HISTORIC BUILDINGS AND SITES SURVEY IN MANASSAS

The City of Manassas is interested in learning more about its past. To do this, the City is working with an Architectural historian from the Northern Virginia Planning District Commission on a survey funded in part by the Virginia Historic Landmarks Commission to identify, photograph, and record older buildings in Manassas having architectural, historical or cultural significance.

Because of the architecture, age, or cultural significance of this building, it has been included in this survey. As the owner or occupant, you can assist in the survey by completing the form below and returning it to the City of Manassas, Planning Department, P.O. Box 512, Manassas, Virginia, 22110.

If you have any questions regarding the historic sites inventory being conducted in Manassas contact Randy Hodgson, City of Manassas Planning Director (Telephone: 361-4104) or Frances Jones, Historic Sites Surveyor, NVPDC (Telephone: 703-573-2210).

Your cooperation and assistance is greatly appreciated.
