

LADIES NIGHT AT
MENS CLUB

After 15 months of steady progress, the Men's Social Club of Manassas staged its first "Ladies Night" Thursday evening of last week.

Mr. Sigman outlined the accomplishments of the club, extolling the consistent work of those who had made its existence possible.

John Kline led several "table yells" and roused J. J. Murphy into telling some Irish jokes, which Brother Murphy furnished right off the vine.

Not to be outdone, A. P. Johns, George Baker and others helped to keep the crowd roaring. None of them could beat Brother Murphy's "crow," however.

The supper was served by Messrs. Saunders and Ferris Gue. It was magnificent, and strongly belies Frank Sigman's statement that the men did everything. (We have a hunch that Mrs. Illingworth was responsible for the dessert and salad because we saw her making it fly just as we crept in alone and late.—Ed. note).

Come again, ladies, real soon and help make the club a real success.

BESSIE BENSON LEWIS

On June 16, at 10:25 p.m., as a result of an embolism of the heart, Bessie Benson Lewis, beloved wife of Charles F. M. Lewis, entered into Life Eternal.

Bessie Virginia Benson was born July 4, 1876, in Baltimore, Md. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Somerfield Benson and with her parents, lived the early part of her life in that city.

On April 28, 1906, she was married to Charles Francis Montgomery Lewis and came to live with him on his farm near Manassas, Va. A city girl by birth and education, she immediately adapted herself to her new surroundings and became not only an integral part of her new community but a leading factor in its development and progress.

She was an active and leading member of the Bethlehem Good Housekeepers Club; the Homemakers (a member of the Advisory Board); the United Daughters of the Confederacy, Bull Run Chapter, and active in the organizations of Grace Methodist Episcopal Church of Manassas.

Notwithstanding all this, she never neglected her family and she leaves her husband Charles F. M. Lewis and two children Charles Walton Lewis and Sarah Elizabeth Lewis who hold her in blessed memory. Two brothers, Walter Benson of Atlantic City and Charles Benson of Baltimore, also survive her and mourn her loss.

AT NOKESVILLE

Large Attendance and Good Speaking Bring New Enthusiasm

The Bi-County W. C. T. U. Convention met in the Lutheran Church at Nokesville, Thursday, June 11, with the county president, Mrs. Emily C. Round, presiding.

Rev. C. W. Mark read the scripture lesson and led in prayer.

The address of welcome was given by Rev. Luther F. Miller, with the response by Mrs. Bywaters, who also read a poem by Edgar Guest entitled "Can't."

Mrs. R. L. Willis, of Remington, president of the union there, told of the work they are doing. Mrs. Willis has been in this union twenty-five years. She was followed by Mrs. Bertha Embrey, president of Manassas union, who gave a full report of what her union is accomplishing.

The L. T. S. of Nokesville, of which Mrs. Free is leader, favored the assembly with a song.

Robert Beahm followed with a reading; "Where there is Drink there is Danger." A quartet of girls belonging to the Nokesville L. T. S. sang an appropriate song.

Mrs. C. W. Mark gave a very interesting report of the union at Nokesville of which she is president. The union was organized with a membership of eleven which has since grown to eighteen.

After a prayer by Mrs. Embrey, Mr. George Beahm gave a talk on the merits of the Eighteenth Amendment. He said the Constitution contained the greatest code of laws, and that the repealing of the Eighteenth Amendment would lower the standard of our citizenship.

He said that the people must be raised up to the standard. He also said that the wets never had or never will obey any law. This very forceful address was followed by a duet by Mr. Wampler and Miss Graybill.

This pastor, Rev. Mr. Larrie, of the Methodist Church of Nokesville, made the closing prayer after which the meeting adjourned for lunch.

The afternoon session opened with the song "The World is Going Down." Mrs. Mark led in prayer. The election of the Bi-county officers for the coming year resulted as follows: President, Mrs. Emily C. Round vice-president, Mrs. R. L. Willis secretary, Mrs. Sines; treasurer, Mrs. T. J. Broadus.

Miss Godfrey gave a reading "The Butler's Mistake."

Mrs. R. L. Sadd gave a very interesting talk on scientific temperance instruction. She said among other things that if it were taught in the schools the young people would know the truth and the wet propaganda would be overcome. At the close of this address Mrs. C. O. Biddle read an article treating on the same subject.

Mrs. George D. Baker told the assembly why the Union Signal should be in the home of every member of the W. C. T. U. This was followed by a demonstration by Mrs. Emma Harrell who had on a dress and cap made from this paper. She told what each page of the Signal contained and also sang a song about subscribing for this paper.

Mrs. Mark gave a reading "The Enemy is Busy."

Mrs. Embrey explained the meaning of a Light Line Union.

Mrs. J. M. Bell read several interesting articles, ending with a poem, "The Gathering of the Clan."

The president followed with a quiz—"Give it a chance." Mrs. Sines read "Who Will Carry On."

Mr. C. J. Meetze gave an interesting talk on prohibition and then introduced Mr. Arthur Boatwright who talked to the assembly and in his talk he made the statement that he was on the side of temperance.

Mrs. T. J. Broadus sang a solo. Then Mr. Wampler and Miss Graybill repeated their duet of the morning. The meeting closed with the benediction by Rev. C. W. Mark.

OFFERING HERE

Lake Jackson Development Goes on Market June 27

After four years of consistent effort, Chas. W. Alpaugh is about to see a dream perfected.

Mr. Alpaugh went into a wonderful wilderness and started construction work in a project that is said to have eventually cost the Virginia Public Service Company nearly a half million dollars.

The county now has a princely watering place whose permanency is assured and whose future looks very bright.

The attractions of this beautifully wooded tract are fairly well known to local people but it is expected that many hundreds from the outside will visit the site on the 27th with a view to becoming free holders of old Prince William.

BRENTSVILLE SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

School Association met with the Brentsville District Sunday Brethren Church at Nokesville May 31, 1931, at 10:30 A. M. With few exceptions the program was carried out as arranged.

The addresses by Mrs. Anna Mow, Mrs. J. L. Bowman, Rev. J. M. Frame, Rev. J. R. Cook, Rev. Grimsley, and Rev. Minor C. Miller (state secretary).

All pointed to a higher and more definite standard of service in the district. The address of welcome by Ed. G. W. Beahm put the convention at ease and in a mood for work. The convention was well attended and all schools were represented.

The offering for state work was better than last year, according to a resolution last in 1930 by convention. The vice president becomes president each year; thus Mr. F. H. May will be president for ensuing year.

Mr. John Ellis vice president and Miss Mae Fountain was elected second vice president.

F. L. Foster was elected secretary and treasurer, with Mrs. J. L. Bowman as assistant.

The convention will meet with Oak Dale Baptist Church, Greenwich, next year.

AN ERROR

George Shoemaker was cited to have gotten into a scrape at his home last week. It is suggested that the trouble took place at another house in the community.

ACTION ASTONISHES MANY

A large crowd gathered Saturday at Stafford Courthouse when the democratic executive committee of Stafford County met.

After much debate, a motion put by James Ashby that the former action of the committee be rescinded passed by the following vote: ayes, St. Clair Brooks, of Falmouth, E. D. Stearne and Edwin Tolson, of Rockhill, James Ashby, W. S. Smith and E. P. Cato, of Aquia District.

Dr. B. Wallace, candidate for Commonwealth's attorney, made a hard fight against the passage. He was supported by W. T. Peyton, J. J. Grinnan, Dr. L. F. Lee and John T. Harris.

A long and rather acrimonious debate ensued and charges of party disloyalty was liberally slung at the majority faction of the committee.

It was repeatedly shown that with the exception of Mr. Curtis, Republican Sheriff, that opposition was solidly offered, and one or more candidates had filed for every office.

One of the most interesting addresses was made by Hon. D. M. Chichester, as follows:

"Mr. Chairman, members of the Committee, fellow Democrats, I do not believe that the Democratic Committee of Stafford has any legal authority to rescind its action providing for a primary election, and it certainly has no reason for doing so. It had the power to choose the method of naming the party nominees. It could have provided for their nomination by a direct primary election, a convention or a mass meeting, or it could have taken no action whatsoever and brought about the condition it now seems to desire, a free for all in the November election with the Democratic party dangerously split and with no ticket."

Primary Ordered by Gross Opposing Him

At a meeting, presided over by my opponent, who was then the chairman of the committee, a resolution ordering the primary and fixing the date for same was offered by James Ashby, and unanimously adopted. After taking this action, and after numerous candidates, myself included, having duly filed their declarations of candidacy in good faith and having met the other requirements of the committee, and the time limit having expired for the filing of such declarations, I believe that it has no power to take further action. If it had this power there would be nothing to prevent a politician, or group of politicians, who controlled a similar committee cancelling a primary on the eve of the election if he or they saw that things were not going to suit them. This would be most unjust, and it is unreasonable to believe that such power would be vested in such a committee.

Will Pursue Every Means to Get JUSTICE

In justice to myself and the other candidates who have filed declarations of candidacy for nominations for pursue every means at my command to see that the primary is held according to the original mandate of the committee. I could just as easily have laid my candidacy for the Democratic nomination before a convention or mass meeting had the committee so ordered, but it would be neither fair nor just for them to back out at this late date, merely to suit their own convenience.

Of course, if the primary is held there will be nothing to prevent a candidate from withdrawing from same, if he deems fit, severing his connections with his party and entering the general election in opposition to the Democratic and the Republican nominees. Of course, this would bring about a condition almost as injurious to the party as the free for all, that now seems to be so much desired by certain politicians in the county. Should any candidate find himself without opposition in the primary, according to the law governing primaries he at once becomes the party nominee, and as such, has a right to expect the active support of the members of the committee. In fact he should have every assurance of their support in view of a resolution unanimously adopted by the Stafford County Committee at its meeting in May 1931.

GERMAN DUEL IS DESCRIBED

A thrilling description of a German student sabre duel which he witnessed some three years ago, at a university in Berlin, will be the story told by Frazier Hunt during the weekly "Chevrolet Chronicle" hour when he speaks over WMAL on Saturday, June 20, at 7:30 p.m.

Since strangers are not permitted to witness these illegal and cruel battles of the student corps, Hunt was smuggled into the duelling hall. In silence, he watched the methodical preparations of the duellists, their seconds and the attending surgeon.

When all was ready and the accepted formalities of the age-old code had been complied with, the referee cried: "Go." Hunt's description of this deadly fight is more exciting than a ringside report of a championship boxing match.

Because of the absolute secrecy that surrounds all German student duels, little is generally known of the rigorous code under which they are fought. Frazier Hunt, as an eyewitness to one of these combats, will tell in every detail the story of this medieval custom of the German university student body.

SOUTH GREENWICH TROUNCES HAYMARKET

The fast-stepping Greenwich boys took a closely contested game from the strong Haymarket team Saturday by the score of 4-3. Although the Greenwich boys were out-hit, they came through when hits meant runs. Both teams played well in the field and much excitement was furnished for the crowd that had gathered for the game. On Saturday, the 20th, the S. G. boys will meet Catharpin on the Greenwich diamond. Another close game is expected.

MAN'S APPEAL.—O Lord, revive thy work in the midst of the years.—Habakkuk 3:3.

MAGNETISM OF ADVERTISING

How does it happen that the good advertisers in any community are usually the most successful business people?

Success in selling anything calls for a certain amount of push and aggressiveness. That aggressiveness can be overdone, and it can be exerted in a way that lacks tact. Salesmen who call at the door are not ordinarily well received, because they take too much of people's time. The salesmanship of the newspaper advertisement overcomes that difficulty, since it never forces people to take their time against their will. But it reaches them in moments of leisure when they are in a mood to learn what the world offers them.

While overdoing sales talk offends people, the silent salesman accomplishes least of all. Something more is due from him than just handling the goods over the counter. It is up to him to know something about the goods, and to impart that knowledge. If he fails to show any enthusiasm, his dull and passive attitude chills interest.

So it is in regard to retail trade. A concern has to do something more than open up a store and display a show window. If it merely does that, it creates the same impression that is made by the silent salesman. There is enthusiasm apparent. No information is given except to those who ask for it. There is an apparent lack of energy and push.

The advertised store strikes the happy medium between the silent salesman, and the one that bothers possible customers by excessive persistence. It tells its story to all interested in bargains and low prices, which includes about everyone. It conveys an impression of enterprise, enthusiasm, and thorough information, which are the qualities that attract business.

PUBLIC HEARING ON COUNTY GOVERNMENT

A public hearing on the organization and management of county government in Virginia will be held by the Virginia Commission on County Government in the auditorium of Madison Hall at the University of Virginia, Charlottesville, on Thursday, July 2, 1931, beginning at 9:30 A. M., and continuing throughout the day.

All county officials and other interested citizens are cordially invited to attend this hearing and express their views on the vital problems involved.

The meeting will be held in conjunction with the Institute of Public Affairs. As a special feature of the afternoon session on July 2, the Institute has arranged for a conference on county government, to be held by authorities from Virginia and other states.

The Commission on County Government is anxious to avail itself of the views of as many interested persons as possible, before reaching conclusions and presenting its findings to the General Assembly of 1932. The funds at the disposal of the Commission are not sufficient to enable it to make trips to the various sections of the state. In view of this, the hearing mentioned above has been set at a central point, to which county officers, representatives of organizations, and interested individuals are invited.

Advanced notice from persons intending to participate in the hearing, addressed to the undersigned, will enable the Commission to prepare a definite schedule for the day, thus facilitating the proceedings and making possible a saving of time.

By order of the Commission,
W. H. TUCKER, Chairman,
Manassas, Virginia, June 18, 1931

COUNTY AGENTS' QUESTION BOX

Side Dressing Corn Pays Under Certain Conditions

Side dressing corn with a quickly available nitrogenous material pays a good dividend during a normal season, provided the soil needs nitrogen, and provided further that there is a sufficient amount of phosphorus and potash in the soil for the crop to take advantage of the added nitrogen. In other words any one of the essential plant food elements (nitrogen, phosphorus and potash) may be the limiting factor in crop yields.

During the past three years sixty-five demonstrations on thin soils which received an application of phosphorus and potash at planting time, and the equivalent of 125 pounds of nitrate of soda when the corn was knee-high has given an average increased yield of 12 bushels of corn per acre over the check which received no nitrogen as a side dressing. Can you answer this?

1. Does spring or summer seeded grass and clover make the largest yield of hay?

When the Light Dawned on Obstinate Merchant

The editor of the local paper was unable to secure advertising from one of the business men of the town, who asserted stoutly that he himself never read ads, and didn't believe anyone else did.

"Will you advertise if I can convince you that folks read the ads?" "If you can show me!" was the sarcastic answer. "But you cant."

In the next issue of the paper, the editor ran a line of small type in an obscure corner. It read:

"What is Murphy going to do about it?"

The business man, Murphy, hastened to seek out the editor next day. He admitted that he was being pes-tered out of his wits by the curious. He agreed to stand by the editor's explanation in the forthcoming issue, and this was:

"Murphy is going to advertise, of course."

Having once advertised, Murphy is still advertising.—Forbes Magazine.

LIFETIME PORCELAIN
INSIDE AND OUT

You can both see and feel why porcelain adds so much to the value of Frigidaire. For the Frigidaire cabinet is as smooth and sparkling as polished glass and stays that way. Age can never change its color. It cannot peel or blister. And it is left unharmed by scratches, knocks and stains that would quickly ruin an ordinary finish.

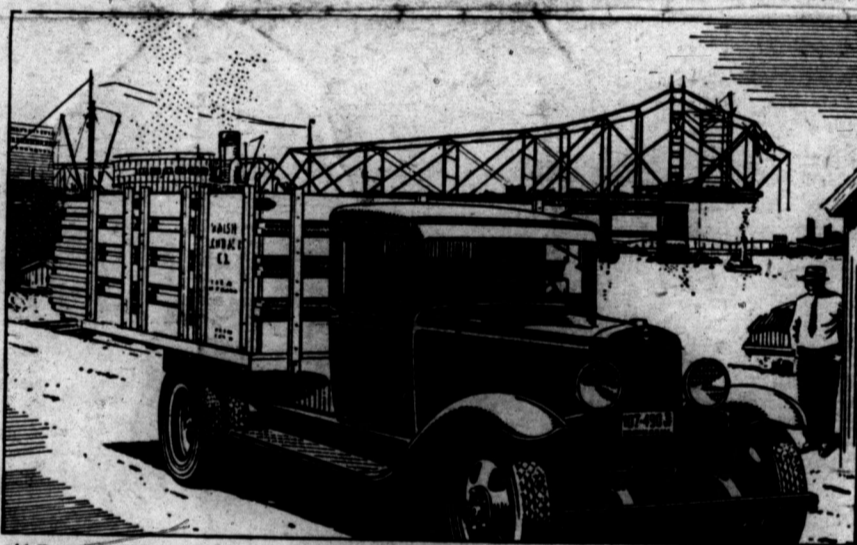

Frigidaire is porcelain inside and out because Frigidaire is that kind of a refrigerator. Everything about it matches the quality of its finish.

You will also find that Frigidaire is easy to own. Any household model can be had on terms to suit your convenience.

Ton for ton . . . mile for mile
Chevrolet six-cylinder trucks cost less to operate

It is a matter of record, among more and more large fleet operators, that Chevrolet six-cylinder trucks give a lower transportation cost than any other truck of equal capacity in the market.

These firms are finding, through experience, that Chevrolet sedan deliveries are capable of 20 miles or better, to the gallon of gasoline; that Chevrolet 1 1/2-ton trucks are making fuel records which are relatively just as high. That it costs very little to keep Chevrolet trucks in first-class working order. That Chevrolet service charges on both parts and labor are exceptionally low. That the active life of Chevrolet trucks extends well past the 50,000 mileage mark.

To place your hauling on a minimum-cost basis—and keep it there—put Chevrolet six-cylinder trucks to work. A wide variety of Chevrolet-built bodies is now available. And delivered prices of Chevrolet trucks, complete and ready for work, are based on low chassis-cost and low body-cost, plus only reasonable charges for handling and financing.

Chevrolet 1 1/2-ton chassis with 131" wheelbase $520
(Dual wheels optional, $25 extra)

1 1/2-ton chassis with 157" wheelbase, $590 Commercial chassis, $388
(Dual wheels standard)

All truck chassis prices f. o. b. Flint, Michigan. All truck body prices f. o. b. Indianapolis, Indiana. Special equipment extra. Low delivered prices and easy terms.

EDUCATIONAL TOUR TO DETROIT AND CLEVELAND ATTRACTS MANY

Few Days Remain to Send in Reservations

Well, folks, the Community Educational Tour to Detroit and Cleveland, sponsored by The Manassas Journal, is proving to be a real attraction, judging by the number of inquiries received. Don't forget the tour starts from Washington, D. C., at 4:05 p.m. on June 27, via Pennsylvania Railroad to Detroit, at which point carefully arranged sight-seeing trips have been provided, including the larger automobile plants. After that comes the glorious cruise on Lake Erie between Detroit and Cleveland, then some more sight-seeing, after which the party will return home by rail over the Pennsylvania Railroad.

$40 Included All Expenses

The Manassas Journal, through the splendid cooperation of the various transportation agencies, has been able to offer its readers this highly interesting and educational trip for $40. This sum includes every expense from the time the tour leaves Washington at 4:05 p.m. June 27 until its return to Washington at 8:45 a.m. July 1. The rate includes round trip railroad ticket, all meals, hotel accommodations, and sight-seeing trips. A similar trip taken individually would cost many times this sum. Here is an unusual opportunity to further broaden the mind by travel. It provides an ideal vacation where one may relax and rest assured that the tour directors will attend to all the worrisome details that often are encountered when traveling alone.

Send in Your Reservation Today As accommodations are limited, send in your reservations today. We will be glad to refund any money paid, should you find it necessary to cancel your trip at a later date. Printed itineraries showing all details of the tour will be furnished upon application to The Manassas Journal office.

DEATH OF MRS. W. SCOTT ANDERSON

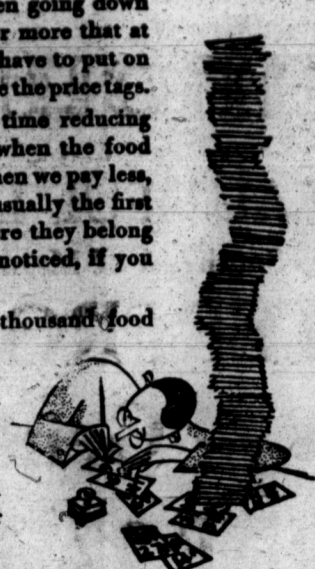

Mr. W. Scott Anderson, of Silver Springs, Md., died suddenly of heart trouble at the home of Mr. Robert Jenkins, of Luray, Wednesday evening, June 3, just as he was going in to supper. Mr. Anderson was a contractor for stucco work and was in Luray in the interest of his work. The body was brought to the home of his brother, Mr. Lloyd Anderson of Warrenton the following day and the funeral services were held on Saturday, June 6, from the Baptist Church, at Goldview, the Andersons' old home- stead, and the body was laid to rest beside that of his parents. He was fifty-two years of age. He leaves a wife and three children, four brothers, Lloyd Cromwell Anderson, of Warrenton; James Carroll Anderson, of Silver Springs; Irva McConclue Anderson, of Washington; Waverly Malcolm Anderson, of Philadelphia; three sisters, Mrs. Ada B. Curtis, of Washington; Mrs. Olive R. Curtis, of Richmond and Mrs. James Bernard Trimmer, of Manassas.

We've never changed so many prices in our lives

The price of food has been going down so fast for the last year or more that at times we've thought we'd have to put on an extra force just to change the price tags.

For we don't lose any time reducing the prices in our stores when the food we sell costs us less. . . . When we pay less, you pay less. And we're usually the first to bring prices down where they belong. . . . As you've probably noticed, if you read our advertising.

But we carry over a thousand food items. And we can't very well put all of their names in the paper, no matter how low in price they are. So you can see how desirable it would be for you to come in and see for yourself.

Prosperity Follows The Power Lines

MANUFACTURERS looking for sites for their plants want unlimited, low-cost power. They demand continuous electric service. So do prosperous home seekers, the sort of people you would be glad to welcome as your neighbors.

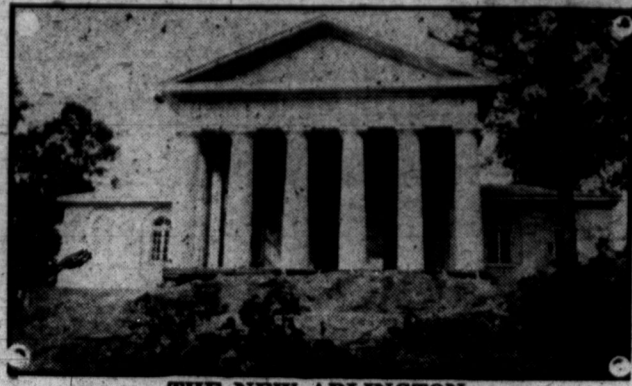

There are 277 communities in Virginia and West Virginia that enjoy this sort of service. They get it from the Virginia Public Service Company. Last year they used 14.4% more electricity than they did in 1929, and the average cost per kilowatt-hour went down from 7.1 cents to 5.98 cents. This year they will probably use more electricity than ever before. They can afford to because it costs them less.

Our 68,000 satisfied customers live in prosperous towns—towns that will grow because they are attractive to industry and to people. This company will grow with them. You can share in this growth by buying our 6% Preferred Shares. It has a par value of $100 a share. It is preferred both as to assets and to dividends. It is fully paid—non-assessable. It is safe.

of the committee decreed that a primary be held and fixed the terms, in good faith I entered it, and with every intention of playing their game according to its rules, playing them fair and square, and abiding by its result, I assured my opponent that should he win the Democratic nomination I would take pleasure in supporting him most actively in the November election, and he gave me the same assurance. I have the utmost confidence in him. His word is his bond. A number of the politicians opposing their support to me should I succeed in winning the nomination. It is hard for me now to understand why these gentlemen who appeared to be so enthusiastic over a primary and so interested in harmony and the welfare of the party three or four months ago are now searching about for an excuse to call the primary off, and cause a condition that may elect the entire Republican ticket.

WHEN MY SHIP COMES IN!

Money matters drive me frantic—
Until I'm almost in a panic—
How to make each little penny
Do the work of oh, so many—
Has my mind almost deranged—
But all this will be so changed—
On the day my ship comes in!

I'll go out and paint the town—
East and West and up and down—
I'll buy dresses by the score—
Shoes and hats—and then some more—

I'll have sundaes on Mondays—
Chicken every day—
When things begin to roll my way—
On the day my ship comes in!

I would like to be so generous—
And I'd like to be so kind—
But to do it on my income is a worry to my mind—
But—when my ship comes in from off the sea—

With its load of gold for me—
I won't be the one to forget—
All the poor folks I have met.

I'll go out and treat—
Every beggar on the street—
Every kid that's in the town—
Will eat a bag of candy down—
I will found an old folks' home and a lot of other things—
And my poor relations, shall also have their flings—

Others, too, will bless that day—
When the money starts my way—
On the day my ship comes in—

I'll forget the empty years—
All the suffering, all the tears—
What matters, if I'm old and gray—
I'll forget it and be gay—
If it's December, I'll make it May—
When things begin to roll my way—
On the day my ship comes in!
—Dreamer.

*Consider your Adam's Apple!!

Don't Rasp Your Throat With Harsh Irritants.

"Reach for a LUCKY instead"

Eve started it and the daughters of Eve inherited it. Eve gave Adam the apple, and it seems that Adam must have passed it on. For every man and every woman has an Adam's Apple. Put your finger on your Adam's Apple—that is your larynx, your voice box—it contains your vocal chords. Consider your Adam's Apple—when you do so, you are considering your throat—your vocal chords. Don't rasp your throat with harsh irritants. Reach for a LUCKY instead. Here in America LUCKY STRIKE is the only cigarette which brings you the added benefit of the exclusive "TOASTING" Process, which includes the use of modern Ultra Violet Rays. It is this exclusive process that expels certain harsh irritants present in all raw tobaccos. These expelled irritants are sold to manufacturers of chemical compounds. They are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE. And so we say "Consider your Adam's Apple."

TUNE IN—The Lucky Strike Dance Orchestra, every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evening over N. B. C. network.
