyed by the large number of guests present.

IN DANGER OF LOSING SIGHT

Mr. A. A. Muddiman is at the Episcopal Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital where an operation on one of his eyes is imminent in an effort to save it as result of a big lump of lime having lodged in his eye several days ago. The inflammation became severe at once and he was taken to the hospital on the advice of his physician.

NOKESVILLE FOLKS HAVE BAD ACCIDENT

When Mr. Ralph Beahm of Nokesville was returning from Washington on Saturday about noon with his mother and sister, Ella, and just after they entered the intersection at Hatmark at the new cut-off around Fairfax, they were struck by a car driven by a New Jersey physician going toward Washington. It is said he applied his breaks too suddenly, resulting in his car sidwiping the Beahm car, knocking it into the ditch.

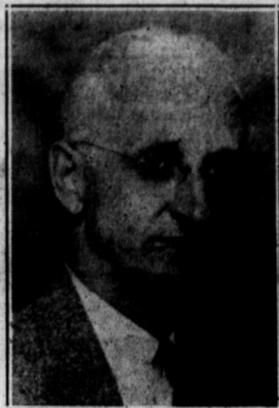

Mrs. Beahm who was seated by her son was taken to a house nearby and was given first aid treatment by the doctor who had just struck their car. He is stated not to have disclaimed any fault in the matter but proceeded on his way as he was in quite a hurry. Mrs. Beahm was taken to Washington at once where she was treated by Dr. Harry Davies.

Mrs. Beahm is still in Washington where she is resting quietly at her daughter's apartment. Her nose is believed to be broken and her face and body badly bruised by the impact.

The car was towed back to Nokesville by Mr. E. C. Spitzer and is said to be almost completely demolished.

VIRGINIA TO GET U.S. ALLOTMENT

Fund Measures Up to Commission's Hopes.

State Highway Commissioner Henry G. Shirley this week received notification from Thomas A. MacDonald, chief of the United States Bureau of Public Roads, that Virginia's allocation for the 1935-36 fiscal year under the Federal aid highway program would be $2,278,475.

This is approximately the sum which Mr. Shirley has been expecting, but in order for Virginia to take advantage of the allocation the State must match the fund dollar for dollar in highway construction work which will give employment to the State's jobless.

Mr. Shirley has been worried for some time over the problem of where to obtain the necessary State funds for construction work in addition to the sums used for maintenance and for the State convict road force.

The letter from Mr. MacDonald disclosed that whereas Virginia is allotted $2,278,475 in Federal aid money, North Carolina is to get $2,938,657. Maryland is granted $1,025,870 and West Virginia $1,356,793. Like the Virginia allotment, the Maryland, North Carolina and West Virginia grants are on a matched fund basis.

The Federal Government will not count for matched fund purposes money spent on projects in which convict labor is used and Mr. Shirley has urged several times that the convicts—"a $3,000,000 a year burden"—be taken from the highway department and employed by the State in some other manner.

Governor Peery and State officials have opposed the transfer, however, and in any event it probably could not be effected except by act of the General Assembly, it was pointed out.

Mr. Shirley's most recent pronouncement upon the situation was that even if Virginia could not match the Federal funds on July 1, when they first became available, it might be possible to obtain the necessary State money some time during the 1935-36 fiscal year. The Federal allotment is available at any time during the year, and there is a meeting of the General Assembly scheduled for January, 1936.

Meanwhile, Mr. Shirley announced this week that all but about $500,000 of the $3,700,000 in Federal funds allotted Virginia for construction during the 1934-35 fiscal year has now been accounted for in contract lets for winter construction work. Contracts for the remaining projects planned for this year will be let within the next 30 days, Mr. Shirley said. The 1934-35 allotment was a direct grant and did not have to be matched by State funds.

Sadd and Mrs. Frank Gue were hostesses to the Bethlehem Good Housekeeping Club at the home of Mrs. Sadd on Grant avenue Dec. 19, at 2:30 p.m. The reception rooms were decorated in holly and other greens and throughout the afternoon the spirit of Christmas was made manifest by the singing of familiar carols such as "Joy to the World," "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear" and "Silent Night, Holy Night." A Christmas pageant, "The Youngest Shepherd," was read by Mrs. R. L. Byrd. Mrs. Thomas Broadus read from an appropriately decorated card and presented same to the presiding officer, Mrs. Sadd. WILL IMPROVE LEE AVENUE

School Board to Co-operate with Town.

The major matter of interest at the School Board meeting yesterday was the controversy over the subject of the use of the high school diamond by the Manassas Athletic Club.

Several delegations were present, both in favor and in opposition to the matter. After a lengthy hearing, a resolution was adopted by which the Board decided to co-operate with the Athletic Association but in taking such action, stated decisively that this should not be viewed as favoring Sunday baseball but rather that such matters are subject to civic jurisdiction where a controversy exists.

By virtue of this motion, the Manassas Athletic Club will permanently improve the local baseball diamond and will use it at such times as will not interfere with the high school games.

The committee authorized to evaluate the land on which the Haymarket High School will be built, reported favorably on negotiations with Mr. W. M. Jordan relative to such purchase.

Dorothy Walker, teacher of the Kettle Run School, tendered her resignation to the Board effective at once.

The Board authorized the installation of a new pump at Occoquan High School.

New libraries were allowed at Occoquan High and Quantico colored.

A letter from Town Manager W. F. Cocks, in which he asked for co-operation in the matter of the construction of curbing gutters on the north side of Lee avenue in front of the Bennett and Manassas High School buildings, was acted on favorably and such co-operation was promised.

The budget committee for 1935-1936 was appointed as follows: Mrs. Floyd H. McInteer, Messrs. D. J. Arrington, W. L. Lloyd and Professor R. C. Haydon.

A telephone was authorized installed in the Woodbine School.

Representatives of the Brown Community League appeared before the Board and asked for certain improvements. The Board approved these requests in general and appointed Professor Haydon and Mr. D. J. Arrington as a committee to investigate in greater detail.

CATHARPIN

Have you turned over that new leaf yet?

Catharpin has had a very pleasant and somewhat strenuous Christmas season but her biggest job came on New Year's day when all these "new leaves" had to be turned. You know it is a mighty fine thing sometimes to have a stopping or a turning point so that we may have an excuse to start in some other direction. The "New Leaf" idea has been in vogue as long as we can remember and seems to give us all an opportunity to make a change. Just what it all means is probably left to the fellow who turns it; but it evidently implies that we have smeared the old one up so badly with misdeeds, neglects, etc., that we are ashamed of it and want to get it out of sight as quickly as possible so that we welcome the opportunity to get a new start. Well, if that is our motive, there is hope. As our music teacher used to say—"If you make a mistake and know it, there is some hope; but if you make a mistake and don't know it, there is no hope." So with the "leaf turners," if we realize it is for the better, then, there is hope that the new one may be kept in better shape.

Miss M. Elma Latham, of Charlotte, N. C., is spending the holiday season among friends and relatives in the Catharpin neighborhood.

The Misses Ann Robertson and Anne Piercy were holiday guests of Miss Louie Strother, of Delaplane, Va.

Mrs. E. May Dogan, Mrs. Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Lynn, and Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Caldwell were mid-season dinner guests at Oakwood on Thursday of last week.

The Misses Frances and Ann Robertson of Lawn Vale entertained at dinner on Christmas day Misses Virginia and Anne Piercy and John Piercy of Gainesville, Miss Edith Morrison and brother, Reginald, of Berryville, and Mr. Billy Garrett of Haymarket.

Gov. Peery has made a "specific appeal" to the people of Virginia to uphold the law, which law, as he describes it, "is to promote temperance and to outlaw the bootlegger." Yea verily.

When "Repeal" was the order of the day, those advocating it proclaimed long and loud that if Prohibition could only be eliminated from the constitution the liquor question would be settled; no saloons would be allowed and drunkenness would be a thing of the past; that bootleggers could not longer operate, and the United States would be at peace. Wipe the fog off those spectacles and look straight through the lenses once.

The Governor opines, "As I see it, there is an abiding duty on all good citizens, not only to obey the law, but to help in its enforcement. Respect and obedience to the law are absolutely essential." Whom does he mean when he says "good citizens?" The "good citizens" have been obeying the law and trying to promote temperance all these years. The "well" need not a physician, but they that are "sick."

There is one thing, however, that seems to have promise in it. The courts used to be cluttered up with all manner of liquor cases, bootleggers, and all other kinds of kindred "leggers" and all escaped with the minimum punishment. Sentence would be pronounced "50 fine, 30 days in jail, jail sentence suspended." Now however, under the new law, trial justices are established in the counties who have jurisdiction over certain cases of the misdemeanor type, bootleg and other so-called minor offenses, and things are not so easy. By "CROOK."

When sentence is now pronounced it means exactly what it says. There is no longer any escape by hook or one who voted for repeal to see that their promises are made good. If the present law is the panacea for all the ills complained of, see that it is enforced. It's mighty hard, however, to understand how "temperance" can be promoted when saloons are open everywhere and liquor of all kinds can be purchased—legally—and without restraint; when the papers are full of seductive advertisements and alluring scenes where young boys and girls are pictured in most "delightful" surroundings, drinking and smoking and having a hot time in the old town. Yea verily!

Did any of you notice Franklin D. Roosevelt's picture, emblazoned large on the pages of the daily press advertising the benefits of liquor a few days ago?

The "shifting about" mentioned last week still continues and visiting and calling on one's friends and neighbors seems as popular as ever, and probably will so continue until the last vestige of his royal highness the "Turk" shall have disappeared. Among them we note—

Mrs. Frank Williams and Mr. William Shackelford of Shepherdstown, W. Va., spent several days with the McIntoshes last week.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Pattie and children spent the evening with the Caldwelles at Six Acres on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Akers of Rock Hill took turkey dinner with the Catharpin Lynns on Sunday. And in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Chas. R. McDonald came to their assistance and helped to clear away the "wreckage."

Mr. Henry Maddox and sister, Mrs. J. S. Tribble of Tecumseh, called to see the sick at Browers on Sunday.

Miss Bertha Pattie spent the weekend with her sister, Mrs. Briggs, in Washington.

Miss Ethel Hoffman of Deseret visited her sister, Mary, in Washington during the holidays.

Miss Frances Smith, daughter of Mr. A. M. Smith, of Gainesville, spent Thursday night with her friend, Miss Bertha Pattie, and attended the Young People's Union at Sudley of which organization they both are members.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Brower and family visited Mrs. Brower's mother at Larkinton on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. F. Brower of Purcellville were calling upon the sick again on Sunday.

Dr. and Mrs. Brower are both on the mend. Mrs. Brower, after a very severe week, suffering from pneumonia, is now thought to be convalescing but still close to the danger line. The doctor is feeling much better after an uncomfortable period suffering from flu.

Mrs. C. F. Caton and children have also had a visitation from the flu or some of its kindred ailments but all reported better at this writing.

The whole neighborhood seems to again be complaining. Every family almost seems to have some kind of an ailment or something to take the joy out of life. From the number of turkey's reported entering into the festivities of the season, one could not expect to hear much else than some aches and pains. These, however, are not easily disposed of.

Mr. E. S. Clary of Lawrenceville is visiting at the J. W. Alvey home in Catharpin this week. He, with Mrs. Clary, expects to return home Thursday.

As we now write, old 1934 has but a few hours to live until he shall have passed over the Western horizon and the end of another year with its joys and sorrows, victories and defeats, successes and failures all recorded, and the book closed for aye. No chance to change it; no opportunity to add to or subtract from, but just as we made it, so shall it stand forever engraved upon the pages of time. The only way to retrieve our good name lies within the New Year. See to it that our good resolutions are faithfully kept.

Better Seed

Quoting from S. G. Grubbs' talk at County Corn Show and article in January issue of Extension Division News: "Economic production may be said to be the result of good seed on good land, well cultivated. Good seed is the most often missing of the three and the easiest of the three necessities to control. Good livestock growers recognize the fact that it is necessary to have known blood sires but often indicate by their actions that they think seed is only a matter of secondary importance. Yet pedigree seed are just as essential as pedigree stock. No one at all familiar with practical farming would assert that there is no good seed except certified seed. There is, of course, good seed of all crops that is not eligible for certification. The same thing is true of livestock. Some good foundation stock may be found that could not be registered, but how is one to know? The appearance of the individual is not the answer. That would be overlooking entirely the powerful influence of heredity in either stock or seed.

Certification of seed, like registration of livestock, is a means of insurance of good blood lines. Good blood lines in seed are somewhat the same as in livestock. True to type, high-yielding ability, freedom from disease, a minimum of noxious weeds with some totally excluded, and adaptability to the state is a compact definition of certified seed.

The importance of origin of certain seed has been recognized ever since results at experiment stations have shown that seeds from some regions are better adapted than seed from elsewhere. As illustrations the Kansas and Utah alfalfa seed are recommended in our state, as are the Virginia, Tennessee, Maryland, Ohio and Michigan grown red clover seed. State seed certification goes further. While it insures adaptable seed, it also insures variety, purity and germination.

That consistent gains in yields may be made through the use of certified seed is shown by both state and national records. In Virginia, 19 comparisons of Reid's Yellow Dent corn showed a gain of 6 1-2 bushels per acre over ordinary seed and 35 tests with Boone County showed a gain of 4.8 bushels for the certified seed. U. S. tests from seven states reporting on 769 tests show that certified wheat showed a gain of four bushels per acre over ordinary wheat. Eight states reporting on 1365 tests showed a gain of 8.4 bushels per acre from certified oats, and six states reporting on 656 tests showed certified barley seed to have made a gain of 8 bushels per acre over ordinary seed.

WARNER BAXTER HAS ROMANTIC ROLE IN FILM

Described as a thrilling romance of death and danger in the skies, the new Fox Film production, "Hell in the Heavens," starring Warner Baxter, will begin an engagement at the Dixie Theatre in Manassas next Wednesday.

Star of a long and notable series of screen hits, including "The Cisco Kid," "Grand Canary," "In Old Arizona," "Stand Up and Cheer" and "Paddy the Next Best Thing," Warner Baxter is said to contribute his greatest performance in seasons to the new Fox film. This time he is cast as an American flier in the Lafayette Escadrille, who is promoted by death to fill his captain's place.

Haunted by "the fear that he will be afraid," the lieutenant struggles to combat it. Love helps, in the form of dashing Conchita Montenegro. At length Baxter meets the "Baron," most daring and dangerous of German aces, in close conflict high above the clouds—and solves his destiny through courage.

Fox has surrounded the star with one of the most distinguished supporting casts in years. Conchita Montenegro, who appeared with Baxter in "The Cisco Kid," is again his leading woman. Russell Hardie, seen recently in "Pursued" and "As the Earth Turns," has an important juvenile role.

Other members of the cast are Herbert Munding, Andy Devine, Ralph Morgan, Vince Barnett, William Stelling, J. Carrol Nash and Johnny Arthur.

"Hell in the Heavens" was directed by John Blystone, with Al Rockett named as producer.

Byron Morgan and Ted Parsons fashioned the screen play, adapting it from a play by Hermann Rossmann titled "The Ace." "The Ace" was a huge success last season on the London stage.

WEEKLY LAUGHS FROM WOODBRIDGE

All kinds of swell news broke in the last week or so but I was sick and couldn't get it in. I overate myself on Xmas. You know that old saying about his eyes being bigger than his er, ah stomach. Well that's me. Well let's see what all did happen. Ellis Dawson lost one good sandwich customer. I understand he has gone in for fresh fruit right off the tree.

Harvey Arnold is cutting quite a dash lately. He is generally considered the rumble seat champ.

T. P. has been giving some mighty good advice to the proprietor of the Don't Cuss Call Us garage. I don't know if he will take it or not.

Local Boy Enters Society But Can't Take It.

One of our local boys known as Charlie, was terraplaned into society by one of his terraplaning buddies but after a few society remarks such as "Did that rattle come with the car?" and others of a like nature Charlie threw in the sponge and left and spent the evening at the fire house. His buddy picked him up about 2 that night, waiting for a bus and still in a cold sweat.

This is about the last you will hear from me until spring as this is the time of year when the Forgotten Man Holes up like a bear until spring. The bear holes up because nature made him that way. The Forgotten Man, with his corn bread and fish, holes up because the roads get so bad he can't get out so he holes and makes the best of it. You say who is the Forgotten Man? Why the Forgotten Man (and in this case man means men, women and children) is the man that pays just as much taxes as the man on the main road but lives on the back roads. He pays just as often and just willingly but who, as far as the road heads, both state and county, are concerned, was never born. This has been going on for so long that it is taken for granted that it should be that way but even with the best breeding now and then you will find an off standard. One that is not like he should be.

I reckon I am an off standard because I don't think it should be like that. I think we should have a road that we could use the year round. I think the roads should be graded and graveled and kept in good shape. Well you say that takes a lot of money. I say sure it takes a lot of money. Next you want to know where is the money coming from? Well I want to know where the money is going to. We are paying taxes but the roads are getting worse. Heck with where the money is coming from but where is the money going? Now I sit down and write all this and it won't do a bit of good, in fact I don't expect it to but I am going to write again and again and maybe in 8 or 10 years there will be another off standard joining with me and maybe, just maybe in 100 years the back roads will be in good shape if they don't wash away first.

THE NEW FORD V-8 FOR 1935

The New Ford V-8 for 1935 is the biggest and roomiest Ford car ever built. It is a strikingly handsome car, with modern lines and new, luxurious appointments.

But most important of all it is especially designed to give you smooth, easy riding over all kinds of roads—"a front-seat ride for back-seat riders."

This ease of riding is achieved by the use of three basic principles never before combined in a low-price car.

1. Correct distribution of car weight by moving engine and body forward eight and a half inches.

2. New location of seats by which the rear seat is moved forward, toward the center of the car—away from the rear axle and away from the bumps.

3. New spring suspension which permits the use of longer, more flexible springs and increases the springbase to 123 inches.

The result is Center-Poise—which not only gives you a new riding comfort but adds to the stability of the car and its ease of handling. You can take curves with greater safety.

There are many new features in the Ford V-8 for 1935 which make the car still easier to drive. New brakes give more power for stopping quickly with far less foot pressure on the pedal.

A new type of easy-pressure clutch employs centrifugal force to increase efficiency at higher speeds. New steering mechanism makes the car still easier to handle. New, wider, roomier seats.

The New Ford V-8 for 1935 retains the V-8 engine which has demonstrated its dependability and economy in the service of more than a million owners. There are refinements, but no change in basic design. You buy premium performance when you buy this Ford V-8—full 85 horsepower and capable of 80 miles an hour. All Ford V-8 cars for 1935 come equipped with Safety Glass throughout at no additional cost.

We invite you to see this New Ford V-8 for 1935 at the showrooms of Ford dealers. You will want to ride in it—to drive it yourself. You will find it a new experience in motoring.

APPOINTMENT OF WILBUR HALL

The appointment of Hon. Wilbur C. Hall, of Leesburg, to the chairmanship of the Virginia Commission on Conservation and Development is the occasion of much gratification among his many friends who see in his selection not only a recognition of merit and of long and valuable public service, but who also observe with pride the filling of a major State appointment from northern Virginia.

Only one member of the Virginia House of Delegates has a longer period of service. The Speaker of the House, Hon. J. Sinclair Brown, is the only member who has served longer than Mr. Hall. During all these years Mr. Hall has served with distinction and has filled many positions of trust and responsibility, particularly on many important commissions, the findings of which have been recognized in legislation. His position as chairman of the important House Finance Committee made him one of the outstanding members of the General Assembly.

Mr. Hall assumes an important position. Few States have a Conservation and Development Commission with the varied and far reaching activities as Virginia. Much of the work is scientific and technical. We have had so much trouble with federal dominance and interference with our internal activities that the General Assembly has seen fit to keep in one commission a lot of bureaus which would like to be more independent. The personnel of many of these offices is more often than otherwise composed of northerners, trained in institutions outside of the South and too frequently are not in harmony with our traditions, social and political. Some have received their professional apprenticeship in the federal government and may have been placed in the South either as "weaklings" to be provided for by their friends in federal service, or as "field agents" to keep Washington informed on State activities and trends, and to prevent the State from attempting to train its own men for such positions.

WELCOME NEWS FOR BANK DEPOSITORS

After December 31, 1934, bank depositors who maintain checking accounts will no longer have to pay the Federal Tax of two cents on each check issued; PROVIDED the next Congress does not reimpose the tax.

Bank customers everywhere will welcome the repeal of this tax. Ninety-five per cent of all business transactions in this country are settled by check. A checking account is a convenience, a safeguard, a time and labor saver.

To the people of this community, we are glad to offer the protection, the convenience and many benefits of a checking account in this institution.

The Peoples National Bank of Manassas

With all of his ability, Hon. William E. Carson was not able to cope with this situation because of the lack of authority which seems to have gone with a non-salaried position. When he attempted to root inefficiency out of the State Forest Department he was restrained by the Governor himself. Under the new law, with the chairman of Conservation and Development on full pay, it is to be hoped that he will also be on full authority to promote the efficiency of his various bureaus as may seem best to him.

The Commission on Conservation and Development has many activities. Chief among these are the Geological Survey, Water Resources and Power, Forest Service, Parks and Landscape Engineering, Archaeology and History and State Publicity. Administration of such important and highly technical activities requires a man of keen judgment and quick decision. A legislator, who for years has observed the requirements of these departments as they have sought appropriations, is probably as well qualified for the job as anyone who could have been chosen and the fact that our own section of the State should have been honored in the appointment of Mr. Hall is an added cause of satisfaction.

The seventh grade of Dumfries School has been greatly injured due to absences. Probably to the cause of Christmas holidays.

CLIFTON

William Godfrey, a resident of Clifton Station for many years and in ill health for some time past, was buried on Wednesday from the Baptist Church. Many relatives from other points were in attendance. His wife and his only son, Gordon, have been dead for some years. His daughters are all living. They are Nettie, Lettie, Rosie, Emma, Sallie and Lula. Mr. Paul Myers and Miss Rebecca Myers have returned to Bridgewater College.

CUPID GOES OVER THE TOP

On December 29, Clerk George G. Tyler issued the one hundred and first marriage license during 1934. This record appears to be unparalleled in the history of the county. During the year there were numerous visitors and persons from many nations applying for licenses. The age limit was modest, the oldest man being seventy-one and the youngest man eighteen, while the oldest woman was only fifty-six and the youngest girl fourteen who secured licenses during the year.

ALUMNI MEETS

The annual Christmas reunion of the Linton Hall Alumni Association was held December 29 and 30 at Linton Hall Military School, Bristow, Va. Fourteen members attended and helped to make this meeting one of the most successful in its history.

On Saturday evening, Sister Claudia showed a very interesting movie, "In Love With Life," after which the boys sat down to a banquet of roast turkey, with all the trimmings, which the Sisters had prepared.

The regular business meeting was held Sunday morning, when resolutions were passed to finish the work at St. Benedict's Lodge, provide basket and baseball coaches from the ranks of the alumni, and in every way possible to help the work at Linton Hall.

According to custom, all members went to Confession and received holy communion at the six-thirty mass Sunday morning.

Those attending were the president, Joseph Sheahin; vice-president, Jerry Cunningham; acting secretary, Edward Gramm; John Frye, Charles Hatton, Edward Walton, Andrew Mahoney, Ward Hutchison, Francis Clairvaux, Robert Reddy, Jack Cromwell, Edward Brennan, Joseph Salm, and Jerry Keogh.

TARLTON B. THOMAS

Tarlton B. Thomas, age seventy-six, of Woolsey, near Haymarket, Va., died December 23 and was buried on Wednesday at Middleburg.

Rev. D. Campbell Mayers of Middleburg and Rev. W. F. Carpenter of Haymarket officiated at the funeral services at the family home.

Mr. Thomas had been a vestryman in the Haymarket church for many years and was a power for constructive good in the entire community in which he lived. The esteem in which he was held was evidenced by the immense crowd which gathered to do him honor.

Mr. Thomas was twice married, his wives being sisters. By his first wife, Mary Hutchison, he had eight children, five of whom are living. By his second wife, Katherine Hutchison, there were five children, all of whom are living. Besides his children, his widow and one sister, Mrs. G. T. Hixson, of Hamilton, survive him.

Relatives in Arlington who attended the funeral with their families were Mrs. J. Robert Conner of Cherrysdale, a niece, and his son, Harry Hamilton Thomas, of Ft. Myers Heights. Another daughter, Mrs. Arch Donohoe, lives at Fairfax, Va. The pall bearers were all nephews.

Mr. Thomas represents a type of the old-time patriarchy who have built up Virginia's history and established the high principles of which its citizens are proud.

WILLIAM M. CARTER

Funeral services for William Minor Carter, Baltimore furniture store owner, who died at his home, 3505 Copley road, on Saturday, were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Rev. John McComb of the Forest Park Presbyterian Church officiated. Mr. Carter was a native of Occoquan, the son of the late James Newton Carter and Anna Turner Carter. He was 58 years old.

W. ANDREW EVANS

Mr. William Andrew Evans, aged seventy-seven, died at his home near Buckhall, on Saturday, December 29, after a brief illness.

Mr. Evans, a lifetime resident of that community, was held in highest esteem by his many friends.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Eva Pruitt, of Alexandria, and Mrs. Annie Weaver, of Buckhall, and three sons, Messrs. Grover C. Evans of Manassas and William H. and Ernest T. Evans of Buckhall; one sister, Mrs. Ludia Payne, and one brother, Mr. Charles Evans, of Buckhall, and twelve grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted on Monday afternoon, December 31, at the Methodist Church at Buckhall, of which he had long been a faithful member, by Rev. W. M. Compton. Interment followed in the cemetery at Buckhall.

CENTREVILLE

Miss Lucy LeGallais returned home on Tuesday after spending the holidays with her cousins, Miss Irene and Alice Williamson, of Chadbourne, who had just completed a visit of several weeks with Miss LeGallais.

The Guild of St. John's was delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. Eva Utterback yesterday. A luncheon of several courses was served at 1 o'clock. The house was still in holiday attire and the meeting was much of a Christmas party.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Holmes took Christmas dinner with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Evans, near Manassas.

Mr. George R. Lee Turberville, 3rd, was a guest of his parents during the holidays. He returned to school this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Woltz and children took in the New Year festivities in Washington.

Mr. Roger Spindle was a Manassas shopper yesterday.

There is quite a bit of illness in the community, mostly flu.

Regular services are announced at St. John's for this Sunday afternoon, weather permitting.

A large New Year's eve party was held at Briarwood, the estate of Major and Mrs. H. B. Daniels, at Willow Spring.

Mrs. Martha Rector is selling out her household effects tomorrow. She expects to reside with her daughter, Mrs. John Shehan, in Washington.

WATERFALL

A happy New Year to the Journal and its constituency.

The Christmas tree and treat for the youngsters which Mrs. Susan Morton gave for her class at the hall here on Saturday evening, Dec. 22, was well attended. About thirty children received a generous treat of candy and a toy, besides. Mrs. Morton is doing a splendid work and deserves the help and encouragement of the community.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barnes and Mr. Robert Smith, of Washington, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Smith during the holidays.

Mrs. R. B. Gossom, who has been ill with tonsillitis for the past week, is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fish and Mrs. E. E. Pickett, of Washington, were guests of Miss Flora Smith over the week-end.

Mrs. Howard Bell and Howard, jr., visited relatives in Falls Church several days of last week.

We regret to report the death of Mr. Tarlton Thomas, which occurred at his home at Woolsey early Monday morning on Dec. 24. Mr. Thomas had been in failing health for several months, but his death was sudden and unexpected. The funeral services were conducted at his home on Wednesday at 11 o'clock by the Revs. Mayers of Middleburg and Carpenter of Haymarket. Interment was at Middleburg and the long line of cars which composed the funeral procession, and the beautiful flowers attested to the popularity of Mr. Thomas who was an excellent type of a fine Christian gentleman who had so lived his 77 years that when the summons came to join that innumerable caravan, he could wrap the drapery of his couch about him, and lie down to pleasant dreams.

Mr. Thomas is survived by his wife and eleven children, also one sister.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Gossom, Miss Ruth Gossom, Mrs. Stuart Pickett and Peggy Anne were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Sinclair of Aurora Hills.

Billy Thomas, who spent the holidays at "Oakshade," returned to his home at Ft. Myer Hgts. Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Wayland and children and Mr. R. B. Gossom, jr., Mrs. John Thornhill and Mr. Barton Padgett, of Washington, were Christmas guests at "Mt. Atlas."

Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Smith and Mr. Marvin Smith were Sunday visitors to Washington.

Messrs. Walter Pickett and Walter Haines were guests at "Oakshade" on Monday.

BUCKLAND

"Buckland Hall," the spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Riley, was the scene of a quiet but very pretty wedding on Wednesday, Dec. 26, at 11 o'clock, when their son, Mr. Maurice Riley, was united in marriage to Miss Nellie Clatterback, of New Baltimore, the Rev. Harrison, Old School Baptist minister, officiating. Only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties and a few close friends were present. The bride, a petite brunette, who is very pretty, was attired in brown, with matching accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Riley will reside with the groom's parents at "Buckland Hall." A delicious wedding breakfast was served the wedding party following the ceremony at "Buckland Hall."

Miss Mary Ella Graham, who was confined to her home last week with a severe cold, is much better and is now able to be out.

Mrs. J. T. Fletcher, of Fairfax, formerly a resident here, visited old friends in our town this week.

Mr. Harry Brown, of Maryland, was a recent guest of his mother, Mrs. T. G. Brown.

A large and very attentive audience was present on Friday night and enjoyed the Christmas program presented by the Buckland church, which was very impressive and received much comment. Special music was played during the services. A midnight prayer and watch service was held at the church on Monday night to welcome in the New Year.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Welton Graham and son, Junior, Mrs. J. K. Graham, little Miss Martha Anne Graham and Master Frederick Graham were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Sims in Washington on Saturday.

Quite a large crowd was present at "Buckland Hall" on Saturday night at which time a delightful shower was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Riley. Games were enjoyed by all present, and at midnight a most delicious buffet supper was served, after which the guests departed wishing the young couple much happiness.

Word has been received here this week that Mr. W. E. Lefever has returned to his home at Manassas, much improved in health, from the Emergency Hospital in Washington, where he underwent an operation. Mr. Lefever was formerly a merchant here and his many friends wish him a speedy recovery.

We are sorry to report that Junior Graham is confined to his bed with a severe cold at this writing. Happy New Year to one and all.

"JUDGE PRIEST" OFFERS WILL FINEST ROLE

Will Rogers, "whose soul is America," as someone has pointed out, "discovers" still another quarter of our land in the new Fox film, "Judge Priest," which opens at the Dixie Theatre next Monday, and in so doing gives to the screen one of his greatest performances.

Asleepy Kentucky town of the early nineties supplies the background for the newest Rogers vehicle, fashioned from the famous Irvin S. Cobb stories of the small-town judge and his Civil War cronies. The film gives Rogers probably the finest opportunity of his screen career.

Richer in flavor even than the shrewd Yankee horse trader of David Harum, the Iowa farmer of "State Fair" or the wise and patient westerner of "They Had to See Paris," the drawling but quick-witted southern jurist is a memorable addition to the Rogers gallery of "Representative Americans."

The star's portrayal of Judge Priest has the mark of authenticity upon it. It is a notable folk portrait, just as his other characterizations have been: the unique blending of a splendid talent with a rich and splendid role. But more than that, it stands alone for its sheer dramatic power. Seldom has Rogers had such opportunities as his present role affords to call both tears and laughter from his audience.

Irvin Cobb's stories, as you will agree after seeing the film, seem to have been written for no one but Rogers. "Why didn't someone think of it before?" is the question that leaps to mind. The star has not been better fitted out with a role in the whole of his career.

John Ford, who directed "Judge Priest," deserves his own private wreath of laurels, not only for a superb directorial job but for the care and wisdom displayed in the selection of a cast. Rogers is supported by one of the best all-round companies that has reached a local screen in many months.

That excellent actor, Henry B. Walthall, has an important role. Anita Louise, Tom Brown and Rochelle Hudson form a romantic and youthful love triangle. David Landau, Stepin Fetchit, Charley Grapewin, Berton Churchill and Roger Imhof are other players assigned to leading roles.

Sol M. Wurtzel is listed as producer of "Judge Priest," which Dudley Nichols and Lamar Trotti adapted to the screen from the Irvin S. Cobb stories.

Don't fail to see this newest Rogers screen portrait. It is the finest thing he has done.

TOWLES BOOSTED FOR COMMISSION

Northern Neck Man Held Likely Choice to Succeed Hall.

Clarence Towles, of Reedville, former Commonwealth's Attorney of Northumberland County, was given strong backing this week for the position on the State Commission of Fisheries vacated this week when Wilbur C. Hall, of Loudoun, resigned to accept appointment as chairman of the reorganized State Conservation and Development Commission.

Governor Peery held several conferences on the subject of the vacant post during the day. Other names suggested to him included those of Charles E. Stuart, of Westmoreland County and R. Hill Fleet, of Irvington, both members of the House of Delegates, and State Senator R. O. Norris.

The Governor conferred with Senator Norris and also with State Senator William A. Wright, of Tappahannock, each of whom is known to be deeply interested in the work of the fisheries commission. It seems to be generally accepted that a Northern Neck man will be named to succeed Hall, as the York and James River areas and the Eastern Shore are already represented on the commission.

Meanwhile, Hall came to Richmond this week prepared to take over his new job as head of the conservation department. He will make his Richmond home at the Westmoreland Club.

He has not yet worked out any specific policies for the commission, and will not attempt to do so until he has made a study of all its ramifications, but he said he would suggest that the commission work in close relationship with all State departments concerned with the conservation of the State's resources, the State Chamber of Commerce and similar local organizations.

THE WORLD AROUND US

By O. J. Schuster

THOMAS CARLYLE, in the introduction to his translation of "WILHELM MEISTER," said, "In our wide world there is but one altogether fatal personage—the dunce—he that speaks irrationally, that sees not, and yet thinks he sees."

An old proverb expresses the same truth in a different way. It reads: "He who knows not, but knows not that he knows not, is a fool. Shun him."

Another ancient proverb is a little more consoling. It says:

"He who knows not, but knows that he knows not, is ignorant. Teach him." In this class we all belong; but some of us are eager to be taught while others are only eager to hide their ignorance. Their attitude is not: "What can you teach me?" but "How can I make it appear that I know what I do not know?"

The fear that keeps us from confessing error, from frankly acknowledging that we do not know, is the master that enslaves us, the jailor who carries the key with which he has turned the lock that holds us in our dungeon of ignorance. With that fear as our guide, we shall deceive ourselves more completely than any rogue or devil can ever deceive us—for, as Emerson said, "The devil is an ass." The fear that makes us pretend to know what we really do not know will forever keep us from investigating ourselves—prevent us from heeding the admonition, "Know thyself." We may not, like the fool, be wholly incapable of getting glimpses of the heights but we shall be too fearful of the steps that lead up the steep slope to the summit from which a clearer view of a wider landscape is assured us. How many of us who admire the Washington Monument from the level below would make the effort to climb to its top for the inspiring view afforded from that height were there no elevator to do the climbing for us? And it is a much longer and harder climb to the height from which we can see ourselves impersonally than the one up the monument.

It may be futile to point out that those who actually make the effort needed to reach the elevation from which we get a clear view and some understanding of ourselves find that they develop the needed strength as they proceed—partly because of actual increase of power to climb and partly because at each step upward they cast aside some of the burden they have been bearing, superstitions and fears that constituted so heavy a ballast that they could not rise above the level of the plain. When at last all superstitions and fears have been left behind they can, for the first time, take their fill of the breath of heaven and feel the beauty and grandeur of the truth that makes men free.

Dr. J. C. Merriam, president of the Carnegie Institution of Washington, recently stated that Elihu Root, now in his 90th year, is as eager for new knowledge, as keenly interested in all the latest discoveries of science, as any college youth. The age of such men cannot be measured in years. At 100, they may be spiritually younger than other men are at 40, or even at 25.

The wisdom of Goethe may console us. He said, "It is only because they are not used to taste of what is excellent that the generality of people take delight in silly and insipid things, provided they be new. For this reason, one ought, every day at least, to hear a little song; read a good poem, see a fine picture, and, if it were possible, to speak a few reasonable words."

Facts And Figures On Your Telephone

By EDWIN F. HILL
 Good health is essential to good telephone service. Dr. Leverett D. Bristol, health director for the Bell Telephone System, writing in The Transmitter, employees' magazine of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Companies operating in Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia and the District of Columbia, tells the 10,400 employees how to prevent colds.

The common cold, Dr. Bristol says, being the common enemy of humanity, requires an uncommon amount of common sense to combat it. Remember, he says, that the chief thing you can do to prevent a cold is to build up general body resistance through: living and working in properly ventilated quarters; avoiding sudden chilling of the body due to scant clothing or wet feet; taking regular exercise in the open air; a daily cool sponge, shower or tub bath; about eight hours' sleep out of every twenty-four; adequate and regular elimination; a diet suitable in quantity and including the important vitamins found in milk, egg-yolk, butter, green vegetables and fresh fruits; drinking from six to eight glasses of water daily; correction of abnormal nose or throat conditions, such as enlarged tonsils and adenoids; and avoidance of unnecessary contact with a person who has a cold.

In addition to a comparative freedom from colds, another summer health factor which every one should encourage taking over into the winter is enough fresh air and good ventilation in homes and places of work. Clean air, and air with a chemical composition within reasonably normal limits, is necessary for satisfactory ventilation, but, remember that it is more immediately important to ventilate in the interest of the heat-regulating mechanism of the body.

Long Live Sauerkraut!

SAUERKRAUT has survived a world war and a drought. Long live sauerkraut! Can you remember when boys in khaki were kissing their girls good-bye, flags were waving, and if you wanted to go home and eat a quiet dish of sauerkraut you had a guilty conscience even if you called it by its war-time name—Liberty Cabbage?

Cabbage Carries On
 And in more recent days, with the effects of the drought still with us, have you sometimes wondered how the cabbage would fare, and how you would fare without an occasional dish of sauerkraut? Well, cabbage is a sturdy vegetable, and enough of it has come through to assure us that our frankfurters will not be lonesome, nor our health diets lacking for sauerkraut. If the fit alone survive, sauerkraut is most fit.
 But don't think of it as a boon companion alone for such foods as frankfurters and pig's feet. There are countless ways to serve this delicious health food, and some of them are designed to please persons who go on a much lighter diet than these meats suggest. Here is a sauerkraut dish which will make you forget wars and droughts. It is a nice luncheon main dish when served with crisp bacon slices.

A Tested Recipe
Creamed Sauerkraut: Saute three tablespoons sliced onions and four tablespoons green pepper in three tablespoons fat until the onions become pale yellow. Add three tablespoons flour, and stir until smooth. Add two cups of milk slowly, stirring until thick and creamy. Season to taste with salt and pepper, add two cups creamed sauerkraut and heat thoroughly. This serves six persons.*

This auto was designed and made by Charles Duryea, seated, and was known as the "Chicago Winner" because it won the first auto race ever staged in the United States in Chicago on November 28, 1895. The race was run over 18 inches of snow.

Making The Home More Livable

—With Lamps for the Away-from-the-wall Davenport

By Jean Prentice
FIRESIDE happiness depends very much on the kind of lamps provided for those hours of reading, sewing or just plain ease.
 In many a spacious living room, and small ones also, the davenport is placed alongside the hearth, as in the accompanying sketch. Where there is no fireplace the lamp appropriate for the away-from-the-wall location is the same.
 Just one lamp stands by the davenport in the living room illustrated. But you can bank on that one! It knows all the tricks of good lighting, having been built according to specifications of the Illuminating Engineering Society, a national group of lighting scientists.
 You'll note first that the lamp is placed at the back of the davenport. This balanced arrangement is possible because of the height of the lamp and the width of the shade which allow sufficient spread of light for the entire length of the davenport. . . . Johnnie won't be out of range of good light regardless of where he sits on this davenport.
 The reasons for the excellent lighting are apparent when the shade is lifted, as illustrated in the smaller sketch.
 The glass bowl between the candles throws light up as well as down, thus eliminating glare and providing light as restful to the eyes as an eider down mattress would be to the body. Within the bowl is another bit of magic, an electric lamp, newly developed, which (because of two filaments) gives three different intensities of light at the turn of a switch. For sewing and the reading of fine print for long periods, the lights of the auxiliary candles, holding bulbs of from 40 to 60-watts, are added to that of the central bulb.

 "How about using a single lamp at the end of the davenport, rather than at the back?" I hear someone ask. Well, that depends on your davenport. If it is too long the lamp standard would have to be excessively and awkwardly high to shed its light the entire length.
 End table lamps can of course be used, but are not always practical for the away-from-the-wall location in a smaller room where space must be conserved.
 If the davenport is of the Love Seat type, a lamp similar to the smaller one sketched, and using a 100-watt lamp, may be placed on a table behind it. This is also an approved L. E. S. Standard Reading Lamp, a multitude of lovely designs for which have been made by many manufacturers.
 It is higher than table lamps you've been using no doubt. But that's a new style note!—In the interest of eyesight preservation.
