scored their last run in the sixth.
Features of the game were Trimmer's hitting and Saunderson's base-running. Adams made a sensational bare-handed stop of a ball labeled for a three-bagger and held the runner on first.

Baseball has not been a paying proposition in Manassas this season. It is not because local fans have not a good team to support. The team is the best in years. It is one of the best teams in this region of the country. Being good, other good teams will play them, assuring good games. Unless people turn out better than they have done previously to see the games it seems that the remaining games of the season will have to be played on foreign fields. The home team is not asking something for nothing. All it asks is larger crowds at the games, assuring bigger gate receipts. Few fans are there, whether deep or shallow water variety, who can not obtain more pleasure out of seeing a good home team game than of seeing a big league game.

Make it a point to see the games mere next Tuesday, Memorial Day, when the White Rose team lines up against the Genacond Baseball Club, of the Navy Department Division of the General Accounting Office, Washington. The morning game will start at 10:30 and the afternoon game at 3:30.

On June 3, the boys will journey to Purcellville to engage the Loudoun champions again. On June 10, McLean Athletic Club will be here. Other games with high caliber teams are promised if Manassas lovers of the sport will show their support.

PRATT—BOORMAN

Former Manassas Girl Wedded to Mr. A. N. Pratt, of New Jersey.

Central Presbyterian Church, Washington, D. C., was the scene of a pretty wedding on Wednesday afternoon at five-thirty o'clock, when Miss Ruby Newton Boorman became the bride of Mr. Algeo Newell Pratt, of Montvale, N. J. The pastor, Rev. James H. Taylor, D. D., officiated.

The church was effectively decorated with pink gladioli and palms, and the wedding music was played by the

is to determine how this amusement may be best provided. Criticism of the carnival, however just, will have more weight if you will attend the meeting with a definite suggestion for a satisfactory substitute. A successful fair like a successful republic must be "of, by and for the people," and the officers of the association will welcome practical suggestions that will aid in attaining this ideal.

"THE LAWN" DESTROYED BY FIRE

Beautiful Old Home at Greenwich Victim of Flames of Unknown Origin.

One of the most beautiful homes in Prince William county was destroyed last Sunday night when fire of unknown origin burned to the ground, "The Lawn," the residence of Mr. W. W. Mackall, near Greenwich.

The illumination made by the fire could be noted in Manassas and several automobiles set out in the direction of it, but owing to the distance they did not complete the trip. It is said that several cars from Warrenton reached the scene.

When the fire was first discovered it was too far under way to get under control or even to save some of the valuable furniture.

This large old mansion was built in 1855 by the late Charles Green. Several years ago a large sum was spent on it in modern improvements. The loss is said to be in the neighborhood of $60,000, while insurance may cover two-thirds of this estimated value.

The family will make their home for a while at Langley the old home place of Mr. Mackall's father the late Gen. Mackall.

GAINESVILLE

Ex-Governor Westmoreland Davis, accompanied by Mr. Hutchison, of Fairfax, honored our little village on Wednesday, stopping to see some old friends.

sons, Messrs. Charles E., of New York City, and Philip A. Lipscomb, of Massas, and two daughters, Mesdames M. E. Weedon, of Baltimore, and Harrietta Garrison, of Denver.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon by the Rev. William Stevens from the Methodist church. Interment was made in the local cemetery.

The pall bearers were Messrs. J. Bushong, H. Thornton Davies, C. Fisher, W. W. Davies, Sam Weir and E. H. Hibbs.
