Dear Sir:

By training I am not one who circumvents a chain of command. At last evening's Troop Committee meeting, however, I was asked to try again for the permission we seek. Two committeemen suggested that Mr. Holmeyer might be able to assist us.

After determining this afternoon that Mr. Wills had not been able to check on the matter, I withdrew the attached package and got in touch with Mr. Holmeyer, who connected me with your office. I regret any upset for which I may be responsible in this endeavor. It was I who began too late to determine ownership of the property and who requested the permission no earlier than the 4th of this month. But for the Scouts, I would not have pursued the matter further.

As I am on military leave, I will remain at home all Monday, 17th, to be available for an answer. We can still get the exercise off with some aspects modified or re-ordered if we have permission by that date.

Respectfully,

R. F. Endert
