

KIWANIS HOLD INTERCLUB DINNER

Over One Hundred in Attendance.

Five-score Kiwanians representing the Arlington County, Fredericksburg and Winchester, Va., clubs, and the Washington, D. C., club held a "Fellowship Song Fest" interclub meeting with the Manassas Club last Friday night. This was one of the most entertaining interclub meetings ever held at the Manassas Club.

The program, which included solos, duet and group singing, and an educational feature entitled "An Intellectual Dinner," was directed by Edwin F. Hill, vice-president of the Washington Club, and chairman of Kiwanis Education for the Capital District, which includes forty-six clubs in Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, and the District of Columbia. Guest singers included Fred East, a member of the Washington club; Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Snyder, members of the Metropolitan Presbyterian Church choir; George A. Small, styled the "one-man band," also of Washington, and little Teresa Childs of Clarendon, Va., who sang two solos accompanied by her mother. Group singing was led by William R. Schmucker, song leader of the Washington Club.

Speakers were Robert A. Hutchison, Manassas, lieutenant-governor, first division, Capital District, and Jesse C. Oakes, Winchester, lieutenant-governor-elect, who will take office January 1 of next year. Other speakers were Judge Alvin T. Embrey, Fredericksburg club, who defined Kiwanis objective No. 1, which is personal service to underprivileged children; Henry Klinge of the Arlington County Club, who talked on intelligent, aggressive and serviceable citizenship; W. Thomas French, secretary of the Arlington County Club, on mutual understanding between the farmer and the city man, which he said in the Capital District had been developed to a high degree by Kiwanis clubs, who had held regular meetings with their farmer friends, had sponsored 4-H clubs, and had secured the services of farm demonstration agents and had been helpful in other ways in developing this objective; John Webster talked on vocational guidance, and Stephen E. Childs on boys' and girls' work. A discussion of Kiwanis objectives as carried out by clubs in the Capital District was led by Mr. Hill.

"The administrative policies of Kiwanis International," Mr. Hutchison said, "are to provide adequate leadership training with the thought that each officer or member of Kiwanis International pledges himself to carry on the objectives of the organization."

"No Kiwanian can undervalue the importance of this fixed major objective of Kiwanis, whether of the individual clubs or of Kiwanis International. But until he has contributed of his time, of his thought, of his sympathies—something beyond mere material gifts of money—one may not savor the full flavor of altruistic service."

"There are few tasks more difficult, few calling for the exercise of the soundest judgment than the administration of any charity, public or private. It is a delicate problem to minister to the necessities of the deserving without at the same time rewarding the sloth of the indolent, and the improvidence of the negligent. To render assistance to the children, to relieve the helpless, to aid the worthy, and at the same time force the social parasite who battens upon the weakness of his family to struggle for his own existence, calls for the exercise of both judgment and tact of the highest order. This is a situation which calls for personal service, and only by personal service, by personal contact, can one measure up to his full responsibility."

"Intelligent, aggressive and serviceable citizenship is another objective."

"Never before in our state or national history has so splendid an opportunity been presented for so important a service. Never before has there been such need of an awakening of the civic conscience, and a realization of the obligation of social duty."

"I am by no means a pessimist. I do not apprehend any immediate danger from communistic ideas. I do not fear serious consequences from the infiltration of radical ideas from abroad."

"Whatever danger, we as American citizens have to apprehend, is from our own sympathy."

"Each community in this country, whether Chicago or Manassas, gets

NOVEMBER MEETING WOMAN'S CLUB

The November meeting of the Manassas Woman's Club was held at the high school Wednesday, Nov. 11, at 2:30 p.m. This meeting, though not as fully attended as usual, was marked by much that was interesting in the business of the club.

Mrs. Eula Merchant was elected from the Garden Section and the club to meet with the Civic Section Monday, Nov. 9, to discuss plans for planting in the town.

Mrs. Waters was made chairman of Christmas Dance Committee with Mrs. Hooff, Mrs. Dalton, Mrs. Lloyd, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Marsteller as members of committee, and Mr. J. P. Lynn, chairman of decorating committee.

Mrs. Sanders proposed a plan for observing the Bi-centennial celebration which when worked out will prove most impressive.

Mr. Davison from Washington representing the American Red Cross gave an excellent talk before the club. Delicious refreshments were served by the committee for the month.

precisely the local government it deserves. Indifference in this community, a willingness that a few shall direct the affairs of the community, a complacency which forbids an active interest in so sordid a matter as 'politics,' results, not in a community government, but clique control. Raise this condition to the nth power, and you have Chicago. For Chicago is any small community greatly enlarged.

"I know of few more services, more transcendently important which a Kiwanis club can render its community, than to stimulate its interest in its local government. Politics must be kept out of the clubs. Personalities must be avoided, but there are community issues which may be vital, which ought not to be evaded."

"The majority of our citizens are at heart, both honest and decent. They may reach incorrect conclusions, either because they do not understand a situation, or because they have not reasoned correctly or logically, but their intentions are of the best. And right here is where the Kiwanis clubs can render this high service—by stimulating interest in local government."

"Most of the clubs in the Capital District are doing, as they have done, a splendid work in bringing about a better understanding between the farmer and the city man."

"My close observation convinces me that today, in the cities there is a great congestion of unemployed; while in the country districts with which I am familiar, there is a dearth of farm labor. In a registration of the unemployed recently taken in this county, but a few persons registered as out of a job, and seeking one."

"The same is true in other counties and towns in this state. In brief, the farmers have been unable to obtain labor, at reasonable wages, to harvest the bumper crops of the year, and to do other necessary farm work; while the highways are filled with men, pretending to be looking for jobs in the cities."

"If each Kiwanis Club in the Capital District will lend its active aid to ridding the cities of this congestion of unemployed, and getting labor back in the country where it is needed, it will have rendered a triple service. It will help solve the unemployment problem; it will directly assist the farmers, and will directly contribute to and promote a better feeling between the farmer and the town man."

Present at the meeting in addition to those on the program were Hugh D. Scott, president of the Fredericksburg Club; Charles R. Buckley, vice-president; Jere H. M. Willis, district trustee, who is also mayor of Fredericksburg; Judge Alvin T. Embrey, former president; William N. Cummings, James G. Harrison, Julian J. Garner, Charles A. Carmichael, Roger Clarke, Bruce Neal, Rev. Richard V. Lancaster, Dr. M. L. Altstetter, William F. Cole, Dr. Richard N. Lanier, Ben T. Pitts, Blaine L. Lucas, George B. Everhart, Dr. Lee J. Cooke, Maj. Arthur E. Wilbourn, Alfred F. Kregger and Dr. Sidney L. Scott.

The Winchester Club was represented by Dr. Robert M. C. Glass, president; Dr. George G. Snarr, vice-president; Andrew Bell, secretary; Ansel Sollenberger, Wendall Goode and O. L. Jamison.

Present from the Washington Club were Charles W. Pimper, William N. Freeman, William F. Smith, F. Archie Meatyard, and Burns C. Downey.

Fredericksburg with twenty members present carried off the honors for the visiting club with largest percentage of attendance.

MEN'S SOCIAL CLUB

The Men's Social Club of Manassas held the most important meeting last week since its inception nearly two years ago. Interest has perceptibly lagged in the past few months and the average attendance dropped to less than a dozen.

Certain difficulties have been ironed out, and a clear road appears ahead now. President Sigman presided after an excellent meal served by the ladies of the Presbyterian church, and the discussion over work to be done by committees took the better part of an hour.

Messrs. Sam Harley and Chris Meetze were added to the membership by unanimous vote.

Mr. Meetze, our former delegate in the legislature, gave a rousing talk that showed all of his old-time fire, and promised the club a real talk in the next future.

The next meeting will be held on December 10.

MANASSAS HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Armistice Day was celebrated at the high school on Wednesday of last week. Speakers and readers on this program sought not only to honor the names and the memory of those who fought for the cause in the World War, but likewise to instill into the minds of the young people of the school, the importance of co-operation for world peace. Mr. Gibson, especially in a splendid address, made this plea.

The following program was given: Prayer—Rev. Stuart Gibson America—By the School Flag Salute.

On Monday, November 9, Miss Selma Hindle of Amelia, Va., took up her duties as instructor of Mathematics, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Mary J. Cox. Miss Cox left to enter upon her duties as Professor of Mathematics in Hollins College.

The School regrets the loss of Miss Cox, but is fortunate to have obtained the services of Miss Hindle.

Education Week was celebrated on Wednesday morning in an assembly given by the high school pupils, Elizabeth Beavers presiding. Rev. W. A. Hall talked on "The Bible as a Factor in Education." Other speakers on this occasion were Charlotte Tiffany, Eleanor Gibson, Harriett Pattie, Edith Jasper and Cleveland Fisher. Each stressed progress resulting from the contact of the school with some phase of everyday life.

Mr. Hyslip, State Director of Vocational Education, will speak on this occasion.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

Sunday, Nov. 15, the most beautiful autumn day the writer can recall of ever seeing, a host of relatives and friends, seventy-five or more in number, gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William May, near Aden, to celebrate Mr. May's 75th birthday.

A surprise? Yes, it really was, but to Mr. May it was a happy one. Several tables were placed in the yard and they were filled with an abundance of food.

Mr. May returned thanks and all enjoyed the delicious dinner, after which the gathering enjoyed some time socially. Mr. May gave a short address which was commented on by many. Some of his words were "Let us realize each year we are growing older and let us prepare ourselves to meet our Savior."

Mr. May spent his early life in Rockingham county, coming to Prince William about 25 years ago. The community here holds him in the highest esteem. He has always been a most earnest church worker, being one of the oldest members of the Aden U. B. Church.

It was all told, one of the most pleasant gatherings one could hope to attend and his many friends sincerely hope he will live to see many more birthdays.

Following are the names of those present: Mr. and Mrs. P. B. May and family, Mr. and Mrs. G. T. May and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. May and family, Messrs. George, David and Claud Smith, Jr. and Mrs. C. E. Neff and family, Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Whetzel and family, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Bowman and family, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Stultz and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Hively and family, Mrs. J. W. Arnold and son, Eugene, all of Nokesville; Mrs. Nannie Custer of Harrisonburg, Mr. and Mrs. George Bowers, Mr. and Mrs. Lee May of Timberville, Mr. and Mrs. Russell May of Mathias, W. ## LIVESTOCK MEN TO COOPERATE

Northern Virginia Livestock Producers Meet at Warrenton.

A meeting of men interested in availing themselves of the services of the Eastern Livestock Cooperative Marketing Association will be held at the Warrenton Court House on Monday, November 23, at 1:30 p.m. At this meeting either Mr. Denman, livestock member of the Federal Farm Board, or some other representative of the Board, will discuss the advantages to be obtained by Virginia livestock producers by marketing livestock cooperatively at the Baltimore, Jersey City or Lancaster markets thru the association.

It will be to the advantage of every livestock producer in Prince William County, including those who have surplus cows to market from time to time for beef, to attend this meeting at Warrenton Monday afternoon to familiarize themselves with the movement under way of organizing a marketing organization, similar to those now operating successfully in Cincinnati, East St. Louis and other points.

VIRGINIA PUBLIC SERVICE CO. REPORTS INCREASE IN CUSTOMER STOCKHOLDERS

Local Investors Show Interest in Operations of Company.

"This year has witnessed the largest increase in the number of customer owners of its Preferred Stock of any year in the history of the Company," L. W. Van Bibber, secretary and treasurer of the Virginia Public Service Company, stated Tuesday in commenting on evidences of improved business conditions in Virginia.

Mr. Van Bibber's statement was issued in connection with a report from the Customer Ownership Committee of the National Electric Light Association which showed a growth in Customer Ownership movement in the country.

Mr. Van Bibber says that the Virginia Public Service Company has taken the lead in the customer ownership movement and that the number of stockholders of the company in Virginia has shown a phenomenal increase during the past four years.

At the present time there are 7,853 preferred stockholders in the Virginia of whom are residents of the 273 Public Service Company, nearly all communities served by the company. This number is rapidly being increased. At the close of 1928 there were 3,828 preferred stockholders. This number increased to 4,906 at the close of 1929. There were 5,837 stockholders at the close of last year and to date this year this number has been increased to 7,853.

"Several times recently, customer stockholders have come to us, sometimes to tell about outstanding bits of service which have been performed by our employees; and sometimes to suggest ways in which we might increase the efficiency of our service. In many cases, these suggestions have helped us to increase operating efficiency and to improve service to our customers."

"Bulletins are sent to the stockholders every three months with quarterly dividend checks," Mr. Van Bibber said. These bulletins describe the financial condition of the company and tell about its plans and policies. Frequently letters are received from the stockholders, discussing various phases of the company's operations.

Last year the company adopted the slogan "Every Employee A Stockholder" and all of the 1,322 employees are now owners of one or more shares of its stock. The company has now adopted the slogan of "Every Customer A Stockholder" and rapid progress is being made in the realization of this objective.

LAUREL AND HARDY
GAMBOL IN "PARDON US"
AT DIXIE THEATRE

Laurel and Hardy, those two imitable funsters who never let trouble get the better of them selected a "natural" with which to take them from two-reelers to the feature comedy field.

It is doubtful if there is a comedy made today so uproariously funny as "Pardon Us," which opens Monday, Nov. 23, at the Dixie Theatre. It is a notable accomplishment for Hal Roach, who has heretofore given the entertainment world plenty of good comedies but branded all too short by the fun-loving public.

Laurel and Hardy are at their best. It would be difficult to imagine them better than in any of their shorts, for they have set a standard for good pictures. The story, which deals principally with prison reform, has a great deal to do with the success of the picture.

Situations have been injected with discretion and spaced with precision. One of the most amusing sequences deals with Laurel and Hardy in "black-face." They have escaped jail and in order to keep their freedom they go "black-face" and join a group of colored cotton pickers. To top it of they make pets of the bloodhounds sent after them.

Hardy disclosed heretofore unexploited talent by singing "Lazy Moon" in a very pleasing tenor voice. Laurel vies for honors with his contribution of a buck and wing dance.

The entire picture is hilariously funny and shows excellent direction by James Parrott. Among others in the cast who give splendid performances are Wilfred Lucas, Walter Lang, June Marlowe and James Finlayson.

HAYMARKET BEATS MARSHALL

The Haymarket High boys won their opening game of basketball today, over Marshall High, by a score of 29 to 7.

The Marshall boys put up a good fight but appeared unable to get through the defense of the Haymarket team. Numerous tries for goal were to an avail.

Garrison was high scorer for Haymarket with seven field goals to his credit. Garrett was second with three field goals and one from free throw.

FOR THAT WHICH IS NOT MEAT

Here is a good thought from the Richmond News Leader, for today and for every day:

What fools some of us business men are! We tell ourselves that we are going to throw everything into our work and amass a competence, and then we are going to "take it easy." So far as we argue for the reasonable protection of our old age, we are right. Dependence on one's children when one is no longer able to earn a livelihood is a tragic fate. But is it scarcely worse than wearing oneself out by the struggle to reach a goal of greater wealth. Some drop on the way and die or creep about, half paralyzed. Most of those who reach the mark are so exhausted by the long pursuit, and have been so sapped of other interests in their hard concentration, that they are incapable of enjoying the leisure they have won for themselves.

Nothing in life is worth so much that one give up for it the joy of daily life. Time counts more than money. What does a man gain if he accumulates a few thousand dollars more and has paid for it by forfeiting the one thing he can never replace—the days that were sweet.—Stanton News-Leader.

I'M GLAD

I'm glad that I was not too proud,
 The day I came on cruelty,
 To try to shame a grinning crowd
 And take a puppy home with me.

I'm glad to think I never might Grow too indifferent and old
 To suffer on a winter night
 For trapped things dying in the cold.

I'm glad I do not grow too wise,
 Too strong and resolute and brave,
 To lay, with tear-mist in my eyes,
 A rosebud on a kitten's grave.

BOLLING

This family is of very ancient origin. We find that Robert Bolling, Esquire, in the reign of Edward IV resided at Bolling Hall, near Bradford, in Yorkshire, England, where many of his ancestors lived and where he died in 1485. He was buried in the family vault at Bradford.

Robert Bolling of Bolling Hall, a descendant of the above mentioned Robert, was the first of the name to settle in America, arriving in this country in 1660. He was a Virginia Burgess and took an active part in Colonial proceedings. The Bolling family has always been deeply interested in affairs of Church and State and its members have contributed materially to the progress of their community. Robert Bolling, 2d, was quite a leader among men and was a distinguished member of the House of Burgesses from 1723-30.

Bollings intermarried into the most prominent families of the Old Dominion and have produced men and women of high achievement in every generation.

An eminent descendant of this splendid family is Edith Bolling Wilson, widow of the War President, Woodrow Wilson.

The above interesting article on the Bolling family from the "Charlotte (Va.) County News" was given us by Mrs. Roberts Bolling Merchant of Manassas and we are reprinting it by request.

Do You Expect To Make a Financial Success

If you do, and haven't a bank account, you've started on the wrong road; for no matter how large a salary you might draw, if you don't save some of it for emergencies and business opportunities, you cannot adjudge your career a financial success.

But there are many moderate-salaried young men who have accounts with us, and who are well on the road to financial success.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear son, John Proctor, who departed this life three years and four months ago, June 22, 1928, Joplin, Va.

Three years and four months ago dearest John since you left us, and went away to be with God and his angels, that was a sad June day.

You left us broken-hearted
 And all seems dreary there.
 Home is not the same, dear John,
 As it was when you were there.

Days of sadness still come o'er me,
 Tears of sorrow silent flow
 Memory keeps you ever near me
 Though death claimed you three years and four months ago.

Oh, could we open wide the grave
 And see your face once more,
 To hear your voice is all we crave,
 As in the days of your.

I shall never cease to love you,
 Though your form is hidden from view

And some day I hope to meet you
 Around God's throne in life anew.

Heaven retaineth now our treasure
 Earth alone the casket keeps,
 And the sunshine loves to linger,
 Where our dear John sleeps.

By his loving mother,
 Mrs. Roberta Randall

HUNTING SEASON OPENS

For the past two weeks, Clerk Ledman has been kept busy issuing hunting licenses, and on Monday the season opened in full blast. Close observers say that the hunting here has been more active than formerly. A number of offenders have been apprehended by State and county officers this week, and several fines have been assessed.

CATHARPIN

Mr. and Mrs. Tribble and children of Tecumseh were Oakwood callers last week.

A tenement house of Cottage Farm owned by Mr. Godfrey was burned to the ground last week. This is the second time the fire demon has visited this farm during the past two years; a fine dairy barn and silos being destroyed in 1929. Mr. Godfrey seems to be having more than his share of fire losses just now.

day's balance would appear if all the good and bad acts could be listed upon the scale of right observance of the day? In many instances custom has made it a "feast" day without the thanks; in many others a day of unbridled liberty. Back in the old Youth's Companion days Thanksgiving Day rivaled Christmas for favors among children. The scene was pictured showing a son or daughter with offspring snugly tucked away in sleigh or sled arriving at the front gate of the parental home where they were met by grandfather and grandmother; happy children shouting their joy at the prospects of a feast. Another scene depicted a table full of sweet meats and good things to eat with a gobbler occupying the seat of honor in the centre all surrounded by a most happy group, when all was ready grandfather gave thanks in the old fashioned way for all mercies received. How such scenes cling to memory. We hope that many such scenes may be enacted in this our Land of Plenty upon next Thanksgiving Day.

Thanksgiving Day is just around the corner; proclamations are being broadcast to the people reminding them of its existence and asking for its observance. We sometimes wonder what percentage of the people observe the day in the spirit and for the purpose in which it was originally proclaimed. Generally speaking each individual observes it in his own way; some think it a little time should be given to some form of worship or recognition of the Divine Giver for the fruits of the earth, health, peace and happiness, but many never stop long enough to think whether they are receiving anything or not; just plodding along following lines of least resistance considering it an "Off Day" which licenses one to engage in anything, good, bad or indifferent. We have often wondered how the

TWIN CITY GOSSIP (OCOQUAN AND WOODBRIDGE)

This is Twin City Broadcasting over The Manassas Journal net work. . . . These broadcasts and rambling talks are given from time to time so you good people will, in time to come to be able to appreciate not only the scenic beauty of Twin City, but feel a never-dying longing to come and live with us. . . . Our sky-line is beautiful. . . . Not the same beauty that has been, man built, into the sky-line of greater New York, as seen from the decks of an incoming ocean liner in New York Harbor. . . .

The sky-line of Twin City far surpasses anything that man has ever built. . . . Stone, brick, mortar and steel put together by man and given all the touches of architectural science has never been able to vie in beauty with the rock-ribbed hills of God. . . . The hills are carved by the hand of nature and painted by the Architect of Divinity. . . . Solid granite stands as a massive wall and defies the ages to wrinkle its rugged face. . . . The great oak pierces the rich mold of mother earth and sends its roots to a rock foundation to live for centuries with the children of nature. . . .

In the spring time it answers a divine decree and puts on its holiday raiments, and invites the little folks of the forest to come play beneath its broad spreading arms. . . . To climb upon its lap and play hide-and-seek among its green branches. . . . The mountain laurel, ivy, running cedar, dwarf pine, juniper and holly beckons to the lovers of nature and thing beautiful appear in base-relief and utter a silent invitation to come visit us and finally dwell with us. . . .

The waters of Occoquan Creek, cool and deep, reward the fisherman with a fine specimen of the finny tribe when he baits his hook and casts it overboard. . . . The broad Potomac at out feet furnish net fishermen with several varieties of fish, as well as crabs. . . . Acres of ducks are now on Occoquan Bay and the Potomac. . . . Yes, Twin City is the Promised Land. . . . Moses with the children of Israel wandered in the WILDERNESS north, south, east and west of us. . . . The Potomac River, Occoquan Bay and Creek, Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad Co., U. S. Route No. 1, coupled with our fine potential flying field gives MOSES a fine chance to lead the children from the Wilderness into Twin City and feel the heart beats of the Promised Land. . . .

Talking about the Promised Land and the beauties of nature reminds me that we are mighty near Thanksgiving. . . . Most folks think this is a day for feasting—turkey and cranberry sauce, pumpkin pie, cider and roasted sweet potatoes, and then, indigestion, soda and castor-oil. . . . Help make this day just what it says and means—"THANKSGIVING". . . . The whole world needs a dose of getting closer to the OLD RUGGED CROSS. . . . We have a habit of disobeying a law if the law doesn't suit us. . . . In other words, we are trying to train our minds and mould our lives to certain views and ideas as expressed by those who would break down our laws of society and hand the moulding of future generations over to the spirit of mammon. . . .

It is a good idea for us all, now and then, to thank the God that our forefathers worshipped, for the peace and happiness, prosperity and health that most of us enjoy. . . . Science cannot destroy, nor can conoclasts break down the simple faith as told in the following lines:

In the book of Genesis at de creat'n, De Massa made eber-thing by Divine Inspirati'n;
In de hollow uv His mighty hands De Massa holds de waters and de lands,
He spoke and dere wuz night Divided from de light . . .
And made He, man out of the dust, Honest, upright and just . . .
And put him in a garden uv flowers Whur' he could while away de hours And dar Old Adam would sit and nod Wid a head dat wuz made from a clod . . .
Being that dis wuz de only man, De sole human creat'n in all de lan', He wuz feeling nervous and a little shakey,
Lonely, creepy and kinder snakey When de Massa cums walking by, And observes Old Adam wid an Omnipotent EYE . . .

(c) Materials used in the construction work under this ordinance shall be of a quality recognized by the U. S. Bureau of Standards as adequate for the purposes indicated in this franchise, and all construction work shall be such as is used and done by like companies doing business in towns of substantially the same size as the Town of Quantico, Va. The location of all mains, conduits, pipes and other appurtenances in the streets and alleys in said Town under this ordinance shall be subject to the approval of the committee on streets of the Council of the Town of Quantico, Va., and in case the authorities of the Town of Quantico shall at any time during the life of the franchise elect to change the grade of any street, or alley, the purchaser, his, their or its successors or assigns, will, upon being directed by resolution of the Council so to do, relay its mains, or service pipes and the cost of relaying such mains and pipes shall be done by the purchaser, his, their or its successors or assigns. You needn't tell me
 —I know Camel is the fresh cigarette!

Milder
 because they're fresh
CAMELS are never parched or toasted!

FOLKS who smoke really fresh cigarettes made from choice sun-ripened tobaccos never have to give a thought to their throats.

That's because such fresh cigarettes retain natural moisture — and are gratefully smooth, cool, throat-friendly, mild.

Camels are the fresh cigarette — everyone knows that now — they're blended from the finest Turkish and mild Domestic tobaccos that money and skill can buy.

We would never dream of parching or toasting these choice sun-ripened tobaccos — that would only drive off or destroy the natural moisture that makes Camels fresh in nature's own mild way.

The Camel Humidor Pack protects a fine cigarette fresh with natural moisture — it could do little or nothing to freshen a cigarette that is dried-out or factory-stale.

If you smoke for pleasure, see for yourself what freshness means in mildness and flavor — switch to Camels for just one day — then leave them, if you can!

Don't remove the moisture-proof wrapping from your package of Camels after you open it. The Camel Humidor Pack is protection against perfume and powder odors, dust and germs. In offices and homes, even in the dry atmosphere of artificial heat, the Camel Humidor Pack delivers fresh Camels and keeps them right until the last one has been smoked

TWIN CITY GOSSIP

It wuz den the Massa say, "Adam all
I will make him a helpmeet from a rib bone"
And causing Adam to take a long rest,
He opened a hole in his breast
And made a companion for lonely
Adam,
And named her Eve, Adam's Madam.
Den Adam awoke and rubbed his
eyes:
Upright, just but not overwise,
And the Massa says, "Adam, here
am a help meet,
Pure, simple, womanly and sweet."
And Adam says, "Flesh uv my flesh and bone
I will no longer be alone . . ."
And in de garden 'mid the trees and flowers . . .
Adam and Eve walked for hours and hours;
Den talked uv the beautiful sky above
And uv de Massa and His love,
They watched de sun go down in the west,
A complete worl' created and blest . . .
It wuzent long before Eve began to pine
And friends, bofe uv 'em begins to whine,
Jest kinder easy and in a loving way,
For dey wur a little puzzled and hardly kno' what to say,
Rut dat old serpent wid his forked
tongue,
Wuz on the alert and on eber word
he hung . . .
De Massa says, "De fruit uv all dese trees
You may eat jest as yo' please";
But to de tree uv knowledge He pi'nt
and say,
"If yo' eat dat yo' will sur'ly hav' to pay."
De forbid'n fruit dat will op'n yo'
eyes,
De tree uv knowledge dat will make yo wise . . .
But wid the comin' uv Eve de devil saw,
A chance to break de Massa' law
And de serpent, de devil, he very smart,
He talk to Eve frum de heart,
He says, "Dis tree is very-very fine
food,
De very best, it am very good . . ."
So Eve took a bite, she wanted to be wise,

And den looked Adam straight in de
eyes,
And say, "You take a bite too,
What is good for me is gud for yo'"
And Adam uv course he acted polite,
Took de fruit and took a bite . . .
The Good Massa come' walking' thru,
And says, "Adam, what is de matter wid yo'?"
And Adam say, "O Massa, dis woman
beguiled me,
I ate de fruit from de forbid'n tree."
And Eve den told de story
How de snake had caused sich sin and worry . . .
Den de Massa say to de old snake:
"Trubble will follow yo' in yo'r wake,
On thy belly thou shall crawl,
Because yo' help'd man to fall . . .
Yo' shall be least among de beast uv
de fiel'
And de seed uv man shall crush yo'
wid his heel . . ."
And unto Adam de Massa say,
"If yo' sin yo' will sur'ly have to pay,
Thou hast eat uv de tree,
The one dat I had forbid'n thee,
Go! and becaus' uv yo'r sin
Unto dust thou shall return and all thou kin . . ."
So be thankfu and by God's grace
Live so as to meet de Massa face to face,
Be ashamed uv sin and uv de evil way,
Live upright and just day by day—
So when Gabriel blows de horn
Yo' ans'w'r, "Her' I 'S Lord" on res-urrect'n Morn . . .
