SUBSCRIPTION $1.50 A YEAR

FINAL SECONDARY ROAD ALLOCATION

Cuts In Sight Due To Reduced Revenues

The final allocations for the Secondary Highways have been released for the fiscal year July 1, 1942-June 30, 1943.

In accordance with the Acts of the 1942 General Assembly the total Secondary Allocation is 30 per cent of the anticipated 1942-1943 highway revenues and amounts to $8,641,341.30. Before distribution is made to the various counties a "Revolving Fund" of $350,000.00, for modernizing bridges and an adjustment to bring one county's allocation to an amount equal to the 1931 gas tax, is deducted. This "Revolving Fund" is allocated to 25 per cent of the counties each year, therefore, in a period of four years each county will have received its share of this fund. This is the third year such an arrangement has been in operation.

The remaining fund $8,291,341.30 is distributed to the counties on a four-way ratio basis of "Vehicle Miles," "Rural Population for 1940," "Rural Area," and "Rural Secondary Road Mileage." The term "Vehicle Miles" represents the total number of miles driven on the rural Secondary roads of any one county in one year. It is calculated by multiplying the average traffic count on all rural Secondary roads in a county by the number of miles of such roads in said county.

Curtailment of traffic due to war conditions will very materially reduce the Department of Highways revenues for the coming year, therefore, in order not to obligate more funds than will be available, 25 per cent of the allocations for each county will be held in reserve until such time as it will be determined definitely what funds will be available.

VICTORY GARDENS ARE ENCOURAGED

Local Board of Agriculture Begins Campaign

A few weeks ago, District and Neighborhood Committeemen and Committeewomen of the Prince William County Board of Agriculture began their campaign to encourage the growing of a "Victory Garden" by every family in the county.

District chairmen were appointed and called together committees from each neighborhood who were each assigned with the responsibility of contacting from fifteen to forty families.

The need for producing home food supplies and for releasing other food for use of our own people not so situated as to be able to grow gardens and for our allies prompted the local farm leaders to choose the promotion of "Victory Gardens" as their major responsibility for the year. Information on how to prepare and fertilize the soil, what to grow and when to plant has been furnished to many new gardeners. In a number of cases, personal assistance has been given by committeemen in plowing up and preparing the land. Others have been directed to available teams and tractors for plowing. Sizeable gardens have been spaded up and well prepared for planting by hand.

It has been pointed out that if food is not produced at home, it may be difficult to purchase it in months to come. The home supply of pork, poultry, eggs, milk and butter should also be produced at home wherever possible to be assured of sufficient food for the family as well as to relieve supplies of these products for military and other necessary use. It is too late enough, but still a good time to start a "Victory Garden" if preparations are gotten under way immediately.

Registration of the older men, 45 to 65 group, which took place on Monday of this week, was carried out efficiently and quietly throughout the county. The registrations by communities was as follows:

Manassas	448
Haymarket	160
Nokesville	156

Woodbine	85
Total	1398
Sent to other Boards	193
Net Total	1205

To the net total of 1205 will be added the registrations from other jurisdictions which will be coming in for several days and which is believed will bring the final total to something like 1300.

Mr. C. C. Cloe, Chairman of the Prince William County Selective Service Board wishes to express his appreciation of the splendid cooperation he has received from Prof. Haydon and his staff of registrars who have worked so untiringly in this and other registrations conducted by the public schools.

PAST PRESIDENTS NIGHT AT KIWANIS

Past President G. R. Ratcliffe, and the senior in rank, put on the program at the weekly meeting of the local club last week. At his suggestion, and dealing chronologically, the several past presidents attending gave a resume of the most outstanding events during his administration.

There was considerable humor plus some seriousness in the various revelations. Such programs are good as they occur just often enough to "take stock" and see along what paths the Club has moved.

Tomorrow evening will be devoted to a special music program.

O. E. S. ELECT DELEGATES

On Tuesday night, April 21, at 8:00 P. M. Sister Meeker Hurst, newly elected Worthy Matron of Wimodausis Chapter O. E. S., rapped the gavel to call to order her new corps of officers for their first meeting of the new chapter year.

Sister Hurst is stressing good attendance of officers and members this year and was most pleased with the record for this meeting.

After the routine business, delegates to the Grand Chapter meeting to be held in Richmond early in May were elected. They were Sisters Hurst and Luck and Brother Jack Stauff.

A delightful social hour was enjoyed after the meeting.

TIRE QUOTA FOR MAY

We are advised by Mr. Claude Hixson of the local rationing board that the tire quota for Prince William County for May is as follows:

Passenger Cars
New tires	9
Retreads	42
Tubes	25
Trucks
New tires	35
Retreads	60
Tubes	51

The rationing board can only allocate 25% of this quota each week.

GASOLINE RATIONING

Gasoline rationing has been announced from Washington as scheduled for May 12, 13 and 14. The arrangements are believed to parallel those for the sugar rationing and will be announced by this newspaper, when we receive notification from the local authority.

DISPLAY YOUR FLAG

MAY 4-5-6-7

Because of the tremendous patriotic implications of the civilian registration for the rationing program which takes place next week in all public schools in our country, the American Legion and town officials are asking that all citizens display our country's flag for those four days.

The last war saw the registration of men from 21-45 years and we have just completed the listing of all men from 20 to 65 years of age, but this coming registration will have the effect of the volunteer assembly and individual application of every man, woman and child of every age, color, nationality, business and location and in addition will be the first time that the present "all-out" war effort will actually start have to an effect on the lives and living of several millions of us.

It therefore seems particularly fitting that all flags be on display while this great in-gathering of our fellow citizens takes place so that we may thus symbolize the important patriotic meaning that this occasion will have in the fulfillment of our successful war plans and efforts.

MACS HOST TO H. & J. SUNDAY IN TWIN BELL

Start the season right by coming to the first games of the local boys.

GETS HIGH COLLEGE HONORS

Thomas Athey was elected vice-president of the sophomore class at the College of William and Mary in elections held last week.

The town of Manassas will make a test of air horn on Sunday, May 3, between 2 and 6 P. M. This is only a test of air raid horn and has no connection with air raids.

FARMERS VOTE ON WHEAT QUOTA

Eligible farmers in Prince William County will cast their ballots on Saturday, May 2, in the wheat marketing quota referendum, William H. Wheeler, Chairman of the Prince William County AAA Committee, announced this week. Voting will take place between 9 A. M. and 5 P. M. at the Haymarket Masonic Hall, the Nokesville High School, and the County Agents office at Manassas. The following referendum committeemen for the designated polling places are as follows: Manassas, N. A. Wheeler, Truman R. Hurst and Chas. F. M. Lewis; Nokesville, Mrs. Olive Hooker, A. O. McLearn and A. A. Bell; Haymarket, J. M. Piercy, B. C. Smith and L. J. Pattie.

Each farmer engaged in the production of wheat for harvest in 1942 on a farm on which the normal production of the acreage now in wheat is 200 bushels or more and on which the acreage planted to wheat is in excess of 15 acres shall be eligible to vote. Eligible growers of Manassas, Occoquan, Coles and Dumfries Districts will vote at Manassas, those of Brentsville District at the Nokesville High School, while those of Ganeville District will ballot at the Haymarket Masonic Hall. A farmers who will be affected by marketing quotas and that are eligible to vote are urged to cast their ballots at the polling places designated for their districts.

"MUSIC MAINTAINS MORALE"

Sunday begins the observance of Music Week, throughout not only our own country but the entire world. "Music Maintains Morale" and it is during these days of strain and stress that all peoples around the world find occasion to emphasize the harmonizing qualities of music and the atmosphere it creates of sympathetic understanding, comradeship, accord and common interests.

Throughout the democracies of the world Music Week unites friendly people and gives them strength to look into the future, and cultivate the seed of genuine friendship for all nations which wish to be friendly and to live in peace with other nations.

We are now united in a joint defense effort, and we must make that defense sure and powerful. But defense needs cannot permanently hold us together. We must unite in joint action to promote the fruits of peace for us all. Participation in Music Week and the co-operation action by which it is promoted in the community, state and nation, will foster the spirit of co-operation among the peoples of all peace-loving nations. Let us promote this fortifying power of music in the factory, on the farm, in the Church, in the home and urge all to join us.

Registration At Schools Four Days Next Week

All sales of sugar have stopped. Quietly and effectively the regulations promulgated by the Office of Production Management have gone into effect. On Tuesday and Wednesday of this week (April 28 and 29) industrial and institutional users of sugar have been registered. They were required to give information on their sugar records for two years back. Upon this information the rationing board decides how much they may now have.

Registration of consumers, as published by this newspaper last week, is set for May 4, 5, 6, and 7. The places designated in Prince William County are the Haymarket New School, Nokesville High School, Manassas High School, Dumfries School, Occoquan High School and the Quantico Masonic Hall.

The registration hours on these four days are from 3 P. M. to 9 P. M.

Particular attention is called to these hours. Don't come earlier as school, will still be in session and the registration staff will not be ready to do the registration work.

Sugar consumers are also urged to register at the place named above which is nearest their residence. This is not obligatory but will be very helpful.

Only one member of each family may register for the family unit, but he or she must have with them data regarding the other members of the family. Ration books will not be issued until all the data are furnished, it was made clear.

Here is the information which should be furnished at the time of registration:

1. A list of the members of the family and their exact names.
2. An exact description of each member of the family unit-height, weight, color of eyes, color of hair, age and sex.
3. The exact relationship of each member of the family unit to the person who is registering for the family unit.
4. It is necessary to know to the pound just how much sugar is in possession of the household. The amount of sugar will be divided by the number of people in the family unit and stamps will be torn out by the registrar for all sugar in excess of two pounds per person. If more than four stamps have to be removed, issuance of the book will be withheld until later.

A family unit has been defined by the Office of Price Administration as "a group of two or more individuals consisting of all persons who are living together in the same household who related by blood or marriage."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Everlasting Punishment" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all churches and societies of Christ.
Scientist, on Sunday, May 3.

The Golden Text will be "The Lord is known by the judgment which he executeth: the wicked is snared in the work of his own hands" (Ps. 9:16).
Bible selections will include the following passage from Psalms 62:11, 12: "God hath spoken once; twice have I heard this; that power belongeth unto God. Also unto thee, O Lord, belongeth mercy: for thou renderest to every man according to his work."

One of the passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, included in the Lesson-Sermon, reads as follows: "Divine Science reveals the necessity of sufficient suffering, either before or after death, to quench the love of sin. Escape from punishment is not in accordance with God's government, since justice is the handmaid of mercy" (p. 36).

DELAY REQUESTED BY POWER DAM APPLICANT

The Occoquan Company has requested the State Corporation Commission to continue consideration of its application to construct a $5,500,000 power dam and hydro-electric plant on Occoquan Creek until the company can perfect its charter to permit seizure,
with compensation, of lands needed.
This right, called the "right of eminent domain" is said to be forbidden in the company's present charter.
It is stated that the proposed plant will be of large capacity over a hundred thousand kilowatts and calls for the construction of a 125 foot dam about 125 feet west of the present highway bridge at Occoquan, and will submerge something like 2600 acres of land, which the company, under its present charter, is not permitted to condemn and purchase.

It is stated that a number of property owners are affected by the project and that they are planning to retest the application.

A Mosby Ranger

By Chas. J. Gilliss

In the quiet church yard at Greenwich, Virginia, is a monument which bears this inscription;

In Memory of
Bradford Smith Hoskins Son of
The Reverend W. E. Hoskins
Rector of Chiddingstone
Kent, England
Late Captain
In Her Britannic Majesty's
Forty Fourth Regiment
He fell near this place
MDCCLXXIII
AE XXX Years

How often have I passed this resting place and wondered, as perhaps so many others have done, how this young English Captain came to be sleeping
so far from his home and friends.
Each time I visited the church yard,
my eyes would turn to the cross topped stone that marks his grave, and the wish to know more would become stronger and stronger. Finally, after a long time, this wish was realized, when it was discovered that here was
a Mosby Ranger.

Born the son of a clergyman of Kent, England, young Hoskins' ambition did not turn in the direction of his father's calling, but rather to that of the military. He served with distinction in the Crimean War, became a Captain and received a medal for distinguished services. Upon peace being declared, he returned to his native land, but becoming tired of the monotony of the barracks, sold his commission and joined the ranks of Garibaldi in his Sicilian campaign. Being a thorough soldier of fortune and loving the excitement of battle, he was attracted to our shores, where the War Between the States was then in progress.

We next hear of him as bearing a letter of introduction from General J.
F. B. Stuart to the Parizhan Ranger John S. Mosby, then camped in the vicinity of Chantilly. Hoskins was promised plenty of excitement and took part in the sharp skirmish of March 16, 1863, mounted on a captured horse. Mosby says: "It was Hoskins' first fight with me. He said it was better than a fox chase. I recall him now as it rises above the fog of years, as he hewed his path through the broken ranks. It was a point of honor or of military etiquette with him
to use his sword and not his pistol.
In this way he lost his life."

And then came the "affair at Missels farm," near Leesville on March 31st, another very exciting episode, when Hoskins, fighting at the side of Mosby, hewed his way to victory.

Not long after this event, Mosby received a letter from Stuart, which reads in part as follows: "This is now a splendid opportunity to strike the enemy in the rear of Warrenton Junction, (now Celverton) the trains are running regularly to that point. Capture a train and interrupt the operation of the railroad, though it may be gone. Stoneman's main body of cavalry is located near Warrenton Junction.
Keep far enough away from a brigade camp to give you time to get off your plunder and prisoners."

It may be necessary to explain that the Northern forces under General Hooker, were maneuvering along the North bank of the Rappahannock River opposed by the forces of General Lee on the South. The Alexandria and Orange Railroad (now part of the Southern Railway) was entirely in the hands of the Northern forces, and over it came all of the supplies for Hooker's army. Stuart now proposed to disrupt the railroad service.

When Mosby received Stuart's letter, he was at Upperville. On May 2nd, with a force of 70 or 80 men, including the adventurous Hoskins,
he headed for Warrenton Junction by way of Thoroughfare Gap. At Warrenton Junction after an initial success with a small body of the enemy cavalry, he was forced to flee and disband in the face of stronger enemy opposition. At Warrenton, again gathering 30 or 40 men, he maneuvered around the railroad as far North as Manassas, engaging in skirmishes
and finding the track well guarded.
Whereupon he wrote the following letter to General Stuart:

"If you will let me have a mountain howitzer, I think I could use it with great effect, especially on the railroad trains. I have several experienced artillerists with me. The effect of such annoyance is to force the enemy to make heavy details to guard their communications. I have not attacked any of their railroad trains because I have no ammunition for my carbines and they are pretty strongly guarded with infantry."

On May 29, 1863, with 40 men and the little gun, Mosby set out. He had no caisson but carried 15 rounds of ammunition in the limber-chest. The howitzer was in charge of the Rev.
Samuel F. Chapman, a divinity student, who at the beginning of the war, had given up his calling to serve the Confederacy. He had been conspicuous for bravery at Miskels. Camping for the night in the pines near Catetts, within 100 yards of the railroad, they were awakened in the morning by the reveille in the enemy camps, which were but a mile distant on either side.
The telegraph wire was then cut and a rail sufficiently removed to allow a train to run off of the track, and a man was posted under cover to give notice of an approaching train. This was not long in coming, and Chapman rammed down a charge in his gun and all awaited events with breathless interest. The engineer drove his train at full speed, when suddenly the locomotive glided from the track and the cars came to a sudden stop. The guard fired a volley, which did no harm except killing a horse, and in an instant a shell from Chapman's gun went crashing through the cars. The train halted to the ground and took to their heels through the pines. A second shell was sent through the boiler of the locomotive and the internal noise of escaping steam, further increased the panic. Fire now began to spread through the train.
One car however, loaded with sutler's

goods, was not allowed to be consumed until it had been raided. In it were a number of fresh shad, and you may be sure each of Mosby's men secured at least one of these. The mail bags were taken and tied to the carriage of the howitzer.

But the sound of the cannon had given the alarm. The long roll was being beaten and the bugles sounded
"to horse" in the enemy camps. It was time to move on. Hardly a mile from the railroad, a regiment of the 5th New York Cavalry was drawn up across the road, blocking Mosby's force. Chapman unlimbered his gun and sent a screening shell which burst at the head of the column, killed the horse of the commanding officer and momentarily created a stampede. This enabled Mosby to get by, but the broken re-cues rallied and were reinforced by others so that he was girt about with foes on every side. Taking refuge in some woods, he slowly withdrew, fighting a rear guard action and throwing into the enemy, an occasional shell. At the edge of the wood, Chapman was ordered to go forward with his gun at a gallop, while Mosby with six men, remained to cover his retreat, and were soon engaged in a fierce hand to hand fight with 12 or 15 of the enemy, which however were driven back, leaving several of their number dead or wounded on the ground. Mosby says:

"I have before spoken of Capt. Hoskins, an English Officer, who had recently joined me. He was riding by my side when the fight began. The tradition of chivalry from the ancient knights of using the sword in single combat still asserted its dominion over him, but my other men had no more use for that antiquated weapon than a coat of mail. They had discarded it as a useless incumbrance. Hoskins was in the act of giving a thrust when he was shot. In an instant after, his adversary fell before a deadly revolver.
Hoskins wound was mortal. When the fight was over, he was taken to the house of an Englishman near by, and lived a day or two. Thus died as gallant a gentleman as ever pricked his steed over Palestine's plains. He had passed without a scar through the fire of the Redan and the Malakoff to fall in a petty skirmish in the American forests. I could not stay by him, and I had no means of carrying him off. The overwhelming numbers pressing upon us forced a retreat, and we had to leave him by the roadside with his life-blood ebbing fast away. The horse I had presented to him disdained capture and followed us. I gave it to Beattie. He was buried in his martial cloak at Greenwich church."

Mosby's fight was soon over. Placing the little cannon on a rise in the road between the Luke and the Low farms near Greenwich, he fired his last shot into the enemy, and then leaving the gun, he and his men scattered in every direction, to meet again
at some agreed point.

The Englishman with whom the badly wounded Hoskins had been left,
was Charles Green of "The Lawn." Here he was carefully nursed, but the next day, on May 31, 1863, his spirit took flight and the body of this brave soldier of fortune was laid to rest in the quiet church yard, just across the road.

BAKERS OF SOUTHERN BREAD
TO MAKE CONTRIBUTION

Government and industry are now cooperating in a great campaign had its origin in a special conference called by President Roosevelt last year when thousands of people were summoned to Washington to do a job. That job was to create, for the first time, a common platform upon which the Federal Government, State and local government, labor and consumers can stand together, "united for the fulfillment of definite objectives in nutrition."

At that time President said: "Efficiency and stamina depend on proper food. Fighting men of these workers, every man and woman in America must have nourishing food."

The importance of the nutrition project is highlighted by facts developed as a result of the draft. General Hershey, head of the Draft Board, in various addresses, has called attention to the high percentage of rejections for the Army 30 to 40 percent, due to general deficiencies, attributable in part to malnutrition. Malnutrition doesn't mean that people aren't getting enough food, it means they aren't getting enough of the right kind of food. A well-balanced diet must include foods which supply an adequate amount of vitamins and minerals, and since vitamins and minerals are missing from many of the foods we eat, our government has recommended the enrichment of white bread as one means of supplying this deficiency.

The second World War has given tremendous new impetus to the trend toward bread enrichment, so much so that the State of South Carolina recently passed a law making it compulsory that all white bread be enriched as of August 1, 1942. Bread enrichment is not a new idea; bakers and food experts have long realized the need for better nutrition. The bakers of Southern Bread pioneered in enriching bread with vitamins as far back as eight years ago.

Many influential organizations are now active in promoting the nutrition welfare of the American people.

Some of the organizations are agencies of the Federal Government; others are of trade association or of professional origin. When these important organizations recommended that all white bread be enriched, the bakers of Southern Bread quickly cooperated, so that today every loaf of southern bread on the market, including Wheat Bread, is enriched with important-to-health B-vitamins and minerals in accordance with the recommendations of the National Research Council.

Enriched bread is one of the seven basic foods recommended for better nutrition, and it is expected to do a great deal toward eliminating the "hidden hunger" that has sapped the vitality of so many of our people.

Ever make a shortcake with asparagus?

An article on shortcakes from the Safeway Homemakers' Bureau

Usually when we think of shortcakes we immediately think of strawberries. Yet practically all types of fresh, canned or cooked dry fruit make wonderful fillings for dessert-shortcakes served either cold or warm.

And practically all types of creamed meat, fish or vegetables make wonderful entree-shortcakes, served hot. Creamed ham, dried beef, chicken, mushrooms and asparagus are especially tasty.

The foundation for shortcakes may be waffles, pancakes, ginger bread, and corn bread, but of course the most popular is biscuit dough. This standard recipe for biscuit dough has been tested by the Safeway Homemakers' Bureau.

STANDARD SHORTCAKES
For desserts or entrees

Cut and measure 2 cups all-purpose flour sift again with 3 tsp. baking powder and 1/4 tsp. salt. Cut in 1/4 cup shortening. Add 1/2 cup milk, stirring only until flour is dampened. Place on lightly floured board and knead gently 90 to 100 seconds. Roll out or pat to 1/4- to 1-inch thickness; cut with 3-inch biscuit cutter. Bake on ungreased baking sheet, in hot oven (450° F.) 15 minutes, or until done. To serve, split butter layers, put filling between and on top. Makes 6 large shortcakes. (Note: Dough may be rolled about 1/4-inch thick cut into 18 three-inch rounds, and each 8 rounds put together with melted shortening in between, making 6 two-layer cakes. Shortcake also may be baked in a ring mold or in round or square layer cake pans. For ring mold or layers, use recipe for Enriched Shortcake given below; do not knead dough; and do grease pan. Bake in a moderately hot oven (425° F.) 25 to 30 minutes, or until done.)

VARIATIONS—FOR DESSERTS

Enriched Shortcakes: Add 1/2 to 4 tbsps. sugar, increase shortening by 2 tbsps., add 1 egg, and decrease milk to 1/4 cup. Proceed.

White House Shortcakes: Add 2 tbsps. sugar, substitute 1 tsp. whipping cream for both shortening and milk. Proceed.

Peppermint Butter Shortcakes: Substitute 4 tbsps. peanut butter for 2 tbsps. shortening. Proceed.

All Shortcakes Substitute 1/4 cup ————— for 1 cup flour; reduce baking powder to 2 tbsps., and reduce milk to 1/4 cup.

Things you may not know—and should
...about eggs!

Q. How good are eggs nutritionally speaking?

A. Very good. They're a good source of Vitamin A and B₁ (Thiamin) and Nicotin, an excellent source of B₆ (or G), and rich in high quality proteins and iron.

Q. How often should I eat eggs?

A. At least 3 to 4 eggs a week for grownups and children alike. One egg a day if possible.

Q. But suppose my family doesn't like just plain eggs?

A. Then try omelettes, French toast, creamed, stuffed, or deviled eggs. Use them in souffles, custards, egg-nogs, etc. And use the whole egg—yolk especially, because that's where the vitamins hide.

Q. How is the best way to keep eggs?

A. In the refrigerator or in a cold place preferably. When they are to be beaten leave them at room temperature for a couple of hours before using.

Q. Is there a special way to cook eggs?

A. Yes, cook eggs slowly at a low to moderate temperature. And be sure you buy eggs of tested quality.

Q. Where can I be sure of getting eggs of tested quality?

A. At your Safeway Store. You'll find various grades, all low priced, and guaranteed to be of tested quality—or all your money back.

HOW KAY HELPED DEFENSE—AT HOME

OUR LITTLE FEATHERED FRIENDS
As of ancient time, th' azure clad dawn
Had slowly, silently slipped from night,
Silvery light causing feathered fowls
To leave their slumbers for morning's flight.
The horizon soon was streaked with red

And many shades of wondrous gold,
The stately trees in variant green
Their beauty, the rising sunlight told!
The thrushes singing so clear and bright,
Th' cute song sparrow with its sweet, sweet song,
Th' handsome cardinal calling to its mate
And the robin added to th' chorus strong.
And the cat bird in the quaker gray,
The tufted tit mouse with its whistle clear,
The mocking bird on the tree top high
With th' numerous notes, we love so dear.
The b-b-white's call, which we can't mistake!
The low, sweet sound of the mourning dove
The English sparrow and starling bright,
Add their voices too to those we love
The tanagers clad in their bright red
Making music sweet with their dear song,
Then fly low then high from tree to tree
Add beautiful color all-the morn.

HOW KAY HELPED DEFENSE—AT HOME

The modest violets raise their heads Seemingly listening to th' concert—when
A tiny bird clad in brightest brown
Gleefully sang, as could only th' wren!
The squirrels, the birds, the bees and grass
The sun, the sky, the trees and flowers
Aid Nature's Artist to beautify
Make blessing t' heap shower on shower.

OUR STATE SENATOR

Rated as one of the most valuable members of the state Senate, the Hon. W. D. Medley is probably the best liked man in his entire legislative district that Richmond has ever greeted on the floors of its Capitol Chambers.

Although, territorially speaking, his district was to be dismembered, he never slackened in his work for the entire district up to the last minute of the recent General Assembly.

Some have asked why not give a more general outline of bills sponsored by Mr. Medley. It is not always the man who dumps bills by the dozen into the legislative hopper that does things. One in attendance at Richmond can tell you that Governor Darden recognized Mr. Medley's capable advice before he was even nominated to office. This continued to be the case after the Assembly convened and it was through this medium that not a few worth while bills did not die in that same legislative hopper.

Our Senator is one of the most tireless workers in either branch of the Assembly and a figure demanding attention at all committee hearings, floor debates or in the quiet of the off-floor consultations.

He will continue to represent Arlington as long as he chooses to accept that high office.

Monday's registration of the older men of the country, 45 to 65 brings under the government jurisdiction as to occupation something like 13,000,000 men, a great many of whom also registered on June 5, 1917.

mailed: to each registrant from his Selective Service Board in due time, and which must be filled out and returned within ten days from its receipt.

The Selective Service Law does not subject these older registrants to the call of the Draft Boards, but they are placed under the authority of an 8-Man Board, recently appointed by the President. The head of the Selective Service System, however, is a member of this Board. The agencies of the Government represented on this new Board include The War and Navy Departments, the Department of Agriculture, The Department of Labor, The War Production Board and the Civil Service Commission.

It is certain that as younger men are taken from industry in ever increasing numbers for active military duty that they will be replaced in a large degree from the older registrants. No one can foresee how important a circumstance this present registration may turn out to be, but it all adds up to the ultimate doom of Adolph Hitler.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

For many weeks the American people have been insisting with ever rising inflection that something done about the Labor situation.

The House has already passed effective legislation and has additional corrective measures, such as the Vinson-Smith Bill, under consideration.

Slowly the Senate has been coming around to recognition of the necessity for some kind of curb to the labor racket, but at the moment when action seemed probable, Administration spokesmen pleaded for delay until the President's general message on inflation should be delivered.

The message came Monday of this week in the form of a seven-point proposal, but there is something definitely lacking and disappointing in Mr. Roosevelt's pronouncement.

The crux of the matter is apparently bound up in the distinction which the President makes in the method to be used on the one hand for controlling prices, and on the other for wages. Prices, insists the President, must be FIXED by law. But wages must be STABILIZED.

"Stabilization" is explained as action by the War Labor Board in wage disputes.

In other words, we have done nothing but go around a circle and come back to the starting point of trouble, the biased action of a pro-labor government agency.

We want and we shall finally get, some kind of ceiling on wages—the same kind of a ceiling that goes on prices, and until we have this by law there will continue to be festering in the vitals of our great war effort a nasty sore that must be cured up if we are to win this war, and have anything worth while left when peace comes.

A very important meeting of the Alumni Association of the Manassas High School will be held on Tuesday, May 5 at 8 o'clock at my home on Church Street.

Marion W. Dickens,
President.

A HUNDRED YEARS TO LICK US

According to a radio broadcast from Tokio the Japanese are said to be making plans for a hundred years war.

They must, after all, have a pretty good opinion of us to believe that it will take them a century to lick us.

With thanks for a compliment we cannot possibly return, we venture the opinion that Uncle Sam is not preparing for a war of any such length.

At most we think two or three years will be sufficient for us to finally finish off our enemies. It might take five at the most. We will lose sometimes of course. Uncle Sam is fat and pudgy and must harden up, but we will do it and Japan will find out that we and not they will be the determining factor of the war's length.

OUR WAR BOND QUOTA

Mr. G. Raymond Ratcliffe, Chairman of the Prince William War Savings Committee, announces that the quota set for our County is $29,800.00 for the month of May.

We are not asked to give this amount. We are asked to invest this amount at a good interest, with a provision that we can get it back when we have to, with a "money-back" guarantee from the strongest government in the world.

Why are we asked to raise this money?

The money is needed to buy tools for the boys in the front line whose equipment, guns, ships, planes and gear means their very life, our security and future.

We are forcefully reminded by the War Savings Committee that on Bataan the quota was: Sleep—not more than an hour out of every 24; Food—half rations this month, quarter rations next Water—where they could find it; Medical care—to stand or lie in line for it in the open.

T. B. STATE ASSOCIATION HONORS LOCAL MEMBERS

The Rev. J. M. DeChant and the Rev. W. H. Barnes who attended the State Tuberculosis Association Convention held in Roanoke on Tuesday as Delegates from Prince William County T. B. Association had the distinction of being named to the Board of Directors.

The Rev. Barnes whose term as State Chairman of the Negro Auxiliary has expired, was presented with a gold double bar across in recognition of his work with the organization. Also of particular interest locally is the fact that the Convention adopted a resolution on the late Rev. A. Stuart Gibson in appreciation of his untiring service with the county association for many years.

"Whereas, Rev. A. Stuart Gibson, a valued member of the Board of Directors of the Virginia Tuberculosis Association, was called from a sphere of usefulness on Saturday, March 7, 1942.

Be it Resolved, that the members of the Virginia Tuberculosis Association express their profound regret at his going, and their sincere appreciation of his interest and service in the work for the prevention and cure of tuberculosis. Those who have known him testify that he was always been a most obedient servant of the laws of God and man, and his loss will be most

"SON OF FURY" BEAKS
HOUSE AT PITTS THEATRE

"Son of Fury," the story of Benjamin Blake, is the swashbuckling tale of a man battling the world for his birthright—living and loving riotously—sailing the seven seas to find fortune and love in a tropical paradise. Full of suspense and exciting drama, "Son of Fury" highlights the flaming romance of Tyrone Power and the four women who influenced his life—Kay Johnson, who loved him as her own, Frances Farmer, ruthless and coldly beautiful—Elsa Lanchester, a slatternly girl who aided him in a perilous moment and finally Gene Tierney, exotic and lovely—who gave him peace and love that defied time and distance. "Son of Fury" is the magnificently thrilling dramatization of a man who knew how to love as fiercely as he could hate.

The role of Benjamin Blake is portrayed by Tyrone Power with gusto and charm and it is a perfect characterization for this top ranking star. Power's dynamic performance rates with his other outstanding work in their brother, Mr. Ira Robertson, of "A Yank in the R. A. F." and "Alexander's Ragtime Band."

Gene Tierney gives an unsurpassed performance as Eve, the native girl easily her best performance to date. Equally impressive are the featured roles played by Frances Farmer, George Sanders and Roddy McDowall.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Robertson had their son, Clem of Washington, as a Sunday visitor. He brought quite a few friends with him, and all hands greatly enjoyed an afternoon of baseball.

PRINCE WILLIAM CHILDREN CARED FOR

Two children from Prince William County are now in the care of the Children's Home Society of Virginia, according to the information received by Mrs. R. A. Hutchison, Chairman of the local campaign to raise funds for the Society. It is also pointed out that 15 Prince William County children have been cared for by the Society since its organization over 40 years ago.

The local campaign is scheduled to be held April 27 to May 9. Caring for homeless babies in private homes while finding adoption parents is one of the major tasks of the Children's Home Society of Virginia. For this reason most of the children it accepts are very young babies that are potentially suitable for adoption, although it does accept for temporary care certain older children in need of a period of adjustment outside of their own homes.

Children are first placed for a period in a boarding home to give the case workers of the Society an opportunity to study them and also to give the children's real parent or parents, if they are living, time to make their own plans for them. These boarding homes are with women expert at caring for young children, often with children of their own. During this boarding home period every child is observed carefully and visited at intervals by both a pediatrician and psychologist to make sure that it is normal, both physically and mentally before selecting foster parents.

Prospective foster parents are studied almost as carefully as the child. Every effort is made to select exactly the right child for the right home, and the right home for the right child. A child goes into an adoptive home one year before consent for adoption is given, and the state requires another trial year before adoption becomes final.

A daily average of over 350 children are in the care of the Society. The budget for the current year contemplates accepting over 100 new children, so that the total number of children cared for in 1942 will probably exceed 450.

Carole Landis, George Montgomery Superb On "CADET GIRL"

We always knew Carole Landis could sing—and now she has a real opportunity to convince all: 20th Century-Fox is justly proud of its swiftly rising young star, and has put her in a gay new film with George Montgomery—another youngster who is going places in filmland. The result is a compact, fast-moving, tuneful hit called "Cadet Girl" which opens next Wednesday, May 6th at the Pitt's Theatre.

Carole is in the middle of a muddle in "Cadet Girl," which tells the story of a West Pointer (Montgomery) who is ready to come to blows with his tune baron brother (John Sheppard) over the lovely vocalist. Neatly mixed in with the engaging story are five grand new tunes by Robin and Rainer. These include:

"Uncle Sam Gets Around," "She's A Good Neighbor," "I'll Settle For You," "It Happened, It's Over, Let's Forget It," and "My Old Man's An Army Man." When you see that gorgeous blonde, meaning Carole, warbling these tunes it's worth the price of admission alone!

In addition to the songs, "Cadet Girl" has some exceptional acting. The performances turned in by Miss Landis, Montgomery and his screen brother, John Sheppard, are well-rounded and unusually convincing. William Tracy, cast as a cadet friend of Montgomery, does his share to put the picture over.

HARRY P. THOMAS NAMED TO GOVERNOR'S COMMITTEE

Governor Darden today announced the resignation of State Senator William D. Medley of Arlington as Virginia Commissioner for the Promotion of Legislation in the United States and the appointment of Henry P. Thomas of Alexandria as his successor.

Senator Medley, who has been Commissioner for the State for a number of years, gave the "pressure of business" as his reason for resigning. Mr. Thomas is a member of the legal firm of Thomas, Strauss and Backus and is commissioner in chancery.

POSITIONS OPEN IN STATE WELFARE ORGANIZATION

The State Department of Public Welfare today announced four social work examinations to be given during the month of May in the following localities—Richmond, Roanoke, Lynchburg, Norfolk, Staunton, Abingdon and Alexandria.

According to Dr. William H. Stauffer, Commissioner of Public Welfare, there are a number of vacancies in positions in the local welfare Departments throughout the State and those interested in taking the examinations have an excellent opportunity for securing employment.

The four classes of positions for which examinations are being given are Junior and Senior Social Worker and Senior and Principal Child Welfare Worker. All those interested in taking the examinations may communicate with their local welfare office or direct with the Merit System Council, 506 Travelers Building, Richmond. Applications for the examination must be filed at this office by May 11th, 1942.

Social Workers in Virginia are doing a vital job, Dr. Stauffer said, in helping to maintain a high quality of public morals needed to meet the problems of these difficult days.

CENTREVILLE

Rev. George Bean, Seminary senior, was visiting minister at St. John's on Sunday morning. Until further notice services there will now be held at 10 A. M.

The Altar Guild will hold its regular monthly meeting Monday at 3 P. M. with Mrs. Varnell Payne, the president. All members are urged to attend.

A woodland fire raged on the old Machen property all Saturday afternoon. The David Lawrence's, present owners, called in the aid of two or three nearby fire departments. Fire broke out again on Sunday and burned west, jumping the Braddock road. Some of the blaze extended to land of Mr. Robert Hawes. The old Pitman mill property seemed to be threatened at one time.

Cadet Shreve Woltz, of V. P. I. and Miss Sada Woltz, of Washington, were visitors at Mount Hope on Sunday.

Mrs. Matthews, of Washington, who bought the old Willis Robertson tract, is modernizing the same and will move into it as a permanent home some time this summer.

Mrs. Ashby Rose entertained visitors last Sunday.

Mrs. Jack Clemons, Mrs. Irene Woltz and Georgia Mary went to Manassas Tuesday evening to see "The Vanishing Virginian."

Miss Mary Wharton went to Manassas Monday evening to see "The Vanishing Virginian."

Mr. and Mrs. Varnell Payne visited Marshall, Va. over the week-end.

We wish to thank our various correspondents for sending their notes early this week.

SOUTHERN STATES COOPERATIVE FARM BULLETIN

Eggs Next Fall Means Feed Now

Getting the maximum number of eggs from hens is a matter of FIRST, building a flock capable of laying all the eggs the birds inherited the ability to lay. And SECOND, managing and feeding layers in a way to encourage the largest production.

The chicks you put out this spring should be fed the best feed and handled carefully with a view to having an outstanding flock of layers next fall. This does not mean that you have to over-feed them or spend unnecessary amounts of money on feed.

A good grass range will help you cut down on the feed bill. If birds are turned loose in succulent grass they will get some of their feed requirements from it. The most important thing is to keep these birds on STARTING & GROWING MASH or CHICK STARTER until the time they go into the laying house. When they are beginning to drop eggs on the range get the laying house ready and put them in. Then is the time to switch to one of the good Southern States open formula laying mashes.

If you have raised a good quantity of grain or if you have laid up a good supply of government feed wheat, you can cut your feed bill by using LAYING MASH CONCENTRATE with the ground grain.

THIS ANTI-AIRCRAFT GUN COSTS $50,000

Your house may not be a military target but bombs don't stop to inquire. Bombs don't ask your name or the names of your children, either. In this war, as in no other in history, we are all targets. Blackouts merge soldiers and Civilians alike. "War is hell" . . . for all of us. And it is costly . . . for all of us.

Take the anti-aircraft guns that must be counted on to protect your home, your farm, your family. Did you know that just one costs $50,000? Just one-and we need 20,000 at once . . . for the fighting front as well as the home front.

Who's going to pay the bill? You and me and the man next door. How? Why by buying U. S. Savings Bonds and Stamps will help.

We urge you to conserve electricity; use it wisely and make it produce its maximum for you, but don't waste it. Turn all lights out when not in actual use. Be sure your refrigerator is set at the most economical operating point. Don't forget to turn out the basement light or the hall light. Invest the money you save in your ideal-AMERICA.

$50,000 for one 90-millimeter anti-aircraft gun sounds like a lot of money, doesn't it? But this type gun is a real "plane-crasher"—one shell from it can smash a half-million-dollar Jap bomber quicker than you can eat a fly.

DARDEN ISSUES BLACKOUT ORDER

Monthly Tests Required In Specified Cities And Counties

Governor Darden has issued orders to civilian defense directors in sixteen cities and eight counties of Virginia requiring at least one test blackout and one daylight air-raid practice period in each calendar month until further orders.

The cities affected by this mandate, which is known as order no. 69, are Alexandria, Fredericksburg, Danville, Hampton, Hopewell, Lynchburg, Newport News, Norfolk, Petersburg, Portsmouth, Radford, Richmond, Roanoke, South Norfolk, Suffolk, and Winchester.

The counties are Arlington, Fairfax, Chesterfield, Elizabeth City, Henrico, Norfolk, Princess Anne, Warwick.

A few towns, not classified as cities are also included. These are Orange, Pulaski, Phoebus, and Virginia Beach.

The order gives authority to air raid wardens, auxiliary police and auxiliary firemen, as well as regular police to go upon premises within their jurisdiction during such tests or in times of real raids and enforce blackout regulations. Local and State police are authorized to turn back motorists within 100 miles of a locality under attack.

Except in case of emergency vehicles the order requires all motorists during a blackout of daylight test to pull over to the curb, turn off motor and set brakes.

In schools the pupils are subject to the regulations required by the teachers and the order specifically states that under no circumstances shall parents go to a school during an air raid.

The State-wide air-raid alarm is described as a warbling siren or successive five-second blasts on an air horn for two minutes. The all-clear is a continuous two minute blast.

OPEN HOUSE AT STRATFORD

The Robert E. Lee Memorial Foundation invites the public to Stratford Hall, Westmoreland County, Virginia, on Sunday, May 3, when Florida will sponsor the celebration. Each year a day in spring is set apart to honor the plighting of the truth of Henry ("Light Horse Harry") Lee and Ann Carter, parents of Robert E. Lee.

Mrs. Charles D. Lanier, President of the Foundation, will extend a welcome to the guests at two o'clock in the afternoon.

The Hon. Claude Penner, Senator from Florida, will be the principal speaker. He will be introduced by Hon. R. O. Norris, Virginia State Senator and long a friend of Stratford. The Florida theme will be further stressed in "Way Down Upon the Swannee River" sung by Mrs. Edgar Rogers, Jr., a prominent matron of that state, who has won radio recognition. Miss Margaret G. Weed, Director for Florida, will be chairman for the day.

Many distinguished guests have been invited, among them Governor W. Darden of Virginia.

The gates will be open all day to the public who may see not only this two century old mansion with its furnishings of the period, but the eleven hundred acre plantation which gives an authentic picture of colonial country life, tied into the present with modern farm methods which have placed it in the forefront of the agricultural defense program. The old grist mill, where water ground corn meal and flour are made with wooden machinery of more than two hundred years ago, is always a focal point of interest to visitors. It is situated near the Potomac at the site of the once famous Stratford landing. Wooded areas thick with dogwood with lural bordered trails, contrast with the cultivated acres where grains of a superior quality are raised, and pastures where again, as in the time of Thomas Lee, builder of Stratford, thoroughbreds graze.

The Directors have expressed the hope that a combination of the open day-one of the four a year-and practically the last Sunday before gasoline rationing goes into effect, will bring many people to Stratford.

This program opens the Spring Meeting of the Foundation when Directors from almost every state in the Union will be in residence at Stratford from May 3 to May 10.

GOVERNOR PRESENTS BLOOD UNIT TO V. P. I. STUDENTS

Governor Darden will be in Blacksburg on Friday to present a mobile blood unit to the American Red Cross on behalf of the VPI cadet corps. The presentation will take place at a regimental parade at 4 o'clock and will formally open the ninth annual Ring Dance. The mobile blood unit which cost approximately $1,500 is being donated to the American Red Cross by the student body as a part of their war chest which amounts to $3,500 and represents donations by students, faculty and organizations and nearly five hundred dollars of which was earned by the students voluntarily going without deserts for a fortnight and contributing that cost to the war chest. The remainder of the funds will be distributed between the USC, the World Student Service Foundation and a fund to be kept for emergencies.

MOTORISTS ARE GIVEN WARNING

New Limit Of 40 Miles To Be Enforced

Colonel M. S. Battle, director of the Division of Motor Vehicles, today announced that the new 40 mile per hour speed limit ordered by Governor Colgate W. Darden, Jr., will be enforced rigidly by Virginia State Police.

Instructions to bring into court any person caught exceeding the 40 mile per hour have been issued to the members of the State Police force.

"I need not point out to motor vehicle drivers the necessity for the 40 mile per hour speed law," Colonel Battle said. "We are at war and those of us at home must do our part to conserve the vital materials. We can conserve our tires, gasoline and automobiles by driving at a lower rate of speed on the highways."

"The old 55 miles per hour speed limit in Virginia was thought to be too high and in cooperation with President Roosevelt, Governor Darden, in an executive order, set Virginia's limit at 40 miles per hour."

"One of the prime aims of the State Police force is to maintain safe travel on the highways. We feel at this time the speed law must be decreased to 40 miles per hour. Therefore, we will enforce rigidly the new limit and bring into court all violators."

The director has asked the cooperation of all law enforcement agencies in Virginia in assisting State Police to enforce the new speed limit. Motorists also have been asked to cooperate. "Ignorance of the law is no excuse," Colonel Battle said in a warning to motorists. "There are signs along the highways noting the new speed limit of forty miles. We mean to have this law observed. Therefore, we mean to enforce it."

NATIONAL EMPLOYMENT WEEK

The week of May 3-9, 1942, has been designated as "National Employment Week" for persons over 40 years of age by proclamation of the President of the United States. The local offices of the United States Employment Service at 301 King Street in Alexandria and 3213 North Washington Boulevard in Arlington are cooperating fully in this program, it was stated today by Manager Carter W. Friend.

Since conditions today make it easier for the Employment Service to place workers, Mr. Friend said that more emphasis was being given to the placement of disabled or handicapped older persons and veterans. Also older workers are being thrown out of employment by certain changes in business and industry, particularly in the electrical appliance, automobile and related industries. These persons require special assistance and consideration, it was stated, because they must enter new fields and they do not always have the training or experience which will fit them into other employment immediately.

Employers are urged to re-examine their hiring specifications to determine if they can use older workers, women instead of men, and physically handicapped persons.

PATROL RALLY DAY

Governor Darden today issued the following proclamation in tribute to the boys and girls who serve as school safety patrols throughout the State, and set aside May 9th, 1942 as School Safety Patrol Rally Day:

Whereas, protection of life, limb and property is one of the fundamental responsibilities of government; and

Whereas, the school safety patrols are rendering invaluable civic service in protecting school children from the hazards of traffic, thereby helping our government greatly in this basic duty and thus enriching the State:

Now, therefore, I, Colgate W. Darden, Jr., Governor of Virginia, do hereby designate May 9th, 1942, to be School Safety Patrol Day, and commend these faithful volunteer civilian defenders to the people of the Commonwealth and urge that due tribute be paid to all those boys and girls of the school safety patrols who are protecting the citizens of tomorrow from the traffic hazards of today, and full support be given them in this valuable traffic safety effort.
