HISTORIC MILL

Prince William County has many landmarks of interest. Since the construction of the John Marshall highway which passes by its door, considerable attention has been paid to the old Beverley Mills at Broad Run, immediately on the Fauquier County line.

The structure was erected in 1760 by slaves and has been in continuous operation since that time. The actual work began in 1752, the rock being quarried out of the mountain and laboriously hauled and worked into place. The old fashioned buhrs which are still in operation are no longer made these days.

John Marshall, from whose name the present highway derives its designation, passed this way when he journeyed to Alexandria and the National Capital. Among some of the mill's famous customers was General Robert E. Lee. More recently Hon. John Barton Payne came to the mill several times a year for his meal. Many celebrities come to the mill at the present time for their meal and flour.

"GRANDMA" APPERSON

Mrs. Mell Apperson, 82, one of the oldest residents of New Kent County, died at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Edward Hubbard, in Suffolk Saturday and was buried at Corinth Baptist Church at New Kent Courthouse at 4:30 p. m. Sunday. Mrs. Apperson was the widow of Norwood Apperson, who had made his home at Cedar Lane, New Kent County. Surviving her is Mrs. Elizabeth Apperson Hubbard of Suffolk, a granddaughter, and one son, Willie A. Apperson of New York. Mrs. Apperson was the oldest member of Corinth Church and was active in the church her entire life.

Grandma will long be remembered in Manassas where she had a large number of devoted friends.

He is also survived by three grandsons, two sisters, Eva P. Lewis and Mrs. Pattie L. Howe; one brother, Dr. Stephen J. Lewis and many other relatives and friends.

Roscoe Lewis' Blacksmith Shop, as it was known, has served Prince William county and the neighboring counties for 38 years. The shop has been transformed over the years from a blacksmith shop to a mechanic shop.

Roscoe Lewis was prominently identified with the fraternal, educational, and religious life of the community.

He was a member of the Board of Trustees' of Manassas Industrial School, Knights of Pythias, one of the founders of the Manassas Horse Show, chairman of the Board of Trustees' of the First Baptist Church of Manassas, member of local Odd Fellow's Lodge, was on the Agricultural Advisory Board of the Regional High School, and Business Manager and Treasurer of the Rose Hill Cemetery.

Funeral services were held today Thursday, May 15, 1:30 p. m. at the First Baptist Church of Manassas, and burial at the Rose Hill Cemetery.

(The Editors of the Journal desire to express their appreciation of years of friendship with Roscoe Lewis. In his dealing in his Church, his school activities, and his business, he achieved a success of which his community should be proud. His home and surroundings expressed culture. He reared his children to reflect credit on their native State wherever they go. To his widow and children we extend our sincere sympathy in their great loss.)
