Historical significance (Chain of title; individuals, families, events, etc., associated with the property.)

This site was identified and photographed in 1971 by Col. R. Leu, who placed its location about 1/2 mile southeast of the site of the Second Prince William Courthouse. Leu's survey contained only one photograph, that of the broken tombstone of Mary Owen(s) (1750-1812), though possibly other burials exist on the plot.
