PROPOSAL FOR PUBLIC WORKS

Carson May Be Chosen to Administer Act.

Shenandoah Boulevard Project Is Presented for Consideration.

Many projects are under consideration under Virginia's participation in President Roosevelt's big Public Works program, and there is much speculation as to who will be selected to administer the work in Virginia. The name of Hon. W. E. Carson, chairman of the Virginia Conservation Commission, is being most prominently mentioned.

Governor Pollard had before him the first batch of suggested proposals for construction under the new federal works act which may make available to Virginia projects as much as $60,000,000.

Among the first to come in was one submitted by Representative S. Otis Bland, of the former First Congressional District, who suggested the construction of a road from Stratford to Deltaville.

Others included a boulevard from the national capital to the Shenandoah National Park, submitted by Hugh E. Naylor, Front Royal, of the John Marshall Highway Association; a Norfolk-Portsmouth tunnel, suggested by H. W. Davis of the Norfolk committee of 100; a bridge across York River from Yorktown to Gloucester Point, suggested by Maj. Raymond B. Bottom, of Newport News; sewage disposal plants for communities bordering on Hampton roads, suggested by J. J. Baecher of the Hampton roads co-operative committee on stream pollution, and prevention of soil and coastal erosion, construction of 4-H club camps, and rural electrification, suggested by John R. Hutcheson, director of extension at Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

The governor has all of these, and others, under consideration. He pointed out that he is ready to act for Virginia, but nothing can be done until the federal organization is complete.

WILL CONDUCT FIRE SCHOOLS

Training Schools to Be Zoned.

The executive committees of the Virginia State Firemen's Association and the Fire Chiefs' Association of Virginia at a recent meeting in Harrisonburg approved plans for conducting fire training schools on a zone basis throughout the State, similar to method by which the police schools were so successfully held last year, it was announced last Saturday by the League of Virginia Municipalities. Plans for the schools were submitted by Harold I. Baumes, director of personnel training, for the consideration of the firemen at the meeting which was presided over by Frank H. Wheeler, president of the Virginia State Firemen's Association. The schools will be conducted by the Virginia State Firemen's Association and the Fire Chiefs' Association of Virginia in conjunction with the League of Virginia Municipalities and Mr. B. H. Van Oot of the State Division of Trade and Industrial Education.

Fire training schools will be conducted in twenty zones by expert firemen carefully chosen by the fire chiefs in each zone. These twenty-zone instructors will receive an intensive course of training at an instructors' school to be held in Richmond during the week of August 27. The services of Mr. C. E. Rakestraw of the Federal Board of Vocational Training have been secured to direct the school. He will be assisted by local fire chiefs, representative of various national organizations.

FIRST 1933 DAIRY FESTIVAL

CONTRIBUTIONS

The following letter has been received from A. Blunt, general manager of Burt Glass Company, Baltimore: "We had such a nice time in Manassas last year, we are inclined to want to repeat this year. You may count on a contribution of $25.00 to the Dairy Festival from us."

Also from the Sanitary Grocery Company: "Replying to your letter of June 17 to our Manassas manager, Mr. Carzico, we take pleasure in enclosing our check in the amount of $25.00 to assist in defraying expenses of the Dairy Festival."

Regular meeting of the Civilian Home Service Committee will be held in the office of the county nurse on Wednesday, June 28, at 2:30 p.m.

As this will be the last meeting until September, a good attendance is desired.

INTERCLUB GOLF MEET IS STAGED

Kiwians Also Get Sideline Congressional Activities.

Herbert E. Dameron, secretary to Senator Harry Floor Byrd, was the guest speaker on Ed Conner's program at last week's Kiwanis meeting.

Mr. Dameron gave a colorful picture of the troubles of a Congressional secretary and the many and unusual demands made upon one. He added a mixture of pathos to a strain of humor and altogether gave his audience a very entertaining talk.

Miss Dorothea E. Jennings sang two solos, accompanied by Miss Conner at the piano.

Prior to the meeting, a number of Washington and Alexandria boys braved a summer rain to play a good game of golf. The green fee was turned in over to the underprivileged child fund.

The winners of prizes were C. H. Pardee, with a low of 78, with Martin Wiegand following closely behind with a 79. Dr. O. U. Singer made third with an 81.

Alexandria was represented by Randall Cotton and Nelson Snyder while Ed Hill's crowd from Washington included also E. S. Pardee, F. T. Mitchell, George H. Winslow, George C. Shaffer, P. J. Harmon, C. D. German, Z. D. Blackstone, Harry Hahn, S. H. Talkes, (also Talkes, junior), C. W. Pimper, J. S. Bennett, Vergil O. Barnard, and A. W. Howard.

This Friday evening the club will go to Nokesville.

WATERS-HOLLADAY

The marriage of Miss Helen Fauntleroy Holladay, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Lewis Holladay, of Orange, Va., to Mr. Leon Ratcliffe Waters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Alexander Waters, of Culpeper, Va., was solemnized at 8 o'clock on Wednesday evening, June 14 in the Orange Presbyterian church. The ceremony was performed by Dr. G. G. Sydnor, of Charles Town, W. Va., assisted by Dr. Chas. R. Stribling, of Orange.

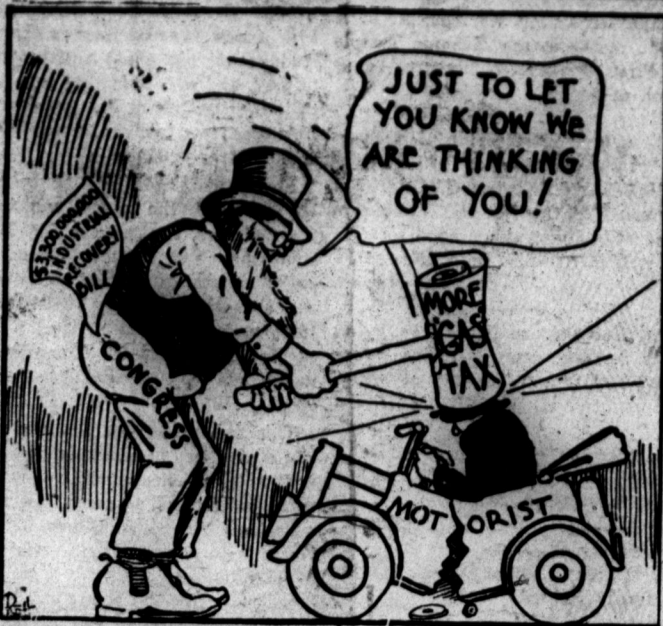

The church was beautifully decorated with Madonna lilies and cathedral candles against a background of hemlocks and ferns. The wedding music was played by Mr. James G. Sydnor, who played the Lohengrin march as the processional, and used Mendelssohn's march as the recessional. Just before the bride entered, Miss Patty Garrett, of Richmond, sang "Until" and "Because."

The bride entered with her father, who gave her in marriage. Her gown was of ivory satin with train, and the tulle veil which she wore fell from a cap caught with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses, lilies of the valley and baby's breath. She also carried a handkerchief, over a hundred years old, which had been given by her great aunt to her mother, the mother having been named for this aunt, and the bride for her mother.

Mrs. E. Jackson Eggborn, jr., of Culpeper, was matron of honor and Miss Aubrey Price Holladay was her sister's maid of honor. They wore gowns of white mousseline de sole, with sashes and shoes of green and yellow. Bridesmaids were Misses Helen Hawkins, of Baltimore, Md., cousin of the bride; Rose Ratcliffe, of Manassas, cousin of the bridegroom; Katherine Stahlman, of Charleston, W. Va., and Mary McIntosh, of Orange. Their frocks were of white Swiss organdie, with accessories of green and yellow, and they carried bouquets of spring flowers.

Mr. Waters had as his best man, Mr. E. Jackson Eggborn, jr., of Culpeper, and the groomsmen were Messrs. Clifton Yowell, of Culpeper; Sam Lewis, of New York; Henry Thompson Holladay, jr., of Orange, brother of the bride; Jack Ratcliffe, of Manassas, cousin of the bridegroom. The ushers were Messrs. Porter Holladay, of Farmville, and Lewis Holladay, jr., of Orange, brother of the bride; Charles Neal Goldsborough, of Culpeper, and Dick Griffith, of Brandy.

Immediately after the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. After the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Waters left for a northward trip.

SEVENTH VICTORY LOCAL GAME BODY FOR BALL TEAM OFFERS PRIZE

Strong Alexandria Eagles-Come Here This Sunday.

The Macks rung up their seventh victory of the season here last Sunday when they took the measure of the Virginia Athletic Club of Alexandria by the overwhelming score of 17-5. Buster Polen held the opposition to six hits during his eight innings on the mound, striking out eight men and allowing not a single walk. The Alexandria team was unable to score until the eighth inning, when they pushed over a run following an excusable error by Reid at shortstop on a hard-hit ball. The visitors reached Billy Ward for two hits and a walk, and, aided by an error and a couple of helpful outs, were able to get four tallies across the counting block. But these meant nothing in the final results.

Polen not only pitched well but also wielded a heavy stick, getting himself a home run, triple and single in three official times at bat. Woodward, Reid and Bradshaw also came in on the attack, dividing nine hits evenly between them.

The outstanding fielding bit of the game was contributed by Vetter, when he went behind second in the second inning to take a grounder which eluded Reid and made a perfect throw to first to get his man on a close decision. Saunders also made a nice play when he took a drive from McMennamin's bat near the right field foul line in the fourth inning. He robbed the batter of at least a double and postponed the making of the first hit of the game by the Alexandria boys off Polen.

Wurdemann kept up his record of making more runs than hits when he brought over two runs while getting only one hit. Bradshaw ran wild on the bases in the eighth inning, first stealing second, and then when a long fly had advanced him to the far corner, he took advantage of a slow windup by the Alexandria pitcher to steal home standing up.

This Sunday the Macks are going to tackle the Alexandria Eagles, one of the strongest outfits in northern Virginia, on the local field. Manager Adamson says that he expects the Eagles to be the strongest opposition that the local team has faced this year with the possible exception of the "Horning Jewelers, who are supposed to have the strongest amateur team in Washington. The Jewelers split with the Charlottesville Cardinals in a doubleheader played in Charlottesville last Sunday.

Working for Better Sportsmanship.

The Prince William County Fish and Game Protective Association was the guest of its vice-president, Mr. E. C. Spitzer, at the Nokesville High School auditorium on the night of June 13.

This was a very interesting meeting and quite a few made the trip from Manassas. The question as to what the prize would be for the largest small mouth bass caught this season by a member of the association, was decided upon; and consists of a rod, reel and line.

Those members wishing to enter their catches should have the fish weighed on reliable scales, measured as to their length and placed on piece of paper and outline drawn of same. This chart with other record must be mailed or delivered to Robert W. Adamson, secretary, at Manassas.

The season for bass fishing began on June 15 and despite the condition of the water a number of fish were caught and some have been recorded in competition for the prize. Mr. Jasper Whetzel so far holds the record catch with Mr. Franklin Hibbs and R. W. Adamson runners-up in this order. Under the fish and game laws of Virginia no bass may be taken from the waters under ten inches, however there have been some reports on violations in this respect. If your judgment relative to measurement is bad, then include a ruler or tape line in your tackle box; this violation will not be tolerated; it's not sportsmanship. We have been informed that by the game warden that the Bureau of Game and Inland Fisheries will pay a reward of $50.00 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of anyone dynamiting the streams of this state and the law pertaining to giging will be rigidly enforced. Do not forget to get your fishing license by July 1 and carry it with you at all times.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT

Little Doris Hammersley, aged five, the pet of the entire village of Accotink, was instantly ground to death this morning when she ran across the Richmond highway at Anderson's garage, on an errand to the grocery.

State Highway Officer J. W. Clarke, who lives in Accotink, was on the scene of the accident in a few minutes and summoned Drs. Caton, of Accotink, and Ransome, of Falls Church, the latter being coroner for Fairfax County.

It appears from evidence gathered that the child ran from behind a government truck directly in the path of a truck owned by D. G. Arnetti, of Lake City, S. C., and driven by James G. Hough, of Charlotte, N. C.

The inquest declared the matter an accident, and Hough was released.

QUANTICO TEAM WINS RIFLE HONORS

Four men, composing the rifle team of the Quantico Barracks, shot their way to the top notch of marksmanship Saturday when they defeated thirty teams composed of crack Marine marksmen and won the Elliott Trophy and the championship of the United States Marine Corps. In doing so the Quantico team set a new record, beating the old high score of last year by 21 points. Out of a possible 1200 the Quantico marksmen piled up a total of 1132 against the previous record of 1111.

The best rifle shots of the Marine Corps, from all points, many far-fung outposts, entered the match, which was shot under almost ideal conditions over the standard range, at 200, 300, 600 and 1,000 yards. The shooting was close, with the nearest contenders but 19 points below the Quantico team, and others trailing by but a few points more.

The score of the Quantico team was: Lieut. Scheyer, 281; Corp. Easley, 285; Pvt. McMahl, 283; Pvt. Chaney, 282. Total, 1132. Sergeant Harker was team captain and coach. The nearest contenders among the other teams were: Boston 1113; Hati 1108; Cuba, 1103.

He was an honor graduate also of Central High School in 1926. "Jimmie" Kasehagen, as he is familiarly known by the people of Manassas, was a former resident here.

ROAD PROJECT MAY PASS HERE

Twin State Federal Road Proposed.

Mr. E. R. Conner attended a group meeting yesterday in Fairfax at which time the following facts were made public:

Virginia's share of the $400,000,000 Federal highway public construction fund will be about $7,450,000, it was revealed. Maryland will get approximately $3,000,000.

It has been suggested that the money be used to build by-passes around Washington and Baltimore, and in carrying out the plan it is proposed to erect a new bridge over the Potomac River, north of Glen Echo, near Cabin John.

From the terminus of this bridge on the Virginia side it is proposed to construct a highway, making use of short spurs of county road now in existence, almost direct to Manassas. From Manassas it would be necessary to build an airline road to Culpeper, where the highway would form a junction with improved State roads leading to the Shenandoah Valley, Charlottesville and Richmond, all gateways to the South.

While the plan originated with the American Association of State Highway Officials and the Federal Bureau of Roads, there is no idea of coercing the states into using the Federal money for the by-pass plan. The states are free to pick the projects on which the money is to be expended, subject to approval of the Federal Bureau of Highways.

CLUB CONTESTS ON JUNE 30

The annual 4-H club contests, in which club members of the county will compete, will be held at Manassas on Friday, June 30. The County Club Council, comprised of officers and leaders of the various 4-H club organizations of the county, will hold its summer meeting and check up on the progress made by the clubs so far this year. Plans for participation in the State Short Course at Blacksburg, the District Short Course and Camp at Jamestown, the Piedmont Dairy Festival, and the fall Achievement Day exercises at Manassas will be taken up by this group. The project for 1934 will be selected for the girls group.

Since participation and attendance at the contest day will have a large part in the determining of the banner club for the year, it is expected that a high percentage of the young people enrolled in the clubs will be at Manassas on June 30.

The program for the day is as follows:
9:45 a.m. County 4-H Club Council meeting.
11:30 a.m. Seed corn selection and judging contest; judging of project for 1934—girls; judging project record books; judging 4-H club books; poultry culling and selection contest.
12:15 p.m. Lunch.
1:00 p.m. Health contest; judging of clothing; dairy cattle judging contest; correct dress contest (home, school or sport, church); dress review. (Winners to represent county in State contests).

ny-girl," who was his right hand.

But his right hand gradually learned what his left hand was doing! Jenny understood only stern goodness and rigid honor—only one woman for one man forever and ever. Jasper, now, he knew that he could be true to his wife only after death with the angels, though his wife was the one woman he did not forget!

"The Great Jasper" provides Dix with a new type of role—a character study requiring great artistry to interpret, and it is said that this scrappy two-fister gives his greatest performance as Jasper of the wicked wink and open heart.

Fulton Oursler's novel, a best seller, provided the story, which was adapted for the screen by H. W. Hanemann and Robert Tasker. The action starts in a small town along the eastern seaboard. The time is 1905, and Jasper is driving a horse car for the last time. Tomorrow the horse will be replaced by the new electric trolley.

This change brings about a strike which Jasper, through Jenny's courage, settles. Promotion follows and with it Jasper's greatest heart conquest — Norma McGowd, beautiful young wife of the old man who is his benefactor.

McGowd's dream is for a child, and when one is born he little dreams it is Jasper's. Years later, when McGowd learns the truth, he drives Jasper from town.

An Atlantic City Jasper pursues his merry, loving ways and becomes the renowned "Great Jasper"—a seer who knows all and tells all about love "For Women Only."

His career is followed up to the present time and includes the romance of his two sons—Jenny's boy stern like her, Norma's a genuine chip off the old block.

Wera Engels, young and beautiful German actress recently imported by Radio, plays Mrs. McGowd, whose affair with Jasper is resumed after her husband's death. Edna May Oliver portrays an amusing fortune teller. Florence Eldridge is Jasper's wife, and his two sons are enacted by Bruce Cabot and James Bush. The girl they both love and whom one of them dazzles in the true style of his dad, is played by Betty Furness.

J. Walter Ruben directed "The Great Jasper," for which Kenneth Macgowan acted as associate producer.

A COMPANY THIRTY YEARS OLD

Last Friday the Ford Motor Company completed 30 years of automobile making.

It is also my fortieth year at the same job. I made my first engine in 1893, and it still runs. This is the engine that won the Selden Patent Suit—which took the motor car out of the exclusive class, and opened the automobile industry to hundreds of manufacturers who started during the last 30 years.

Some of the men who began with me that June day in 1903, are working here yet. All of the principles we laid down then, are still operative; we find that they have great survival value for the future. To date they have produced and sold over 21,000,000 Ford cars.

Although we created the automobile market we have never thought it was good for anyone to monopolize it. We have always believed that before business could be good for one, it must be good for all. Our discoveries and improvements have always been open to other manufacturers without patent restrictions.

Of course, there is one thing we cannot share—everyone must get it for himself—and that is experience. Money could duplicate our buildings and machines, but it cannot duplicate 40 years of experience. And it is experience that makes a motor car.

But the past does not especially concern me; it has all been a preparation for the future. For myself, I feel that I have just been gathering the tools to do something worth while, and that my real task is still ahead.

Great changes are upon the world. False ideas of every kind are vanishing in the general upheaval. Those who built truly on principle will survive—their service will carry over. Business integrity and commodity honor will be fully justified. And newer and better ways of living will appear.

That is the outlook for this young thirty-year old Company of ours.

MAURY MARKER TO BE UNVEILED

(By Blanche S. McKnight)

The County of his birth will for the first time honor Matthew Fontaine Maury, famed Virginia navigator, and marine scientist, when at 4:30 P. M., June 21, a bronze tablet will be dedicated to his memory at the entrance to the farm where he was born in Spotsylvania County, January 14, 1806, according to an announcement made yesterday by J. T. Goolrick, organizer of the Maury Birthplace Association. Maury's birthplace is 10 miles west of historic Fredericksburg.

The marker is placed on Government land, in the new Battlefield Park, close to the old Furnace Road, which was the road Stonewall Jackson took when he marched past Hookers flank in the great, strategic movement at Manassasville.

Set in a huge boulder, brought from the Rappahannock River, near by, the bronze tablet recites the high spots of Maury's remarkable career. Colonel Arthur Wilbourne of the Battlefield Park Commission has been unusually interested in the project, and has made a small park around the stone and tablet.

The dedication exercises will be presided over by Dr. Granville Terrell of Louisa, Va., president of the Maury Birthplace Association, and professor emeritus of the University of Kentucky. Former state senator O'Connor Goolrick will deliver the principal address. Judge A. T. Embrey, who donated the ground where the old Maury home originally stood, and an outstanding Maury authority, has also been invited to speak.

Maury's career was remarkable in its accomplishments and diversity of interests. Some of his accomplishments include the charting of the currents of the sea, and the wind; the founder of the Naval Observatory and Signal Service, and founder of the Naval Academy at Annapolis. He also established the Meteorological Bureau, now called the U. S. Weather Bureau. He was the first to conceive the idea of an Atlantic Cable, and under his direction the first cable was laid in 1858. His Physical Geography of the Sea is used in public schools throughout the United States and foreign countries.

During his life time he received medals and memorials from practically every country of the globe, and was made a member of 45 learned societies. At the Berlin Conference of Scientists in 1853 he was voted the "World's greatest scientist."

Maury's wife, Ann Herndon of Fredericksburg, aunt of Mrs. Chester A. Arthur, and sister of Capt. William Herndon, said to be the first white man to explore the Amazon River in South America.

SPIRIT OF OLD WEST KEPT ALIVE BY BUCK

The old West is dead. Long live its spirit!

Jesse James is now merely the hero of a book and Buffalo Bill's effulgent white beard has long since crumbled into the dust from which he sprang—dust, which incidentally too, marked his trail across the Middle West set up by the pounding hoofs of his horses.

Bat Masterson, Wyatt Erp, Wild Bill Hickok and Billy the Kid too no longer wrest their existence by the accuracy of their six-guns. Even the cow-waddies who used to be able to make a $40-a-month living punching cattle have given up the range.

The cow-waddies have wandered toward Hollywood. The others have wandered along the trail of bullets that missed their mark.

The old West is dead. But its spirit lives in Hollywood. — Lives in dim memory in the person of William S. Hart, Art Acord, Eddie Polo, Fred Thompson, Bill Cody and the dozens of other lesser Western stars who brought the hectic, hotlead life of the middle-western frontier days into the celluloid of the screen.

But there is a stalwart screen hero who comes on today, confident in the knowledge that Western pictures that accurately represent the old Western life will always be popular.

He is Buck Jones.

Buck, popular Columbia star, whose newest picture, "Forbidden Trail," comes to the Dixie Theatre next Friday, June 30, not only immortalizes the fighting spirit of the old west on the screen, he is a westerner by birth, by upbringing and by the life he leads off the screen as well as before the cameras.

CONCERNING TYPHOID FEVER AND SPOTTED FEVER

First: Typhoid fever can only be contracted by swallowing food, milk, or water contaminated with typhoid germs. It naturally follows that you must select the grocers and dairymen who are properly equipped and careful to furnish you with a pure product; then handle this product properly in the home by not allowing fingers or flies to contaminate it.

Avoid eating food and drinking water from unknown sources, especially while on trips or visits. Do not allow any member of your family to swim or wade in the streams of the county, or in the Potomac River. The chances are great for dangerous pollution in the river and these streams.

Second: Spotted fever is contracted through the bite of the dog tick, or the crushed tick being rubbed into the skin.

Every member of the family should avoid exposure to the tick. The dog tick occurs in woods and underbrush, particularly along old roads and paths.

If any member of the family has been exposed, they should strip the body of clothing, comb the hair thoroughly, and search the entire body and clothing. The oftener this is done the safer the individual.

The tick does not infect the individual immediately upon biting; a period of approximately eight hours is required after the tick takes hold before infection takes place.

There will be no call for wholesale vaccination of people against spotted fever if a small amount of time will be taken in the care and watchfulness as described above.

CHERRY FOR ALL—ALL FOR CHERRY

If parents will have their children memorize the Bible selections, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

Be not righteous over much; neither make thyself over wise; why shouldst thou destroy thyself?—Ecclesiastes 7:16.

PITY THE POOR POLITICIANS

We have just reviewed an editorial in The Times-Dispatch, a Richmond daily, which characterizes in rather slighting language the apparent lack of interest in the present gubernatorial campaign and walls pathetically for the good old days when men were men (The ladies didn't vote then).

Just what inspired this sort of comment we are at a loss to judge. It may have been to see what reaction such comment might draw or it may have been to cast down one faction in favor of another. It would not be ethical for us to say just what we think was the cause. We do think that, however, the news, cartoons and editorials all emanating from the same source should at least be consistent.

The good old days of barn fires and midnight parades seems to have been relegated to the background, it is true. After the people of Virginia and the rest of the United States have been through the fires of torment and are still panting from exhaustion, it is small wonder that there is apathy still prevalent in the land.

A hopeless people is a cheerless people, hard to arouse to enthusiasm. The days of the Reconstruction will bring back only too vividly the dull feeling of discouragement, propagated and improved on by those who were profiting thereby.

Virginia went through the Reconstruction and came out with colors flying and it will come out of the terrible financial depression of the past three years in like manner.

The unbalanced condition still existing between production and consumption has not appreciably improved and this does not aid the temper of the public. They want and must have a substantial relief, one that really means something to them. The man with a real program of tax reduction that reads in plain language is the man for whom they will vote, and no blare of trumpets is necessary to aid them in their determination.

PRE-SCHOOL CHILDREN READY

At the June meeting of the Brentsville District Community League eight children who are to begin school in the Nokesville School next September were given doctor's certificates which declare them to be five-point children. Eleven of the seventeen children listed for Nokesville next fall have been examined. We expect that all will have been examined and some have had necessary corrections made so that more will be five-pointers by the July meeting.

The women's committee headed by Mrs. M. J. Shepherd is responsible for this good work. We are hoping that all communities will have a good showing by the time school begins. The doctors are all ready to give these examinations including the treatment against diphtheria and the required vaccination against smallpox.

Five-point children already listed for Nokesville are: Alice Marie Wright, Johnnie Owens, Emma Louise Shepherd, Rosa Lee Beahm, Sidney Flickinger, Gene Trenis Grady, Fern Strawderman, Bernice Hooker.

Local zone schools will be held in twenty municipalities located at equidistant points throughout the State over a period of six or eight weeks this fall. Cities, towns and counties within each zone will be invited by the Firemen's Associations to send their firemen to the zone training school in their vicinity at no expense to the individual officers or to the municipalities. The training centers have been so distributed that every fireman can participate without traveling more than a few miles from his municipality. Moreover, all of the large municipalities will hold a school within their corporate limits so that the training will be easily accessible. Classes will be repeated at least once at night so that all volunteer firemen may attend the schools as well as the regular full-time men.

It is anticipated that fire training schools will be made an annual activity which will greatly benefit not only the individual officer but the public served by them. The first year' curriculum approved by the executive committee of the firemen's associations is as follows: Department and Contact with the Public; Care of Quarters and Grounds; Legal Status of the Fireman; Methods of Fighting Fire; Auxiliary Fire Fighting Equipment; Ventilation; Simplified Hydraulics; Forcible Entry; Fire Prevention and Building Inspection; Salvage; Emergency First Aid; Examination.

In addition to these subjects, standard fire evolutions will be given to supplement the work. The evolutions are now being planned and will be announced later.

Frank H. Wheeler, president of the Virginia State Firemen's Association, and R. S. Baughan, president of the State Fire Chiefs' Association of Virginia, both expressed the opinion that an unusual opportunity is extended to every fireman and every fire department in the State to increase the effectiveness of fire prevention and fire protection with no additional cost whatever to taxpayers. They held out the hope that every department in the Commonwealth will co-operate in this state-wide movement made possible financially by a grant from the Spelman Fund to the League of Virginia Municipalities and by the assistance of the State Division of Trade and Industrial Education.

Morton L. Wallerstein, executive secretary of the League of Virginia Municipalities, said that this is the materialization of plans which were proposed even before the police schools were inaugurated last year to extend personnel training to both police and firemen. He expressed the hope that the benefits and advantages of training schools conducted by the officials can be made available soon to other branches of the public service. He voiced satisfaction at the enthusiasm evinced by the firemen and pointed out that the results derived by the public from police and fire training while to some extent are of an intangible nature, nevertheless are very great and worth many times the money and effort expended.

Those attending the meeting of the executive committees of the Virginia State Firemen's Association and the State Fire Chiefs' Association of Virginia in Harrisonburg when the plans for holding fire training schools were approved are as follows: State Fire Chiefs' Association: R. S. Baughan, Norfolk, president; E. H. Rouse, Orange, secretary-treasurer; Virginia State Firemen's Association, Frank H. Wheeler, Clifton Forge, president; E. J. Lamb, Harrisonburg, vice-president; O. W. Dabney, Staunton, secretary; W. E. Elliot, Charlottesville, treasurer; Roscoe A. Foster, fire chief, Portsmouth Navy Yard; E. H. Dabney, fire chief, Staunton; Harold I. Baumes, director, personnel training, League of Virginia Municipalities.

RICHARD DIX PORTRAYS MAN OF MANY AFFAIRS

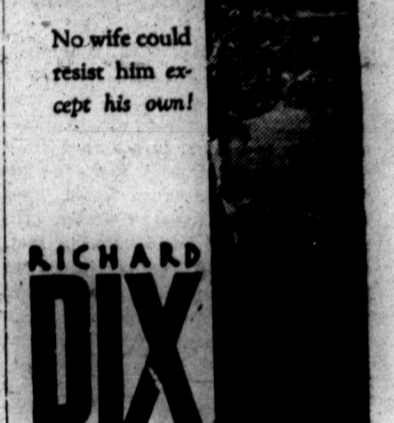

"The Great Jasper," new RKO-Radio Picture starring Richard Dix at the Dixie Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday, relates the story of a man of many women whose life was measured in love affairs rather than years.

Perhaps nowhere in the world is there a wife who could understand the love of a faithless husband. "The Great Jasper" was every woman's lover, but only one woman's husband, and he never ceased loving his "Jen" (Please turn to page 2)

AUDREY BELL GAINES

A wave of sorrow swept over our community Saturday at the sudden and untimely death of Audrey Bell Gaines, beloved wife of Freeman Gaines, who died following an operation, at the Warrenton Hospital, at noon on Saturday, June 17.

Audrey, who was in her nineteenth (19) year, had grown up from infancy among us, and we deeply sympathize with her devoted husband and her bereaved parents and family.

The funeral services were conducted at Athioch church, of which she was a faithful member, on Monday at 2 p.m. by her pastor, the Rev. V. H. Council. The lovely flowers were carried by eight of her girlhood friends, and the pall bearers were boys with whom she grew up and attended school, namely, Messrs. Preston, Wade, Herman and Robert Smith, R. B. Gosson, jr., and Henry Butler.

Besides her husband, she is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bell, two sisters, Mrs. Granville Thomas and Mrs. Albert Gaines of Falls Church, and four brothers, Messrs. Stanley Bell of California, Ashton and Ralph Bell of Falls Church and Howard, jr., of Waterfall.

GENE RAYMOND GETS NEW THRILL AS PAL OF BEASTS

Working with animals is no job for a nervous actor, is the opinion of Gene Raymond who, with Loretta Young, isco-starred in "Zoo in Budapest," first Jesse L. Lasky production for Fox Film, coming next Monday to the Dixie Theatre.

While it is not an animal picture, despite the fact that more than 500 lions, tigers, panthers, leopards, elephants, chimpanzees and other assorted jungle beasts are used, the action of the picture requires Raymond to handle some of them.

He has the role of an orphan boy, born and reared in the zoo, who has associated with animals a'l his life. A love affair develops between him and Miss Loretta, a young love-starved girl from a neighboring reformatory-like orphanage, who is marched to the zoo once a week with the other girls for an "educational lecture."

The whimsical romance between the boy and girl is lightly etched against an animal background.

Raymond romps with lion cubs, chums around with a chimpanzee, carries a pet spider monkey about with him, chucks a tiger under the chin, charms a hooded cobra and flings himself in front of an elephant which steps carefully over him.

"I. S. Horn, the animal man, gave me some good advice before we started the picture," Raymond said. "He told me that the animals would not hurt me so long as I treated them kindly and displayed no fear before them."

CATHARPIN

The hardest thing this column has to do is to keep up with the weather man. We report it hot but before it is read he has it cold thus ruining our reputation for truth and veracity. He has been so eccentric during the past two weeks or so that disease has broken out in a number of flocks and considerable loss sustained.

Just now the tractor and binder are the busiest things we know of and ere the week passes into history wheat and orchard grass will all be in shock thruout the Catharpin neighborhood. Of course Hickory Grove, Woolsey, Waterfall, Haymarket and the Gainesville sections will finish just a little bit later. You know they never could quite keep up to Catharpin.

Mrs. Nellie Sanders Clary of Lawrenceville, Va., is on for a two weeks' visit with her sister, Mrs. J. W. Alvey, at Catharpin where she will be joined later by her husband. Mrs. Clary reports that dry weather in that portion of Virginia has greatly damaged gardens and other growing crops.

Much sympathy has been expressed by friends in this community for Mr. Freeman Gaines of Woolsey, who has just lost his young wife and her twin babies. It is certainly sad to witness the breaking up of the home established a little less than two years ago.

Sympathy can not change things much but it certainly can help.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover Ellison lost their infant babe last week and naturally the community extends its sympathy. The child was buried in the family lot at the Sudley cemetery on Tuesday, June 13.

Mrs. Jennie McIntosh spent Sunday with her daughter, Mrs. Palmer Smith of Gainesville.

Sunday school day program is in preparation and will be given at Sudley next Sunday at 11 o'clock. This annual event is for the benefit of all Sunday school work throughout the Baltimore conference and the collection taken is donated for that purpose.

The fourth and last quarterly meeting for this conference year will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday, July 1, at the parsonage. Preaching the following Sunday at 11 a.m. at Sudley by the elder, Dr. Balthis. While this is the last conference of the year it happens to come just as the last quarter begins; thus there are three months yet to serve and in which to settle the financial affairs of the church.

Mrs. J. L. McCutcheon and daughter, Mrs. C. F. Feuschel of Clarendon, were Oakwood callers on Monday.

It was a great pleasure to this column to attend the meeting of the Prince William Branch of the Virginia Homemakers Association held in the old historic Sudley church on Thursday of last week. The program for the day was of an historic nature and the papers read describing the old homes, plantations, the Hon. George Carr Round, whose delight always seemed best served when delving into the mysteries of the past and recording them for the benefit of future generations. Especially were we interested in the old-time costumes which were won and displayed by the readers as they read their papers describing the life, habits and customs of those early days when extravagance seemed to be a habit and upon which, no doubt, the modernist now looks in wonder. If we may now be granted the same liberty with language that Dame Fashion then took with materials, we might say that there was enough material in one of the sleeves to make a whole modern trousseau; and enough yardage in the skirt to cover a good sized army tent.

In beholding the costumes as exhibited upon this occasion, one can not help the thought that poor, old Dame Fashion must have a busy time of it trying to keep up with the times; or might it be just the other way around and "she" or "it" is the "times" making power and the rest of us just trying to "keep up with the Joneses?" Whichever way it may be it can not be denied that there are great variations among the fashion plates of the different periods and if some of them were now on exhibition they would excite just as much wonder. We well remember when the skirt was so tight and narrow that it would take two of them to make a pair of trousers for a man and then they would not be wide enough to meet the demands of the fashion plates now shown in Sears-Roebuck's catalog. Then again they were so long that the "train" could be seen wiggling along main street after the wearer had turned up fifth avenue; and a little later they were so short that they put to shame the bathing suits worn some 20 years ago. Thus old lady fashion changes her mind so often and so radically that if and when some of them shall be on display before some future generation it will be—well, just a good, old-fashioned laugh as now.

But, to return to the subject, we rise to remark that we regard such organizations and meetings as this one, to be very necessary in that they give a "group" influence to things needful which could not be accomplished so well in any other way. We admire the "Homemakers" and the ladies who give of their time and influence to promote the best interests of home, church and community life. May their shadow never grow less.

County 4-H Contest Day, Friday, June 30.

On the County 4-H Contest Day at Manassas, Friday, June 30, club boys will compete in corn judging and selection, poultry culling and selection, and dairy cattle judging contests. The contests will begin at 11:45 a.m., following the club council meeting, and continue through the afternoon. Virginia Jersey Breeders Field Day.

The Virginia Jersey Cattle Club will hold its annual field day on July 12, at Charles T. Neale's "Rocklands Farm" near Gordonsville. This promises to be one of the most important dairy events in Virginia this summer. Jersey breeders in Albemarle, Madison, Orange, Prince William and Spotsylvania counties will act as hosts to visitors from all parts of the state. Mr. Neale's farm is well known for the practical farm and dairy management program in operation there. Excellent demonstrations in Jersey, Aberdeen Angus and Southdown sheep breeding, as well as in pasture improvement, will be seen. The "Rocklands" herd has been on test long enough for the senior herd sire to become a meritoriously proved sire. The daughters of this bull will be an object lesson worth while to all who
