Sudley Methodist Church

11-01-33

Sudley Church - July 21, 1861

This Methodist Episcopal church stood a half mile south of the ford by which Hunter and Heintzelman crossed Bull Run. These troops crossed Catharpin Run, seen in the foreground, by the ford at the left, and marched southward past the church. A mile farther south Burnside's Brigade engaged the confederate troops led by Colonel Evans. As Evans' men fell back, Johnston deemed the situation "critical". The remains at the right of the picture are of the Sudley Sulfur Spring House. Photographer's wagon on the other side of the water. (Photographic History of the Civil War: Miller).
